It does not—repeat "not"—mean that physicians will refuse to treat patients who are eligible under medicare. It simply means that these physicians will not obtain their payment by filling out the government forms which medicare requires. The reason is their deep-seated conviction that this of a dangerous and possibly far-reaching nature. The patient, however, could obtain any financial benefits he had coming by applying directly to the government agency.

A spokesman for the medical group which is most actively working in favor of nonparticipation by physicians has said that its members are "not even thinking of turning down patients."

In other words, the question of whether to participate or not to participate is up to the conscience and conviction of the individual physicians, as it should be. But it cannot be too strongly stressed that the medical profession is pledged to serve anyone in need of attention, regardless of the ability to pay or any other contingency. That will always be the policy. First the foremost in the physician's heart and mind is the right to provide the ill with the finest attention possible.

Wasting No Words

Rev. V. J. Schaefer of Bryon, writing in the Minnesota Motorist publication, wastes no words in addressing young drivers in high-powered cars. Selected comments from the article follow:

"They were speeding along in the wee hours of the morning. They came to a dead end and catapulted into eternity, those two boys aged 17 and 18. This happened some weeks ago and only a few miles from my church. Since then, there have been two more fatal accidents involving male drivers in the 16-25 age group, and these also have occurred within 10 miles of where I sit writing.

"So I am going to speak frankly to you young male drivers, and I hope you will bear with me.

"The facts are in, fellows, and insurance companies deal only with facts. You lads in the 16-25 age groups are a menace to society and to yourselves when you get behind a wheel. The insurance rates on the car you drive have gone up from 20-25 per cent. Some of you may already be in the special risk group in which case I don't see how you can afford to drive at all, because that rate is prohibitive. Since insurance rates are based on the number of accidents, arrests and fatalities in your age group, this makes you the worst drivers on the road.

"You may be handsome enough to be a movie star. . .you may be nice to your mother. . .you may feed your dog regularly. . . you may know more about compression ratios and carburetion than the foreman at the local garage, but when you get on the highway you act like a damn fool.

The rubber burns, the transmission smokes, the needle moves up past 90, the car careens on two wheels, and you have proved, I suppose, that you are the greatest hero since John Paul Jones although an alley cat with its nine lives would surely jump out of your car at the first stop sign.

"And you girls in the same age group—you are on the other hand, judged to be among the nation's best drivers, according to many surveys, and yet you will ride along with these crankcase drips.

"Boys, when you take some fond parents' precious bundle of joy with blond curls and blue eyes out on a date or home from school, you are supposed to be her champion, her protector, her knight in shining armor. . . not her killer. The moment you start feeling a bit reckless and want to show off a little, just picture yourself trying to console her parents at a funeral home.

"Talking about funerals, half of those I have burried the past year were the victims of auto accidents involving male drivers of your age group. Is it any wonder that I become a bit disturbed about this?

"All right then, go and kill yourself if you want, but you have no right to kill anyone else. I'm sure your ministers and priests have pointed out to you many times the serious implications of the fifth commandment as regards driving. "Thou shalt not kill!" Nor shalt thou place thyself or anyone else in danger of death needlessly.

"As long as I live, I'll never forget that night when I saw this 17-year-old boy who didn't use enough judgment behind the wheel to be trusted with a 5 HP motor bike use his dad's car to kill a nice old couple who were placidly driving along.

"While the blood from his broken head dripped down on the dashboard I gave him conditional absolution before he died, adding this phrase, "Lord, forgive him for he didn't know he had killed this night."

"No, you never mean to kill anybody when you "pour on the coals" to give the gang a thrill or to "lose" the other car, but that won't bring those once happy kids who died back to life. Nor will it make you feel any better or give you any consolation 10 years later as you push your wheelchair around the house in perpetual fear somebody will bring up that accident again.

"In the meantime, we won't take back a single statement we've made. . .until your insurance rates go down."

Setting Up Shop

We understand that the federal government has allocated $188,000 in funds to establish a weekly newspaper at Willow Run, Mich. The newspaper, which will compete with four others in the area, proclaims that its purpose is to provide "honest and true reporting" on matters the government feels are of interest.

In the past printing plants have been allowed to borrow from the government but newspapers have been barred because the federal government did not want to be in the position of taking possession of a newspaper in the event the loan was not paid. How times have changed!

We don't know the situation in the Michigan community in question, but "honest and true reporting" has been the standard of newspapers in the United States throughout its history. It is to be highly suspected that the federal government is attemping to start the wheels turning on a new propaganda machine.

As long as this paper is going to be started, maybe some names for it could be suggested. Ony of the following might be appropriate: "The Propaganda Press", "The Bureaucrat Bugle", "The Welfare Weekly", "The Willow Run Experiment," "The Johnson Journal", "The Administration Advertiser", "The Socialist Sentinel", "The Tribulation Times", "The American Antagonist", or "The Washington Whitewash."

As the government tentacles reach out more and more into the realm of private business, we may expect federal projects to pop up almost anywhere. It may not be long before we dial a code number for a babysitter and hear a voice on the other end of the line say, "Uncle Sam's Sitter Service—babies brainwashed and adolescents indoctrinated. Give your medicare number, please."

The Labor Surplus

According to what we read in the papers, this nation has an unemployment problem. There is apparently a surplus of workers for the available jobs, and the government is quite concerned about this situation. The Department of Labor, in particular, constantly reminds the nation what bad condition it is in and how unemployment is a national problem.

The United States is a nation of surpluses—and it is a blessing, of sorts, to have too much rather than not enough. Agricultural surpluses have been an important problem for the nation's farmers—almost as big a problem as the U. S. Department of Agriculture has been in trying to eliminate them.

Maybe the Department of Labor should develop a direct subsidy system similar to the Department of Agriculture's surplus-solving program. The USDA makes payments to farmers fornot planting certain crops which are in surplus. This payment does not equal the income a farmer would have from a good crop, of course, but it is guaranteed income and the expenses are reduced considerably.

The Department of Labor prefers to ignore individuals and speak in percentages. Let us assume that five per cent of the nation's labor force is unemployed. This leaves the nation with a five per cent surplus of laborers. The problem is, how do we reduce the surplus?

If the USDA formula is followed, the answer is to simply take five per cent of the laboring force out of production. This would be done by making direct subsidy payments to laborers to stop producing—in other words, vacate their jobs so that the unemployed could become employed. The Department of Labor could make a payment to the laborer to leave his job for—let us say—three weeks while an unemployed person fills his place. When the laborer returns, the person who took his place would fill in for another who would have a three-week paid vacation.

Also in governmental thinking, imagine how this would stimulate the economy. Five per cent of the nation's total laboring force would be constantly on paid vacation—not to mention normal vacations they would receive anyway. At the end of a year the total labor force would have been employed most of the year. Income tax payments by the unemployed who became employed would pay for the subsidy payments to the employed who became temporarily unemployed. Rotating employment would be a bureaucrat's dream.

This scheme would not work, of course, because people aren't simply units of measurement which can be transferred like a chessman on a chess board. And even if they could, a couple of major strikes would foul up the whole business. In fact, the whole idea is so ridiculous that it's strange no politician has brought it out before this. Ridiculous plans seem to be popular in Washington this session.

Surplus Cropland Is Topic of USDA Book

Farm efficiency has made possible the production of more food and fiber on fewer acres. Therefore, the nation has "surplus cropland" which may be diverted from intensive production to urgently needed conservation uses. These "opportunity acres" are found on almost every farm, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

This is the theme of "SURPLUS CROPLAND—An Opportunity for Increasing Benefits Through Conservation Action," a new leaflet tural Stabilization and Conservation service.

Beneficial uses of cropland include more hunting and fishing places, more recreational sites, and creation of "out-of-town" parks and playgrounds for city workers and their families; and the enhancement of natural beauty by grass, trees, farm ponds and wildlife plantings that dot the landscape, and by the terraces, stripcropping and sod waterways that form interesting curvaceous and checkerboard patterns.

Other benefits of sound land use and conservation include cleaner water downstream, safeguards against floods, reduction of dust storms, prevention of soilcaused water pollution, and reduction of washouts; and the increase of forestry potentials through the planting of trees.

Erosion is the country's most widespread and serious conservation problem, the leaflet points out, and some form of erosion control is needed on almost every farm and ranch in spite of the conservation work already done. "While an understanding of resource conservation programs has been growning among both farm and city people," the booklet states, "agricultural stabilization and conservation programs have become increasingly effective in helping make sound conservation work possible.

"Income protection through price support and production adjustment, and costsharing through the Agricultural Conservation program, have encouraged farmers and ranchers and helped make it financially possible for them to invest about five per cent of their net farm income in conservation. However, this rate of investment must be greatly increased if the conservation job is to be done."

Farmers' and ranchers' efforts through ACP alone include 1.7 million miles of terraces and water spreader-diversions, 7.5 million acres of forestry practices, 1.9 million farm ponds for water storage and erosion control, 112 million acres of cropland stripcropping and many millions of acres of protective grass cover. Yet even with this tremendous conservation progress, only about one-third of the need for land treatment on privately owned agricultural land is being met. "Surplus acres are 'opportunity acres' for increasing the total conservation accomplishment," the leaflet concludes.

OFFICIAL PROCEEDINGS
BOARD OF COUNTY COMMISSIONERS
PENNINGTON COUNTY, MINNESOTA
October 5, 1965

Pursuant to adjournment the County Commissioners met in the Commissioners room in the Court House at 10:00 a.m., October 5, 1965.

Members present: Hanson, Olson, Anderson, Lindberg and Tasa. All present.

Moved by Anderson seconded by Hanson that Engineer Seidel and the Auditor be authorized and instructed to advertise for bids for materials for a bridge to be constructed on the County line on County Road No. 52 between Red Lake County and Pennington County. A bridge that is the responsibility of both Counties. Bids to be opened at 1:30 p.m., Nov. 2, 1965. Carried.

At 11:00 a.m. the hearing on a Petition to set-off a portion of school District No. 562 of St. Hilaire to School District No. 564, Thief River Falls, as petitioned by Roy Sheller, was continued.

Mrs. Sheller appeared with request that the petition be approved. Supt. Hankerson appeared at the request of Mrs. Sheller to confirm the fact that the Thief River Falls District would accept the pupil and indicated the child affected was presently in the system.

Moved by Anderson seconded by Tasa that the Petition be denied. Motion carried.

The minutes of meeting of September 9 were read and approved as read.

Moved by Olson seconded by Hanson that the Road committee and the bridges and culvert committee inspect roads and bridges and culverts at 8:30 a.m., Oct. 26, 1965. Carried.

Moved by Anderson seconded by Hanson that appropriation be made from the Road & Bridge Fund pursuant to Court order assessing benefits to County roads on the Red Lake River Project in the amount of $297.00 and the Clearwater River Project in the amount of $313.80 with Warrant payable to the Red Lake Drainage and Conservancy District the authority responsible for maintenance of the rivers. Motion carried.

Abatement of delinquent taxes approved on the NW¼ of Sec. 22,T152N, R39W (Hickory Twp.) to the adjusted amount of $350.00 upon recommendation of the Town Board subject to approval of the State Department of taxation.

Moved by Olson seconded by Tasa that a 2 per cent levy for Ditch Maintenance purposes be levied against property assessed to the various ditches and when said tax is collected such maintenance tax shall be credited to the various ditches as follows: Co. 23, 32, 37, 39, 43, 46, 73, Jud. 11, Jud. 14 and Jud. 15; A levy of 4 per cent is levied against the following: Co. 49, 47, 53, 55 and 76; A levy of 6 per cent against Co. 36, 38, 59, 64, 68, 70, 72 and 74; A levy of 8 per cent against San-BR No. 1, Jud. 18 and Jud. 41; A levy of 10 per cent against Co. 6 (Rocks-North No. 11, Co. 31, 33, 44, 45, 51, 57, 58, Jud. 23 and Jud. 60 and a levy of 20 per cent against Co. 18 (Wy-RF No. 21. Carried.

Subsequent to approval of Laws of 1965, Chapter 406 and agreement between the Counties of Marshall, Pennington, Red Lake and Roseau to transfer the operation of the Oakland Park Nursing Home to the responsibility of Marshall and Pennington Counties only. Odin C. Hanson and Merle A. Lindberg were appointed to the Board of the newly reorganized Nursing Home, upon motion by Tasa seconded by Olson and declared carried.

Roseau Tips Prowlers 14 to 7 on Wednesday

Striking from mid-field for a touchdown with less than two minutes of play remaining, and then adding the conversion point, the Roseau Rams broke a 7-all tie to defeat the Prowlers, 14 to 7, in a Northwest conference football game played here Wednesday night.

On Friday night, October 22, the defending conference champion Bemidji Lumberjacks will invade the Lincoln high school field for a game against the Prowlers.

In Wednesday night's game here against the Rams, the contest appeared destined to end in a 7-all tie. From the Prowler 49-yard line, with the ball in possession of Roseau, and less than two minutes to play, the Rams had a fourth down and 17 yards to gain for a first down. Disdaining to kick, the Rams set up a pass play, but it appeared to be "busted", and quarterback Bryan Grand scrambling off to his left, evaded the Prowler rushers and then found halfback Jerry Halvorson in the open at the Prowler 30-yard line. Halvorson gathered in the pass near the west sideline and raced for the game-winning touchdown. Halvorson added the point via a placekick.

The Rams had taken a 7 to 0 lead in the opening minutes of the game when the Prowlers, defending the north goal and accepting the kickoff, fumbled on the first play from scrimmage, with Roseau recovering on the Prowler 35-yard line. Halvorson, on a try at right end, was thrown for a five-yard loss. But from the 40-yard line, Grand, faking a handoff, swept around left end for 40 yards and a touchdown. Halvorson placekicked the conversion point, giving the Rams a 7 to 0 lead.

The Prowlers made a serious bid for touchdown early in the second period when they moved to the Rams' two-yard line. To set up the threat the Rams were called on a roughing the kicker penalty, giving the Prowlers possession on the Rams' 29-yard line. A pass, Tom Cummings to Rod Carlson, gained 15 yards, and after John Olson had picked up three yards on a plunge over the line, Cummings added 12 yards and a first down on a sweep of right end. From the two-yard line, LeMoine failed to gain, and on the ensuing play a fumble gave Roseau possession and halted the threat.

A short kick gave the Prowlers the ball on the Rams' 30-yard line. A pass, Cumings to John Olson, gained 20 yards and a first down on the 10-yard stripe. After one incomplete pass, Cummings, on second down, threw a long pass to John Olson, who made the catch just inside the Rams' end zone. Monte LeMoine's placement kick for the point was good and the game was knotted at 7-all.

The second half was scoreless until the final minutes of play, when the Grand to Halvorson pass completion provided the Rams with their game-winning touchdown. The Prowlers made one bid to get the equalizer when a screen pass to LeMoine was completed, and the Prowler fullback rambled from the Prowler 32-yard line to the Rams' 40-yard line before being downed. Following two pass incompletions, and a seven-yard completion to LeMoine, the game-ending whistle sounded and the Rams had their 14 to 7 win.

IN THE VIKING HUDDLE

By Coach Norm Van Brocklin

Speed got the Dodgers and Twins into the World Series, and it's an important ingredient in any sport, with few exceptions. It probably doesn't make a difference to a guy like Arnold Palmer or Bob Rosburg in golf, because it won't help them hole out a long putt.

But you must have it in football, as well as most other sports.

Our passing and running game is naturally affected. You put a 5.8 sprinter like Tommy Mason against a linebacker, as we try to do as often as we can, and all the experience in the world isn't going to keep Mason from running away from him.

Outside receivers have to be able to drive the defensive backs deep —and the only way they can do it to have top speed. Otherwise, it shortens up on the over-all area for the defensive men to cover. You've undoubtedly noticed how much tougher it is to get a receiver in the clear down near the goal-line, when the end zone lines naturally restrict the offense.

Without speed, you get that same kind of restriction. One of the many areas where we're better this year than in the past is in the speed of our receivers. Tom Hall ran a 5.8 50-yard for us in training camp—and that's in full gear. He didn't have that sort of speed last year. Our rookie, Lance Rentzel, has excellent speed, too. And Hae Bedsole, playing the tight end spot which you normally don't associate with speed, has a great advantage over most in the NFL by his swiftness. Paul Flatley doesn't have blazing speed, but he has a quickness to compensate for it.

It's obvious, I'm sure, that the faster your offensive ends and backs, the faster the defensive backs have to be to stay with them. This is why most teams put their swiftest men in the secondary—and why we've go Ed Sharockmann, George Rose, Lee Calland and people like that back there deep for us.

Speaking of speed, our defensive ends, Carl Eller and Jim Marshall, are the two fastest in our division, at least, and both of them had great games last year in Kezar stadium, where we play San Francisco this Sunday.

for most of the way out there until Roy Winston intercepted a pass and set up the go-ahead touchdown. Then Eller picked up a fumble and sprinted 45 yards for a touchdown, running away from the chasing 49ers.

And, of course, Marshall raced 66 yards himself. Remember?

These next two Sundays are big ones for the Vikings. We catch two real toughies away from home—the 49ers this week and the defending NFL champions, Cleveland, next. I hope you'll be watching us on TV both times. After that, we're at home for four straight weeks.

There are a few tickets left for the November 7 game with the Rams, the November 14 game with the Colts, and the November 28 game with the 49ers. Green Bay is sold out.

Two from Area In Mpls. School

Claudia Joy Melvie, daughter of Mrs. Olga Melvie, and Evan A. Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earle Anderson, both of Thief River Falls, have enrolled as freshmen at Augsberg college in Minneapolis. Both are 1965 graduates of Lincoln high school.

Augsburg is a four-year liberal arts college of the American Lutheran church which offers majors in 26 fields of study, leading to the Bachelor of Arts degree. The college has an enrollment of 1,700 students.

GOP Leaders in Area I To Meet Here October 27

Date for the Area I meeting of GOP leaders from Kittson, Roseau, Lake of the Woods, Marshall, Beltrami, Polk, Pennington, Red Lake and Clearwater counties has been set for October 27 in Thief River Falls, according to Dr. Arnold Berg of Thief River Falls and Mrs. John Jensen of Crookston.

Main items for discussion at this and two other area meetings will be planning for the 1966 precinct party caucuses in February, the state-wide $100 event in January in the Twin Cities and launching Teen-Age Republican (TAR) clubs in district high school.

Urging strong attendance at these meetings, Robert Bigwood of Fergus Falls, district party chairman, reminded Republican workers they must have convictions themselves and express them if they hope to attract party supporters, and said, "We can't give adequate expression to our aims unless we get our candidates selected."

Moose Killed by Autos in Area

Two moose have been struck and killed by automobiles in the area north of Thief River Falls during the past week. At about 12:15 a.m. Monday, Glen Holm, son of Mr. and Mrs. Manfred Holm of Roseau, was seriously injured when the station wagon he was driving collided with a bull moose about five miles south of Strathcona. Holm suffered a fractured skull, facial lacerations and bruises.

The vehicle struck the moose in the front end and killed it instantly. The windshield of the car was broken, the frame bent, and door smashed, and the top dented. Holm drove to Greenbush where he notified Deputy Sheriff Hector Reese and entered the Greenbush hospital.

Another moose was killed about 7 p.m. Saturday four miles car, John Grotans, also of Minneapolis, was treated at the Roseau hospital for a cut on the wrist and scratches on the face and neck. Two 12-year-old boys in the back seat were not injured. Damage was estimated at $150.

The moose struck by Holm weighed an estimated 1,200 pounds, Roseau Warden Edwin Johnston said. The animal struck by Poritits weighed about 800 pounds.

TRF Bank Debits Up 13 Per Cent

Bank debits in Thief River Falls during September were up 13 per cent from the same month a year ago, according to statistics released by the Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis. In dollars, the city's bank debits volume during September was $10,568,000. In the same month of 1964 the total first nine months of 1965 bank debits amounted to $84,009,000, an increase of 9 per cent from 1964.

For Minnesota the September volume of bank debits for reporting cities increased 15 per cent from September of last year. Debits for the first nine months of 1965 increased 11 per cent from the same period of 1964.

Volume of bank debits reported by the total sample of Ninth Federal Reserve district cities for September increased 13 per cent from a year ago. The cumulative total for the first nine months of 1965 indicated a 9 per cent increase from the comparable 1964 period.

Bank debits are mostly checks against depositors' accounts and thus represent payments for goods, services, debts, etc. They also include transfers of funds which of themselves have no business significance. Bank debits mainly include all debits against checking accounts of individuals, partnerships and corporations, and of states and political subdivisions. They do not include debits to the accounts of other banks, the United States government and savings accounts.

Northern Towns Consider Voting On Legal Liquor

Petitions calling for an election to circulated in the village communities of Roseau, Badger and Greenbush. If a sufficient number of signatures is obtained, residents of these communities will decide the issue at the November 2 general election.

The petitions would permit village councils to issue private liquor licenses and to allow on-sale or off-sale liquor or both. Committies were given the power to decide the question of liquor sale by the 1965 repeal of the 1915 county option law.

To place the liquor sale question on a village election ballot, the first step is to file a proper petition signed by legal voters with the clerk at least 15 days before the annual election. Such a petition must be signed by a number of legal voters equal to 30 per cent of the persons voting at the last election in the village or 200 legal voters of the village, whichever is the smaller number.

Once a legal petition has been filed with a village clerk, he must give notice of the liquor election at the same time and in the same manner as he gives notice of the annual election. This notice may be incorporated in the annual election notice, or it may appear separately.

A separate ballot is required, the terms of which must be "for license" or "against license" even if establishment of a municipal liquor store is contemplated. The election, if resulting in the legalization of liquor sales, does not bind the village council to issue licenses of any type. The council may issue private licenses or establish a municipal liquor store, whichever it deems best.

ICC Hearing on Soo Petition Here Friday

Opposition to a Soo Line Railroad petition for permission to discontinue operation of passenger trains 9 and 10 will be heard Friday at 9:30 a.m. in the Pennington county courthouse in Thief River Falls. Hearings on the petition before the Interstate Commerce commission began Monday in St. Paul.

James F. Perrin, ICC examiner, denied a motion Monday for dismissal of the Soo Line petition. Dismissal was asked by Richard Musenbrock, attorney appearing for the state of Minnesota and the Railroad and Warehouse commission, on the basis that trains operate entirely in Minnesota and are not covered by the Interstate Commerce Act.

Concurring in the motion for dismissal were Norvell C. Callnghan, attorney representing Glenwood and neighboring communities, and Robert A. Wurst, representing Thief River Falls and communities in this area. Perrin said he had no authority to dismiss the Soo petition.

Opponents to the train removal are being heard beginning today in Glenwood with the hearing to move to Thief River Falls Friday. Opening sessions of the hearing in St. Paul were devoted to the Soo Line presentation of its petition. Trains 9 and 10, known as the Winnipeger, operate between St. Paul and Noyes, serving a number of communities between the two points including Thief River Falls.

At an earlier hearing before the Minnesota Railroad and Warehouse commission, a Soo Line petition to discontinue the two trains was denied. At the time of that hearing, the Soo Line was still carrying mail, and obtaining revenue from this service. Since that time the postal department has removed mail from the trains in favor of highway carriers.

Reasons for the proposed discontinuance as offered by the Soo Line include the following:

In 1962 the railroad sustained a loss of $460,594, in 1963 it sustained a loss of $434,259, and in 1964 it sustained a loss of $501,631 and in the first three months of 1965 it sustained a loss of $120,87 in operating the trains.

In 1964 trains 9 and 10 respectively averaged only 24.34 and 22.50 local passengers per train mile.

Assuming that non-mail revenues would remain the same as in 1964, the petitioner's loss in operating the trains in the 12 months end-

Honor Fitzsimons For History Work

Rep. Richard W. Fitzsimons, Argyle, was named the recipient of an Award of Merit, the highest honor given by the American Association for State and Local History, at the 25th national meeting of the association at Harrisburg, Pa.

Rep. Fitzsimons, who was also a featured speaker during the AASLH conference, was honored along with five other Minnesotans for his outstanding contributions in promoting history in Minnesota over the past dozen years.

Specifically, the veteran legislator was commended for his role as chief author of Minnesota Antiquities Act of 1963 and the Minnesota Historic Sites Act of 1965, both measures to preserve and protect the state's major archaelogical and historical treasurers.

The national award also acknowledges his role in including historic sites under the provisions of the Omnibus Natural Resources and Recreation Act of 1963, legislation designed to preserve and accelerate development of all of Minnesota's natural and recreational resources.

The award was announced at the final luncheon last Friday, October 15. Earlier in the three-day sessions, Fitzsimons outlined Minnesota's historic sites legislation and financial support given state and local historic sites.

He told the historical society personnel from all 50 states that Minnesota considers its historic sites important "as a recreational resource and a stimulus to our economy by serving as valuable tourist attractions."

"History is popular, not as an academic enterprise but as a functional, recreations, dollars and cents fact of everyday life.

"The success of history in making the most of these opportunities, these federal grants, is up to the leaders of historical societies," the Argyle law-maker old the national association.

In his presentation, Fitzsimons documented the recreational and economic importance of historic sites by using two examples from Minnesota.

"Just last spring the Minnesota Historical society opened to the public the home of Alexander Ramsey, Minnesota's first territorial and state governor. To date over 14,000 visitors have found their way to this house for the sole purpose of seeing the home and furnishings."

He then pointed to the prospects for Fort Snelling.

"The number one priority historic site is Fort Snelling. Studies show that nearly one million visitors, nearly a quarter of a million from outside Minnesota, can be expected to visit the fort in 1967 if the original fort is reconstructed and restored to reflect is appearance and importance of the 1830's."

The 1965 legislature, Fitzsimons pointed out, provided funds to begin the restoration.

In addition to Fitzsimons, the national state and local history association named former Gov. Elmer L. Andersen, Mrs. Donald W. DeCoster of St. Paul, Theodore C. Blegen for his "Minnesota: A History of the State," the Farmers and Mechanics Savings bank of Minneapolis and the Kandiyohi county historical society for outstanding contributions to local and state history.

Mpls. Attorney Speaks at Meet On Mental Health

Douglas Head, Minneapolis attorney, will be guest speaker at a chapter workshop sponsored by the Minnesota Association for Mental Health being held today at Red Lake high school. The meeting will open at 4 p.m. and continue through the evening with the meal served at 6:30 p.m.

Among leaders at the group workshops will be Mrs. Margaret Race and Rev. Dennis W. Rodin, Thief River Falls; Mrs. William Gorter, Eldred; Mrs. H. W. Moore, Bemidji; and Glen St. Ives, Red Lake Falls.

Purpose of the meeting is to exchange ideas, receive help in financial problems, plan the year's program, receive answers to questions, hear new mental health information and discuss the hospitalization bill.

Nominating Group Is Appointed by C of C President

President J. J. Womack of the local Chamber of Commerce has appointed a nominating committee to select a slate of director candidates for the 1966-67 Chamber of Commerce year. The committee will meet Monday at 10 a.m. at the Chamber of Commerce office.

Randall Noper heads the nominating committee. Other members named to the committee are Roger Timberg, Gene Gaer, Otto Stenberg, Arnold Kelley and Kenneth Onken.

Directors whose terms expire are J. J. Womack, Randall Noper, Glenn Peterson, S. E. Sinding, Donovan Narverud and Jon Metusalem. Womack and Noper have each served two 2-year terms and are not eligible for reelection. The other four directors whose term expire have served two-year terms and are eligible for reelection for another two-year term.

Members of the nominating committee invite suggestions as to possible candidates for election to directorship in the organization. Such suggestions may be made by contacting any of the committee members or calling the Chamber of Commerce office prior to the Monday morning meeting.

Election of directors will be held by mail voting in December. Directors assume office at the annual meeting early in the year.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gobell of Duluth were weekend guests at the Mrs. Hilda Sagmoen and W. P. Kaisler homes. They also attended the birthday party given Sunday afternoon at the Kaisler home for Mrs. Gobell's mother, Mrs. Hilda Sagmoen.

City Council Approves Five Bldg. Permits

Five building permits with valuations totaling $42,450 were approved by the Thief River Falls city council at its regular meeting Tuesday night, at which three aldermen and the city attorney were absent. Applicants for permits included Lampert Lumber company, 519 Spruce av. S., dwelling, $15,000; Lampert Lumber Company, 518 Spruce av. S., dwelling, $15,000; Gerald Johnson, 512 Arnold av. S., garage and addition to dwelling, $2,500; Minnesota highway department, 28 x 32 foot coal storage warehouse southwest of present building, $9,500; and Chris Saustad, 1015 LaBree av. N., garage, $450.

The accounting firm of Boyd Holcomb was hired to compile the 1965 city audit at a fee not to exceed $3,000, in accordance with the company's proposal.

City Engineer D. H. Stewart brought the council up to date on the street improvement situation. A long stretch of favorable weather will be needed to get the job done this fall, he said, though nearly all streets in the city are passable. Surfacing on Conley avenue and Nora street is expected to be complete by the end of this week, he said.

Joseph Nelson, Great Northern Railway section foreman, reported to the council that a problem has been created by motorists who make U-turns on the railroad right-of-way where the tracks intersect with Main and Knight avenues. He said that a hazard to railroad personnel is created by this practice and that the offending vehicles have dug holes in the surface of the railroad grade. Also, he said, a crossing sign temporarily removed by the city at the Knight avenue crossing has not been replaced. The council and the chief of police have agreed to investigate the matter.

The council also discussed complaints received concerning truck traffic on Zeh street, and agreed to investigate possibilities of limiting truck weights.

The following five construction estimates were presented: Black Top Surfacing, $111,913.52; Kasson Sewer & Water, $10,639.96; Kornatz Construction, $27,635.53; Harry Dahl Construction, $3,865.12; and Wagner, Ewald & Corrin, $4,280.56. A motion was passed to pay the estimates. It was also resolved to pay the 1964 audit bills—liquor store, $450 and general city audit, $2,050.

A progression raise of $10 per month for bartender Vern Eckert, recommended by Thomas Fuller, manager of the liquor store, was granted by the council.

Junior High School Has Full Separate Identity

LIBRARY facilities at Franklin junior high school are modern and complete. Robert Wilson is librarian at the school. Art projects brighten the room which offers reference as well as books for recreational and project reading.

by Marvin Lundin
Times Editor

(This is the third in a series of articles regarding the Thief River Falls schools and is a preliminary to American Education Week which will be observed November 7-13. Previous articles were concerned with the overall public school system and the public elementary schools. Today's story discusses the junior high school.)

"There is probably no three-year period in the average person's life during which greater changes take place than occur during the three years that are spent in junior high school. Boys and girls enter this school as children; they leave as young adults. It is because of a recognition of the great changes taking place in these individuals that the junior high school is a separate school is necessary."

These words come from a booklet entitled "The Junior High School" which was prepared in the local school system several years ago. Since they were written, a bond issue has been proposed and passed, a school building constructed and junior high school in Thief River Falls now has its own separate identity. In this environment great strides in junior high school education have already been made and more are in the planning stage.

593 Enrolled

Franklin junior high school has a current total enrollment of 593 students in grades seven, eight and nine. The seventh grade has 100 boys and 79 girls for a total of 179; the eighth grade has 105 boys and 81 girls for a total of 186; and the ninth grade has 105 boys and 123 girls for a total of 228.

There are 33 faculty members on staff, including five who teach part-time in the junior high school and the remainder of the second day at Lincoln senior high school. These part-time instructors teach agriculture, Latin, band, orchestra and ninth grade science. The 33 teachers have an average of 12 years of teaching experience, 21 are teaching in their major field and 12 in their minor field.

Science Expanded

Perhaps the major change in the junior high school program is in the science division. This change is due to a combination of national emphasis on science and a-

Sharon Knutson-Bruce Russell Wed At Trinity

Miss Sharon Knutson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harland Knutson of this city and Bruce Earl Russel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth M. Russell of Rural Thief River Falls, exchanged marriage vows Saturday, September 18, at a candlelight service at Trinity Lutheran church. The Rev. Harold Peterson officiated at the double ring ceremony. Nuptial organ music was provided by Mrs. Walter Larson with Mrs. Don Olson singing "O Perfect Love" and "The Lord's Prayer". Baskets of chrysanthemums and gladioli in fall colors, accented by ferns, graced the chancel.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of white organza over peau de soie featuring a fitted empire bodice with long tapering sleeves. Brocaded appliques enhanced the front panels of the skirt and the gently scooped neckline. A chapel train complemented the gown. A headpiece of nylon petals outlined with seed pearls held the gathered bouffant veil and she carried a bouquet of three large white mums surrounded by bronze baby mums and a cascade of stephanotis.

Holly Knutson, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor. She wore a floor-length gown of pale aqua satin fashioned with a fitted bodice and rounded neckline. To complete her attire, she wore a matching satin rose headpiece with tulle, long white gloves and a pearl necklace, a gift from the bride.

The other attendants, Mrs. Duane Hackett, Richfield and Mrs. Michael Freid of Lansing, Mich., friends of the bride, wore gowns similar to the maid of honor. All the attendants carried baskets of autumn roses and stephanotis.

The groom chose his friend, Dennis Peterson of Thief River Falls, as best man. Groomsmen were Richard Sculthorp, Thief River Falls and Don Hanson, East Grand Forks, cousin of the bride. Ushers were cousins of the groom, Keith Poppenhagen, Crookston and Roger Rupprecht of Thief River Falls. The men of the wedding party wore white dinner jackets, black trousers and bronze carnation boutonnieres.

For the wedding of her daughter, Mrs. Knutson wore a deep turquoise knit suit while the mother of the groom was attired in a blue knit dress. Both mothers wore black accessories and identical corsages of yellow roses surrounded by bronze baby mums and accented with white carnations. Attending the wedding as honor guests were the grandparents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Claussen and Mrs. J. H. Knutson. Mrs. Joyce Weisner, Thief River Falls, served as the bride's personal attendant.

A reception in the church parlors was given by the parents following the ceremony. The tiered wedding cake decorated with bronze mums and topped with three white wedding bells, rested on a cross. Cutting and serving the cake were Mrs. Joe Panek, Thief River Falls, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Ronald Sculthorp, friend of the couple. Mrs. Amanda Russell, aunt of the groom and Mrs. Jasper Steenhardt, Swea City, Iowa, great-aunt of the bride, poured while Mrs. James Koropatnicki presided at the guest book. Serving the punch were Mrs. Keith Poppenhagen and Mrs. Don Hanson. Waitresses were Darlene Iverson, cousin of the groom, Sandra Christianson and Margaret Sherack, friends of the bride. Arranging the gifts were Karen Kaushagen Thief River Falls, Mrs. Lowell Carpenter and Mrs. Philip Busch, both of Minneapolis.

Guests attending were from Lansing, Mich.; Swea City, Iowa; Richfield, Minneapolis, East Grand Forks, Grygla, Middle River and Holt and Thief River Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell are graduates of Lincoln high school. The bride is also a graduate of the Northwestern hospital school of nursing, Minneapolis, and is presently employed at Northwestern hospital in Thief River Falls.

Harstad-Kaz Vows Are Exchanged At Big Lake

Miss Karen Dawn Harstad, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orris Harstad of Big Lake and formerly of Newfolden, became the bride of James U. Kaz, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Kaz of Monticello in a recent ceremony at the Saron Lutheran church in Big Lake. The Rev. Hugh Gilmore officiated at the double-ring ceremony attended by 100 guests and Nancy Blexrude of Big Lake sang "A Wedding Prayer" and "O Perfect Love". Baskets of white gladioli graced the sanctuary for the afternoon wedding.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of white silk taffeta fashioned with a chantilly lace panel insert and long tapered sleeves. Lace appliques, enhanced by iridescent sequins and seed pearls, outlined the sweetheart neckline. A forward crown of illusion petals with iridescent embroidery held her bouffant veil of silk illusion and she carried two dozen white roses and trailing ivy. The bride also wore a strand of pearls and the traditional "something old, Something new" was observed in her attire.

Attending her sister as maid of honor was Janet Harstad of Big Lake. Joan Holt served as bridesmaid. They wore identical gowns of blue brocade styled in back with satin taffeta panel inserts emphasized by a bow. Matching headpieces completed their attire and they carried bouquets of yellow roses accented by ivy.

Robert Derfler, Grand Rapids, a cousin of the groom, served as best man with Donald Blynn of Monticello as groomsman. Ushers were Stanley Nagorski of Big Lake and Eugene Pingel of Downey, Calif., brother-in-law of the groom. The men of the wedding party wore dark trousers and white dinner jackets with white carnation boutonnieres.

The bride's mother was attired in a blue metallic two-piece dress and the mother of the groom wore a biege brocade two-piece dress with matching hat. Both mothers wore white accessories and identical corsages of pink roses and white carnations.

Honor guests at the wedding were the grandparents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Olaf Ness of Holt and Mrs. Olga Harstad of Newfolden; the grandmother of the groom, Mrs. Julia Derfler, Hill City, and his godparents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Kiphuth of Monticello. Others attending were the brother-in-law and sister of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Pingel of Downey, Calif., Mrs. Orlin Ness and Ronald and Marcene of Holt and Orville Harstad and Lynette of Viking.

Following the ceremony, a reception for the 100 guests was held at Vivian's dining room at Big Lake. Donell Harstad, sister of the bride, registered the guests and also assisted Sandy Bastman in serving the punch. Mrs. Joe Derfler and Mrs. Arthur Derfler, both of Hill city, cut the cake and poured, respectively. The gifts were arranged by Mrs. Gene Pingel, Karen Wilts and Vonni Mitchil.

The bride, a graduate of the Big Lake high school, is attending the St. Cloud Beauty college. The groom is a graduate of the Monticello high school and is employed by Shaw Decorators. Mr. and Mrs. Kaz are now at home in the Johnson Apartments in Monticello.

Johnson-Benson Speak Vows At St. Bernard's

Sharon Gaylo Johnson, daughter of Mrs. Anna Johnson of Thief River Falls and Robert Allan Benson, son of Mr. Garfield Benson, also of this city, exchanged marriage vows, Monday, August 30, in St. Bernard's Catholic church in this city. The Rev. Keough Patnode officiated at the double-ring ceremony attended by 85 close friends and relatives. The church organist provided the traditional nuptial music as the guests were ushered to their seats and she also accompanied the Girls choir as they sang "Ave Marie" as the couple knelt at the altar.

Baskets of gladioli and mums in fall colors adorned the altar while the pews were marked with sprays of fern and white bows.

Escorted to the altar by her brother, Wayne Johnson, the bride wore a floor-length gown fashioned with empire bodice of chantilly lace with chiffon overlay. Long sleeves and a bateau neckline dropping in the back to form a V. The slim skirt of slipper satin was also styled with an overlay of chiffon. A bow emphasized the empire waistline. The blush veil of silk illusion was held by a crown of seed pearls and crystals and her jewels were a pearl pendant on a slender chain, her gift from the groom. In the something old, something new theme carried out in her ensemble she had a 100-year-old penny in her shoe. She carried a cascade of white roses accented by dark green foliage.

Lois Benson, sister of the groom, was the bride's only attendant. She was attired in a apricot colored gown of peau de soie styled with short sleeves and an A-line skirt with a bow marking the empire waistline. A rose held the matching circular veiled headpiece and her gift from the bride was a gold cross with settings. White shoes and gloves completed her attire and she carried three long-stemmed white roses.

David Ellingson of Thief River Falls attended the groom as best man. Ushers were Larry Johnson, brother of the bride, and Dean Hams. They wore dark business suits with carnation boutonnieres. The groom's boutonniere was a white rose bud.

For the marriage of her daughter, Mrs. Johnson wore a navy blue ensemble with matching hat and shoes, accented with white gloves and purse. Her corsage was of white and pink baby roses. Grandparents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. S. Benson were honor guests and were also presented with a corsage and boutonniere.

A reception following the ceremony was given by the mother of the bride. The three-tiered wedding cake, decorated with apricot colored roses and topped with a golden Christogram was cut and served by Mrs. Pete Westagaard, aunt of the groom. Karen and Kathy Olson, nieces of the bride, served the groom's cake while Mrs. Don Olson, sister of the bride, attended the punch bowl. Wendell Benson, sister of the groom, registered the guests and the waitresses were Sherry Jahr, Mary Solheim, JoAnn Kraemer and Doris Kasprowicz. Arranging the gifts were Mrs. Dean Hams and Joyce Johnson.

Out-of-town guests were from Los Angeles, Calif.; Devils Lake, N.D.; Minneapolis, Hibbing, Warren, Red Lake Falls and Keewatin.

For the wedding trip to Canada and western United States, the bride wore a beige whipped creme crepe dress with skimmer brown accessories.

The bride, a 1964 graduate of Lincoln high school, is a graduate of the nursing department of the Thief River Falls area vocational-technical school and is employed at a St. Cloud hospital. The groom is a 1963 graduate of Lincoln high school and is attending St. Cloud State college.

Mr. and Mrs. Benson are at home at 1210 Sixth Street, South, St. Cloud. Photo—Neal Fox Studio—Thief River Falls.

Keith Proposes New Development Agency

Lt. Gov. A.M. Keith proposed Saturday the creation of a state rural development agency to attract new businesses and industries into Minnesota's out-state communities.

The new agency, Keith said, would become a part of the state department of business development but its primary activities would be located in a number of regional offices, probably one in each of the five out-state congressional districts.

Speaking at a Credit Union Day dinner in Detroit Lakes, Keith said the regional development directors would work closely with local chambers of commerce and community leaders in attracting new industries suited to particular localities.

"The agency would not only coordinate local and regional efforts to bring in new employers," he said, "but in many areas it would provide the spark and the professional know-how to get some kind of effort started where it has never gotten beyond the idea stage.

"There is an urgent need to provide diversified employment opportunities for out-state communities, and in my opinion the state is not doing enough presently to help the problem. The legislature has never granted enough funds for more than a token effort."

The need for the new agency, Keith said, arises from the continued decline in farm employment and the resulting exodus of rural families to the cities.

"Most rural people who leave to find jobs in the cities would rather remain in their home communities if they could make a decent living, and I believe state government has a responsibility to make every effort to see they have that opportunity."

Keith said the problems facing rural Minnesota will get worse before they get better. He pointed out that whereas over 50 per cent of the state's population was rural in 1940, the figure in 1960 was down to 39 per cent and is even lower today. Total Minnesota farm employment between 1954 and 1963, he added, decreased by 20 per cent, from 331,000 to 257,000.

"The end of this trend is nowhere in sight," Keith said, "but I believe we can at least in part stem the tide by diversifing the economy of the rural areas and making them attractive to potential industries."

He said the new agency would also work closely with the Area Redevelopment Administration and the regional offices of the Department of Employment Security. Coordination with the latter, he said, would be vital to the success of the endeavor "because the first question a prospective employer inevitably asks concerns the local labor market."

Keith said he thought the new agency would pay for itself through increased tax revenues from new industries within a few years after establishment.

"New industries not only provide jobs and increased revenues," he said, "but careful studies have shown that the hiring of 100 workers in a community will result in 359 people added to the population of the community; $710,000 per year increase in personal income; $229,000 increase in bank deposits; three more retail establishments; 65 more persons employed in non-manufacturing endeavors; and $331,000 increase in retail sales.

"The future of the rural areas," Keith said, "lies largely in diversified industrialization, and I believe an agency such as I have proposed would be an important step in helping rural Minnesota to make an economic comeback."

Olaf Tveit, 64, Dies In Montana; Rites Here Friday

Olaf Tveit, 64, a resident of the Cut Bank, Mont. community and a former resident of the Goodridge community, died Monday at Cut Bank.

Funeral services for Olaf Tveit will be held Friday at 2 p.m. in the Green Funeral chapel. The Rev. A. B. Heine will officiate and interment will be in the Greenwood cemetery. The body will lie in state at the Green Funeral home from Wednesday evening until time of services on Friday.

Hunting Success On Ducks Poorer Than Last Year

Reports from fieldmen of the Minnesota game and fish division who checked major waterfowl hunting areas on the opening weekend show that hunters generally had less success than last year, the conservation department announced this week.

Reports indicated that lower success this year was the result of fewer ducks in the state, necessary federal restrictions on mallards and poor duck hunting weather. High water levels this past summer and fall also had the effect of spreading out the ducks and reducing concentrations of birds.

Mallards were generally scarce in the eastern part of the state while they were relatively abundant in the west and northwest regions where they had been attracted by flooded fields. Teal had migrated south and were scarce except in parts of the southwestern and southeastern areas of the state.

Ring-necked ducks were more numerous than usual in hunters' bags. Bluebills had moved into the state earlier than usual and were taken in some areas. Hunting was better in areas where these species of diving ducks were found.

Division of game and fish personnel checked ducks taken by about 2,000 hunters on Saturday, October 9 and 1,250 hunters on Sunday, October 10. They found that the average number of ducks taken per hunter was 1.2 on Saturday and 1.0 on Sunday. Last year's average number of ducks taken per hunter was 1.2 on Saturday and 1.1 on Sunday. The crippling loss of about 25 to 30 per cent was about average for opening weekend.

After a good goose opening in many parts of the state on the opening weekend of the goose season October 2-3, goose hunting slowed down the following weekend because many geese had migrated south.

As the season progresses, bluebills and some of the other late-migrating species are expected to provide much of the hunting. The season ends November 17.

Minnesota Second In Duck Stamp Sales in 1964

Minnesota was second in the nation last year in the sale of duck stamps, according to a report by the U. S. Department of Interior. Californians bought the largest number of stamps during the year, 135,291. There were 128,631 stamps sold in Minnesota.

Duck stamp sales increased for the third year in a row, the department reported. Total sales were 1,565,860. The all-time record sale of stamps occurred in 1955 when 2,369,940 stamps were sold.

Duck stamp sales have produced more than $88 million since 1934 the first year of sale. Revenue from duck stamp sales is used to finance projects aimed at maintaining and increasing the populations of migratory waterfowl.

Licenses May Be Taken from Game Law Violators

Persons who are tempted to violate one of Minnesota's game laws were reminded today that they risk losing their hunting or fishing license for one year.

Chief Game Warden F. W. Johnson said persons who violate big game hunting regulations may lose theirs if they have two convictions within a three-year period. In addition, any person convicted of taking game or fish without possessing the necessary license "shall forfeit his right to secure such a license for a period of one year from conviction".

Johnson issued the warning today following reports from state game wardens and other state game and fish division field personnel of an unusual number of hunting violations occurring this fall.

Touch Football League Continues Play Tonight

Three games in the Thief River Falls men's touch football league are scheduled for tonight (Wednesday) at the Pennington county fairgrounds. The Outlaws will play Thorp Loan at 6:30 p.m. Viking will play Montgomery Ward at 7:45 p. m. and North Star Natural Gas will meet Noreen Construction at 9 p. m.

There are a number of make-up games to be played due to the rainy weather of the past month, according to James Foley, city park and recreation director. The city champion will be decided on a point basis with teams awarded two points for a win and one point for a tie. Make-up games should be played in the next 10 days to enable playoffs to be held before colder weather arrives.

Current standings in the league are as follows:

Team	Won	Lost	Tied
North Star Gas	2	1	0
Viking	1	1	1
Norten Const.	1	1	0
Thorp Loan	0	1	1
Outlaws	0	1	0

GEOGRAPHY is being taught in this classroom at Franklin junior high school in Thief River Falls. A student teacher is giving instruction here. Classroom atmosphere is brightened with the use of maps, flags and bulletin board displaying material relative to the lessons being covered by the class.

ORCHESTRA lessons are also part of the program at Franklin junior high school in Thief River Falls. James Solsten, orchestra instructor, is shown explaining some of the basics to members of his class. Vocal music and band intruction are also included in the junior high school program.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS classes at Franklin junior high school are offered on a half-year basis. Students are taught basic skills in use of some power equipment, working with wood and plastics. Instructor was Lawrence Golden when this photo was taken in the school shop Monday.

SPEECH THERAPY in Thief River Falls schools is directed by Miss Kay Knudson, a graduate of the University of North Dakota this year with a B.S. degree in education and major in speech therapy. During the first part of the school year she has been testing students to determine which students will be in the initial therapy sessions and which will be placed on a waiting list. Approximately 200 students have been found to need therapy of varying degrees. In the above photo a hearing test is being given, since students are often found to have a hearing loss related to speech defects.

ICC Hearing On Soo Line Petition Here on Friday

ing, June 30, 1966, and annually thereafter would amount to more than $375,000.

The U.S. postal service will use other transportation to handle the mail. Highway freight competitors in the territory served by the trains do not have to absorb passenger deficits. Better common carrier freight service would be provided by using the funds now required to subsidize passenger trains for new freight equipment, improved roadbed and other purposes.

The few passengers who occasionally use the trains have other adequate means of transportation available to them. Elimination of annual losses on the trains is considered necessary because wage increases will add several hundred thousand dollars to the Soo Line's annual payroll costs in the future.

Opponents to the petition for discontinuance charge that loss figures are intentionally inflated, that no effort has been made to stimulate rail passenger traffic, that passenger facilities are unattractive and in poor repair and that communities along the line would suffer the loss of valuable service if the trains are permitted to be discontinued.

Jr. High School Aids Students In Transition

vailability of facilities and resources in the new building. Science is a required subject in all grades of the junior high school.

Seventh graders study "Life Science", actually a junior high school level biology course in early forms of life. Eighth graders study "Earth Science" with emphasis on geology, earth structure and relationship of the earth in space. Ninth grade pupils study physical science including measurement, chemistry, energy and its special uses and sources. Included in this course are characteristics of matter, atoms, molecules, elements, compounds, mixtures, chemical symbols, formulas and equations, force and motion engines, electricity, electronics, light, sound, fuel heat, nuclear science and chemical energy. Science teachers are R. J. Ulferts and Richard Moeglein.

Spanish Offered

Advancement has also been made in the field of foreign language. Richard Fugere instructs one Spanish section of 29 students in the ninth grade, two sections of 45 students in the eighth grade and three sections of 65 students in the seventh grade. The language is an elective and offered on a half-year basis in grades 7 and 8 and a full year in grade 9. In the lower grades it is alternated with art, music, science and industrial arts. The junior high school Spanish club has about 70 members.

Every student in the school carries at least six subjects during the seven-hour school day. Students are allowed one-half hour for the noon meal. If a student carries seven subjects, he has no school study hall during the school day. Whatever work is required outside of class time must be done at home. Principle of homework is to teach the student to work on his own without ready assistance or supervision by an instructor.

Activities Available

Extra-curricular activities are offered to the students in the complete educational program. Ed Broughton directs the hockey program, Dale Dunning directs wrestling, Ed Krystosek directs the baseball and track program for seventh and eighth grade students. The basketball program in an inter-school activity while the remainder is intra-mural with the accent on participation rather than competition.

Miss Sheila Harmon, junior high school physical education director, has approximately 150 girls enrolled in the Girls Athletic association which meets once each week. The seventh grade comprises one section of this organization with the eighth and ninth grade girls comprising a second section. Miss Harmon was a former state baton twirling champion in North Dakota and will incorporate twirling into the GAA program this winter.

Robert Wilson, librarian, is advisor to the school's library club and the Future Homemakers of America—with about 90 members—is directed by Mrs. Jan Breiland and Miss Peggy Stahl.

Thief River Falls is one of the few school districts in the state to provide area transportation for students attending junior high school. About 135 students regularly ride five buses from Lincoln and Northrop school collection points to the Franklin school and return each day. There is no state aid for this transportation, but cost is relatively small because the buses make the trip regularly for rural students.

LaBonte Is Principal

Principal of the junior high school is John LaBonte, recently named acting principal to succeed Francis Hamerlinck who has been named administrative assistant for the district.

Counseling, testing and guidance work is directed by Orall Johnson, junior high school counselor. Guidance is a major aim of the junior high school since boys and girls of junior high school age feel the need of help in making decisions, choosing vocations and selecting courses of study.

The modern junior high school is an institution of transition. A seventh grade pupil is far different from a ninth grader; great changes take place during the three junior high school years. One of the major functions of the school is to make easier for students the transition from elementary to senior high school.

Objectives Summarized

Objectives of the junior high school are summarized by the school administration as follows:

1. To develop and maintain good physical and mental health.
2. To achieve command of the fundamental skills and knowledges which are basic to other learning.
3. To learn to receive and express ideas effectively.
4. To gain an understanding of our form of government, a knowledge of the history of our nation, and to accept the obligations of good citizenship.
5. To understand the scientific approach to the problems of life, to recognize the need for the conservation of human and natural resources and the contributions of science to the world.
6. To develop spiritual understandings by supporting certain concepts and encouraging certain attitudes which are comnoly accepted by all religious groups and which show no partiality to any group.
7. To acquire skills in fields of his choice which will enable him to take his place in the economic world.
8. To become an intelligent consumer of material goods, cultural products and services.
9. To provide worthy use of leisure time.

Swanson Injured As Car Catches On Railroad Rail

Harold L. Swanson of rt. 3 Thief River Falls, suffered minor injuries in a freak one-car accident at the Nora street railroad crossing. Ot about noon Tuesday he was driving east on Nora and his car was caught on the west rail of the Soo main line, stopping abruptly and causing about $400 damage to the vehicle. Swanson was thrown forward and knocked out temporarily and suffered nose bleeding.

On Tuesday morning Donald Schoonhoven, city, reported that sometime during the previous night his car which was parked on the east side of Kneale avenue in the 500 block south was hit by an unknown vehicle in the left front door causing damage to the extent of about $40. The mishap is under investigation.

Two juvenile shoplifters, one of whom was apprehended in a local store, were questioned on Monday and released to parents.

Clearing Skies Promise Relief From Fall Rains

Two days of rain following Sunday's .84-inch downpour brought the total rainfall for the week at Thief River Falls to 1.32 inches. Clearing skies have brought promise of relief, however. Forecast calls for partly cloudy skies today becoming fair tonight and tomorrow. Temperatures will be cooler today and tonight with little temperature change tomorrow. Highs today will range from 54 to 66; lows tonight from 28 to 38.

Temperature and precipitation figures recorded by North Central Airlines at the municipal airport are as follows: 55, 42 and .21 inch on Monday; 61, 49 and .27 inch on Tuesday; and a low this morning of 41.

Airport Closes For Runway Work

Thief River Falls municipal airport was closed temporarily after this morning's departing flight due to surfacing work to be done on the runway. The facility is expected to reopen in about five days barring more adverse weather conditions.

Legislators Will Inspect College

Thief River Falls junior college is the final meeting place on the agenda for the October 20-21-22 meeting of the Legislative Building commission. Members of the commission will meet at the college Friday at 10 a.m., after which the three-day session will be adjourned.

Public Opinion

This community can be justly proud of the tremendous progress that has been made here in the last five years. During this period we have built an old folks home, grade school, junior high school, added to the hospital and post office, made extensive street improvements, established a junior college, undertaken comprehensive city planning and are now in the process of building a new library. Several commercial firms have elected to locate here and others to greatly improve their facilities and service to the public.

Thanks to the Jaycees and other civic-minded folks, we are now considering another worthwhile civic project—an outdoor swimming pool. But why should it be an outdoor pool in an area so abundantly blessed with summer recreational opportunities including swimming, boating, fishing, camping, golfing, archery, baseball, softball and what not? On the other hand our winters keep most people limited to bowling, curling, ice fishing, skating and skiing. For reasons of age and health many people are unable to participate in most of these. An indoor pool would go a long way in correcting this unbalance.

An indoor pool would give us 360 days of recreation instead of 90. Addition of swimming to the phy. ed. program of our schools is both useful and beneficial to all. The rehabilitation unit of our hospital could add hydrotherapy to its excellent program.

The greater cost of an indoor pool would be more than offset by the greater benefits derived. So why settle for half measures? Let us do the job right and let us do it for keeps. This is more in keeping with the spirit of progress that has prevailed in our community during the past five years.

Jon Metushalem.

Carnival Slated At Holt School

An evening of fun has been planned for everyone who attends the carnival at the Holt school Friday night. Warren Buck of Thief River Falls will emcee the program and lead a hootenanny sing-along session beginning at 8 p.m. group, by Bob Skoglund and by the Earl Hanson family.

Other events will include contests, games and coronation of a king and queen. Lunch will be served. The public is invited.

1965 Pheasant Season Will Open Saturday

Minnesota pheasant hunters were assured today by Conservation Commissioner Wayne H. Olson that hunting cocks only will have no significant effect on the number of birds available for hunting next year.

Olson said that Minnesota will have a 23-day pheasant season this year in comparison to last year's 38-day season when 758,000 roosters were taken. The 1965 bag limit has been reduced to two roosters daily and four in possession, compared to three daily and six in possession last year.

The season will open at noon Saturday, October 23. After the first day, hunting hours are 10 a. m. to sunset.

Conservation department officials say the pheasant population is down 50-60 per cent from last year, according to the August roadside brood counts, due principally to heavy mortality of breeding stock during the March 17-18 blizzard.

Olson said that many people honestly feel that there should not be a hunting season when the population is so low. However, he said, the effect of hunting "roosters only" is the same when the population is low as when it is high — it will have no significant influence on the following year's population.

Pheasants, like chickens, are polygamous and only a small percentage of the roosters need to be saved for breeding purposes, he explained. Winter sex ratio counts in Minnesota indicate there is normally one rooster for about three hens going into the spring, which is more than ample for breeding purposes.

Checks of eggs in pheasant nests in Minnesota show a high fertility rate of over 95 per cent. Infertile clutches are virtually non-existent.

"Even if the ratio were one rooster to 10 hens, as it is in some states, fertility and production of young would still be unaffected," Olson said.

The vast majority of hunters are conscientious about not shooting hens, he said, and studies show that only a small percentage of hens are shot illegally or accidentally during a "cocks only" season.

"While this loss is regrettable," said Olson," it has only a minor effect on the following year's brood stock since over one-half of these hens would die of natural causes during the fall and winter anyway."

He said a closed season this year would result in the waste of about one-third million cocks since about 70 per cent die annually from weather and other natural causes whether they are hunted or not. He said that the average life of a pheasant is less than one year and that pheasants cannot be "stockpiled".

"Adverse weather and a deterioration of habitat, not hunting, have brought about the pheasant decline, Olson said.

"The year 1965 will be a very lean year for the pheasant hunter," he added. "However, the pheasant season will provide the opportunity for many hours of outdoor recreation. Although the bags won't be big, the hunter can be confident that when he shoots only roosters he will not hurt next year's breeding population."

He also urged hunters to line up a place to hunt prior to the start of the season.

Red Lake Falls at Twin Valley.
Fertile at Bagley.

The Ada Vikings continue to pace the Pine-to-Prairie football conference, holding a one-game lead over the second-place Warren Ponies. In last week's play, the Ada club scored a 20 to 6 win over a stubborn Fertile Falcons eleven at Fertile. The Warren Ponies, with their all-round star Pete Gilbert scoring four touchdowns and two conversion points, trounced the Fosston Greyhounds, 34 to 0.

Gilbert's 26-point effort gave the Warren halfback a total of 94 points in the conference scoring race. Ada's Ken Pierce, who had trailed by three points entering last week's play, 68 to 65, picked up two touchdowns in the Vikings' conquest of Fertile. The individual scoring race, between Gilbert and Pierce, could develop in a down-to-the-wire contest. The Ada club will close out their season against Fosston and Twin Valley, while Warren will face Mahnomen and Red Lake Falls.

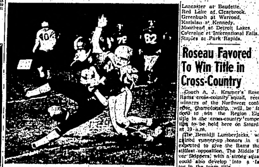
SCRAMBLING to elude Roseau defenders, quarterback Tom Cummings of the Prowlers carries the ball in fumble-inviting position. It was on a similar scramble from the 10-yard line that Cummings passed to John Olson just outside the Rams' end zone for the Prowlers' only touchdown. Monte LeMoine added the placement conversion to give the Prowlers a 7 to 7 tie at halftime. Roseau defenders include Mike Baumgartner (78), Larry Toll (60) and co-captain Gary Erickson (56).



BROKEN UP at the last instant was this pass from Tom Cummings intended for end Bod Carlson, a favorite receiver. Halfback Ryan Brandt (22) of the Roseau Rams had a near interception on the play. Other players on the play are Bill Dicken (40) of the Prowlers, Mike Baumgartner (78) and Mitchell Johnson (82) of Roseau. The Rams won the game 14-7.

Roseau Favored To Win Title in Cross-Country

Coach A. J. Kramer's Roseau Rams cross-country squad, recent winners of the Northwest conference championship, will be favored to win the Region Eight title in the cross-country competition to be held here on Saturday at 10 a.m.

The Bemidji Lumberjacks, who gained runner-up honors in the expected to give the Rams their stiffest opposition. The Middle River Skippers, with a strong squad, could also develop into a factor in the team title.

In the competition for individual honors the meet could provide the fans with a four or five-man contest for the championship. In last week's Northwest conference meet, Crookston's Roger Jung defeated the top runners on the Rams' squad—Ed Broten, Ray Grindahl and John Lindberg—but was the winner by a bare half-second over Broten. Grindahl was one second off the pace and Lindberg finished a close fourth.

Schedule, Friday, Oct. 22.
Bemidji at Thief River Falls.
Roseau at Crookston.
St. James at East Grand Forks (NC).

Coach Ken Wilson's Bemidji Lumberjacks will be striving for their fourth successive Northwest conference football title here Friday night when they meet the Prowlers in a 7:30 p. m. game on the Lincoln field.

The Lumberjacks, who scored a 26 to 6 win over the Crookston Pirates last week, have recorded three successive unbeaten seasons in conference play, having posted 4 wins and no losses marks in 1962, 1963 and 1964.

The only teams with an outside chance of sharing the title with the Jacks are the Roseau Rams and the Crookston Pirates, and these two teams will meet at Crookston on Friday night. Each team has a one win and one loss mark.

The Roseau Rams edged out the Prowlers, 14 to 7, on a last-minute pass-and-run touchdown play, Bryan Grand to Jerry Halverson, at Thief River Falls on Friday night.

In a non-conference game last week, coach Ron Thompson's East Grand Forks team dropped a 21 to decision to Grand Forks Central. And this week the Green Wave will entertain the St. James Royals in a 3 p. m. game.

The Plummer Cardinals turned back the challenge of the Goodridge Huskies last week, winning by a convincing 32 to 0 score. And this week coach Phil Bevlrig's conference-leading Cardinals will meet another top-rated team in the McIntosh Macs. McIntosh, with a record of four wins and one loss, defeated Oklee last week by the decisive score of 41 to 0.

SPRINGING loose for some important yardage in this play from the Roseau vs. Thief River Falls football game, junior halfback Jerry Halverson of the Rams makes a good gain. Halvorson scored the winning touchdown in the 14 to 7 game when he took a 21-yard pass from quarterback Bryan Grand and raced 30 additional yards to score in the fourth quarter. Prowlers closing in on this play are Jon Ihle, end (37) and Luke Kaushagen, tackle (23).

Sportsmen's Club Meets Tonight

Regular monthly meeting of the Pennington County Sportsmen club will be held tonight (Wednesday) at 7:30 p.m. in the Thief River Falls civic auditorium meeting room. Members are urged to attend and to bring a friend if possible. Movies will be shown, reports given, general business conducted and lunch served.

IRS Gives Answers on Federal Income Tax

Q—My neighbor has asked me to take care of her little girl in my home for her while she is at work. If I agree to do this will the money she pays me be taxable?

A—Yes. If your net income from this source totals $400 or more during the year, you must file a return and pay self-employment tax even though you are not otherwise required to file an income tax return.

The self-employment tax will enable you to build up Social Security retirement benefits. Details on the self-employment tax are described in IRS Document No. 5017. You may obtain a copy free at your local Internal Revenue Service office.

Q—My employer suddenly stopped withholding Social Security from my pay. Why did he do that?

A—Probably because he has withheld the maximum required by law. For 1965, Social Security is withheld on the first $4,800 of wages paid. Beginning next year, however, Social Security tax will be withheld on the first $6,600 of wages paid. This increase, together with an increase in rate, will help pay for the health benefits that will be provided under Social Security as well as for added retirement benefits.

Q—Some months after filing my 1964 return, I found some medical expenses which I paid for my dependent uncle were deductible on that return. Since I paid some of these medical bills in 1964, can I file an amended return for that year claiming them?

A—Yes, you can file an amended return anytime within three years after the date it was due.

To file an amended return, obtain a copy of a 1964 tax form from your local Internal Revenue office and fill in all the information required. Write "Amended" across the top. If you have not kept a copy of the original tax return you filed for 1964, you may obtain a duplicate copy of it from your district office. You should be prepared to substantiate all the items you list on the return.

Q—How do you define allowable medical travel for tax purposes? Would it include a plane trip to another city for an emergency operation?

A—Travel expenses essential to medical care may be claimed as medical expenses. If the plane trip to another city was primarily for the essential to medical care and not taken for personal reasons, then your transportation costs may be deductible, but not meals and lodging unless they are furnished by a hospital as a necessary incident to medical care.

S—I think you made a mistake on my refund check. Where should I write about it—to the office where I filed my return or the office that sent me the check?

A—When any change is made in refunds, an explanation of the change is sent the taxpayer, usually shortly before the check is mailed. If an explanation has not been received around the time the check arrives, inquiries should be sent to your Internal Revnue district office.

If you have moved since you filed your last return then write to your new district office. Give full information in your letter and show your Social Security number and old address so that your return can be properly identified.

Q—When is the final installment on estimated tax due?

A—If you are a calendar-year taxpayer, it is due January 17, 1966. However, you have the choice of either making that payment January 17 or filing your tax return for the year on or before January 31, 1966. If you decide to file the return by January 31, you should pay the balance of your 1965 tax in full at that time.

Grain Moved To Relieve Storage

About 5.2 million bushels of government-owned grains are being moved down the Great Lakes to storage in Buffalo to relieve the tight grain storage situation in spring wheat areas, according to word received by the Minnesota Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation service.

Government - owned stocks of grains may be resold—as provided by law—at 105 per cent of the loan rate plus reasonable carrying charges. However, stocks of hard red spring and durum wheats—classes mainly produced in the four-state area of Minnesota, North and South Dakota and Montana—have continued to accumulate and now are extremely high.

Overall wheat stocks have dropped more than 40 per cent from the 1960 peak—from 1.4 billion bushels to 819 million bushels. Carryover stocks of hard red spring and durum wheats, however, totaled 315 million bushels as of July 1—substantially above the 257-million-bushel carryover at the end of the 1960 season.

About 4.2 million bushels of wheat and one million bushels of oats are involved in the move from spring wheat areas. In making the storage shift, the oats will be advantageously located to supplement short feed supplies in drought-stricken areas of the Northeast.

Income Remaining After Taxes Is Low in Minnesota

If you have trouble stretching your paycheck to cover your bills it may be that, like the average Minnesotan, your POPIRASALT is low, according to Charles P. Stone, executive director of the Minnesota Taxpayers association.

POPIRASALT, Stone said, is the "percentage of personal income remaining after state and local taxes." The percentage is arrived at by determining the percentage relationship between personal income per capita and state and local taxes per capita as reported by the U. S. Department of Commerce, he said.

"In 1964, for instance, Minnesota's pre capita personal income was -2,375 and state and local taxes combined were $281.84 per capita," Stone said. "This left $2,093.16 or 88.13 per cent of the average personal income available for other purposes. Only one state had a lower POPIRASALT—South Dakota.

"Translated back into dollars, the comparison of Minnesota's position with that of the nation as a whole takes on considerable economic significance.

"The average U. S. citizen paid $250 in state and local taxes out of $2,566 income. He had $2,316 left for other spending. The average Minnesotan paid $282 in state and local taxes out of $2,375 personal income. He had $2,093 left for other purposes.

"The difference of $233 in favor of the non-Minnesotan means that Minnesota's 3,521,000 people suffered a total economic disadvantage of more than $785 million in 1964."

Small Car Death Rates Highest, Council Reports

Small cars are not involved in accidents any more frequently than large cars, but when accidents do occur the occupant fatality rate for small cars is about twice as high as for large cars, according to a report by the National Safety council.

The occupant death rate for small cars in 1964 was 7.6 deaths per 10,000 cars, compared to 3.8 for large cars.

The number of occupant deaths in small cars totaled about one-fourth of all motor vehicle occupant deaths in 1964, compared with less than 10 per cent in 1960 and only about three per cent in 1958, the report says.

Between 1958 and 1964 the number of occupant deaths in standard-sized passenger cars was about unchanged, with 23,400 in 1958 and 23,500 in 1964. The number of occupant deaths in small cars increased from about 800 in 1958 to 8,000 last year.

There are indications, says the report, that about one-third of the sharp rise in motor vehicle deaths in recent years has been due to the increase in the number of small cars with their higher occupancy death rates. There were 47,800 traffic deaths last year.

The report pointed out that the number of small cars has increased from about 1.8 per cent of the total cars in the nation in 1958 to nearly 17 per cent in 1964.

Foreign small cars in 1964 were about one-third of the small car population, and domestic compacts about two-thirds. The findings of the study, however, are related to small cars as a group.

Traffic Mishaps Leading Cause of Death in Young

Traffic accidents are the leading cause of death among all persons from ages five to 31; and about one-half of all fatal highway accidents involve just one automobile. The latter is one of the important findings in a three-part study conducted by a California research analyst.

In a study of 5,200 accident reports gathered during June and December, the researcher found that:

Faulty driving (lack of manipulative skill and mistakes in judgment) accounts for 25 per cent of the accidents. Excessive speed is second with 24 per cent, drinking and drugs 14 per cent and mechanical failure 10 per cent.

Men are more often involved in accidents caused by speed, drinking and drowsiness. Faulty driving, emergency situations and distractions within the car are the main causes of single-car accidents involving women.

In absolute terms, the 15-24 age group is the most dangerous period for single-car accidents, middle-age the least dangerous and old-age in between. The chances of being involved in a single-car accident are about 2-½ times greater than the others.

Accidents are more frequent during the 7 p.m. to 6 a.m. period, with especially high incidence occurring at 3 a.m. and 6 a.m.

Enzely Sturre Gains Promotion

Enzely W. Sturre, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Sturre of Goodridge, has been promoted to airman first class in the U. S. Air Force.

"MY DAD SAYS A SWIMMING POOL WON'T RAISE HIS TAXES MUCH!"

If you are a taxpayer in the city your tax increase would be $2.18 for every $100 in taxes now paid. Example A taxpayer now payin g $150 in taxes would pay $153.27 when the proposed pool for Thief River Falls is built.

Our new municipal pool would give our children the safest possible place to swim. What is the value of a human life?

"Let each one examine his thoughts, and he will find them all occupied with the past and the future . . . The present is never our end. The past and the present are our means; the future alone is our end. So we never live, but we hope to live; and, as we are always preparing to be happy, it is inevitable that we should never be so."

More on the Pool

At last there is some public discussion coming forth in regard to the proposed municipal swimming pool for Thief River Falls. At the November 2 city election, Thief River Falls voters will decide whether or not the city shall issue up to $200,000 in general obligation bonds to construct an outdoor municipal swimming pool. Since there are no election contests, the pool issue is expected to provide the major interest in this year's election.

The five-member swimming pool committee headed by Roy Lee was successful in having a pool proposal prepared and obtaining city council permission to place the question on the ballot. Apart from granting this permission, the council has collectively sat on its hands. It does not support the proposal, has not condemned it, and neither has it suggested any modifications or apparently given it much serious thought. In political circles, this is called "playing it close to the belt."

The council's position at present is not particularly relevant, however. It is apparently willing to do what the public desires, and that is about all that should be asked of it, particularly regarding the pool. There are certainly enough other city projects in the mill to keep the city fathers occupied, and this is likely part of the reason for the council's lethargy.

If the city of Thief River Falls is to build a municipal pool, it would seem the proposal presented by the swimming pool committee is a good one. There is cost to the community involved, but we don't believe this to be a really large problem. Taxpayers should pay local taxes with the least amount of complaint, for they are able to see directly the result of these assessments. Such is not the case with federal or even state taxes. Local taxes at least provide a full dollar's worth of value to the community.

It would also seem that the proposal for an outdoor pool is a logical one. It involves the least cost, lends itself to being part of an outdoor recreation complex, would provide adequate swimming area, meet the needs of the season and be a major summer attraction for the community.

Aside from those who oppose the pool because of cost and a belief that it isn't needed, there are opponents to the issue who would favor an indoor pool. We feel that these people are overlooking several points.

First, the cost of an indoor pool from a construction standpoint alone would be quite high. Second, the operational costs of a year-around pool would be enormous. Third, the number of people who could be expected to use such a pool in the winter months would be quite small. (We imagine it would be something less than refreshing to bundle into an overcoat and overshoes, climb into a cold car, drive to the pool for a swim, bundle up again and return home.)

Fourth, it would be impractical to use an indoor pool in conjunction with the school's physical education program unless it was directly connected with the school. Fifth, the size of the pool would have to be restricted to a smaller area and would not lend itself to the park and recreation complex of the city. Sixth, we believe that indoor swimming in the summer would not be as attractive as an outdoor facility with the popular trend to outdoor activities.

Should the residents of Thief River Falls desire to have a municipal pool with clear water and a healthy atmosphere, the plan as presented seems to be a good one.

Out for Blood

Thousands of women in America today are literally out for blood. This information is contained in a report from the American Association of Blood Banks, in a statement by Dr. Robert E. Klein of Gainesville, Fla., association president.

Women workers in the national blood bank program outnumber men by five to one, fulfilling every phase of the operation from drawing and typing blood to driving bloodmobiles. In the course of their work they save thousands of lives and millions of dollars through the voluntary blood replacement program.

There is no synthetic substitute for blood. If a person needs blood replaced because of loss in accident, surgery or other reasons, it must be obtained from other people. The blood bank program permits members to donate blood periodically to help others, knowing that if they should need this priceless fluid it will be made available to them and their families by other donor members.

Northern Blood Bank, Inc., is one of the voluntary organizations which provides this service. Headquartered at Northwestern hospital, the blood bank has donors in the area who are on call to contribute blood when needed. In most cases members are given advance notice as to when they will be asked to contribute. In some cases, particularly involving people with rare blood types, the donor members are on call any time their blood types may be needed.

Membership in a blood bank is a wise policy. It assures members of a supply of blood when needed, and also provides protection to the member's family. Donating blood is a simple procedure that requires little time and is negligibly painless.

Another membership drive for the Northern Blood Bank will be held in the near future. Persons who are not now members are encouraged to join at that time or by contacting the blood bank laboratory at Northwestern hospital.

Hard to Believe?

It may be hard for you to belive—but 1964 marked the seventh straight year in which the price of gasoline, excluding taxes, decreased from the preceding year. That happened while the overall consumer price index continued to climb.

Putting it statistically, during the 1957-64 period, the price of gasoline went down 9.7 per cent. The index rose 10.3 per cent. Not all of the cuts in gas prices were reflected in the figure paid at the service station, and the reason for that is the heavy tax levied on this essential fuel. It ranges from five to eight cents a gallon in the various states, plus a federal tax of four cents. Few out-and-out luxuries—much less an absolute necessity—carry such a burden.

The motorist, as a matter of fact, is a prime target of the tax collector. In a recent year, American highway users paid nearly $12.4 billion in special state and federal taxes of assorted kinds. This works out to $151 per vehicle. More than half of the total sum was collected through levies on the sale of motor fuel, particularly gasoline. The remainder came from motor vehicle registration fees, sales taxes and various excise taxes.

This certainly indicates that the motorist is paying his full share of the tax bill and then some. In coming years, there is bound to be more agitation for still higher gasoline taxes. This should be met with the organized and determined opposition of everyone who drives a car. They're too high now.

The Spending Spree

Food, clothing and shelter are said to be the three necessities of life. In 1965, according to the First National Bank of Boston, the American people will spend $183 billion—a major part of their income—on these three items. That's a lot of money in any man's language.

Spending by local, state and federal governments during 1965, however, will come to $203 billion—$20 billion more than American families spend for the necessities of life. Only 15 years ago the reverse was true in this nation. Much of the increase in government spending can be attributed to efforts to create a welfare state.

It is a well-known fact in socialist countries that a government that does everything for you can also do anything with you. Dependency upon government for the basic necessities may not be too far away in our nation, judging by the shift in spending.

Reports from Washington indicate that program after program has been pushed through Congress by a top-heavy administrative majority without adequate planning or concern about potential cost to the taxpayers. One member of the House appropriations committee recently said, "We've seen department after department, agency after agency, come before us with nothing but a popular slogan to substantiate their requests for billions of dollars. One agency head candidly asked us to simply appropriate the money and he'd figure out how to spend it later."

Free spending to finance ill-conceived ideas which have not been studied—much less adequately researched—have been dropped on the shoulders of the American taxpayer to the extent that he now pays $20 billion more in taxes than he does for food, clothing and shelter. He who deals with welfare-staters is getting a bad bargain.

Words of Counsel

Sen. Eugene McCarthy recently supplied a tribute in memory of Adlai Stevenson. Excerpts from "Desiderata" by Max Ehrmann, taken from a marked page found on Stevenson's bedside table, were quoted as follows:

"Go placidly amid the noise and the haste, and remember what peace there may be in silence. . .Speak your truth quietly and clearly; and listen to others, even to the dull and the ignorant; they too have their story. . .If you compare yourself with others, you may become vain or bitter, for always there will be greater and lesser persons as well as your plans.

"Keep interested in your own career, however humble; it is a real possession in the changing fortunes of time. Excerise caution in your business affairs, for the world is full of trickery. But let this not blind you to what virtue there is; many persons strive for high ideals, and everywhere life is full of herosim.

"Be yourself. Especially do not feign affection. Neither by cynical about love; for in the face of all aridity and disenchantment it is as perennial as the grass. Take kindly the counsel of the years, gracefully surrendering the things of youth. Nurture strength of spirit to shield you in sudden misfortune. But do not distress yourself with dark imaginings.

"Many fears are born of fatigue and loneliness. Beyond a wholesome discipline, be gentle with yourself. You are a child of the universe no less than the trees and the stars; you have a right to be here. And whether or not it is clear to you, no doubt the universe is unfolding as it should."

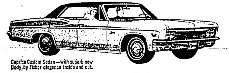
Before rural electricity brought running water to the farms in our area, the little vine-covered building was a familiar sight. Today, thanks to dependable rural electricity as generated by Minnkota Power Cooperative and supplied by local rural electric cooperative, the modern bathroom is an integral part of the farm home.

NOW! A WHOLE NEW SERIES OF ULTRA-LUXURIOUS CHEVROLETS
'66 CAPRICE
BY CHEVROLET

Caprice Custom Coupe—with exclusive formal roof line that comes on no other Chevrolet.



Caprice Custom Sedan—with superb new Body by Fisher elegance inside and out.

Caprice Custom Wagon—with fine new look of hardwood paneling on sides and tailgate.
Everything it takes to create a distinguished luxury car has gone into these new Caprices.
Beneath the formal styling elegance that sets the Custom Coupe apart, for instance, you'll find thick wall-to-wall carpeting, comfort-contoured seats and the look of hand-rubbed walnut on the instrument panel, glove compartment and inside door panels. You can order a finely instrumented console, together with new Strato-bucket front seats.
In the Custom Sedan, a new Strato-back front seat is available with bucket-type contours separated by a fold-down armrest. And in the equally opulent Custom Wagons, offered in 2- or 3-seat models, you can even order carpeting for the cargo area.
Each model rides super Jet-smooth. And for incomparably smooth power, you can specify Chevrolet's advanced Turbo-Jet V8 in either a 396- or 427-cubic-inch version.
The price of it all? Somewhat more than you're used to paying for a Chevrolet. But less, as your dealer will happily confirm—than the select class of fine cars these new Caprices invite comparison with in every detail.

Minnesota Jobs Now At All-Time Record

Final official tabulations of nonfarm jobs in Minnesota in September show employment at a new all-time record, 1,098,000, up 8,600 from August and 35,900 above the level in September 1964.

Employment Security Commissioner Robert J. Brown indicated that manufacturing jobs led all other categories in the state in September, jumping almost 10,000 above the level of a year ago. Over half of this over-the-year increase occurred in nonelectric machinery manufacturing firms. All other manufacturing groups had nominal increases over-the-year, with the exception of the stone, clay and glass category, which dropped slightly, Brown said.

The 3.4 per cent job increase over last year becomes especially significant when compared to other yearly changes. only twice since 1947 (when detailed employment records were started in the state) has the September-to-September percentage change been higher. In 1950 it was 6.5 per cent and in 1960 it was 4.4 per cent. This year's change of 3.4 per cent occurred four years after the 1961 recession.

Brown also reported that unemployment in the state last month was down to 35,100—a drop of 8,200 from August and 8,400 less than a year ago. The September rate of 2.3 per cent was the lowest since 1957. The rate was 2.7 per cent in August and 2.8 per cent a year ago.

Manufacturing employment of 266,500. The over-the-month increase was normal for this time of the year despite 650 workers being counted as on strike. These 650 workers were split evenly between the transportation equipment industry and the rubber and leather products industry.

Manufacturing firms engaged in the production of durable goods added 600 jobs to their payrolls, the net result of seasonal declines of 300 in lumber and wood products and 200 in stone, clay, and glass; and job increases totaling 1,100 in other durable goods industries.

Nondurable goods producing firms added a net of 1,600 jobs over the month, with gains of 2,000 and losses of 400. The food industry, always the most dynamic industry in nondurables, had a net seasonal expansion of 1,600 jobs as the vegetable canning industry reached its seasonal peak.

Mining employment, which usually declines from August to September, remained at its August employment level of 13,500. For the first nine months of 1965, mining employment has averaged 750 above 1961 levels.

The reopening of schools in September, directly affected employment in two industries—transportation and government. Employment in transportation advanced to 6,000 a gain of 900 from August. Although some segments of the industry lost employment, these losses were more than offset when local bus lines added 1,000 additional employees, most of whom were needed to handle the transportation of students to and from school. Government employment increased by 3,400 jobs only because local public schools added 7,800 people to their payrolls. All other government categories, together, lost 4,400 jobs, mainly the result of students returning to school from sumer government jobs.

Seasonal employment losses of 1,700 and 500 occurred in construction and finance, respectively. The reduction in finance employment was normal, but because of unfavorable weather the cutback in construction was the largest August to September decline since 1957.

Manufacturing production workers earned an average of $110.07 per week in September by working an average of 41.0 hours per week at an average hourly rate of $2.68. In August they earned $109.72 per week for 40.8 hours of work at an average of $2.69 per hour. The corresponding figures a year ago were $107.69 per week, 41.1 hours per week, and $2.62 per hour.

SLOW DOWN AND LIVE!

Side Line Observations

BY BILL DAHLQUIST

A significant test vote in the Senate gives some assurance that President Johnson and his party-following are not going to have all things their own way in the closing days of the present session of Congress. In the senate recently, minority leader Senator Dirkson led the opposition to the President-supported measure that would have denied to the states the right to have righ-to-work laws. Following a spirited debate, Republican Dirksen was upheld by a vote of 47 to 45, and that should kill the proposed restrictive measure as far as this session of Congress is concerned.

We have had too much of government from the top down and more and more power has been concentrated in Washington as the rights of the states and local units of government have been shifted from the people to the bureaucrats in the national capitol. A few reversals are essential if we are to perpetuate government of the people, by the people and for the people. It appears that a struggle will be required if we are to maintain the liberties we inherited as a result of the struggles of our forefathers.

The argument about a swimming pool is off to a good start and it could become more interesting as the city election approaches. Unfortunately, the issues are not clearly defined. Such questions as the location of the proposed pool are not clear, and the question of location is a matter of importance for many voters. And it appears that many voters would prefer a swimming pool that would be enclosed and make swimming available during the long months of the winter.

It is my opinion that the whole problem needs a more thorough study and that before final action is taken a lot more information should be submitted to the voters. Our primary need is a program of river development and polution control, and if we approach this problem in the right manner it is quite likely that we would be able to secure aids of various kinds that would provide a better source of drinking water, and incidentally, a better solution for our swimming needs, summer and winter. Hasty decisions now may lead to errors that will set back the overall program, that we all desire, for years to come.

It is comforting to know that our bureaucrats in Washington are always on the alert to look after our personal interests. From now on well-formed carrots are going to get more respectful consideration in the official descriptions. Until now, well-formed carrots have been classified as "not badly misshapen." Following a thorough study of this situation the authorities have now decided that well-shaped carrots will be classified as "fairly well formed". Now I will quit worrying about this problem.

Our congratulations to those who have directed the activities of the Minnesota Twins to their splendid American League victory and their fine showing in the neck and neck race for the national professional baseball championship. Our two major cities are to be congratulated on their ability to work in harmony in bringing to the state a baseball organization that has won, for the state as a whole, national recognition. A round of cheers for our Minnesota Twins, Minneapolis and St. Paul, for their contribution to the progress of the state as a whole. May they continue to work together in harmony.

FFA Chapters In State Contribute To Camp Courage

Minnesota's Future Farmers of America will boast of giving well over $100,000 within 12 years, after their annual "Corn Drive for Camp Courage" this fall.

Corn drives consist of gleaning unpicked corn after harvest. The corn is shelled and sold, and the proceeds donated to Camp Courage. Minnesota's only camp for crippled children and adults, located near Maple Lake.

In areas where corn is not raised, the youths utilize other gifts of nature. For example, last year one chapter collected pulpwood, another wheat; others had pigeon drives or sold seeds and pine cones.

Plans for this year's corn drives were made at the annual "Living-to-Serve Day" at the FFA leadership conference held near Britt.

This year's goal for the corn drives was set as $26,500. Of this sum, $10,000 will be used to sponsor camperships at Camp Courage and the rest will be used for the new speech therapy building at Camp Courage now under construction, according to W. J. Kortesmaki, state executive secretary of the FFA.

Camp Courage is owned and operated by the Minnesota Society for Crippled Children and Adults.

Langen Charges Sugar Bill Needs Revision

"Writers of this sugar bill are trying to tell us that its passage is urgently needed to help the domestic sugar industry, but acumfive years of decreased production for our beet farmers, and comshare in the growth of the U.S. sugar market," Congressman Odin Langen said recently before the House of Representatives, now considering the Sugar Act Amendments of 1965.

"If there is any urgency in this bill," said Langen, "it was created by this government when it asked the domestic industry to produce more sugar when world supplies were low. The American growers responded magnificently and their right to market that sugar is now being used as an excuse by those who want this bill passed without question. But when you look at the facts, there are no favors in this bill for the domestic producers."

Langen, who submitted a complete analysis of sugar quotas and purchases over the past four years, said that the comparisons made it obvious where the special favors were going.

"The startling facts reveal that since 1962 the domestic sugarbeet growers have been held to an increased quota of just eight per cent, including the extra sugar the Government urged them to produce during the sugar shortage, while foreign quotas jumped a whooping 170 per cent. And when you look at some of the individual countries involved, the figures are even more startling. Not only were some quotas almost tripled, but Uncle Sugar actually bought at least double the amount of the quotas from most of the nations. A number of them sold us six times as much sugar as specified by the quotas. While our domestic producers are prohibited from marketing a single ounce of sugar beyond the established quota, we extend all kinds of privileges to other nations around the world."

Langen noted that under the new sugar bill there is a list of entirely new nations from which we will buy sugar for the first time. "In other words, we tell our domestic growers that they must curtail production and that no new growers are to be allowed. But in the same breath we welcome increased production in other nations and even start buying in new areas. This bill even calls for buying sugar from the Bahama Islands in 1968. The Bahamas don't even raise sugar, but they will now with the assurance that the U.S. will pay a high premium price for it."

The Minnesota Congress noted that the limited debate on the sugar bill at least allowed the discussion of two amendments, to curb foreign lobbying and to impose import fees on foreign sugar.

"The debate over foreign lobbyists has long been overdue," he said, "and a discussion of import fees is definitely in order due to the vast difference between the low world price of sugar and the high premium price the U.S. guarantees to foreign producers."

Langen noted that most foreign nations sell part of their sugar to the U.S. at the high price and sell the rest of their production on the world market at the low price." "Their average price is much higher than if they sold all of their sugar on the world market. In other words, we are subsidizing every pound of sugar they sell. And our subsidy, which helps keep the world price unusually low, makes it possible for other nations, including the communist bloc, to buy sugar at a lower price. The use of realistic import fees to recapture part of the difference between our price and the world price would not only eliminate much of that subsidy, but would bring all prices into better proportion."

Entries Received For Wool Sewing Contest in TRF

Janet Purath of Red Lake Falls was the first in District I and Red Lake county to enter the 1965 Make-It-Yourself with Wool contest. She is in the junior division making a suit of black kaplan wool, according to Mrs. G. Milford Peterson, Crookston, district director. The District I contest will be held at Thief River Falls on Friday, November 26.

Kay Wittman, Warren, was the first to enter from Marshall county. Kay has entered in the senior division and is making a suit of blue heather wool. Bonnie Finstad of Thief River Falls has entered in the senior division. The first from Pennington county. She has chosen for her garment a white carletex wool dress.

Bobbie Fanfulik, Euclid, was the first to enter from West Polk county and is in the sub-deb division. She is making a royal blue carletex skirt. Judith Schmunk, Bemidji, Beltrami county, entered the junior division, and is making a dress of burgundy wool. Phyllis Bagaason, Clearbrook, Clearwater county, senior division, is making a red and white kaplan wool ensemble.

Other entries are coming in daily, Mrs. Peterson said. Home Economics classes in Humboldt, Sacred Heart, East Grand Forks, Stephen and Bagley are making wool garments for the contest as class projects. The contest is also open to adults 22 years of age and over.

Entry blanks are available from the district director, Mrs. G. Milford Peterson, 216 South Minnesota St., Crookston, Minn.

Ella and Clara Overum were guests Sunday at the Myrtle Monson home in Thief River Falls. In the evening they visited at the Ole T. Ose home in Silverton.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Moe and Randy attended the 25th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Lon Inman at the Nazareth Lutheran church at Holt Sunday afternoon. They also visited at the Rudolph Smiths later in the afternoon.

Wool Producers Need Information For ASC Payment

Producers were reminded today of the importance of supporting their applications for payment under the wool payment program with full and accurate information and sales records. Winton Knutson, chairman of the Pennington County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee, explained that producers may need to be reminded about the type of information needed in filling out the application form.

For instance, program payments are made on shorn wool sales by the applicant during the marketing year, provided the wool on which he is applying for payment was shorn from sheep or lambs which the applicant had owned for at least 30 days. There is need to supply the sales document in support of the application for payment and the producer should maintain records verifying the 30-day ownership in case verification is needed. The applicant also reports whether any of the wool on which payment is claimed is the first shearing from lambs that he purchased unshorn.

Payments apply only to wool produced and sold by the applicant; therefore, payments should not be claimed on wool purchased by the applicant. Payments are also made under the program on unshorn lambs which the applicant has owned for at least 30 days. A full report supported by records on these purchases of unshorn lambs is necessary since the lamb payments are prorated among the producers who have owned the lambs for the necessary length of time. This is so important that the applicant is asked to indicate specifically whether or not he purchased unshorn lambs. No payments are made on unshorn lambs owned for less than 30 days, so payments on such lambs should not be claimed.

Knutson said that all applications are reviewed before they are approved for payment, but they can be handled more quickly if they contain complete necessary information and are supported by the necessary sales documents.

The chairman reminds producers that applications for the 1965 marketing year payments under the National Wool Act may be filed with the ASCS county office any time between now and Jan. 31, 1965. Payments on sales during the 1964 marketing year were completed in April, 1965; in Pennington county they amounted to $6,199.

Schwendeman To Head UND Station

Joseph R. Schwendeman Jr., chairman of the University of North Dakota geography department and assistant professor of geography, has been appointed official U. S. weather observer in charge of the University weather station. He replaced Dr. Bernt L. Wills, professor of geography, effective October 1.

Early last spring, Schwendeman planned to experiment in melting deep snow in ditches in the Stephen area by the application of heat-absorbing lignite coal dust, but lack of clean snow at the proper time aborted the effort.

Dr. Wills, who had been the observer in charge of the UND weather station since Sept. 1, 1946, is the father of James H. Wills of Thief River Falls.

"A Friendly Church With a Faithful Message".

It has been said that the hand that rocks the cradle, rocks the nation. It is equally true that as the family goes, so goes the nation. We desire a Christian Nation and thus it is we need "Families for Christ". This is the theme in our church during the month of October.

You are cordially invited to the following services of the church:

Wednesday, Oct. 20: 6:30 p. m. The FCYF (youth Fellowship) will give a service at the Valley Home. 7:15 p. m. The Junior Choir will rehearse. 7:30 p. m. The Mother's Chorus will rehearse. 8:00 p. m. Family Night. Bible Study and prayer for every member of the family. 9:15 p. m. The Senior Choir will rehearse.

Thursday, Oct. 21: 8:00 p. m. The Billy Graham Film, "World's Fair Encounter" will be shown at the high school auditorium.

Sunday, Oct. 24: 9:45 a. m. Sunday School Hour. The Family worship. The mother's chorus will sing, the Algot Erikssons will have the devotions and the Art Bartleson family will usher. There is a class for every member of the family. 11:00 a. m. Morning worship service. Pastor Johnson will be speaking on the family. 8:00 p. m. Evening gospel Service. Broadcast over station KTRF. Pastor Johnson will speak on Christian conduct.

Tuesday, Oct. 26: 7:30 p. m. Evening White Cross will meet. This group prepares material and clothing for the mission field.

Gary was three years old the other day. We took him as a birthday treat for his first trip to the zoo. He dearly loved all of the animals, but the peak of adventure was the elephants. His eyes shone as he watched the great gray trunks snuffle and find his bravely flung peanuts, then stuff them into giant crunching jaws.

"Oh," he breathed adoringly, "elephants are big . . . as big as God!"

His arm tightened around my neck as he leaned to throw more nuts to his jumbo friends and I hugged him close, glad that already he has learned to see God everywhere.

I, myself, was almost grown before I realized God's "ever-presence" and the strength this knowledge brings, so it has been a great joy to watch the awareness of this truth develop early in my son.

Why don't you go to your church and take your child with you? It is the most important experience you can share with him.

Scooter, Motorcycle Accidents Set Record

Deaths resulting from motor scooter and motorcycle accidents in Minnesota have reached another alarming high. Sudden popularity of these vehicles that hit Minnesota last year brought a drastic increase in traffic deaths and injuries involving these vehicles, but the situation this year has grown even worse, says Earl M. Larimer, safety director for the Minnesota Highway department.

By the end of September this year, 19 deaths had already been recorded, and with almost three months to go this year it is almost certain the toll will go higher. For the same period last year there were 15 fatalities, and for all of last year there were 17.

As could be expected, in every fatal accident involving these vehicles with other types of vehicles it was the driver or passenger of the scooter or motorcycle who was killed never anyone in the car or truck, Larimer said.

There have been some questions raised as to the full extent of the traffic safety problem created by the increased use of these vehicles; and whether it has actually become so serious a problem, he said. He cited some alarming statistics to answer that question.

Back in 1962, there were 349 accidents involving these vehicles which resulted in 158 injuries and seven deaths. This toll represented a gradual increase over preceding years.

Then in 1963 there was an above-average increase with 502 accidents resulting in 451 injuries and seven deaths.

Then came the explosion in 1964, when accidents jumped to 1,059, personal injuries to 955 and deaths to 17. Compared to 1962, this was an increase of 203 per cent in accidents, 504 per cent in injuries and 143 per cent in deaths.

While the blame for the causes of the accidents must be placed on one or the other of the drivers involved, the severity of the injury is due mainly to the complete absence of protection for the riders of the two-wheeled vehicles. A person who has a collision while on a motor scooter or motorcycle is almost certain to be hurt, even though it may cause very little damage to the other car or truck involved, said Larimer.

Those who operate these vehicles (and almost all are young people) must do so with the greatest caution and skill.

First, of course, the cycle rider must obey all the laws and safe driving rules, including, among other things, signaling every movement, keeping a safe following distance, staying within the speed limit, braking smoothly, slowing down for turns. He should also avoid driving when the road is slipery and when it is so cold he cannot devote all his attention to driving.

Second, he must drive defensively, in a way to prevent accidents. He must think of safe operation every second he is driving and so operate his vehicle that, no matter what the other driver does, he is not involved.

Third, he has to know his machine 'know' how quickly and safely he can stop in an emergency under all circumstances, know its balance and the limits of its maneuverability. On a two-wheeled vehicle, it doesn't take much to slide out of control.

Two-wheeled vehicles are no match in a collision with any other vehicle, Larimer said. 'Operators of these vehicles have no alternative but to drive defensively, to comply with traffic laws and to show a large degree of courtesy to other vehicles in order to protect themselves.

Telephone Women Take Training in Car-Wise Program

A rear view mirror isn't just for powdering a nose. That's just one of the many lessons being learned by Thief River Falls and Crookston telephone women who are taking Northwestern Bell Telephone company's "Women Car-Wise Program."

J. M. Wilsn, local manager, said the voluntary, out-of-hours program is designed to emphasize pedestrian, passenger and driver safety as well as to improve driving skills. Besides classroom lectures, films and discussions, participants are also given a road test by company-trained defensive driving instructors.

The four main objectives of the program include: (1) to influence women to be safety conscious as pedestrians, passengers and drivers; (2) to encourage women to influence others to be safety conand driver; (3) to increase the driving proficiency of women; and (4) to make women car-wise.

The classes are divided into five informal sessions. The first two are devoted to pedestrian and passenger safety; the third covers driving skills and is designed to uncover any bad driving habits; the fourth and fifth are devoted to vision, depth perception and reaction tests and to point out the limitations of every driver when it comes to judging distances and stopping times.

Thief River Falls residents who are enrolled are Carol Thorson, Marg Dalzell, Phyllis Drotts and Benedicta Milner. The course is taught by Clarice Collins, chief operator for Northwestern Bell in Thief River Falls, with the assistance of guest speakers.

Speaker at the first session held in Crookston was Sgt. Gale Regan of the Crookston police force. There was no speaker at the second session held in Thief River Falls.

Speaker at the third session to be held in Crookston will be Sgt. Obert Lillo, Roseau, from the Minnesota highway patrol.

LEVELED by fire late Thursday afternoon was the home of Menford Billie, located about seven miles northeast of Grygla. Mrs. Billie noticed the flames leaping from the roof at about 5:30 p.m. and drove 2½ miles to the Art Norby home to call the Grygla fire department. The two-story wooden building could not be saved; however it was consumed in about 20 minutes, along with its contents. Among the valuable items lost was about $600 worth of food supplies the Billies had stored in the house for the winter. The Billies, who have three children living at home, are temporarily staying with relatives while seeking a place to live.

Soo Line Hearings Held At Courthouse on Friday

Witnesses from a number of area communities appeared in opposition to discontinuance of Soo Line trains 9 and 10 at a hearing held before James F. Perrin of the Interstate Commerce commission Friday at the Pennington county courthouse in Thief River Falls. Protest was made on much the same grounds as those previously expressed at a hearing before the Minnesota Railroad and Warehouse commission.

Hearings on the petition to the ICC by the Soo Line for discontinuance of passenger trains 9 and 10 between St. Paul and Noyes were begun Monday in St. Paul. At that time the Soo Line presented its case, citing losses which the trains have sustained in operating and listing alternatives available to persons now using the trains should they be discontinued.

At Glenwood on Wednesday witnesses in opposition to the petition were heard while most of Thursday's hearing at Glenwood was devoted to presentation by Soo Line witnesses.

Witnesses in Thief River Falls Friday cited basically the same arguments against removal of the trains that had been given in earlier Railroad and Warehouse commission hearings. These included loss of valuable passenger service to their communities, loss of fast freight service and poor condition of coaches which had been allowed to deteriorate and are not conducive to passenger travel.

Additional attention was given Friday to alternate service which the Soo Line presented in its petition as available to communities currently served by trains 9 and 10. It was noted that highway travel necessary to meet trains on other railroad lines would be an inconvenience, and that passengers would be forced to get off the trains in small communities at all hours of the night. In the event of sub-zero cold and possibly blizzard conditions, it was stated that this would be not only inconvenient but dangerous to the passengers involved.

Witnesses appeared from Thief River Falls, Lake Bronson, Lancaster, Strandquist, Newfolden, Roseau, Plummer and Erskine. Resolutions were received from each of these communities in addition to Oklee.

Robert A. Wurst, Thief River Falls attorney, represented the area communities at the hearing. Others appearing as counsel were Richard Musenbrock of the Minnesota Railroad and Warehouse commission; Ford Crouch of the Soo Line; and H. O. Berve, Thief River Falls, in his own behalf.

Attorneys were given 45 days in which to prepare and submit briefs to Perrin regarding the hearing. No indication was given as to when an ICC opinion would be made. The Minnesota Railroad and Warehouse commission rejected the petition following the previous hearings, although these were held before mail service was removed from the trains.

WORK COMPLETED ON GULLY ROAD

Completion of base and bituminous surfacing on CAR 27 (Gully road) was completed on Friday and the road is now open for traffic, according to Joe Seidel, Pennington county highway engineer.

McLaughlin and Schultz of Marshall was the contractor on the project which included eight miles of road extending south from highway 1 to the Red Lake river north of Gully.

OFFICERS of Land O'Lakes Creameries, Inc., were on the speaking program for the banquet of Districts 14 and 17 held Thursday in Thief River Falls. Left to right are Dan Holtz, president of the cooperative; George Lee, Hendrum, District 14 director; and Marian Augustine, Thief River Falls, District 17 director.

Land O'Lakes Has District Meeting

Representatives of approximately 35 creameries in Land O'Lakes Districts 14 and 17 attended a combined meeting of the two districts held Thursday in Thief River Falls. Afternoon business and evening banquet sessions were held in the American Legion club rooms.

Dan Holtz, president of Land O'Lakes Creameries, Inc., was the evening banquet speaker, showing slides taken on a trip around the world last year. Holtz was asked to make the tour by the U.S. government to view conditions and help determine ways in which American dairy products could be marketed in foreign nations.

Master of ceremonies at the banquet session was Marian Augustine of rural Thief River Falls, director of the Land O'Lakes board from District 17. The welcome was given by Mayor Orin Green, the response by Chester Traaseth of Bagley, and entertainment was furnished by the Hamre Brothers of Beltrami.

In giving the response, Traaseth noted that success of the Land O'Lakes cooperative has been due to dedicated service by the directors and employees. "In the course of business everyone serves someone," Traaseth said, "but the degree of dedication determines the degree of success of the business."

Presiding at the afternoon session was George Lee, Hendrum, director of Land O'Lakes District 14. Speakers were Carl Leaf, production manager of the cooperative; Chester Johnson, head of the and Owen Hallberg, director of education.

Leaf presented an explanation of savings or earnings of Land O'Lakes cooperative, revealing that by the end of 1965 the cooperative will have revolved more than $5 million in cash equities to shareholders of record in 1955 and part of 1956. In the last 10 years the cooperative has distributed $26 million in equities to shareholders on cooperative earnings.

Johnson reviewed recent changes in the agricultural service department, relating mainly to fertilizer and bulk feed. Hallberg spoke on marketing power of cooperative and the Land O'Lakes marketing organization.

Woman Killed in Tractor Accident Saturday Noon

Mrs. Edgar Peterson, 45, rural St. Hilaire, was killed about noon Saturday when a tractor which she was driving overturned and pinned her in a water-filled ditch near the farm home. Death was attributed to drowning.

Funeral services for Mrs. Peterson have been set for Thursday at 2 p.m. at the Calvary Lutheran church at St. Hilaire with Rev. Lawrence Winters officiating. Interment will be in the community cemetery at St. Hilaire.

The body will lie in state at the Green Funeral home from Tuesday evening until Thursday noon and at the church for one hour prior to the time of service. A complete obituary will be published in a later edition of the Times.

Mike Radniecki Awarded Trip to Safety Congress

Seven Minnesota 4-H'ers, including Michael Radniecki of Deer Park 4-H club, have been awarded trips to the National Safety Congress in Chicago October 24-27 for their safety and fire prevention activities in their homes and communities, according to Earl Bergerud, assistant state 4-H club leader at the University of Minnesota.

Other 4-H'ers are Steven Schmidt, 16, North Branch; Kathleen Welscher, 17, Caledonia; Jean Haberman, 19, Windom; Paula Byhaug, 16, Dawson; Kathleen Josephson, 16, Virginia; and Verna Cheney, 17, Eagle Bend.

Also in the group will be Lesley Lysne, 14, a state fair purple ribbon demonstrator from Chisago county, who has been invited to give her water safety demonstration at the Congress October 25. In her demonstration, "Reach, Throw, Row, Tow and Go," the 9th grader from Taylors Falls will show methods of life saving. Eileen Monson, Lyon County home agent, and Bergerud will accompany the 4-H'ers to Chicago.

Radniecki has vaccinated dogs against rabies, painted rural mailboxes and set up displays for Safety Week. As part of his safety project work, he has removed 176 hazards. The Pennington county youth won the Danforth award as outstanding junior leader in the county. He is a senior in Oklee public high school.

Crippled Children Clinic Tuesday

Minnesota Crippled Children services will conduct a clinic Tuesday at Northwestern hospital in Thief River Falls beginning at 8:30 a.m. A physical written referral and summary is requested for each new patient attending the clinic.

Eligible to attend at Minnesota children under 21 years of age with mental retardation, heart lesions, convulsions, cystic fibrosis, club feet, scoliosis and other physical handicaps.

Children needing periodic follow-ups and whose parents can not provide the necessary care may return to the clinic. Each child is examined by a pediatrician and orthopedist with reports on findings to be sent to the family physician.

Making arrangements locally is the DeCor group of the Women's club with Mrs. Harold Buck as appointment chairman.

November 3 Date Set for County 4-H Club Banquet

Approximately 550 persons are expected to attend the annual Pennington county 4-H banquet to be held Wednesday, November 3, at the Naional Guard armory in Thief River Falls. The event is sponsored by the Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce.

Record completion is a requirement for attendance at the banquet by county 4-H club members. Each member must have completed all of his or her records to be eligible to attend. Completed records will be received by the county extension office up until the time of the banquet.

At present Pennington county has 17 clubs with membership of about 470 youngsters. Nearly all of these will attend the banquet with their adult leaders, at which time awards for the past year's participation will be made.

Senior High School Is Key to Student Future

REMODELED this summer to bring facilities up to state department of education standards was the home economics department at Lincoln senior high school. The former three-room department was remodeled into one large area with Miss Carol Ellingson as home economics instructor. New cabinets, fixtures and appliances were included in the remodeling program.

(This is the fourth in a series of articles dealing with the Thief River Falls schools and leading to American Education Week November 7-13. Previous articles dealth with the public school district in general, elementary school and junior high school. Today's article contains comment on Lincoln senior high school.)

Senior high school is the third major step in the Thief River Falls educational staircase, and for many will be the final phase of formal education. Responsibility of the senior high school is heavy, for it must prepare students for vocations, for college entry and for vocational or technical training.

As with other schools in the local system, the senior high school must be extremely flexible in order to provide a broad educational program. It must meet standards established by the Minnesota Department of Education which administers the state school aids that provide nearly 60 per cent of this district's cash revenue. It must meet the needs of the students of our particular area. It must offer nonclassroom activities that help a student to learn organization, leadership, sportsmanship, character, responsibility and loyalty.

Thief River Falls is fortunate in having an excellent school system where students have virtually unlimited opportunity to expand their interests and to work toward a meaningful place in life. The senior high school is the springboard from which the students will make their leap away from home and family into the outside world.

Remodeled Facilities

As often happens with those who make progress early, several facilities at Lincoln high school were considered below standard in recent years. Equipment had grown outdated with the modern curriculum and the local district was informed to bring these departments up to standard or forfeit the subsidies which permit them to operate. Funds for such remodeling were included in a bond issue several years ago which resulted in construction of the new Franklin junior high school and Mark Twain elementary school.

Remodeling was contracted last spring for the home economics department, science department and the library, as well as the superintendent's office. With the exception of the science department, for which supplies ordered have not been received, this remodeling is now completed.

Middle River To Get Post Office

According to Squire Holmes, postmaster at Middle River, a new post office building has been authorized for Middle River. The interior will require 1,100 square feet, Holmes said, with 2,500 square feet of parking and 54 square feet of platform area. Posting date for bids will be October 22 and bids will be opened November 26.

Mr. and Mrs. Matt Bimler and family of East Grand Forks spent the weekend at the home of Pearl Klaven.

LHS Music Groups To Stage Concert

Musicians at Lincoln high school will present a fall concert Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the school gymnasium. The concert is open to the public and there will be no admission. A number of local vocalists will join in a fall music festival to be held in Warren November 11 when Paul Christiansen, director of the Concordia college choir, will be guest conductor of 300 voices from participating schools.

On Wednesday night the Lincoln high school band under the direction of John Moum will open the program with "Our United States", an arrangement of "America" and the "Star Spangled Banner" by French arranger and composer Callett. Other band numbers will include "Trombone King" by Karl King, "Wormwood Scrubs March" by Dennis Farnon and "I Ain't Down Yet" by Meredith Wilson.

The girls' glee club will sing "The Water Is Wide" by Zaninelli and "No Man Is an Island" by Whitney and Kraemer. Erin Carlson will be accompanist for this portion of the program.

Under the direction of James Solsten, the high school orchestra will play "Concertino in G", "Waltzing Cat" and "Straus Polka."

Directed by Bryant Ulseth, the choir will sing "Cry Out and Shout" by Knut Nystedt, "Jerusalem, My Happy Home" by Leland Sateren, "Tiranti, My Love" by John Jacob Niles, "Ain't Got Time to Die" by Hall Johnson and "Tamale Joe" by Allen Richardson. Mary Kraemer and Greg Larson will be soloists.

The groups will combine in presentation of "Father of All" and "Battle Hymn of the Republic."

FALL CONCERT of music will be presented by Lincoln high school music groups on Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the Lincoln school gymnasium. Participating will be the school choir (above) directed by Bryant Ulseth, the orchestra conducted by James Solsten and the band directed by John Moum. Numbers will be presented by the individual groups with the finale to be presented by all three groups. There is no admission charge and the public is invited to attend.

Wangberg Pleads Guilty in Court To Manslaughter

Granted a new trial by the Minnesota Supreme court, Paul Wangberg of Thief River Falls pleaded guilty to a charge of first degree manslaughter Wednesday before Judge Harley G. Swenson in district court in Crookston. He was sentenced to an indeterminite period with the Minnesota Youth Conservation commission at the St. Cloud Reformatory.

Convicted on a murder charge Dec. 22, 1962, in district court in Warren, Wangberg was granted a new trial by the Minnesota Supreme court on September 3 of this year because of statements made by the prosecuting attorney at the initial trial.

Marshall county authorities agreed to the lesser charge of manslaughter in order to save expense of prosecuting the murder charge a second time. The case involved the fatal shooting of Thief River Falls Police Sgt. Donald Myers in Marshall county on Feb. 17, 1962, following a chase out of this city.

Warren Saetre, Marshall county attorney, said the penalty on the first degree manslaughter charge could be up to 20 years in prison. Saetre also said the youth will be credited with about three and one-half years of imprisonment which he served prior to, during the following his initial trial. Wangberg was reportedly confined to the Polk county jail at Crookston since the supreme court decision September 3.

Tollerud-Vettleson Wed At Fergus Falls

Bethlehem Lutheran church, Fergus Falls, was the scene of a candlelight ceremony on Saturday, October 9, when Miss Sharon Tollerud became the bride of Roger W. Vettleson. The Rev. Otto Dale officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Oscar Tollerud of Fergus Falls and the late Oscar Tollerud and the groom is the son of Mrs. Marie Vettleson of Thief River Falls.

As the guests were ushered to their seats, Mrs. Jerry Solberg, organist played a program of nuptial music. Soloist, Clayton Holdeman sang "The Wedding Prayer" and as the couple knelt at the Altar; he sang "The Lord's Prayer." Candelabra and baskets of yellow and bronze fugi mums, yellow gladioli and chrysanthemums graced the chancel. Maple leaves and lighted tapers marked the aisle.

Escorted to the altar by her cousin, A. C. Ness of Sharon, N.D, the bride was attired in a floor-length gown of satin peau de soie fashioned with an empire waistline and Mary Stewart Sleeves. Enhancing the front of the A-line skirt were re-embroidered lace appliques accented with sequins. A detachable lace train edged with satin was secured at the waistline. Her only jewelry was a sterling silver pendant, her gift from the groom and she carried a cascade bouquet of yellow spider mums and foliage.

Renee Aarness of Fargo, N.D. was the maid of honor. Other attendants were Mitzi Vettleson, sister of the groom; Mrs. Delvin Ellefson, cousin of the bride and Becky Harstad. They wore floor-length gowns of avacado green satin fashioned with empire waistlines and long flowing trains. Matching pill box hats completed their attire and each carried a single long-stemmed chrysanthemum. Dawna Tweeten, godchild of the bride, was flower girl and Elly Van Mil of Fargo, N.D., served as the bride's personal attendant.

Wayne Rusten of Detroit Lakes attended the groom as best man. Groomsmen were Dunne Howard, cousin of the groom, Richard Mathson, Oklee and Les Peterson of Moorhead. Kevin Vettleson, cousin of the groom, was ringbearer. Ushers were Roger Engleson of Rochert and Charles Tollerud of Pelican Rapids.

Following the ceremony, a reception of 200 guests was given in the church parlors by the mother of the bride. Host and hostesses were Mr. and Mrs. Russell Fore of Okler and Mrs. Wallace Preston of Fargo, N.D., and Vyonne Sollah registered the guests.

Mrs. Herbert Haugrud and Mrs. Walter Vettleson, aunts of the bride and groom, respectively, cut and served the wedding cake. Mrs. Agnes Tollerud, aunt of the bride and Mrs. Myrl Vettleson, aunt of the groom, poured. Mrs. Howard Kittelson and Jonanne Johnstone served the punch while Mrs. Jerome Fiskum, Mrs. Jerry Selvang, Mrs. Eugene Prim and Marlys Jacobson displayed the gifts. Willard and Wendell Prim served as gift bearers. Waitress were Mrs. LeRoy Peterson, Kathy Kittelson, Emily Waddington, Michaelle Jimmerson, Sandra Quam and Carol Rian.

Following a brief wedding trip, the newly-weds are at home at 1721 South 8th Street in Moorhead.

Margie Merrill Guest Of Honor At Bridal Shower

Margie Merrill of Goodridge was guest of honor at a bridal shower, Monday evening, October 18, at the Floyd Fulton home with Mrs. Fulton and Mrs. John Schele Jr., as hostess.

Upon her arrival, Miss Merrill was presented with a corsage of kitchen utensils. Following an evening of playing games, the bride-elect opened her many gifts. Assisting her was her mother, Mrs. Robert Merrill.

Other guests attending were Mrs. Stanley Panek Jr., Mrs. Harold Harder, Mrs. Alma Seibert, Mrs. A. W. Oski, Mrs. George Brazney, Mrs. Harvey Troska, Mrs. Joe Skiblcki, Mrs. Stanley Hruby and Miss Panela Hruby, all of Goodridge;

Also Mrs. Frank Lull and Mrs. Dunne Sevre, both of Thief River Falls and Mrs. Ray Rutz and Mrs. Axel Carlson, both of Warren.

Unable to attend but sending gifts were Mrs. Helen Steele of Goodridge, Mrs. Russell Floberg of Viking and Mrs. Ivar Anderson of Stephen.

Postpone PSA Meeting Until Tues., Oct. 26

With the scheduling of Forty Hour-Devotions, the parent - school association meeting planned for this evening, (Monday) at St. Bernard's Catholic church has been postponed until Tuesday evening, October 26. At that time guest speaker Superintendant Marshall Hankerson will be present to explain the Federal Aid to Education, emion, especially e funds available for private schools.

Lunch will be served following the meeting. Parents of school children are urged to attend.

Connie Anderson Weds Rodney H. Anderson

Miss Connie Joy Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Anderson of Goodridge and Rodney H. Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harley Anderson of Hopkins were united in marriage in the Twin Cities on August 26, at a double-ring civil ceremony. A church service to bless this marriage was held Friday, September 3, at 8 p.m. in Trinity Lutheran church, Thief River Falls.

The Rev. A. B. Helme of Goodridge officiated at the blessing service an altar banked with baskets of gladioli and flanked by spiral candelabra. White candles and green satin bows marked the pews. Mrs. Walter Larson of Thief River Falls provided the processional music while soloist Byron Eeg, Greenbush, cousin of the groom, sang "O Perfect Love" and "The Lord's Prayer".

The bride was attired in a white floor-length gown with fitted bodice and elbow-length sleeves. The scalloped neckline was enhanced by delicate re-embroidered lace appliques and the floor-length full taffeta skirt was fashioned with an overskirt of white bridal chiffon. A floral headpiece of peau de soie held the softly gathered elbow-length veil and she carried a cascade of white roses.

The bride chose her friend, Norma Kriel of Minneapolis as her maid of honor. Miss Gloria Nelson, friend of the bride and Arlette Hyland, cousin of the bride nad both of Minneapolis, were bridesmaids. They wore identical street-length gowns of fern green brocade styled with short sleeves and bell shaped skirts. To complete their attire they wore matching circular veiled headpieces, short white gloves and white shoes. Each carried an arm bouquet of white gladioli with gold velvet bows. Margie Anderson of Shakopee served as flower girl wearing a floor-length gown of white brocade with a yellow floral headpiece.

Terry Anderson of Hopkins attended his brother as best man. Groomsmen were LeRoy Anderson, Minneapolis, brother of the groom and Lynn Anderson of Goodridge, brother of the bride. The men of the wedding party wore dark trousers, white dinner jackets with green tinted carnation boutonniere The groom's boutonniere was a white rose.

Serving as ushers were cousins of the groom, Darryl Trangsrud of Minneapolis and Roslyn Eeg of Greenbusy.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Harold Anderson wore a beige and brown brocade two-piece dress with brown accessories. The mother of the groom was attired in two piece turquoise light woolen suit, with matching accessories complemented with white gloves. Both mothers wore identical corsages of yellow roses and white carnations.

Honored guests attending the services were Mrs. Marie Uglem of Goodridge, grandmother of the bride and Mrs. Anna Berntson, friend of the groom.

Immediately following the services approximately 150 guests attended the wedding reception given by the Bride's parents. The bridal table was decorated with an arrangement of gladioli and asters.

The wedding cake, baked and decorated with yellow roses by an aunt of the bride, Mrs. Orvin Anderson, Goodridge, centered the serving table. Topped with a miniature bride and groom, the top layer was pillared on champagne glasses placed over yellow roses. Cutting and serving the cake were Mrs. Alvin Hyland and Mrs. Harley Trangsrud, Minneapolis, aunts of the bride and groom, respectively. Aunts of the bride, Mrs. Norman Anderson and Mrs. George Hovet, both of Goodridge, served the punch. Mrs. Jesse Anderson, Goodridge and Mrs. Ruth Eeg, Greenbush, aunts of the bride and groom, respectively, poured. A cousin of the bride, Mrs. Larry Forsberg, Thief River Falls, and Mrs. LeRoy Anderson, Minneapolis sister-in-law of the groom, served as hostesses.

A cousin of the bride, Lorine Anderson, Goodridge, presided at the guest book and the waitresses were Audrey Hyland, Goodridge, cousin of the bride, and Karen Eeg, Greenbush and Jovania Anmoll, Minneapolis, both cousins of the groom. Displaying the gifts were Mrs. Virgil Preggle, Loyce Langworst, Chicago, Ill., Linda Haugen, Trail and Eunice Peterson, of Grand Forks, N.D.

Out-of-town guests were from Chicago, Ill., Grand Forks, N.D., Minneapolis, Trail, Greenbush, Goodridge and Strathcona.

For the wedding trip to Canada, the bride wore a brown tweed two-piece suit with light brown accessories.

The bride is a graduate of the Goodridge high school and the nursing department of the Thief River Falls area vocational-technical school. She is employed in a doctor's office in Robinsdale. The groom, a graduate of Hopkins high school, is employed by the Anderson Electric company and is attending Dunwoody Institute.

Mr. and Mrs. Anderson are at home at 1006 Northeast Center Circle, Minneapolis.

Inga Geving To Attend The State Executive Meeting

At a recent meeting, Mrs. Olaf Hildahl, Roseau, President of the 13th District Horticultural society appointed Mrs. Harold Kagg of Viking as district publicity chairman and Mrs. Inga Geving of Thief River Falls as district advisor. She also stated that 1968 will be the state centennial year and since the state owes much to the horticultural society for improvements in fruit, vegetables and flowers, each club should sponsor at least one centennial program during the year.

Two spring tours are being planned with final plans to be made at the State Horticultural Executive board meeting to be held November 15 at the Curtis Hotel in Minneapolis with State President Carl Holst in charge. Mrs. Olaf Hildahl of Roseau will attend the meeting as a delegate together with state board members, Mrs. Norman Flagstad of Roseau and Mrs. Inga Geving of Thief River Falls.

Peggy Sollund and Jerry Holte Exchange Vows

Miss Peggy May Sollund and Jerry Grant Holte exchanged marriage vows Sunday, October 10, at the Maria Lutheran church at Kennedy with the Rev. Lloyd Zaudtke prompting the vows and Nora Davidson as the organist.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Sollund Sr., of Kennedy and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Holte of Grygla.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a street-length, three-piece, white woolen dress with a white veiled hat and white shoes. Two orchids with yellow throats comprised her corsage.

The bride chose her friend, Patty Hagen as her only attendant. She wore a red suit with a corsage of white carnations.

Richard Holte attended his brother as best man. Ushers were Odeen Anderson, Minneapolis and Dennis Holte of Grygla.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Sollund wore a blue dress while the mother of the groom was attired in a blue suit. Both mothers wore corsages of pink carnations. Attending the wedding as honor guests were the maternal grandparents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Olaf Bakko and the groom's paternal grandmother, Mrs. Birta Holte.

At the reception in the church parlors following the ceremony, Mrs. Frances Berkholtz and Mrs. Grand Satre cut and served the three-tiered wedding cake while Mrs. Hilda Rom and Mrs. Marion Johnson poured. Betty Sollund registered the guests and Mrs. Dorothy Anderson, Mrs. Clara Thiel and Mrs. Shirley Quiner arranged the gifts. Mrs. Lila Sollund and Mrs. Sheila Erickson served the punch and the waitresses were Jerolynn and Marla Holte and Beverly and Bonnie Sollund. Host and hostess were Mr. and Mrs. Allan Berg. Assisting in the kitchen were Dorothy Scothorn, Mrs. Minnie Bowman, Mrs. Annie Lindgren and Gladys Erickson.

The bride is a graduate of the Kennedy high school and has been employed at the Kennedy Star for the past eight years. The groom is a graduate of the Goodridge high school and is presently employed at the beet plant in Grand Forks, N.D., where the newly-weds are making their home.

Eagles Auxiliary To Host Mother-Daughter Banquet

Preceding the regular business meeting, Monday, August 18, members of the Eagles auxiliary had the opportunity of hearing James Winjum and Roy Lee express their views on the swimming pool issue. A question-answer period followed. At the regular business meeting with President Teen Berg in charge, the Auxiliary voted to donate $25 to the United Fund. Final plans were made for the annual mother-daughter banquet to be held at the local Eagles club Monday, October 25, at 6:30 p. m. The meal ticket of $1.50 includes the price of the mother and her daughters. Serving the family style dinner will be officers and members of the Eagles Aerie.

Plans were also made for three bowling teams to represent the local Eagles auxiliary at the Fourth annual state FOE bowling tourney to be held October 30-31 and November 6-7 in Duluth.

Four members represented the local auxiliary in Minneapolis for the annual visitation to this section of the country of the Grand Madam President Francis Vanis of Ashtabula county, Ohio. Those attending were President Teen Berg; Inside guard, Shirley Ehrenstrom; Past president and Past State president, Tillie Carlson and Past president, Dorothy Poolman.

In memory of a departed sister, Alma Senstad, the charter was draped for 30 days.

The attendance prize was won by Viola Johnson with Edna Peterson winning the special prize. Muriel Steinhauer and Bea Scultorp were in charge of entertainment and the hostesses serving lunch were Mae Maidment, Marion oCrk and Helene Leech.

Avron-Brown Exchange Vows At Middle River

Before an altar graced with baskets of autumn colored flowers, Miss Susan Elizabeth Avron, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Odin Avron of Middle River, became the bride of Wayne H. Brown, son of Mrs. Selma Brown of Greenbush, at a double ring ceremony in Our Savior's Lutheran church, Thief Lake, on Saturday, September 4, at 8 p.m. The Rev. Duane Nelson officiated. Mercedes Melby presided at the organ and Mrs. Palmer Belto sang.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose for her wedding a floor-length gown of white acetate and nylon enhanced by tiers of lace. A jeweled crown held the veil of nylon tulle and she carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations and pink roses. Her only jewelry was a simulated pearl, hung on a slender golden chain, and in her attire she carried out the tradition of something old and something new.

Judith C. Johnson, East Grand Forks, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Lou Ann Brown, sister of the groom and Mary Westlestad, cousin of the bride. They wore harmonizing blue gowns with matching veiled hats and white gloves. Their simulated pearls on slender chains were gifts from the bride. The bridesmaids carried bouquets of white carnations and pink roses and the maid of honor carried a colonial bouquet similiar to the bride's.

Flower girl Dawn Marie Zolondek, niece of the bride, was dressed in a white street length dress with matching hat and gloves and carried a white lace basket with autumn flowers. Jeffery Kezar, nephew of the bride, was ring bearer. Carrying the rings on a heart shaped pillow of satin and lace.

Attending the groom as best man was Truman Johnson, Chicago, Ill., cousin of the groom. Delmar Johnson of Middle River, cousin of the bride, and James Avron, brother of the bride, were groomsmen. Ushers were Greg Johnson, Middle River and Jerry Johnson of Detroit Lakes, cousins of the bride and groom, respectively. They wore dark business suits with white carnation boutonnieres.

The mother of the bride wore a bonded knit blue dress with matching hat and gloves and black accessories. The mother of the groom wore a green two-piece suit with black accessories. Pink roses and white carnations comprised the identical corsages worn by both mothers.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlors for 250 guests. Featuring the blue and pink decor, the reception was served by members of the Thief Lake ladies aid with Mrs. Hollis Thygeson as hostess. The bridal party was seated at the head table.

The four-tiered wedding cake, topped by a miniature bride and groom, was baked and decorated by the godmother of the bride, Mrs. Lennie Belto who, assisted by Mrs. Alfred H. Johnson, also cut and served the cake. Mrs. Gottlief Hallweger of Emerado, N.D., and Mrs. Harold Johnson of Detroit Lakes, aunts of the bride and groom, respectively, poured. All wore corsages. Waitresses, LuAine Doree Knutson and Kaydell Henning, wore identical white aprons, gifts from the bride. Anice Brown, Chicago, Ill., sister of the groom, registered the guests while Alverda Johnson, cousin of the bride and Karen Simmons presided at the punch bowl. Gary Pearson and Allan Weber served the ice cream and Marion Pearson, Minneapolis and Lorraine Novak arranged the gifts.

Guests attending from out of town were from Chicago, Ill.; Minot, Emerado and Grand Forks, N. D.; Minneapolis, Detroit Lakes, East Grand Forks, Hibbing, Oslo, Badger, Greenbush and Thief River Falls and Strathcona.

The bride is a graduate of the Middle River high school. The groom, a graduate of the Greenbush high school, attended two years at the Thief River Falls area vocational technical school. At present, Mr. and Mrs. Brown are employed on a farm near Oslo where their address is in-care-of Elmer Docken.

KITCHEN KARNIVAL

Features from the Kitchen of

MRS. WILLIE McLEAN

With the approaching of winter, home-made soup will again appear more frequently on the menu. Unlike most soups that require a great deal of preparation, this soup, with the aid of the pressure pan, is ready to be served in approximately 30 minutes.

CHILI SOUP

1 lbs. hamburger
salt to taste
Dash of red peper
1 small onion or 1 teaspoon of onion salt
1 teaspoon chili powder
2 cans or 4 cups tomato juice
2 or 3 cans kidney beans

Method: Fry hamburger and onion together until meat is nicely browned. Mix all ingredients together and process in pressure cooker for 20 minutes. This recipe isn't as spicy as most, but if a more spicy tang is desired, add more red pepper and chili powder.

The McLeans have a family of three boys, Michael, age 10; Scott, seven years old and two year old Paul. Mrs. McLean also takes care of two boys, ages three years and three months old, for a working mother. In her spare time, she enjoys knitting, sewing and doing almost anything that requires using her hands. Her husband is employed at the Land O'Lakes hatchery and creamery.

A recipe for Peanut Brittle, contributed by Mrs. McLean, will be published at a later date.

Presenting the awards is Anna Zinter, president of the Thief River Falls Business and Professional Women.

Falls Squares Host Halloween Square Dancers

Gaily dressed square dancers in Halloween mood arrived at the local City Auditorium Saturday, October 16, to find skeletons, pumpkin heads, black cats and bats encircling the ceiling. Guest caller, George Gargano of Hibbing opened the dance promptly at 8 p.m. Mid-evening entertainment was provided by Harry and Ida Nelson of Grand Forks, N.D., who gracefully demonstrated "Blues of the Night" the newest in round dances. Guests from many area square dance clubs as well as Hibbing and Grand Rapids were in attendance.

Dancers were given Halloween tags to wear during the evening. Those tags were used as a dance mixer when those wearing black cats chose partners wearing the half-moon tag, while those wearing witch's hats chose pumpkin partners. These tags were again used at serving time when Mrs. Donald Peterson requested that all couples wearing one type tag should sit at the table featuring that particular Halloween motif.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Duke and Mr. and Mrs. Denny Inman were in charge of the hospitality duties while the Leon Bischels and the Jim Parkins served the lunch provided by members of the Falls Squares.

An after-party was held at the Fireside room with a smorgasbord followed by further square dancing. Arrangements for the after-party were made by Mr. and Mrs. Chris Saustad.

Invitations were received to attend square dances Sunday evening October 24, with the Les Pirouettes square dance club at Red Lake Falls in the comunity Hall with Don Littlefield as caller; Saturday, October 30, at Goodridge for the Halloween costume dance with Jerome Potucek of Warren calling, and at Kennedy the same evening with Lee Newton of Fergus Falls as caller; Wednesday, November 3, at Warren with Lynn Voight of Grand Rapids as caller and at Argyle, November 13 with Virgil McCann of Thompson, N.D. as caller.

The Falls Squares will hold their next dance November 6, with Thord Spetz of Winnipeg will call the "Hands Across the Border" square dance.

Sr. High School Key To Student Future in Life

One item of interest for those attending an open house to be scheduled at the school during American Education Week will be the library. In considering library remodeling, the board of education decided the library would be a good place to experiment with the many aspects of carpeting. The room now has a restful green carpet which, according to librarian Virgil Burger, has resulted in a more quiet demeanor among the students who use it.

Science Emphasized

In the senior high school here, as well as in schools throughout the nation, science is begin given greater emphasis. There is greater orientation toward laboratory work, conducting of controlled experiments and stimulation of ideas. When remodeling is completed, the school will have a chemistry laboratory, biology laboratory and physics-biology laboratory. These rooms will be used in part by the junior college.

"Now that the senior and junior high schools have been separated, teacher selection becomes more important," stated Richard Edlund, senior high school principal. "Our teachers must be capable of teaching senior high school subjects entirely, although they may teach junior high school classes if necessary." At the present time, only one of the four science teachers at Lincoln teaches on a parttime basis at the junior high school. Science instructors are Lawrence Brown, Orren Bendickson, Elmer Porter and William Moeglein.

Home Economics Offered

One of the departments in danger of losing aid funds was the home economics department. This has now been remodeled from a three room department into a modernized single room suitable for all phases of home economics instruction. Miss Carol Ellingson, instructor in this department, has 102 girls enrolled in five class sections.

New fixtures and furnishings have been received for the department with a few more pieces yet to be received. The room is colorful as well as tasteful and practical, providing a pleasant atmosphere for student work.

How Big Is It?

Enrollment figures shortly after the start of the school year in September indicated that there were a total of 639 enrolled in the senior high school including 211 sophomores, 216 juniors and 212 seniors. The senior class is likely to be the first to graduate more than 200 students in the history of the school.

Forty one teachers conduct 165 to 180 classes daily. Courses of study are college oriented (for students preparing to enter college), vocational oriented (for those planning to enter business or agriculture) and general for students who are as yet undecided in their plans for the future. Robert Reeve, guidance director, counsels students and helps them determine courses they should take according to their interests and abilities.

"We try to give the students the type of curriculum they want to the best of our abilities," Edlund stated. An example of the changes in education is that driver's training is now required of all sophomore students at the school. It is offered in the physical education program with 36 hours of classroom instruction.

After Class, What?

There are at least 40 extra-curricular activities in which students may participate. Many of these are athletic programs with limited participation, but plays, speech events, music groups, special-interest clubs and other activities offer wider opportunity to take part. This year an intra-mural program for boys is being organized with eight teams competing in athletics within the school itself.

Summarizing the classroom activities and the extra-curricular opportunities of Lincoln high school is virtually impossible in an article of newspaper length. An open letter to students enrolling at Lincoln has been written by Edlund and Reeve and is contained in a booklet given to students. In part, it states the following:

"To many of you, your high school education will be your last opportunity to receive any formal training. Make the most of it; be realistic. To some of you, your high school education will serve as a preliminary to future educational opportunities; make your 'ground work' count. . .Each one of you as individuals must choose according to your abilities, your interests."

Mrs. Carl Brobert of St. Paul is visiting at the William Kaushagen home. She also visited at the Ed Leiran and the John L. Anderson home.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Kezar, Pam and Diane of Minneapolis and Mr. and Mrs. Dean Anderson and Kim of Glenwood were Friday evening supper guests at the Dennis Kezar home in Thief River Falls.

LIBRARY facilities at Lincoln high school were improved during the summer with painting and the addition of carpeting. Installed on an experimental basis by the local board of education, the carpeting provides a quiet and relaxed atmosphere to the room, permitting students to move about in book selection without disturbing others who are studying in the room.

BUSINESS department students at Lincoln senior high school take dictation in a shorthand class taught by Miss Genevieve Hutmacher. Some remodeling was also done to this room during the summer vacation period. Extensive remodeling of the science department, which will also be used in part by the junior college which is temporarily located in the high school building, has not been completed since materials ordered have failed to arrive.

THE BEST IN SPORTS

SUPERVISING activities at the Lincoln senior high school library is Virgil Burger, librarian. The library was painted and carpeted this summer as part of the remodeling program at the school. Burger notes that the carpet requires little maintenance and that it has created an attitude of quiet in students using the room.

Ray Eiden, 77, Resident of Trail; Dies At Fargo

Ray Eiden, 77, a resident of Trail, died Sunday morning at the Veteran's hospital at Fargo, N.D., where he had been a patient for the past four months.

Solemn Requiem High Mass for Ray Eiden will be offered Wednesday morning at St. Charles Catholic church at Trail with the Rev. Paul Cardin as celebrant. Interment will be in the church cemetery. Petterson Funeral home, Oklee, is in charge of arrangements. The body will lie in state Tuesday afternoon and evening, beginning at 3 p.m. with Rosary to be recited Tuesday in the evening.

Rites Held Here For Olaf Tveit of Cut Bank, Mont.

Funeral services for Olaf Tveit, 64, a former resident of the Goodridge community who died Monday, October 18, at Cut Bank, Mont., were held Friday at 2 p.m. in the Green Funeral chapel. The Rev. A. B. Heitne officiated and interment was in the Greenwood cemetery.

Olaf Tveit, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Gunder Tveit, was born June 17, 1901 in Lille Topdal, Norway. At the age of 12 years, he immigrated to America with his parents, settling in Golden Valley township, Marshall county where he grew to manhood. He formed for several years in Golden Valley township before moving in 1954 to Cut Bank, Mont., where he had since resided.

He is survived by one sister, Mrs. Carl (Gladys) Quam of St. Paul and one brother, Ole Tveit of Goodridge and by several nieces and nephews.

Three sisters and two brothers preceded him in death.

Services Held In Bemidji For Herbert Conner

Funeral services for Herbert R. Conner, an automobile dealer in Bemidji who died Saturday, October 16, were held Monday, October 18, at 2 p.m. in the Methodist church in Bemidji. A second service was held Tuesday in the Sunset Memorial Park Chapel, Minneapolis.

A former resident of Thief River Falls and a graduate of Lincoln high school, Conner left here for Hibbing where he was a Ford dealer for many years prior to moving to Bemidji to make his home.

Survivors include his wife, the former Edna Schmidt; two sons, William Conner of Wilmington, Del., and James of Bemidji; a sister, Mrs. Stella Haack, Wadena and a brother, Charles Conner of Clitherall.

Emelie Korgen, 66, Newfolden, Dies; Services Today

Miss Emelie Korgen, 66, a life long resident of the Newfolden community, died Wednesday at her home in Newfolden.

Funeral services for Emelie Korgen will be held today (Monday) at 2 p.m. in the Evangelical Free church in Newfolden with the Rev. Clifford Anderson officiating. Interment will be in the Augustana cemetery. Green Funeral home is in charge of arrangements. The body will lie in state at the church for one hour prior to the time of services.

A complete obituary will be in the Times on Wednesday.

Marie Weigelt, Sister Of Local Man, Succumbs

Miss Marie Weigelt, former East Grand Forks resident and the sister of Walter Weigelt of Thief River Falls, died Tuesday at Albuquerque, N. Mex., where she resided with a sister, Mrs. Dorothy Sheehan.

Funeral services for Marie Weigelt were held Saturday at 11 a.m. in the United Lutheran church, Grand Forks, N.D., with Rev. Roger Schlaefer officiating. Burial was in Memorial Park cemetery.

Marie Weigelt was born in East Grand Forks and attended schools there before graduating from Moorhead State college. She left East Grand Forks in 1948.

Other survivors include a brother and sister George Weigelt and Mrs. Ed Bohnhoff, both living in Grand Forks, N.D.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of Russell R. Peterson, who passed away Oct. 29th, 1964.

A bitter grief, a shock severe,
to part with one we love so dear.
Our loss was great, we try not to complain
But trust in God to meet again.
God knows the way, he holds the key.
Sometime with fearless eyes will see
And then will understand.

Sadly missed by Mother, Dad, Carol and Skip. 1185p

Card of Thanks

We wish to express our heartfelt thanks to those who assisted us in any way in the sickness and death of our beloved mother, grandmother, daughter and sister, Alma Senstad. To Dr. Herber and Dr. Davidson, nurses and aides at Northwestern hospital; Rev. Harold Peterson for his many visits and comforting messages; to the organist, soloist, pallbearers and for flowers, memorials, food and cards from neighbors, relatives and friends; to the Trinity circle and friends who served a noon luncheon; to the Green Funeral home for their many services. The family of Alma Senstad. 1184p

Card of Thanks

The family of Mrs. John Shager is deeply grateful for the many cards, flowers and memorials given in her honor.

Special thanks to Rev. Kubik, the pallbearers, Mrs. John Olufson organist, the men's chorus, the ladies aid for serving the lunch and to Dr. Anderson and the nurses who helped in her final illness, and to those who helped and remembered us in any other way. your kind help and thoughts were sincerely appreciated. May God bless you all. The Shager Family. 1185c

Card of Thanks

My sincere thanks to all my relatives, neighbors and friends who visited me while I stayed at the old homestead at Germantown a few days. It was nice to see home after almost 2 years, where I had come as a young girl. My special thanks are also extended to my son and ladys for the good care and eats. God bless you all. Mrs. Laura Rohrer, Oakland park nursing home, Thief River Falls, Minnesota. 1185p

Bemidji Tops Prowlers 33 to 14 Friday Night

The Bemidji Lumberjacks won their fourth successive Northwest conference football title when, in a game played on the water-logged field here, they defeated the Prowlers, 33 to 14, on Friday. The game closed out the conference schedule, that a home game against Brainerd on Friday night.

The Prowlers will close out their Northwest conference play, and their 1965 schedule, by entertaining the Crookston Central Pirates here on Friday night. Kickoff time is slated for 7:30 p. m.

In Friday night's win over the Prowlers, coach Red Wilson's squad exhibited fine all-round balance, having a varied offense and a sturdy defense. Burly Larry Schwartz, the Jacks' 235-pound fullback, scored three touchdowns and added a conversion point . . . End Bob Johnson scored a touchdown on a pass, and Jerry Lee, halfback, tallied a touchdown late in the game. Lee added a conversion point, on a pass from John Boyer, and Dave Bublitz, on a run, added a conversion.

The Prowlers scoring, in the second and fourth periods, found Rod Carlson taking a 12-yard pass from Tomy Cummings into the south end zone, and fullback Monte LeMoine driving four yards to cross the south goal late in the final period. Carlson, on a run, added a conversion point, and LeMoine, following his touchdown in the fourth period, booted a placekick for the point.

Bemidji, winning the toss, chose to defend the north goal to gain the advantage of the brisk and chill northwest wind that swept the field. But on the game-opening kickoff, LeMoine took Larry Schwartz' boot and nearly raced for a touchdown, being nabbed from behind on the Bemidji 8-yard line. But the Jacks halted the threat. Cumings failed to gain on try at the center of the line; Dave Halverson picked up two yards over guards; LeMoine, on a handoff, failed to gain; and a fourth down pass, Cummings to Karl Poppenhagen, was incomplete.

The Jacks, with Schwartz doing most of the rushing, picked up three first downs to the Bemidji 37-yard line. A running play and two passes were incomplete, and the Jacks were forced to kick. Two Prowler passes were incomplete, and LeMoine gained four yards on a plunge.

The Jacks, from the Prowlers 47-yard line, drove for a touchdown in five plays, with Schwartz scoring. The big gainer in the sequence was Craig Daniels' 22-yard sweep of right end. Boyer's pass to Lee added the point and Bemidji held a 7 to 0 lead.

Bemidji, in the opening minutes of the second period, after the Prowlers had been forced to kick, moved from the Jacks' 45-yard line for a touchdown in nine plays. Schwartz, on a 10-yard run, crossed the north goal for the touchdown. Boyer's try for the point, on a run, was stopped.

The Prowlers entered the scoring column late in the second period following a Bemidji punt to midfield. Cummings turned right end for 18 yards; and a pass, Cummings to Carlson, carried to the Bemidji 12-yard line. After one incompleted pass, Cummings hit Carlson in the end zone for a touchdown. Carlson added the point on a run off left end.

Bemidji moved beyond reach of the Prowlers by scoring a pair of touchdowns in the third period, with Schwartz scoring on a 1-yard plunge, and Bob Johnson taking a 7-yard pass from Boyer for the other touchdown. The Jacks added a point on Schwartz' conversion, and Bemidji held a 26 to 7 lead entering the final period.

The Prowlers, although having the benefit of the wind in the final period, were unable to mount a sustained attack. Bemidji, after a short kick by the Prowlers, moved from their 48-yard line and, in eleven plays, scored a touchdown. In this touchdown drive halfback Jerry Lee was the workhorse, carrying the ball seven times, including the one-yard plunge for the touchdown.

A short kickoff gave the Prowlers possession on the locals' 40-yard line. A pass, Cummings to LeMoine, gained 21 yards. Another pass, from Cumings to Carlson, picked up short yardage. Cummings ran right end for 27 yards, to the Jacks' 12-yard line. A pass, to Carlson, gained four yards; and then, on a handoff, LeMoine drove over left tackle for a touchdown. LeMoine's successful placement kick added the point and the game score was 33 to 14.

Menford Billie Home Near Grygla Razed by Fire

In a sudden stroke of disaster last week, a family of five was left homeless and without an immediate supply of food and clothing. At about 5:30 p.m. Thursday, fire broke out in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Menford Billie and their three children located about seven miles northeast of Grygla. The building, along with furniture, household goods, clothing and a large supply of food, was consumed in approximately 20 minutes.

Mrs. Billie reported that she, the children and Elmer Englund, a friend, had been painting the inside of the house and at 5:30 p.m. drove to the road to pick up Billie, who commutes daily to Thief River Falls where he is employed by the Land O'Lakes company. Looking back, Mrs. Billie saw flames leaping from the roof of the house.

Mrs. Billie drove 2¼ miles to the home of Art Norby to call the Grygla fire department. The fire department and many neighbors attempted to fight the blaze, but the old, two-story wooden building was beyond help. Cause of the blaze was not determined.

The family has been housed by relatives while seeking a new home. The Billies have four children, one living in Grand Forks, N.D., and three, aged 16, 18 and 19, living at home. Their farm consists of 80 acres of hay land and a few domestic ducks and geese. Except for this and two automobiles, they are without possessions and will welcome any help they are offered.

Roseau Sweeps To Easy Victory In Cross Country

Coach A. J. Kramer's Roseau Rams, paced by the record-breaking performance of Eddie Broten, won the Region Eight cross-country title in a meet held here Saturday morning. Broten, who ran the 1.8 mile course at the local golf club, set a new Region Eight mark with a time of 9:11.

The powerful Roseau Rams, with six runners finishing in the first 10, had a total of 21 points. The Bemidji Lumberjacks gained runner-up honors with 62 points. The Middle River Skippers were third with 89 points; Thief River Falls and Crookston were tied with 131 points; Park Rapids had 135 points; and the Fosston Greyhounds had 161 points.

The leading individual finishers were Eddie Broten of Roseau, Ray Grindahl of Roseau, Roger Jung of Crookston, John Lindberg of Roseau, Vern Rugland of Roseau, Roger Wagner of Middle River, Roger Larson of Bemidji, Ron Hanson of Fosston, Dave Foss of Roseau, and Jim Larson of Roseau. The Prowlers' Steve Nabben finished twentieth to lead coach Roger Solheim's squad.

The Roseau squad of Broten, Grindahl, Lindberg, Rugland and Foss will participate in the state cross-country meet to be held over the University of Minnesota golf course range. Crookston's Roger Jung, by finishing third in Saturday's meet here, also gained a berth in the state cross-country meet.

TRF Employment At Peak Period; Increase Noted

Employment in Thief River Falls is at its peak for 1965, according to an analysis for the city prepared by the Minnesota department of employment security. The analysis covers the period from mid-June to mid-September, and shows a substantial gain compared with the previous quarter. Compared with mid-September, 1964, the increase in employment amounts to 89 workers.

With the coming of winter, outdoor work will be curtailed or closed down. The employment outlook for the fourth quarter is a downward trend in seasonal employment, with weather as the dominant factor.

Demand for workers has been strong during the last several weeks. Street, road and building construction contractors have done considerable hiring. This factor, plus the demand for truck drivers, tractor operators and combine operators in the Red River Valley has drained off all available workers.

Supply of workers was good up to the month of September. In spite of the rain, the demand for seasonal labor in September was quite strong. Return to school of high school and college students cut the available supply of manpower a great deal.

Employment in manufacturing, construction and government showed significant gains. In the other employment categories, there was little or no change noted. Employment in manufacturing increased because of turkey processing operations. This activity will complete its run in late November or early December. The re-opening of school in September, which brought the teachers back to their classrooms, acounts for the large increase in government employment.

Minor increases were noted in other governmental units.

October Checks From VA Reflect Pay Increases

October dependency and indemnity compensation checks for widows of veterans whose death was attributable to service reflect the increases in military pay recently set by Congress.

John R. Murphy, manager of the Veterans Administration center, St. Paul, said these increases, the third to be granted within the past two years, are based upon the grade and years of service of the deceased veteran.

"The increases in compensation are comparatively small when the lower enlisted grades or a few years of service are the determining factors," Murphy said. "They grow larger as they reflect higher rank or pay grades and the total years of service of career servicemen."

The checks were mailed to reach the widows the first part of October. Adjustment to the new pay rates were made automatically and there is no need to write to the VA to receive the increase, he said.

Otter Tail Will Send Delegates To Atom Session

Two outstanding high school seniors and their teachers will once again be guests of Otter Tail Power company at the 1965 National Youth conference on the Atom being held in Chicago on December 9, 10 and 11.

All high schools served by Otter Tail have received information and application blanks for this year's youth conference, and applications are now being reviewed by a panel of three judges from the University of Minnesota, Morris. Deadline for receiving applications is November 1, and winners will be announced shortly thereafter.

It is expected that approximately 600 of the nation's most outstanding high school science and math students, and their teachers, will be attending this year's conference. Additional application forms can be obtained from any of Otter Tail's district offices or from A. D. Millard at the company's general office in Fergus Falls, Minnesota.

Social Security Recipients Given Hospital Plan

Almost all persons in this area 65 years old or older will have hospitalization protection under social security starting July 1 next year.

The plan will provide up to 90 days of hospital protection in a spell of illness, says Clifford Kittleson, district manager for Social Security.

The patient pays the first $40 for as many as 60 days of hospitalization. The plan will pay the rest. If the hospitalization is longer than 60 days, the patient pays $10 a day from the 61st through the 90th day.

The plan will cover most costs except extras that a patient may want. It will not pay the charges of a physician for his visits. The voluntary medical insurance program will help cover these costs.

All those 65 and older getting social security benefits need not apply. They are already registered for hospital coverage. Everyone 65 and older, except those getting welfare payments, should apply for hospital insurance benefits now.

Applicants should bring proof of age. A foreign-born applicant applying for hospitalization benefits should bring his citizenship papers. If he did not become a citizen, he should bring his alien registration card.

EDA Program Is Discussion Topic Here October 28

A series of meetings in northwestern Minnesota has been scheduled to provide the necessary understanding and coordination of the Public Works and Economic Development Act of 1965. The third in the series will be held in Thief River Falls in the city auditorium at 8 p.m. October 28 for Roseau, Lake of the Woods, Clearwater, Pennington and Red Lake counties. For further information contact Mayor Orin J. Green at 681-4331.

All meetings will be under the direction of Vladimir Shipka, state coordinator for the Area Redevelopment administration. Shipka stated that, "Basically the act provides opportunity to areas or communities that are burdened with persistent unemployment and low income families. The key provisions of the act provide grants for public works such as water and and the like. In addition to grants, loans for business expansion or establishing plants in redevelopment areas, as well as working capital guarantees for existing businesses, are available."

Education Needed For Conservation Department Jobs

Young people interested in obtaining jobs in the conservation field will need at least a high school education and in many instances will require a college degree.

Roger Lorenz, personnel director of the Minnesota Conservation Department, said youngsters who are considering dropping out of high school will be making a serious mistake if they have any hope of some day obtaining a job in the natural resource field.

Because of the complex problems involved in conserving, maintaining and managing fish, wildlife, forest, mineral and water resources and providing areas for outdoor recreation in the face of increasing demand and competition for their use, conservation agencies are seeking professionally trained personnel.

Fisheries biologists and most fisheries managers must have a degree in fisheries biology or management; wildlife biologists and most game managers a degree in wildlife management; foresters require a degree in forestry; hydrologists, geologists engineers must have college degrees.

At least a high school degree is a necessity for game wardens and the college trained man is preferred. Park managers will need a degree in park planning, civil engineering or landscape architecture and background in the biological sciences, forrest management and public relations.

Lorenz said that young people interested in a career in conservation should take courses in biology, math, English, science, chemistry, physics, public speaking and composition.

Paul Peterson on GA Dean's List

Paul Peterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Peterson of Thief River Falls and a sophomore majoring in business administration at Gustavus Adolphus college in St. Peter, has been named to the dean's list following spring term at the college.

Election to the list, recently released by Dr. Albert G. Swanson, dean of the college, requires a cumulative grade point average of "B" or better. Students named to the list will be honored at a banquet on May 11, 1966, in the college dining room.

12 Cases Tried Monday in City Municipal Court

Twelve cases appeared before Judge Stanley N. Mortenson in Monday's session of Thief River Falls municipal court. Two cases were brought by the highway patrol, two by the sheriff's office and eight by the city police.

Charged by the highway patrol were Roy Doty, Grand Forks, N.D., driving without lights, $25 bond forfeited; and Duane W. Larson, TRF, driving with expired license, $15 bond forfeited.

Cited by the sheriff's office were Larry Pittman, Goodridge, speed, $60 bond forfeited; and James Sigerud, Goodridge, possession of strong beer by a minor, $25 fine.

City police cases included Vernon Aune, Newfolden, careless driving, accident involved, $50 bond forfeited; also leaving scene of accident, $50 bond forfeited; Joseph Riggles, Cass Lake, speed, $24 bond forfeited; Edwin Nordheim, Bemidji, failure to heed stop sign, $15 bond forfeited; Carl Victor Ranstrom, rt. 2, TRF, failure to heed flashing red light, $15 bond forfeited; Judith Ranum, TRF, violation of license restriction by not wearing glasses, $25 bond forfeited; Marvin Elmer Johnson, rt. 1, TRF, failure to yield right of way, accident involved, $25 fine; and David Burnsberg, Fertile, drunk and disorderly, $25 bond forfeited.

Remind Employers Of Deadline for Reporting Taxes

Minnesota employers were reminded by George O. Lethert, district director of Internal Revenue, that November 1 is the deadline for reporting and paying income taxes withheld and social security taxes for the quarter ending September 30.

Lethert urged employes to use the preaddressed form provided for this report and mail it, together with depository receipts and full payment of taxes, to his office.

Taxpayers who make timely deposits of taxes collected in a Federal Reserve bank or an authorized commercial bank have until November 10 to file this third quarterly return.

Annual Meeting Of Farmers Union Set October 28

Archie Baumann, secretary of the Minnesota Farmers Union, will be guest speaker at the annual meeting of the Pennington County Farmers Union to be held Thursday, October 28, at the American Legion club rooms in Thief River Falls.

Election of officers will be held and resolutions adopted for presentation at the state convention. There will also be entertainment and free lunch, according to C. R. Appelman, Goodridge, secretary of the county chapter. All members are urged to attend the meeting.

Editorials . . .

"As I thus sat, joying in my own happy condition, and pitying this poor rich man that owned this and many other groves and meadows about me, I did thankfully remember what my Savior said, that the meek possess the earth; or rather, they enjoy what the others possess and enjoy not; for anglers and meek, quiet-spirited men are free from those high, those restless thoughts, which corrode the sweets of life."

Railroads Rebounding

In recent years, just about any number of dramatic and outstanding achievements have been recorded by American industries. Such achievements are most notable when they have been attained under difficult and adverse circumstances. As an example of this, it would be hard to beat the railroads.

Following World War II, this vital industry experienced a sharp and steady decline in traffic and revenues. Its profits have been—and still are—far below any level that can be considered reasonable. In many states it has been—and still is—the object of punitive taxation of its properties. It has been—and still is—the victim of obsolete, horse-and-buggy regulatory laws and policies that penalize it while favoring and pampering its competitors.

In the face of all this, railroad management could have been excused for throwing up its hands and saying there was nothing to be done. It didn't. It faced almost a life or death situation, and it had no intention of seeing the industry die. So it embarked on a massive program of improvement and modernization. It pioneered and adopted technological techniques and devices of a revolutionary nature.

Since the war, spending for this purpose has passed the $20 billion point. It is estimated that the figure for 1965 will be about $1.6 billion and railroad men are talking about the need to increase it.

That, in brief, is the story. The railroads have done and are doing everything within their power to give this country services of unprecedented quality and efficiency. And the future will see far greater progress still —if the regulatory system is overhauled to bring it into tune with the times, and the rails are allowed to make the most of their competitive capabilities. Maybe Congress and state legislatures will see this some day.

A Time To Decide

November 2 is rapidly approaching, and it will be a day of decision for residents of Thief River Falls. Overshadowing the election of city officials will be the question of whether or not the city should issue bonds not to exceed $200,000 for construction of an outdoor municipal swimming pool.

We are sure that many city residents are as yet undecided as to how they will vote on the question. The local swimming pool committee has prepared an informational brochure, explaining the work and opinions of the committee in planning for a municipal pool in this city. These brochures are being made available in downtown locations and will be distributed door-to-door later this month.

It will be interesting to see how residents of this city express their opinion at the polls. In the Jaycees' community attitude survey conducted in the spring of 1964, a total of 71 per cent of the households polled indicated favor of building of municipal pool. This survey was quite comprehensive in number and in areas of the city covered.

Surprisingly, there has been little public comment on the question. For that matter, little has been mentioned in private conversation. Because of this, we are beginning to wonder if the number of persons voting in the city election will be very large. It takes a strong controversy or a spirited race for office to stir people out of their homes to exercise their right to vote.

The swimming pool committee deserves the community's thanks for the time and effort it has devoted in conduction research on the proposal. We believe its presentation is factual and clearly and honestly stated. It is subject to discussion, of course, and that is as it should be.

At any rate, remember November 2—it will be a day of decision.

For Women Only

If you are the kind of person who enjoys sewing as a hobby or as a matter of practice for your family, the forthcoming Make It Yourself With Wool contest will give you an opportunity to test your abilities in competition. Theconte st will be held in Thief River Falls on November 26.

There are several advanages to be gained by women entering the contest. They will have an additional outfit for their wardrobe, they will gain the experience of taking part in competition and they could go on to win state and national honors with attractive prizes. Prizes are also offered on the district level with competition for four different age groups.

The contest is one portion of the promotional program conducted by the American Wool Council. All entries in the contest must be sewn by the entrant of 100 per cent American-loomed wool. Information on age group divisions and types of items which may be made and modeled is available from the district director, Mrs. G. Milford Peterson, 216 South Minnesota street, Crookston.

Some tips to contest entrants have been offered by the wool council. Deep and rich shades are setting the fashion pace. Purple is gaining in popularity with blues, greens, browns and orange hues. Gray is now an established color and is available in wool of all shades.

District winners in the upper divisions of the contest are awarded state trips, state winners enter national competition and national winners are awarded tours overseas. This district had a national winner a few years ago. This year it could be you. Today is not too soon to write for entry blanks.

Talk in Tribute

"Job Corps experience so far suggests that business may have something to teach the educators. Training centers run by business corporations look better on the public record than centers run by educational institutions and state entities," observes a news dispatch by the New York Times service.

A number of the Job Corps centers are administered by business groups which have contracts with the government. In these, the work has been proceeding smoothly and productively, and there apparently have been a good deal of trouble—occasionally approaching the riot stage—in centers where nonbusiness organizations have the administrative responsibility.

Why should this be so? The Times dispatch quotes Sargent Shriver, who heads the Office of Economic Opportunity, as saying that businesses ". . .know how to run things. They are good managers. They know what kind of employes they need. They train people in realities."

This adds weight to something that a great many people have been saying—that the main force for reducing poverty and for aiding the underprivileged to attain a productive place in the economic world will come from business enterprise. Government will help, but it can do only a small part of the job. One of the primary purposes of business is to raise living standards and provide greater opportunity for all.

And as usual with government, business is given tribute when it rallies support to a government plea. In other matters, however, business is given little consideration by government except for the extraction of tax revenues from it. In this respect, government is like the mountain climber rescued from a fall to a rocky ledge who gratefully kicks his rescuer over the precipice. Talk is cheap in Washington but action rarly follows.

If govrnment recognizes that business knows how to run things, why isn't business given a greater opportunity to do so?

Opposes Liquor Store

In an editorial in the October 20 edition, the Roseau Times-Region asks the public to reject liquor sales for that village. The points made may be of interest to people in this community. The editorial follows:

On November 2 Roseau village residents will vote on whether or not to legalize the sale of liquor in this community.

The Times-Region urges the defeat of the proposal.

We can think of no advantages to our community which would not be offset by the undesirable effects of increasing the general consumption of alcohol.

We do not agree that the village should encourage or promote additional drinking by making liquor more generally and more easily available. That will be the direct consequence. It will happen and it will effect the lives of many people—adversely.

No one will gain.

An editor in another town, which has a liquor store, told the editor only last week that if it were his choice, he would have opposed the original establishment of the store. "I see too many good men sitting down there drinking their lives away," he said.

Our own sheriff confided to this editor that 95 per cent of the family squabbles he is called to mediate involve liquor. Nearly all the assault cases can be traced to alcohol as can nearly all the disorderly conduct offenses. He estimates that 50 per cent of the driving violations he investigates involve liquor. It is a factor in some 75 per cent of all his law enforcement problems.

Our Municipal Judge and County Attorney flatly oppose legalized liquor sales. . .they are the men who deal with its effects.

There is little doubt that the crime rate is higher and the welfare case load proportionately greater where liquor is publicly and easily available Roseau is forunate to have little such consequence traceable to this cause. Communities with legalized liquor can not stand the comparison.

Our juvenile delinquency is low. Our adult crime rate is low. Our community spirit, our community accomplishments and our individual pride in Roseau is high! We have ridden the crest of a solid public attitude for many years. We have builded the worked to make ours a better place in which to raise children and a better place in which to live.

We do not think these things can be improved by legalizing liquor.

We see no reason to risk even the remote possibility that the increased convenience will change Roseau, its reputation or the more succeptible of its citizens.

We urge you—vote the issue down!

remember the "good old days"?

If grandpa tells you he worked like a horse when he was a boy, it was probably true. It was no easy matter to haul water for all your household needs, plus the farm animals' requirements. Dependable rural electricity brought running water to the farms, and this was probably the greatest boon of all to the entire family. This is just one of the many changes wrought by rural electricity during the past twenty-five years.

The Library Corner

by Virginia Gjernes

Newest arrivals on the "Fiction" front include some mysteries, some historicals, some about love, some about hate, some about Minnesota, some with psychological backgrounds and some about Africa. There's undoubtedly one to please your taste.

First of all there's "The Interrogators" by Allan Prior (British author) who writes an unusual and convincing story about crime investigation. The dectives involved are not the run-of-the-mill fiction know-it-alls, but rather hard working individuals, each with their own problems, but together seeking to solve what seems to be an unsolvable sex crime.

There's a new Christie work, too, entitled "A Caribbean Mystery". The author has plenty of fans, so little more need be said about this one. It is a good keeper-upper for the insomnia victim.

Those who prefer "love" might want "Storm Tide" by Allan Bosworth. In this one the love angle is entwined with a tale of adventure and the sea. Catherine Gaskin's "The File on Devlin" is love mixed with counterespionage. Mark Van Doren's admirers will choose his newest "Collected Stories, Volume II".

"Pioneer Panorama" by Robison is an historical novel which centers around St. Anthony Village. The story takes place between 1853 and 1865. The authoress is deeply interested in Minnesota, its history and its people and her writings echo her enthusiasm.

Those who like to stray from ruck but always end up at the "New Non-fiction" section will delight in these additions. Take your choice. . .then come again!

Everybody is talking about "Why Wait Till Marriage?" by Evelyn Millis Duvall. The youth of today are Dr. Duvall's target and her straight arrows hit the bull's eye. Every paragraph is devoted to truth uncovered by research. The author is widely known, widely read and internationally famous in Family Relations circles. She states her case frankly. Parents, too, will find this volume enlightening as well youth counselors, ministers and leaders of civic organizations. Here's one that shouldn't be skipped by any thinking adult or soon-to-be-adult.

Penny DeFore's "With All My Love" carries a foreward by Billy The young authoress, dauthger of movie and T.V. star Don DeFore, tells why she gave up the material conforts in life to go half way around the world--to Korea--to work as a volunteer in a Korean orphanage? Maybe a lot of people, still seeking answers to their own "why" in life, will gain a little (or a lot) from this small book with such a heartwarming story.

Marvin A. Block, M.D., and chairman, Committee on Alcoholism for the American Medical Association for a decade, writes truthfully and convincingly about "Alcoholism, Its Facets and Phases". A sample of the table of contents will give you the gist of the book. 'The Illness Called Alcoholism'; 'Alcoholism and the Law'; 'Medical Treatment of Alcoholism'; 'Skid Row'; 'The Social Worker and Alcoholism' and 'Young People and Drinking'. This is a most enlightening study of one of today's greatest problems, written by a man who knows what he's talking about.

"Games People Play" by Eric Berne, M.D., is another not-soon-to-be-forgotten book which will engross the reader from start to finish. Already on best-seller lists from coast to coast, you'll want to read this to find out how many of these "games of life" you're playing! Or are you just sitting out this hand?

Biographies new to the shelf include "The Spider and the Marionettes" by Alan Dale, a show-business personality. He doesn't pull many punches.

"The Two Lives of Joseph Conrad" by Leo Gurko is an exceptionally well-written protrait of a complex, talented artist. The literary accomplishments of the subject are well-known, but until now the author has been little more than a name on a frontispiece. When you've finished this one, you'll feel you've gained a friend plus a tremendous insight into the mind of a fascinating person.

"An Informal Biography" is what Gilbert Maxwell entitles his book about Tennessee Williams and his friends. If the playwright has been one of your favorites you'll be enthralled with this. If his works are not too well known to you, you'll enjoy reading them after you've read this.

Come into the library soon, and often. The new books are yours for the borrowing.

Remember "Children's Book Week" is from October 31 to November 6. But, actually, isn't every week "Book Week"? It should be, especially at your house.

Enclose The Pool For Year-Around Use?

A possibility, but preliminary study has revealed enclosed pools get very little patronage during hot summer months. For instance, Detroit Lakes, Minnesota, closes its new indoor pool during the summer months.

LHS Junior Class To Present Play

"A Distant Bell", a play -- by Katherine Morrill, will be presented by the Lincoln high school, junior class Monday and Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the school auditorium. The play is directed by William Jenson. Tickets may be purchased from members of the junior class at a cost of 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children and students. A limited number of tickets will be sold at the door.

The plot involves a woman, just released from a mental hospital, who goes home and finds her family acting rather strangely toward her. Her twisted mind immediately envisions dire plots against her. These fears and her reaction to them make up the situation of the play.

Lions Club Halloween Parties Set

Plan Three Events For Age Groups Area On Saturday

Sponsored annually by the Thief River Falls Lions club, a series of three Halloween parties for area school children will be held on Saturday, according to Phil Kays, club president. Halloween falls on Sunday this year with the main activities planned for Saturday night.

Opening activity will be a free movie for elementary school children at the Falls Theater at 4:15 p.m. Free treats will be given the youngsters following the movie.

From 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. a roller skating party for junior high school students will be held in the city arena. This event is free to all junior high school students. Cash prizes will be awarded at the party.

Beginning at 8:30 p.m. a dance will be held in the city auditorium for senior high school students. Free prizes will also be given at the dance and all senior high school students are encouraged to attend.

Police Captain Alan Noreen urged drivers in the city on Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights to use extra care in driving due to the large numbers of children who will be out in the residential areas on Tricks or Treats forays. These youngsters, excited by their activity, often forget normal caution. They are sometimes dressed in dark clothing and wear masks limiting their vision. All these factors combine to make them more vulnerable to traffic than ever.

Capt. Noreen also noted that a number of civilian volunteers will join the police force in patroling the city on Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights in an attempt o curb activities of Halloween pranksters who may cause property damage.

The city curfew has been extended to midnight on Friday and Saturday only for these students attending the Friday dance following the football game and the Saturday dance sponsored by the Lions club.

Mrs. Alfred Haugen and Grace Haugen arrived home Sunday from Chicago, Ill., where they attended the funeral services for Mrs. Haugen's sister, Mrs. Frank Hilding.

Mrs. Leslie Kulseth, Mrs. Amorin Olson, Cindy and Cheryl and Mrs. Louise Kulseth motored to Moorhead on Sunday where they visited at the Rev. and Mrs. Marvin Carlson home.

Installation Begins on TRF Natural Gas Lines

OFFICERS for the coming year were elected at the District I convention of Future Homemakers of America held Saturday at Lincoln high school. Pictured left to right are Nancy Hugg, Lancaster, secretary-treasurer; Florence Stater, state department of education, St. Paul and state FHA advisor; Jean Labine, Argyle, president; Cathy Wysoski, Thief River Falls, outgoing president; and Polly Erickson, Warren, vice president. The new officers were escorted and given flowers by district officers of Future Farmers of America.

Installation of pipe for natural gas service to Thief River Falls is now underway, according to George Carter, president of North Star Natural Gas company. Pipe was strung yesterday in the northwest portion of the city and digging is being done today, Carter said. He expects to be in the city for some time to supervise work on the project.

Given a break in the weather, which has already delayed the project for more than a month, the company expects to go ahead with mains, laterals and service connections to provide natural gas service to at least part of the city this year. Work not completed this fall will be done as soon as weather and ground conditions permit in the spring.

Work is being concentrated west of the river first to permit street crews working in the eastern portion of the city to proceed without interference. It is anticipated that natural gas service for most of the business section of the city will be provided before weather calls a halt to operations this fall. Customers will be signed up as the mains are installed, Carter said.

The take-off station at the Midwestern Gas Transmission company's main line west of Warren is nearing completion at this time. Pipe has been strung about 12 miles east of that point and will continue to Thief River Falls now that weather has taken a turn for the better. Laying of the pipe will begin soon and is expected to proceed at the rate of about three miles per day. Pipe is stockpiled at Warren and Radium in addition to two points in Thief River Falls.

North Star was granted what Carter terms "an adequate supply of gas to allow for growth" by the Federal Power commission on August 25. Work on the construction project is being done by Mathews Construction, Inc., of Jay, Oklahoma. This company also handled the installation for Wadena, Staples and other towns served by North Star.

Pipe for the natural gas service is laid at a depth of about two and one-half feet, primarily in the alleys and boulevards of the city. Pipe will be placed under surfaced streets by boring beneath the streets unless such borings can not be made because of obstructions. Surfaced streets will not be cut unless absolutely necessary, Carter said.

The company president also expressed his appreciation to residents of the city for their patience in awaiting Federal Power commission approval of the company's request for a natural gas allocation, and the resulting natural gas service in the city. He urged people seeking advice on natural gas heating to contact the company by calling Noper's Motel (681-2640) or his temporary office (681-3222).

Langen To Visit In City Monday;

Congressman Odin Langen and his wife Lillian will visit in Thief River Falls Monday to review events of the first session of the 89th Congress with local residents; Rep. Langen has just completed his seventh year in Washington.

Langen will meet with city and school officials in the morning, attend the Rotary club meeting at noon, visit on the street following the noon meeting and attend an open legislative review session sponsored by the legislative committee of the Chamber of Commerce at 3 p.m. This session, to be held in the Rex cafe, is open to anyone who whould like to attend.

In a prepared news release following adjournment of Congress for this year, the Congressman noted that more than 15,000 bills were thrown into the hoppers and those enacted ". . .constitute the most far-reaching federal program in the history."

"So many programs were passed in such a hurry," the Congeressman said, "that the leaders of both political parties agreed that it was time to stop and take inventory. We appropriated over $105 billion during the year and will be asked for billions more when we return in January."

Two Youths Hurt When Motorcycle Runs Into Tree

Two 18-year-old Thief River Falls youths were injured in a motorcycle crash Monday afternoon. At about 5:25 p.m. a motorcycle owned by Dennis Sullivan and driven by Eugene Kauppila, with Sullivan riding as a passenger, was traveling north on Markley avenue. Kauppila lost control of the machine at the dead-end intersection with Hughes street and struck a tree on the Knox school grounds.

Both youths, who were home on leave from the army, were hospitalized. Sullivan suffered a concussion and injury to the left ear. His condition is described as poor. Kauppila received a fractured left knee and injury to the left eye and is reportedly in good condition. Damage to the motorcycle is unknown. The accident is under investigation by the police department.

Another accident was reported to police on Monday. At 2:15 p.m., a car driven by Dwight Rogers, Grygla, was going south on Horace avenue and 75 feet south of the intersection with Fourth street was struck by a vehicle driven by John Augustine, rt. 2, Thief River Falls, which was leaving a parking place. Damage was estimated at $50 to the Rogers car and $5 to the Augustine vehicle.

At 7:50 a.m. today (Wednesday) a car driven by Anita Puppe, city, was going west on First street and at the intersection with St. Paul avenue was struck in the left rear door by one driven by Robert Poolman, city, which was going north on St. Paul. Damage was estimated at $125 to the Puppe car and $35 to the Poolman vehicle. Charges are pending.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Nelson and Mrs. Art Torstveit returned Monday evening from Duluth were they were guests at the Frank Lindman home.

(This is the fifth in a series of articles dealing with the Thief River Falls schools prior to American Education Week November 7-13. Previous articles dealt with the general public school district, elementary, junior and senior high schools. Today's article calls attention to St. Bernard's parochial school.)

Seated behind a faded wooden desk in a neat but crowded office, Sister Caroline emanates the radiance that can come only from a person who is happy and proud of her work and has the assurance that she does it well. She is principal at St. Bernard's school--in her second year here after 15 years in the southern United States--and her nun's garments do not hide her love for children and her administrative efficiency.

This year she is directing a staff of six faculty members in addition to teaching full-time a class of 29 eighth grade students. She has prepared an experimental handbook of philosophy and objectives for the school, the opening statements of which clearly state the reason for the school's existence.

"The philosophy of Catholic education is: God made man to know, to love, and to serve Him in this world and to be happy with Him in heaven," she writes. "Because of this concept, the administration and faculty of St. Bernard's school are committed to the task of educating each student in the Christian way of life as a means to his eternal happiness.

Aims and Objectives

"The aims and objectives of Catholic elementary education are based on the principles of Christian philosophy," she continues. "These principles give the true concept of education. They recognize the origin, nature and destiny of the child. It is the responsibility of the elementary school to provide the experience and to direct the activities of the child through which he will acquire knowledge and understanding that will develop his intelect; the attitudes that will train his emotions, and the skills, habits and virtues that will strengthen his will."

General administration policies procedures continue by stating the

Governor Rolvaag Asks Soo Line Train Retention

Governor Karl F. Rolvaag has joined local officials and civic groups in opposing discontinuance of Soo Line trains 9 and 10, which presently provide passenger service to Thief River Falls. Rolvaag urged the Interstate Commerce Commission to reject the Soo Line's application to end passenger service along this 400-mile route from the Twin Cities to Noyes.

In a statement presented to an I.C.C. hearing in St. Paul recently, the governor argued that continued passenger service is needed to stimulate the growth and economic development of the communities served by the line. Rolvaag's statement strongly suported a decision of the Minnesota Railroad and Warehouse commission that the passenger service should be continued. The I.C.C will make the final decision.

Rolvaag declared that continued railroad passenger service is an essential part of a balanced transportation system for Minnesota. Elimination of trains 9 and 10 would leave many comunities without any public transportation and could result in isolation, of some areas during the severe winter months.

Bonita Sevre And Lyle Pederson Exchange Vows

Miss Bonita C. Sevre, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Sevre of St. Hilaire and Lyle C. Pederson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Pederson of Thief River Falls, exchanged marriage vows Saturday, September 25, at Redeemer Lutheran church, Thief River Falls. The Rev. Dennis Rodin officiated at the double-ring ceremony. Traditional nuptial music was provided by organist Mrs. William Halbasch with Mrs. Lester Vigness singing "O Perfect Love" and "The Lord's Prayer". Baskets of bronze mums and gladioli in fall colors, accented by ferns, graced the chancel while the pewes were marked by white satin bows.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of chantilly lace over taffeta featuring a fitted bodice, long sleeves tapering to a point over the wrists and a gently scooped neckline trimmed with seed pearls and sequins. A peplum back complemented the gown. A peau de sole petal headpiece outlined with seed pearls and enhanced by tear drops, held the veil of silk illusion and her only jewelry was a cultured pearl-centered golden cross on a slender chain, a gift from the groom. The tradition of something old and something new was carried out in her attire and she carried a cascade bouquet of three large white mums surrounded by red and white sweetheart roses.

Mrs. Wayne Peterson of Prinsburg attended her sister as matron of honor. The bridesmatron was Mrs. Carl Carlson, of this city, sister of the groom. They wore identical floor-length gowns of a goldbronze tone slipper satin with matching headpieces and shoes and short white gloves. Their golden crosses on chains were gifts from the bride and each carried a crescent bouquet of one large mum, surrounded by feathered mums and accented with a satin ribbon.

Brother-in-law of the bride, Wayne Peterson of Prinsburg, served as best man with Keith Pederson, Thief River Falls, brother of the groom, as groomsman. The groom and his attendants wore black tuxedos and white carnation boutonnieres while the ushers, Carl Carlson, brother-in-law of the groom, and Dwight Ortloff, cousin of the bride, both of Thief River Falls, wore dark business suits and white carnation boutonnieres.

The mother of the bride was attired in a beige two-piece lace dress with brown accessories and the mother of the groom wore a rust colored two-piece knit dress with black accessories. Both mothers wore identical corsages of white roses and feathered tangerine mums.

Honor guests attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Jens Jonson of this city, grandparents of the bride, and Mrs. Christine Blomberg, also of this city and grandmother of the groom. Identical corsages of yellow roses and white feathered mums were presented to the grandmothers and the grandfather was given a white carnation boutonniere.

A reception in the church parlors by the parents of the bride. The four-tiered wedding cake, decorated with bronze colored roses and topped with a miniature bride and groom was cut and served by cousins of the bride Caryl Bugge of Robinsdale and Sandra Sevre of Minneapolis. Mrs. Keith Pederson, Thief River Falls, sister-in-law of the groom and Mrs. Richard Boes, Grand Forks, N.D., cousin of the groom, poured. Mrs. Donald Johnson, also of Grand Forks, N.D., cousin of the bride, presided at the punch bowl while a sister of the bride, Darlene Sevre of St. Hilaire, registered the guests. Waitresses were Kathy Cameron, Minneapolis; Joyce Peterson, St. Hilaire and Mrs. Ray Ulrich of Thief River Falls. Gifts were arranged by Marsha Granum of Grand Forks, N.D., cousin of the groom, Carol St. Marie of Minneapolis and Ivette Torkelson of Thief River Falls.

Out-of-town guests were from Grand Forks, N.D., Minneapolis, Prinsburg, Red Lake Falls, St. Hilaire, Goodridge, Moorhead and Iron.

For the wedding trip along the North Shore Drive and into the western part of Wisconsin, the bride chose a blue woolen suit with black accessories.

The bride is a 1964 graduate of Lincoln high school and is presently employed in the business office at Northwestern hospital. The groom, a 1963 graduate of Lincoln high school, is presently serving in the United States Army.

Lon Inmans Of Holt Mark Their 25th Anniversary

In observance of their 25th wedding anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. Lon Inman of rural Holt were honor guests at a reception given on Sunday, October 17, at the Nazareth Lutheran church at Holt. Present for the occasion were their six children, Richard of Washington, D.C., Larry, David, Christie, Lana and Joy, all of Holt. Also with them were their attendants at their wedding 25 years ago, Mrs. Lyle Gilbertson of Holt and the brother of Mr. Inman, Denny Inman of Thief River Falls.

For the event, Christie Inman presented her parents and their attendant's with corsages and boutonnieres.

Mrs. Art Lunke was in charge of the program that preceded the reception. Included in the program was a trumpet solo by David Rodahl, accompanied at the piano by JoAnn Ness; accordion solo by Don Lunke, vocal solo by Marvin Sandberg and a duet by Linda and LuAnn Lubitz. Readings were presented by Mrs. Birger Borg and Mrs. Butch Engen, niece of the honored couple. The Rev. Milton Wilson gave the opening prayer and extended his best wishes to the couple and the group participated by singing a hymn. Following the presentation of the gifts from the group by Lawrence Lubitz, the honored couple responded with words of appreciation.

At the reception in the church parlors, a three-tiered anniversary cake, presented by the children, centered the serving table. Cutting and serving the cake were Mrs. Lawrence Lubitz, both of Thief River Falls. Aunts of Mrs. Inman, Mrs. Ida Halvorson of Thief River Falls and Mrs. Olga Johnson of Holt, poured. Waitresses were nieces of the couple, Mrs. Butch Engen and Mrs. Kenny Garthus while Linda Lubitz of Thief River Falls was in charge of the guest book. Arranging the gifts were Mrs. Ben Garthus, sister of Mrs. Inman, Mrs. Jay Garthus and Nancy Miller. Members of Circle Two of the Nazareth Lutheran church of Holt were in charge of serving the reception.

With about 200 guests in attendance, guests came from Grand Forks, N.D., Washington, D. C., Kellliher, Crookston, Thief River Falls, Newfolden and Middle River.

Dianne Gunderson Weds C. R. Gagner At Brooks

Wedding vows were repeated Saturday, September 4, at St. Joseph's Catholic church, Brooks, by Miss Dianne Leone Gunderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Torkel Gunderson of Oklee and Clarence Ray Gagner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gagner of Brooks.

The Rev. Henry Carriere officiated at the double ring ceremony before an altar graced with large baskets of pink and white gladioli. Organist, Mrs. Val Gagnon played the traditional nuptial music and acompanied the Terrebonne choir as they sang.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a formal gown of white satin designed with fitted bodice, scooped neckline and long tapering sleeves. Re-embroidered Alencon lace adorned the waistline and was repeated on the front of the skirt while the button-down back featured a detachable full length chapel train. A peau de sole petal headpiece, etched with seed pearls, held the veil of silk illusion and she carried a cascade bouquet of delicate pink roses and white baby mums. Her white gold cross on a slender chain was her gift from the groom.

Serving the bride as personal attendant was Diane Lovly of Bemidji who also helped design and fashion the bridal gown.

Miss Arlene Gunderson was her sister's maid of honor. Other attendants were Mrs. Parnell Thibert, cousin of the groom and Sheryl Gunderson, sister of the bride. They wore floor-length gowns styled with bodices of a deep rose velvet accented by delicate pink satin brocade skirts with matching veiled headpieces and shoes. Each carried a bouquet of three long-stemed roses tied with a large white bow.

Mike Gagner attended his brother as best man. Groomsmen were Parnell Thibert and Arnold Carriere. They wore black tuxedos, black bow ties and white carnation boutonnieres. Seating the guests were Orlo Lintvet, cousin of the bride and Robert Gagner Jr., brother of the groom.

The mother of the bride wore a teal blue three-piece dress with brown accessories while the mother of the groom was attired in an off-white dress with black accessories. Attending the wedding and presented with corsages of red roses and white carnations similar to the ones worn by the mothers were the grandmother of the bride, Mrs. Anne Hofstad of Oklee and Mrs. Pearl Gagner, Red Lake Falls, grandmother of the groom.

For the reception which followed the ceremony, the church parlors were decorated with pink and white streamers and wedding bells. The four-tiered wedding cake, decorated with delicate pink roses and topped with a golden christogram, was backed and decorated by Mrs. G. S. Gunderson of Oklee, aunt of the bride. Flanked by candles, the top tier later centered the bridal table.

Cutting and serving the wedding cake were sisters of the groom, Mrs. Vernon Cyr, Oklee and Mrs. Louie Wichterman of Red Lake Falls while Mrs. Archie Ruffalo, South Milwaukee, Wis., aunt of the bride and Mrs. Louis Merell of Brooks, aunt of the groom, poured. Serving as hostesses were Mrs. Alvon Foe and Mrs. Lloyd Green. Miss Sharon Solheim of Trail registered the guests; Myrna Paquin of Minneapolis and Mrs. Lowell Enerson of Oklee presided at the punch bowl and the gifts were arranged by Merlyce Hofstad, Minneapolis, Joan Spear, Crookston, Mrs. Bruce Brouque (Gloria Gunderson) Fosston and Mrs. Arlan Fore of Oklee. Mrs. Marlin Hammer of Oklee planned the corsages and boutonnieres, and the waitresses were Judy Fore and Margaret Gagner. Assisting in the kitchen were Mrs. John Payment, Mrs. Narciesse Robidoux, Mrs. Pete Robidoux and Mrs. William Carriere.

Out of town guests attending the wedding were from South Milwaukee and Cudahy, Wis.; Grand Forks and Finley, N.D.; Minneapolis, International Falls, Bemidji, Thief River Falls, Red Lake Falls, Mentor, Crookston and Goodridge.

For the wedding trip to the western part of the United States, the bride chose a navy blue woolen dress with matching accessories.

The bride is a 1963 graduate of Oklee high school and attended Bemidji State college. The groom, a 1961 graduate of Plumer high school, is employed as postmaster at Brooks where the newlyweds are making their home.

Local BPW Club Fetes Mrs. Race, JoAnne Wedul

In observance of National BPW week two women from Thief River Falls were honored Monday evening, October 18, when the Business and Professional Women met at the Rex Cafe on their regular dinner-meeting.

Selected to be honored from the comunity was Mrs. Margaret Race, a graduate from the University of Minnesota school of nursing, who has served as local school nurse for the past 15 years. In addition to checking the children in the schools, she also visits the sick children in their homes or in the hospitals. For the past several years the local BPW club has secured her help by giving her their Christmas donations to be used for some needy child in the comunity.

Chosen from the local BPW club to be honored was JoAnne Wedul. An active member of the club since 1946, she has served as secretary and for two years as president of the organization. She has also served as president of BPW District One. For the past several years, she has been in charge of the group of beauticians, who during National week, donate their services at the various rest homes in this city. Prior to returning to Thief River Falls, she served as a WAC in the quartermaster branch of the service and was stationed for seven months with Company A, graves registration, in Paris, France.

Attending the meeting as special guest of honor was district president Bernice Ranz of Crookston. She stated that a club is judged by the program presented at the meeting and that a club is only as good as its programs. She complimented the local club for the time, thought and planning used in presenting their programs. She also urged the club to utilize the programs planned by the national BPW. Accompanying her to the meeting was Helen Edgekowski of Crookston.

Other guests attending were Ann Leiran, Bertha Hastad, Olga Bloomsness, Phyllis Drotts and Jan Melvie.

Dr. Donald Goodrich, Roy Lee and Allan Torkelson, representatives from the swimming pool committe, appeared during the evening and spoke to the group.

Dr. Goodrich spoke on the need for a pool in Thief River Falls. In stressing the dangers of river swiming, he mentioned the turbidity of the water, the swift river current, the power boating in the area and the unhealthy place for swimers.

Roy Lee explained the preliminary sketch of the proposed swimming pool and stressed the importance of voting. He stated that the issue will be decided by the number of votes cast. If a vtoer neglects to mark the ballot regarding the swimming pool issue, the ballot will be regarded the same as if the voter were against the issue.

President Anna Zinter reported that eight members from the local BPW club had attended the district meeting held in Bemidji. They were Inga Geving, Elsie Higdem, Anna Zinter, Emma Tandberg, JoAnne Wedul, Clarice Collins, Marjorie Dalzell and Ruth Wilson. She also read a card from Lydia Dahlen, who is vacationing in Europe.

To augment the scholarship fund, a white elephant auction was held with Dorothy Morehouse as auctioneer, assisted by Ardis Tunberg.

Music included in the program were two vocal solos "I Could have Danced All Night" and "Wouldn't It be Lovely" by Marjorie Dalzell.

Decorating the tables for the dinner, catered by the Rex Cafe, were floral arrangements and Jack-o-lanterns surrounded by bright red bunches of high-bush cranberries on beds of cedar.

State President To Visit Rebekah Lodge

Lyon-Rebekah lodge will be hosts to the Assembly State President, Margaret Carlson on Thursday at 8 p.m. at the local Odd Fellows hall. This will be President Carlson's official visit and all members are urged to attend.

Linda Ann Tollefson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Tollefson of Red Lake Falls became the bride of Richard Mireault, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mose Mireault of Dorothy during a recent double ring ceremony performed at St. Dorothy's Catholic church at Dorothy. The Rev. Gerald Foley officiated at the nuptial Mass before a chancel adorned with baskets of pink gladioli and white mums. Mrs. Lawrence Cassavant, cousin of the groom, presented at the organ and the vocalists were Mrs. Willard Brunelle, Betty Wald and Lynn Cassavant.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a regal floor-length gown of white bridal satin fashioned with fitted bodice, long sleeves that tapered to a point over the wrists and a full skirt softly pleated at the waistline. The commerbund was secured in the back with a bow. A matching satin covered crown trimmed with seed pearls held the veil of silk illusion and she carried a bridal bouquet of red roses and stephanotis. Her pearl pendant, was her gift from the groom.

Gayle Helmer of St. Hilaire attended the bride as maid of honor. She wore a pink floor-length gown of lock-lined lace with short sleeves and a matching veiled headpiece. Dressed similar to the maid of honor were the bridesmaids Kathy Theroux of Red Lake Falls and Kathy Mireault, East Grand Forks, niece of the groom. They all carried colonial bouquets of pink roses and white carnations and each wore a pearl pendant, a gift from the bride.

Dressed similar to the bride and attending her sister as flower girl was Lonna Mae Tollefson of Red Lake Falls. Her twin brother, Lance Marc Tollefson of Red Lake Falls served as ring bearer.

Wilfred Huot of Red Lake Falls was best man and the groomsmen were Ted Tollefson, Red Lake Falls, brother of the bride and Daniel Rol, East Grand Forks, nephew of the groom. Seating the guests were Gerald Mireault, brother of the groom, Mitchell Tollefson, brother of the bride, and Wilfred Rol, brother-in-law of the groom. The men of the wedding party wore dark trousers, white dinner jackets and pink carnation boutonnieres.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Tollefson wore a bluo two-piece knit suit with white accessories. The mother of the groom was attired in a lavender dress with beige accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of yellow roses. Attending the wedding as honor guests were the grandparents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Reurke, Osnabrock, N.D.

Following the ceremony a ham dinner was served in the church parlors by the parents with Mrs. Lawrence Schue, aunt of the groom as hostess. Approximately 200 guests were in attendance. The guests wre in attendance. The three-tiered and pillared wedding cake, topped with white wedding bells, was cut and served by Mrs. Maynard Tollefson, aunt of the bride, Mrs. Ordean Tollefson and Mrs. Paul Burneau, aunt of the bride and groom, respectively, poubride and groom, respectively, poured while Francis and Gerald Mireault served the punch. Mrs. Gerald Mireault registered the guests and the waitresses were Darlene Huot, Marlene Hanson, Kathy Svendsgaard, Cathy Oski and Mrs. Richard Larson. Presiding at the gift table were Mrs. Jim Merealt, Mrs. Frances Miereault and Mrs. Wilfred Rol.

Out-of-town guests attending were from Seattle, Wash., Milton, Osnabrock and Langdon, N.D., East Grand Forks, Duluth and Silver Bay.

For the wedding trip to St. Paul, the bride wore a white knit suit with yellow accessories.

A 1963 graduate of Lincoln high school and a graduate of the Thief River Falls area vocational-technical school, the bride was employed in the office of the Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce. The groom, a 1963 graduate of Layafette high shool and also of the Thief River Falls area vocational-technical school, is employed by Stobbe construction in St. Paul where the couple are residing at 931 Ashland. Newfolden FHA Members Attend TRF Convention

Twenty-eight FHA members from Newfolden high school were among the 850 girls who attended the district Future Homemakers of America Convention at Thief River Falls on Saturday. Mrs. Lois Adolphson, home economics instructor and FHA advisor at Newfolden high school, chaperoned the girls.

The Newfolden club opened the convention with an original flag ceremony. All the girls participating in the ceremony wore identical white dresses and advanced the flags with the color guard consisting of Cindy Green, Susan Stokke, Peggy Wilcox, Deanna Jarshaw, Joyce Sabo, Julie Larson, Joy Hodik, and Janet Holmstrom. Rachel Dryud acted as drummer for the group and Johanna Weltzin was the pianist. Mandy Halvorson was the speaker for the ceremony. Mary Jean Johnson was an alternate with Susan Holmstrom the student director and Marlo Larson the student coordinator.

Miss Stater, state FHA advisor in attendance at the convenion, was so impressed with the ceremony that she invited the Newfolden group to the state convention to do the flag ceremony there.

Mandy Halvorson, Susan Holmstrom and Karen Kron were the official delegates from Newfolden high school at the convention. Gracia Dyrud and Geraldine Rokke represented Newfolden in the district chorus. Mrs. Bert Kron, chapter mother, also served as chaperone.

Pine to Prairie Scout Council To Hold Meeting

Second annual meeting of the Pine to Prairie Girl Scout council will be held Saturday at the Westward Ho motel in Grand Forks, N. D. Main order of business for the meeting will be an election to fill vacancies on the council board of directors.

A special program featuring Senior Girl Scouts who participated in national and international Girl Scout events during the sumer of 1965 is planned. Miss Pat Larson, who represented Region X at "Our Chalet", will speak on her experiences, and the girls who attended the Girl Scout Senior Roundup in Idaho (Sherry Adamson and Cathy Simon were delegates from Thief River Falls) will present the demonstrations their patrols gave at the Roundup.

All adults in Girl Scouting and other interested adults are invited to attend the council meeting, after which a luncheon will be served. All reservations for the luncheon must be made in advance.

Class In Modern Math Is Offered To Area Parents

Modern math class for parents will begin Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in Room 103 of Lincoln high school. The class will meet from 7:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. for four successive Tuesdays (Nov. 2, 9, 16 and 23), according to Arnt Aune, director of the vocational school.

This course will explain the modern mathematics children are now learning in school. It introduces the concept of number systems, the terminology of various operations, the idea of "sets" and the use of propositions in mathematical thinking.

Interested persons are requested to register by calling the vocational office at 681-4588. John Schmitz of the senior high school faculty will be the teacher. Course fee is $4.

Catholic Social Service Plans Adoption Meeting

Catholic Social Service agency of Red Lake Falls has scheduled an area meeting for anyone interested in adoption on Sunday, October 31, at 2:30 p.m. The meeting will be held in the basement at St. Stephen's Catholic church at Stephen. The meeting is being held in Stephen for the convenience of the couples in the northwestern area of the Diocese of Crookston.

Rev. Gerald Foley, agency director, and Bernard DesRoches, social worker, will be present to explain adoption and to answer any questions.

In announcing this area meeting, Rev. Foley said that many potential adoptive applicants are unaware that couples with their own children may adopt. He reported that couples often have to wait just a few months before a child is available for placement in their home. Rev. Foley states that the agency's main interest in couples is that they are able to provide a good Christian home for children.

Serving the Catholics of the Diocese of Crookston since 1947, Catholic Social Service association is the official Catholic charities agency for the 14 counties in northwestern Minnesota. It is a licensed child-placing agency with a staff of social workers trained in child welfare and counseling.

Interested adoptive applicants unable to attend this area meeting in Stephen should contact the agency by letter.

Post Office Asks Applicants for Christmas Work

Application forms for Christmas assistant work may now be obtained in the Thief River Falls post office. To apply, one must be at least 18 years of age, a resident of this postal area and file before the closing date of November 1, according to R. J. Dryden, postmaster.

This year, the hiring of Christmas postal help will follow a pattern established by the U.S. Civil Service comission for the entire country. Appointments will be made in the following order of priority:

1. From those applicants who have worked previous Christmas seasons in the post office. Preference will here be given to veterans.
2. If insufficient eligibles are obtained from Group I, then a canvass will be made of the list of those who have passed the last examination for clerk-carrier and mail handler. Preference is appointment will again be given to veterans.
3. If insufficient availables are obtained from the first two groups, a special civil service examination will be conducted for those currently applying. Priority in application will determine the order of examination. Veterans preference will be an important factor in appointments from this group.

It is for Group 3 that applications are now being accepted.

He received a doctor of divinity degree from Trinity seminary, Dubuque, Ia.

St. Bernard's Is Part Of Area's Total Education

purpose of the school is physical fitness, economic competency, social responsibility, cultural development and moral and spiritual perfection.

Many people can not understand why parents send their children to a parochial school such as St. Bernard's on a tuition basis when public school education is available to them without additional cost. The answer lies in the conviction which parents have in their religion and the concern which they have for their children's spiritual needs.

Law which guarantee the separation of church and state also deprive the students of spiritual connections in public school classroom work. This is one of the reasons for being of the private parochial school.

164 Enrolled

St. Bernard's currently has an enrollment of 164 students. Sister Gerald teaches 18 first graders; Mrs. Veto Chepulis has 26 second grade pupils; Sister Michaela has 40 pupils in grades three and four; Sister Avila teaches 22 fifth graders; Mrs. Ward Vatava has 29 sixth and seventh graders; and Sister Caroline teaches the 29 pupils in the eighth grade.

Choir is a regular activity of all eight grades with teachers conducting their own music classes. Piano is taught by Sister Placid at the convent to any students wishing lessons, and organ is also taught to church organists. Each spring the choir participates in a music festival for parochial schools.

Creative art work is taught in the classroom, including paper sculpture and other elementary art forms. An inter-class talent program is also conducted in the spring with eighth graders sponsoring the event. Talent programs are held in each room with eighth graders serving as judges to select the top three numbers in each room. These winners present a program for the school with teachers serving as the panel of judges.

Will Add Library

Drama is taught in the language arts program in the classroom and classes frequently perform for one another. Libraries are now located in each room, but a central library with a visual aid room will be included in the new administration building now being added to the church and school.

Rev. James Ditzler directs the sports program for the school which includes football for grades five through eight, hockey for all grades in a city-wide program with all schools cooperating, and baseball in the spring. Billy Norman and Danny Sullivan are co-captains of the football team this year. The school also has a Brownie Troop.

School Is Accredited

St. Bernard's school is accredited with the National Catholic Elementary School association in Washington, D.C., with accreditation based on a written report submitted to the association. Rev. Eugene Connally of Crookston is superintendent of all Catholic schools in the Crookston Diocese with Sister Benedict of Crookston as supervisor.

Upon completion of the eighth grade at St. Bernard's, most of the students join the ranks of those entering Franklin junior high school in the local public school system. A few attend Mount St. Benedict at Crookston or other church school. Nearly all of the students make the adjustment to public school very well, Sister Caroline said.

Subjects in the school curriculum include religion, arithmetic, social studies, language arts, science, health and safety, music and art. Sister Caroline summarizes the curriculum as follows: "The primary duty of the school is to instruct. In our school the instruction is to provide opportunities for the child to gain knowledge of God and the truths of faith; then a knowledge of the arts and sciences."

Free Church Sets Homecoming Sun.

Evangelical Free church of Thief River Falls has set Sunday, October 31, as homecoming Sunday. Plans and activities of this day are the climax to Sunday School Improvement Days which are held annually in October. This year the theme has been "Families for Christ" with families participating in various areas in the services. During October of 1965 the Sunday school has recorded its highest average attendance for any month or year in history.

Rev. J. O. Jacobson, a former pastor of the church, will speak during the Sunday school hour at 9:45 a.m., the morning worship hour at 11 a.m. and the "Bread of Life Hour" at 8 p.m. Rev. Jacobson served the church from 1920 to 1953. Also during the Sunday school hour a tape recorded message will be played by Rev. Joseph Swan who served the church from 1954 to 1963. Following the Morning Worship hour, everyone is invited to stay for a fellowship dinner to be served in the lower auditorium of the church.

Planning committee for Sunday School Improvement Days included Orville Trontvet, chairman; Mrs. Roger Nygaard, Miss Ruth Shefveland, Mrs. Floyd Dalzell, Clyde Christensen and Pastor Wesley Johnson.

CORRECTION

In the report of the Sundberg-Lian wedding, the name of the soloist, Barbara Magnuson, was omitted. She sang the "Song of Ruth" and "The Lord's Prayer". The Times is sorry for this error.

2 Auto Mishaps In Police Reports

Two automobile accidents were reported today by the Thief River Falls police department. At 10:05 a. m. Saturday a car driven by Kenneth Leiran, Minneapolis, was traveling east on Third street, crossed the intersection with Main avenue, and was struck in the left rear fender by a vehicle driven by Richard Sannes, Holt, which was going west on Third and making a left turn onto Main. Sannes was charged with failure to yield the right-of-way and no Minnesota registration on his automobile.

On Saturday between 10 and 10:30 p.m. a car owned by Myles Olson, rt. 4, Thief River Falls, was parked on the street in the Northwestern trailer court and was struck in the right rear fender by an unknown vehicle, causing damage estimated at $75. On Sunday Gary Vrna, Goodridge, contacted Olson and stated that his car struck the Olson vehicle. The accident is under investigation.

Two juvenile shoplifters were apprehended Thursday by personnel of a local store, and another on Friday. All were found to have taken items from various stores over a period of time. They were released to parents pending further investigation.

Drivers Alerted To Children for Halloween Driving

Halloween brings a period of special fun for children but for motorists and parents it brings a special responsibility to protect children from the dangers of traffic, reminds the Minnesota highway department.

A large number of youngsters will be oblivious to the dangers of traffic on Halloween, the department points out. They will be running through neighborhoods in streets without looking, playing in leaves along curbs and generally flying about like the witches and goblins they will be imitating.

The driver has to watch for them, to expect to see them darting out in front of his car. He should drive carefully and be ready to stop at any time. Especially on residential streets, th driver must keep a careful watch every inch of the way.

Parents have a special task to protect youngsters on Halloween. They should make certain their children are easily seen in the darkness by drivers. They can do this by having them wear light-limit vision. As an added precaution, it is a good idea to have the youngsters carry a flashlight to be seen more easily by motorists.

Salesmen Attend Sales Conference

Modern Woodmen of America district representative Morgan J. Ellingson and special representatives Darrell M. Bakke and Conrad G. Iverson, all of Thief River Falls, return tomorrow from Milwaukee, Wis. where they participated in a regional sales conference of the legal reserve fraternal life insurance society Tuesday and today.

Ellingson, Bakke and Iverson were selected to represent Thief River Falls by their agency manager, Ray F. Seiken of Minneapolis. In Milwaukee the three men joined approximately 65 other selected agents from the northern Midwest in discussions of life insurance as property, consideration of social security in the computation of clients' life insurance needs and of Modern Woodmen's fraternal benefits system.

Grouse Hunting Success Improved Over '64 Season

Ruffed grouse hunting success over the opening weekend was better than last year but still below the 10 year average, the Minnesota conservation department reported today. Hunters averaged slightly over one bird each on Saturday and a little less than one bird each on Sunday.

Although weather conditions for grouse hunting were ideal, hunting pressure was light. The duck hunting season opened the same day and many hunters evidently decided to hunt ducks rather than grouse, the department reported.

Grouse hunters in southern Koochiching county averaged nearly two birds per hunter the first day and one and a half the second day. Hunting was also better than average in western St. Louis county and parts of Crow Wing county.

Recent reports indicate that fair numbers of grouse are being seen in the Bemidji area and on the Mille Lacs Wildlife area in Mille Lacs county. Since the opening weekend, hunters have reported seeing more birds in some areas than have been observed during the previous three years.

Ruffed grouse hunters were reminded that hunting will continue through October 31 state-wide. A November season limited to deer zone VI in extreme southeastern Minnesota will open November 16 and close November 30.

Shooting hours are sunrise to sunset with limits of three birds per day and six in possession.

Sign Replacement Takes Money from Game Program

Persons who shoot up signs marking wildlife areas, refuges, parks and other conservation areas are no friends of sportsmen, according to Ted Shields, state game and fish director.

It costs almost $3 to replace a sign destroyed by vandals—the cost of a small game hunting license, Shields said. He pointed out that funds used for this purpose are not available for game and fish management, which is aimed at improving hunting and fishing success.

Hundreds of dollars are spent each year in replacing signs ruined by thoughtless and destructive persons, he said. Removal or defacement of any conservation department sign is a violation of the state game and fish laws and is punishable as a misdemeanor.

INJURIES to two Thief River Falls youths resulted when this motorcycle jumped the curb and struck a tree on the Knox elementary school playground Monday at about 5:25 p.m. Listed in poor condition at Northwestern hospital is Dennis Sullivan, 18, a passenger on the bike. Eugene Kauppila, 18, driver of the machine, is hospitalized in good condition with a fractured knee and injured left eye. The impact gouged bark from the tree but the motor bike was virtually undamaged.

BARE FEET of Eddie Broten, Roseau, carried him to first place in record time in the Region 8 cross-country meet held at the Thief River Golf club course Saturday. Broten set a new Region 8 mark of 9:11 on the 1.8 mile course, pacing his Roseau team to a decisive victory. The Rams had a total of 21 points compared to 62 for runner-up Bemidji.

Trapping Season On Mink, Muskrat Opens Saturday

Trapping season on mink and muskrat begins Saturday, November 6, the Minnesota Conservation department reminded today. Badger and raccoon are no longer on the list of protected species and may be taken year around without limit.

To take mink, muskrat and other protected species by trapping, a small game hunting license is required in addition to a trapping license. Residents under 16 years of age are not required to have a license to trap furbearers unless they are trapping beaver or otter. A person may trap on land which he owns or leases and on which he makes his permanent abode without requiring a small game hunting license.

Trapping hours for mink and muskrat are 6 a. m. to 6 p. m. Traps may be tended only during these hours.

The trapping season will end December 19 except in the Upper Mississippi Federal Wildlife refuge located in the southeastern part of the state. There an additional 12 days of trapping will be allowed for muskrats only; however, a special permit must be obtained from the refuge manager.

In Minnesota it is illegal to trap with the aid of dogs or to be accompanied by a dog when tending or setting traps. Traps may be placed inside muskrat houses but the hole made to insert or remove the trap must be complete resealed.

For other regulations and information on the trapping season, trappers are urged to consult page five of the 1965 Hunting and Trapping Regulations, available at most license agents.

Weather Is Cold But No Rain Is Recorded in Area

Moderately cool temperatures with alternating periods of fair and cloudy skies sums up the weather picture for the past week. No rain fell during the period, although the ground in some areas is still a veritable muskeg as a result of the three-day soaker just over a week ago.

Forecast calls for mostly fair skies with widely scattered areas of cloudiness today through tomorrow with little temperature change. High today will range from 50 to 62: lows tonight from 24 to 34.

Temperature extremes recorded by North Central Airlines personnel at the municipal airport during the past week are as follows: 50 and 40 on Wednesday, 53 and 27 on Thursday, 64 and 37 on Friday, 52 and 32 on Saturday, 65 and 25 on Sunday, 56 and 35 on Monday, 60 and 27 on Tuesday and a low this morning of 25.

Grade School at Newfolden Will Stage Operetta

Elementary grades of the Newfolden community school will present the operetta "The Early Bird Catches the Worm" on Friday at 8:00 p.m., Mrs. Vern B. Craig, elementary music supervisor, assisted by the elementary teachers, will direct the program.

The operetta is a children's story about the fowl in a poultry yard with such characters as geese, ducks, roosters and hens being the leading characters and intruders such as hawks and fox who try to upset the normal activities of the yard. Mothers and teachers have been busy making the colorful costumes for the operetta. Admission charges are adults, 50 cent; secondary students, 25 cents and elementary students, 15 cents.

20 From Plummer Attend District FHA Convention

On Saturday 20 Plummer high school FHA members attended the District FHA convention held at Thief River Falls. Registration began at 9 a.m. and was followed by a fun fest at 9:30. Following the fun fest, Kathy Wysoski, district president, brought the morning session to order. A talk was given by Mayor Orin Green on "Citizenship Challenges You."

After the morning session, the girls divided up and went to workshops on nursing, cosmetology, business, social work, germany and Mexico. While the other girls attended workshops, the voting delegates and chorus members ate lunch and went to their meetings.

The afternoon began with another fun fest. During the afternoon session a style was presented, the District chorus sang three selections and the 1965-66 officers were installed. Following the final session was a reception held in the school gym.

Jr. High Posters Put on Display

Posters made in seventh and eighth grade art classes at Franklin junior high school are now being displayed in Thief River Falls stores, according to the Thief River Falls swimming pool committee. The committee supplied material for the posters which were made to publicize the bond issue for a pool which will be voted on the November 2 ballot.

The pool committee also announced that an information program will be presented on radio station KTRF Friday at 6:45 p.m. People having questions which they would like answered on the program may contact any of the comittee members.

A motion was made by J. Burtness, seconded by M. Owen and carried to approve a High School Equivalance Certificate for James Everett Weckwerth.

A motion was made by G. Martin, seconded by J. Burtness and carried to adopt the following resolution:

"Whereas, the Thief River Falls Board of Education has always been concerned with the quality of education and has always been concerned with the professional betterment of its teachers.

And Whereas, the Thief River Falls Board of Education along with all other Boards of Education in the state have traditionally set their annual calendars with a two-day closing of school with full pay to enable their teachers to attend sessions of professional growth at the annual M. E. A. conventions and that school is being dismissed for this reason only.

Now therefore be it resolved that, All teachers are expected to attend these sessions or to report for work and remain on the school premises during the regular hours of school during the days of the convention sessions."

A motion was made by M. Owen, seconded by Burtness and carried to adjourn at 12 midnight.

Signed: Robert A. Bredeson, Clerk
Approved: Rufus Olson, Chairman

Bemidji Wins NW Conference Title

Northwest Football Conference

	w.	l.	t.	pts.	O. Pts.
Bemidji	4	0	0	106	38
Roseau	2	1	0	51	28
Crookston	1	2	0	13	57
Thief River Falls	0	2	1	30	65
East Grand Forks	0	2	1	30	81

Results of last week's games:
Bemidji, 33, at Thief River Falls, 14.
Roseau, 25, at Crookston, 0.
St. James, 7, at East Grand Forks, 19 (NC).

Schedule, Friday, Oct. 29.
Crookston at Thief River Falls.
East Grand Forks at Roseau.
Brainerd at Bemidji (NC).

Coach Ken (Red) Wilson's Bemidji Lumberjacks clinched their fouth successive Northwest football conference by defeating Thief River Falls, 33 to 14, last Friday night.

And coach Ray Kavanagh's Roseau Rams, scoring a surprising 25 to 0 win over the Crookston Central Pirates at Crookston, moved into second place in the conference standings. The Rams will close out their season's play by meeting the East Grand Forks Green Wave at Roseau on Friday.

The Prowlers will attempt to get into the conference win column on Friday evening when, at 7:30 p.m., they meet the Crookston Central Pirates on the Lincoln field. Comparative scores, against conference opponents, indicate that the game should be evenly-contested.

The Bemidji Lumberjacks, in defeating the Prowlers by a 33 to 14 score, boosted their conference scoring total to 106 points. This total is considerably below the record - breaking mark established by last season's powerhouse Bemidji squad. Last year the Jacks defeated East Grand Forks, 34 to 19; Roseau, 39 to 0; Crookston, 41 to 0; and Thief River Falls, 41 to 7, scoring a total of 155 points to 26 for their opponents.

Fullback Larry Schwartz, scoring three touchdowns and a conversion point against the Prowlers on Friday night, is the odds-on choice to win the conference individual scoring honors. The 235-pound fullback has been a vital factor in the Jacks' success this season, being called upon to gain the crucial yards to sustain the Bemidji attack. On defense, Schwartz has played a strong game at tackle for Bemidji.

The Tri-County football conference was thrown into a two-team deadlock for the conference lead on Friday when the McIntosh squad defeated the Plummer Cardinals, 13 to 0, in a game played at Plummer.

The two leaders will be meeting traditional rivals this week, and will be playing away from their home fields. The Plummer Cardinals will play at Oklee at Oklee, while McIntosh will be playing coach Glen Peters' Huskies at Goodridge. The Plummer vs. Oklee game is an afternoon tilt.

Ada Clinches Tie For 1st Place in Pine-to-Prairie

Pine-to-Prairie Football Conference.

	w.	l.	t.	Pts.	O. Pts.
Ada	6	0	0	150	25
Warren	5	1	0	133	26
Red Lake Falls	3	2	1	80	62

Mahnomen	2	4	0	66	79
Fosston	1	4	1	33	123
Twin Valley	0	6	0	6	180

Results of last week's games:
Ada, 33, at Fosston, 0.
Mahnomen, 6, at Warren, 14.
Red Lake Falls, 19, at Twin Valley, 0.
Fertile, 6, at Bagley, 0.

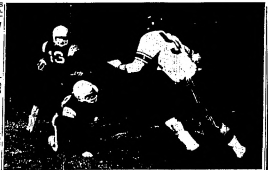
Schedule, Friday, Oct. 29.
Twin Valley at Ada.
Fertile at Mahnomen.
Warren at Red Lake Falls.
Bagley at Fosston.

The Ada Vikings clinched at least a tie for the Pine-to-Prairie football title on Friday when they scored a 33 to 0 win over the Fosston scoring halfback, Ken Pierce, tallied five touchdowns and a conversion point in the win over Fosston.

This week coach Les Dreschel's defending champion Vikings are top-heavy favorites to defeat the last-place Twin Valley Tigers in Friday night's game at Ada. The Pierce an opportunity to take over the individual scoring honors in the conference. Following last Friday's games, Pierce and Warren's Pete Gilbert share the individual each.

The Warren Ponies scored a 14 to 6 win over Mahnomen last week, and Gilbert accounted for all of the points tallied by coach Howard Emerson's second place Warren squad. This week the Ponies will invade Red Lake Falls Riverside Park for a game against the third place Red Lake Falls Eagles.

So it's a down-to-the-wire race for the individual scoring title, with Pierce and Gilbert having 108 points each. Pierce, a senior, is a halfback on the Ada Vikings, standing an even six feet, and weighing 168 pounds. Gilbert, the Warren all-round star, is also a senior and halfback, but he weighs 182 pounds and is 5 feet 11 inches.



ON RARE occasions when he wasn't spearheading offensive drives, Larry Schwartz of the Bemidji Lumberjacks moved into a defensive tackle position and proved to be a tough man to keep out of the play. Here he closes in on Karl Poppenhagen (13) while Wayne Smith (29) readies for contact. The 235-pound Schwartz scored three touchdowns and an extra point in the 33 to 14 win for Bemidji on the Lincoln field Friday, and also turned in a strong defensive game.

ATTEMPTING unsuccessfully to snare this pass with a diving catch Friday night was end Doug Schwartz of the Bemidji Lumberjacks. Covering on the play for the Prowlers was Rod Carlson (38). Bemidji needed litle passing yardage in the game, however, piling up yardage on the ground in defeating the Prowlers 33 to 14. Quarterback John Boyer of Bemidji did hit end Bob Johnson on a 17-yard scoring play and halfback Jerry Lee for a conversion point during the game.

Stephen Defeats Newfolden 20-0 On Nordic Errors

Newfolden Nordics played at Stephen Friday and were downed 20-0. This leaves the Nordics with a 2-5 record in the Top of the State conference.

The Stephen Tigers kicked off with the wind to start he game and the ball sailed into the end zone. After two plays picked up six yards to the 26 yard line penalties hit the Nordics and they were forced to punt into the wind. A good punt was nullified by another penalty. On the ensuing play the wind held the punt and it was Stephen's ball on the Nordic 15 yard line. Four plays later, Stephen made it 7-0.

The Nordics again received and put the ball in play on the 20 but penalties again forced them to punt. This time Jeff Merell backed into the kicker blocking the Nordic punt so that Stephen took over on the Nordic 8 yard line. Stephen took advantage of the break to score their second touchdown and make it 14-0.

The Nordics then started a sustained drive on their own 12 and carried to the Stephen 30 yard line where two penalties and an incomplete pass forced them to turn he ball over to the Tigers. The best play of this series was a 50-yard burst over the middle by David Mattson, junior fullback, but he couldn't outrun the Stephen secondary.

Stephen scored its third touchdown in the third quarter on a 45-yard off-tackle slant. During this period the Nordics ran and passed from their own 30 to the Stephen 6 yard line where a fumble stalled them.

Jeff Merell carried for 50 yards to the Stephen 16 yard line in the fourth quarter only to have it nullified by a clipping penalty.

The Nordics will end their 1965 season by entertaining Karlstad's Rabbits on Friday. This will be the last game for seniors Larry Hanson, Gary Hook, Roger Anderson, Howard Johnson, Eugene Becklund and Leon Elseth.

Federal Income Tax Questions Answered

These questions most frequently asked by taxpayers on federal income tax matters with authoritative answers is provided by the Office of the District Director of Internal Revenue, St. Paul, Minnesota.

Q—I'm still being made to pay 10 per cent tax on my phone bill. I thought this had been eliminated.

A—The telephone tax is being reduced in stages starting next January 1. Then it drops from 10 per cent to three per cent. In 1967 and 1968, the tax drops another percentage point each year until it is entirely eliminated in 1969.

Q—I saw recently where your tax collections were up last year. Doesn't that prove that the so-called tax cut was really a tax increase for millions of taxpayers who lost deductions?

A—No, not at all. It would be hard to find a taxpayer whose bill was not substantially reduced by the 1964 tax legislation.

Tax collections went up last year because the tax cut legislation did its job of stimulating the economy. The reduction in rates had a beneficial effect on personal and corporate income. This growth in income more than offset the reduction in rates.

To state it simply, the combination of higher income and lower rates added up to more taxes than the lower income and higher rates and previous year.

Q—I quit my summer job when school started this fall. When is my employer supposed to give me my W-2 Form?

A—Employes are required to provide W-2 Forms not later than January 31 of the following year. However, if an employment is terminated before the close of the year, W-2 Forms must be supplied within 30 days of the last pay day. You should keep the W-2 and attach it to your 1965 tax return.

Q—This is turning out to be a better year for me than I thought it would be. How can I change my declaration of estimated tax?

A—The reverse side of the notice of installment of estimated tax due may be used for this purpose, or you may obtain a Form 1040-ES (Amended) from your local Internal Revenue office and file an amended estimated tax return. If the change occurred after September 1, your amended declaration should be filed by January 17, 1966.

Q—Do you plan to offer the Teaching Taxes program to schools again this year?

A—Yes, we do. Notices on the program are sent out each Fall to junior and senior high schools as well as some business schools and colleges. Materials for the program are sent to the schools requesting them soon after the first of the year.

Last year an estimated 25,000 schools participated in the program designed to help youngsters fill out Federal income tax forms. Through the program, 3½ million student workbooks and 85,000 teacher's kits were distributed.

Q—Is it possible to have someone from your office come and talk to our local teacher's organization about deductible educational expenses?

A—We try to fill as many of these requests as we can. Write to your local Internal Revenue Service office and please give details on your request.

MIXING plant erected near the airport road for road surfacing projects in and near Thief River Falls has had a field day for the past several days as the runways at the municipal airport are being resurfaced. The gravel is mixed with oil in a mixture that hardens quickly when being spread on a road surface. Trucks owned by the Komatz company have made continuous trips to and from the plant during the five-day resurfacing project at the airport.

Fallon and Olson Named Delegates To Youth Meet

Joan Fallon and Myles Olson will represent Thief River Falls at the 10th statewide cooperative conference for youth which will be held in conjunction with a meeting of the Minnesota Association of Cooperatives (MAC) November 1 and 2 at the Pick-Nicollet hotel in Minneapolis. About 300 youths from around the state are expected to attend. The local delegates on the trip are sponsored by the Farmers Union Oil company of Thief River Falls.

Theme of the joint meeting is "Co-ops and Committees in Changing Times." First day speakers include John Eltam, president, Omaha Bank for Cooperatives; Dr. John R. Borchert, University of Minnesota; Governor Karl F. Rolvaag; Mary Ann Tiltrud, Clarissa, Princess Kay of the Milky Way; and Henry C. Schriver, Grafton, Ohio.

On Tuesday a panel of co-op leaders will field questions from the youths. Panelists will be Gerald Elmer, St. Paul Bank for Cooperatives; Ernest Larsen, Farmers Co-op Elevator, Sauk Centre; Arnold Ackerman, Farmers Union Oil company, Willmar; R. A. Graham, P.K.M. Electric, Warren; and Ralph J. Grodin, Minnesota department of agriculture, St. Paul. The delegates will also tour regional cooperative facilities in the Twin City area. Ten statewide youth organizations will be recognized at the concluding luncheon.

Other business scheduled for the MAC meeting includes election of directors and adoption of resolutions on current issues.

Farm Income In Four-State Area Grows Steadily

Farm income, both gross and net, in four states of the Ninth Federal Reserve district over a 10-year period rose modestly and at a fairly constant pace, the Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis reported today in its monthly economic review.

Average net income on district farms amounted to $3,995 in 1964, only 41 per cent higher than in 1955. In Montana the 1964 net of $4,483 was three per cent over that of 1955; North Dakota, $5,790, 102 per cent; South Dakota, $4,308, 53 per cent; and Minnesota, $3,326, 28 per cent.

Viewed in terms of realized gross income, the rise during the period 1955-64 was at an annual average rate of about 2.9 per cent, a rate of increase well above the one per cent gain recorded during the last year of record, 1963-64. the gross income figure included receipts from farm marketings, direct government payments and noncash farm income.

In a review of farm income trends over a 10-year period, the bank said that income from farm marketings contributed about two per cent per year to the rise, the remainder being picked up by a significant increase in direct payments to farmers under various government programs. Starting at $21.2 million in 1955, government payments grew to a record total of $344 million in 1964.

Viewed in terms of net farm income, the modest rise in the district reflected consistently increasing farm production expenses. A 1964 production expenses total of $2.6 billion was 33 per cent higher than in 1955 as compared to the 29 per cent increase in realized gross farm income.

For the district, the 1964 net income figure of $1.1 billion was 21 per cent higher than that of 1955.

Some of the slow growth of district agriculture was offset insofar as the average individual farmer was concerned by the spread of totals among fewer recipients. Estimated district farm unit numbers declined 15 per cent between 1955 and 1964. Thus, for all district states per-farm gross income in 1964 amounted to $13,380, up 52 per cent from the 1955 average.

How to turn an unused spare into two snow tires.
Place your nose on the "X" and watch the spare tire turn into two snow tires.
Or bring your unused spare to us.
It's worth lots of money. We'll turn it into two U.S. Royal Winterides
What'll you use as a spare?
One of your regular tires when you've got Winter Patrols on. And a Winter Patrol when you've got your regulars on.
What's the Winter Patrol?
A snow tire that'll get you through the snow, like you'd expect a good snow tire to. A snow tire that's built to take you 90 miles an hour when there's no snow. And built to keep it up for 100 miles at a stretch.
Like you wouldn't expect any snow tire to.
Which is why it's approved for highway patrol cars.
In fact, if you've got Winter Patrols on and there's a wide open piece of dry road ahead, watch that rearview mirror.

Editorials . . .

"Every day is a miracle. The world gets up in the morning and is fed and goes to work, and in the evening it comes home and is fed again and perhaps has a little amusement and goes to sleep. To make that possible, so much has to be done by so many people that, on the face of it, it is impossible. Well, every day we do it; and every day, come hell, come high water, we're going to have to go on doing it as well as we can."
—James Gould Cozzens

Parental Responsibility

A lengthy article by Vern Martinson, president of the Minnesota Sheriff's association, appeared in a recent issue of "The Minnesota Sheriff" magazine. Several paragraphs of this article by a professional law enforcement officer are worthy of public reading. They are as follows:

"Much has been written and many theories offered in explanation of the anti-social lawless acts and the high crime rate among the younger people. Many enforcement officers and others have observed that some of the more important causes have been overlooked or underestimated. The efforts to cure have been directed more at trying to cure the symptoms and results instead of the sickness itself, in that parents are not held legally liable for the neglect of their parental responsibilities except in extreme cases such as abandonment, cruelty and so forth of the child.

"If parents would be punished for the lawless acts of their children and be forced to make restitution to their children's victims, the ever-rising tide of juvenile delinquency which is a national disgrace, would subside. Parents would be forced to face up to their moral as well as legal responsibilities. It is not inferred that the youngster should escape punishment but that both the parents and the youngster ought to pay the price of their irresponsible and unlawful acts.

"The influence of the home and the parents is the single most important factor in the development of a child's character; others contribute, but not to the degree that the home contributes either for good, indifferent or bad.

"I would venture the observation that every young person's character is determined by the sum total of all of his experiences and knowledge absorbed, consciously or unconsciously, with due consideration for inherited traits and tendencies. Obviously those closest to the child, including his parents, family, teachers, religious instructors and others in his sphere of acquaintance are important contributors toward the character of the child."

How You Look at It

It is human nature to see at least two sides to every question—one side by one person and the other side by another. Difference in opinion is formed by how a person chooses to look at the situation. Quite logically, this outlook is determined by how the problem or situation affects the person doing the viewing.

Take for instance the controversial move to repeal Section 14 (b) of the Taft-Hartley Act—known popularly as the right-to-work law. This section of federal law permits states to enact legislation whereby employees need not be union members to work in business which has union employees.

James R. Hoffa, general president of the Teamsters union, wrote as follows in the October issue of the "International Teamster":

"As this issue of the International Teamster went to press, majority rule in the United States was on trial in the U.S. Senate. That old labor nemesis, the GOP-Dixiecrat coalition, was attempting to filibuster repeal of Section 14(b), that section of the federal labor law which gives the states the right to pass COMPULSORY OPEN SHOP LAWS." (Emphasis is our own).

Opponents of the repeal state that such action would create COMPULSORY CLOSED SHOPS which they consider to be significantly un-American. Each side charges compulsion in regard to the same law, and both sides may be considered right, depending upon which side of the question a person prefers to stand.

In his article, Hoffa claims the filibuster is halting a majority vote in favor of repeal. "Very simply put, then, a minority of the members of the U.S. Senate can corrupt the principle on which this Democracy is built—that principle that the majority shall rule," Hoffa said.

This nation's democracy, whether Hoffa wishes to realize it or not, is also founded on the right of the minority to be heard. If he were to poll the total American people—not the administration-dominated politicians who populate the halls of Congress—he would likely find sympathy for his cause to be greatly lacking.

Hoffa does not find himself in a unique position in being on the wrong side of the fence in this question. He has been on the wrong side of several things—including the law. Nor was he such a strong advocate of majority rule when a jury convicted him of his misdeeds.

We can appreciate his frustration in this matter, however. It must be extremely frustrating to give all that support to political candidates, expect and receive assurance of return patronage, and then be thwarted by the filibuster which is the only real weapon which the opponents of repeal have.

The Los Angeles Times had this to say on changes in the Taft-Hartley Act: "It should be amended to prohibit discrimination by unions on the basis of race, color or creed. It should be amended to prohibit the use of dues for political purposes. It should be amended to provide for secret balloting in union representation elections. Union leaders would fight most such amendments to the bitter end. Bu equity, fair play and just common horse sense demand that the one change not be made without the others."

We Object to Objectors

Sometimes it seems that the corps of young derelicts advocating withdrawal from Viet Nam, draft card burning and peace marches would benefit from a good spanking. If the implications of the situation were not so tragic, a person could dismiss the problem as the schemes of mentally deficient, publicity-seeking, warped-minded cranks.

It is appalling that the people involved in most of these acts are young college students—likely the products of subversive elements introduced through the classroom under the guise of that currently popular theme of "academic freedom". To these misguided souls the meaning of patriotism is as dead as George Washington himself.

The Waseca Herald makes a good point when it states: "We are in full sympathy with the conscientious objectors and we would excuse them from actual combat. on the other hand, they surely could not object to serving on the field of battle with the medical corps. As stretcher bearers they would be serving in a dangerous capacity but as men of mercy. This would smoke them out on the question of whether they are conscientious objectors or just plain cowards."

Publicity given to the draft card burning by a young man recently touched off a wave of resentment among the American people. The man has been taken into custody and is to be tried for his offense. It would be well for the nation if he is prosecuted to the full extent of the law which forbids encouraging persons to dodge the draft.

No matter how much we may disagree with President Johnson and his internal welfare schemes, we feel duty bound to accept and commend his policies in the Viet Nam war. As citizens of our nation we have no choice but to join with our President in support of our nation and its stand against communist influence and advancement in the world.

When we see news stories on marches protesting the Viet Nam war and hear of public displays of willfull and flagrant disobedience of the law, we see red. We see the red influence of communism which has warped the minds of our young people and is destroying our nation from within. We object to objectors.

Political Patronage?

The following editorial appeared in a recent edition of the Becker County Record:

The Washington spotlight this week has fallen on the appointment of a Boston judge.

Francis X. Morrissey—a name unknown to almost all Americans until this past week—is aspiring to jump from the post of municipal court judge to that of a United States district judge.

He has the support of the powerful Democratic party block, headed by Edward Kennedy—Jack's little brother.

The Boston Globe and a minority of senators are trying to block the appointment by President Johnson.

Today the block is forming on the grounds that Morrissey perjured himself in front of a Senate sub-committee. I seems that Morrissey didn't really live in Georgia when he says he did.

The block of Morrissey's appointment is worthy, but the reason is ridiculous in our opinion.

The American Bar association has stood firmly against the appointment, not because Mr. Morrissey may have lied to a Senate committee, but because its learned men feel that Morrissey is a lousy lawyer and probably a lousy judge.

From testimony it is indicated that the Boston judge has not tried more than a couple of cases as a practicing attorney. He failed to pass bar examinations in his home state and gained admission to the bar by passing a "quickie" Georgia test.

His record as a lawyer and as a judge has been as unimpressive as sand in the Sahara.

Nevertheless, Edward Kennedy and a strong Democratic block is pushing for Morrissey's appointment to a federal judgeship. With it comes guaranteed security.

Why does a respected senator push for such an appointment?

The answer is simple and it is not new. It is political patronage. . .one of the most nauseating practices in American politics today.

Morrissey has been a life-long friend of the Kennedys. He has been a devoted worker for the party.

Now he is standing in line, waiting to get his plum as a payment for knocking on doors in the party ranks for years. He won't receive it because of any great ability.

It is time that Americans of both parties reared their heads and scream bloody murder in opposition to such practices. And don't just call it another Democratic party trick. I've got a hunch that the Republican elephant taught the Democratic mule plenty of tricks in patronage payoffs.

STATE OF MINNESOTA
DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH UNIVERSITY CAMPUS
MINNEAPOLIS 55440

October 21, 1965

Dr. H. P. Wendt
Health Officer
309 La Brea Avenue North
Thief River Falls, Minnesota

Dear Dr. Wendt:

This refers to a survey of the Thief River Falls municipal beach which was made on September 21 by G. B. Seaborn, Assistant Public Health Engineer of this Section. The survey was made in response to your request of July 29.

The field survey consisted of physical observations, interviews, and collection of six water samples from the beach area for physical, chemical and bacteriological analysis. It was noted at the time that the beach is located on a point of land at the junction of the Red Lake River and Thief River, within the City of Thief River Falls, and that only limited areas adjacent to the rivers up-stream from the beach are within the city limits.

Observations made in company with Mr. Charles Richard, Pennington County Sheriff, for a distance of three miles up both of the rivers from the junction, did not disclose physical evidence of sanitary sewage or waste discharges at the time. The coliform densities in the six samples collected from the beach area ranged from 50 to 790 MPN/100 ml (most probable number of coliforms per 100 milliliters). 1,000 MPN/100 ml is generally considered an acceptable maximum for bathing waters in the absence of any known sources of sewage.

These results, however, reflect only the conditions prevailing at the time the observations were made and because of the nature of rivers, and the lack of control of possible pollutional sources outside of the city, but above the beach, large variations in the coliform counts at the beach may occur at any time. Beaches located on rivers have added the disadvantage that turbidity and currents may endanger the safety of the bathers.

In view of the foregoing considerations, we recommend that the city give serious consideration to advantages associated with positive control of water quality and safety hazards in an artificial pool as compared with the obvious disadvantages of a beach on the river.

If you have any questions on the survey results, or if we can be of any further service in this matter, please let us know.

Yours very truly,
Lyle H. Smith, Chief,
Section of Water Pollution Control

If you think '66 Chrysler moves fast on the highway, you should see it in our showroom.
AUTHORIZED DEALER CHRYSLER MOTORS CORPORATION
At the rate they're going, our 1966 Chryslers aren't in our showroom long enough to leave tire tracks. How come they're so popular? Obviously, looks are one reason. Our big V-8 engines are another. But then, of course, it could be our prices.
We've got five Newport models priced just a few dollars a month more than the most popular smaller cars, comparably equipped.

Estimate Nation's Motor Vehicles At 90 Million

U.S. Department of Commerce estimates the total motor vehicle registration in the United Sates a 90 million units for 1965. This figure is based on individual state estimates compiled by the Bureau of Public Roads, plus information on current consumer buying trends, automotive production and other factors.

The figure 90 million reflects a 4.2 per cent increase over the 1964 figure of 86,308,806 and is a tangible indication of the nation's sustained high level of employment and general economic activity.

Passenger-car registrations are expected to reach 75,024,000, this year as opposed to 71,955,726 in 1964. Commercial vehicles should total over 15 million which is almost a five per cent increase over the previous year.

California, with nearly 10 million vehicles, leads the states in estimated registrations while Minnesota ranks 15th with an estimated 1,861,000 for 1965. Five states—Alaska, Delaware, Nevada, Vermont and Wyoming—and the District of Columbia will register less than 300,000 vehicles this year.

Of interest is the rapid increase in recent years of motorcycle and motorscooter registrations, which are expected to reach 1.29 million in 1965, showing a 31 per cent raise above the 1964 registrations.

Oklee FU Local Elects Officers

Action officers of the Oklee Farmers Union local were elected at a meeting held recently at the Marie Hofstad home. Social security and federal crop insurance were discussed.

Officers elected include Raymond Hofstad, president; Robert Blumke; vice president; Raymond Swen-secretary - treasurer; Arlen Fore, program director; Helmer Linder, legislative director; Oscar Linder, organizing director; George Fossum, cooperator director; JoAnn Voeltz, education director; Twyla Fore, junior leader; and Marie Hofstad, publicity director.

Tires and Chains Determine Safety In Winter Travel

How safe and easy the motorists will have it on the snow and ice covered streets and highways this winter will probably depend upon the kind of tires he uses or what he puts on those tires.

The Minnesota Highway department points out that starting and stopping on slippery roads are two of the biggest progmems of winter driving. The best way to minimize that problem is through the use of devices that improve traction and stopping power.

Those devices include snow tires, studded tires and tire chains. The costs involved are considered to be low when compared with the collisions they prevent and the tempers they spare. Studded tires are permitted on Minnesota roads this year for the first time, as authorized by the 1965 legislature.

Braking power is greatly improved by these devices. Studies show that at test speeds of 20 miles per hour on glare ice, cars with regular tires required 195 feet to stop; snow tires, 174 feet; studded tires, 110 feet; regular tire chains, 99 feet; and reinforced tire chains, 77 feet.

On loosely packed snow at the same test speed regular tires required 60 feet for stopping; snow tires, 52 feet; tire chains, 46 feet; and reinforced tire chains, 38 feet. No figures were available on studded tires.

The braking distance of regular tires on dry pavement at 20 miles per hour is 21 feet.

In the case of traction, studies show that on glare ice snow tires improve traction by 28 per cent; studded tires, 136 per cent; regular tire chains, 231 per cent; and reinforced chains improve traction by 409 per cent.

On loosely packed snow, snow tires increase traction by 51 per cent; and reinforced chains improve it by 313 per cent. Regular tire chains fall somewhere in the middle.

While these devices make driving safer and easier, there is no substitute for defensive driving to make winter driving safe driving, the department warns. A good defensive driver drives as if a collision could happen any moment and from any direction. He depends mainly upon his own observation, judgement and skill to avoid collisions.

Christmas Stamp Will Be Issued By Post Office

A new five-cent Christmas stamp will be first placed on sale November 2 at Silver Bell, Ariz. The design is based on a watercolor rendering of an early American weathervane by Lucille Gloria Chabot.

The Christmas stamp will be printed in red (lettering), green and yellow. An initial printing of 1 billion, 200 million has been authorized.

Collectors desiring first day cancellations may send addressed envelopes, together with remittance to cover the cost of stamps to be affixed, to the Postmaster, Silver Bell, Ariz. 85270. A close-fitting enclosure of postal card thickness should be placed in each envelope and the flap either turned in or sealed. The envelope to the postmaster should be endorsed "First Day Covers 5c Christmas Stamp." Cover requests must be postmarked no later than Nov. 2, 1965.

Student Council Delegates Named For Convention

Lincoln high school student council members Nancy Flynn, Debbie Geisen, Dana Stromberg, Lee Edmiston and advisor R. C. Reeve will attend the annual Minnesota Association Student Council convention at John Marshall high school in Rochester November 4, 5 and 6.

Convention speakers will be Congressman Clark MacGregor, Senator Walter Mondale and John Howard Griffin, author of "Black Like Me." The delegates will be accommodated in the homes of John Marshall students during the convention.

Dairy Surplus Is Lower Than Last Year, ASCS Says

The nation's dairy surplus was smaller in the first half (April - September) of the 1965-66 marketing year than a year earlier, and prices received by farmers for milk and butterfat averaged higher this year, according to word received at the Marshall county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) office.

Reduced surplus is indicated by the smaller quantities of butter, cheese and nonfat dry milk removed from the market under the government's price-support and export programs.

Total milk production in the six months this year approximated last year's production. Consumption of milk and its products in the markets was up. Production of butter and nonfat dry milk was down. These products are the principal forms in which the surplus milk produced is removed from the market. Marcel Dahl, chairman of the county ASCS committee, points out that, in the price-support programs, the Commodity Credit corporation buys dairy products to support producer prices for manufacturing milk and butterfat in farm-separated cream, and also makes export payments on commercial exorts of butter and nonfat dry milk.

The support program benefits all farmers pricewise, Dahl said, including those producing milk for consumption as fluid milk. It not only removes the surplus from the market—it also maintains market prices of dairy products. Prices to farmers for manufacturing milk and butterfat are based on these market prices.

Prices received by farmers for milk in fluid uses (Class I prices in federal order markets) are directly or indirectly related to manufacturing milk prices. High rates of utilization of dairy products removed from the markets in both domestic and export outlets during the last three years have greatly reduced government inventories to

Farmers Asked To Send in Social Security Numbers

Farmers who are receiving payments in connection with participation in farm-action programs are being asked to let the ASCS county office know what their social security numbers are, according to Marcel Dahl, chairman of the Marshall County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee.

A form requesting this information—"Request for Identifying Number - Farmer"—Together with a postage-prepaid envelope has been mailed to each known producer who receives program payments, to be filled in and returned to the ASCS county office as soon as convenient.

Dahl explained that, beginning Jan. 1, 1966, the identifying social security numbers will be entered on payment-drafts to producers, and they will also be used by the Department of Agriculture in reporting such payments to the Internal Revenue service. Such identifying numbers now appear on all reports for income payments—such as bank interest, dividends, etc.,—made by the paying companies or agencies. This is required under the Internal Revenue Code. Any questions about this matter should be taken up with the county ASC committee.

L. G. Pederson, Former Resident, Honored in Ariz.

L. G. "Pete" Pederson, a former resident of Thief River Falls, has been elected a director and second vice president of the Chamber of Commerce at Tucson, Ariz. Born and educated in this city, he joined the Montgomery Ward organization in 1937.

He has served with the firm in the California cities of San Diego, Santa Monica, Burlingame, Sacramento, Huntington Park and San Bernadino as well as Walla Walla Wash., and Salt Lake City, Utah.

A Chamber of Comerce publication at Tuscon stated the following:

"Always an active member in civic organizations wherever he has "hung his hat," Mr. Pederson's five years here in Tucson have, indeed, been an outstanding credit to our city. He has been awarded many certificates of appreciation from civic clubs for his untiring efforts in their behalf. He has been one of the most active proponents of the Distributive Education Program; is past president of the Junior Achievement Program; board member of the Tucson Boys Chorus; past president of the Suburban Shopping Ass'n; past president of the El Con Merchants Ass'n.; member of the Board of Directors of the Arizona Retail Ass'n.; and Chairman of the Family Debt Counseling Service. "Pete" was awarded the 1964 4-H Club Plaque; also in 1964 was nominated for Man of the Year.

"Mr. Pederson and his wife, Roberta, are parents of three children and reside at 3515 Calle Alarcon."

Mitchell Named To Republican Party Position

Gale R. Mitchell of rural Moorhead has been appointed to a major volunteer finance post with the Minnesota Republican Party in recognition of his suggestion for a party sustaining fund program.

He was named by John H. Myers, St. Paul, official of the Waldorf Paper company and chairman on this state committee. The appointment also gives Mitchell a chair on the executive committee of the Minnesota GOP committee.

Mitchell's main task will be to advise on the implementation of his roposed program for annual giving, called "The Pillar Club," to make it an integral part of the Republican fund-raising efforts in Minnesota, Myers said in a letter of appointment.

What Do You Really Want?

It is the belief of the Board of Park and Recreation Comissioners that the City of Thief River Falls needs a swimming pool. But this pool should be an enclosed pool, which would increase our swimming season from three months to twelve months. According to E. E. Anderson, Supt. of School, Detroit Lakes, and we quote, "The INDOOR SWIMMING POOL is the most used facility in the entire School District, being open the year around, except for a short period in August when the pool is drained and repairs are made." The City Council has taken initial steps to obtain Federal Funds for the development and construction of a Recreation complex to house the following:

1) Recreation Complex
    - Swimming Pool (Indoor-Outdoor)
    - Indoor Multi-Purpose Arena—8,000 seating capacity
        - Artificial Ice
        - Roll-out floor for District and Region Basketball, conventions, etc.
    - Community Recreation Rooms
        - Table Tennis, Billards, Shuffle board, and crafts
        - Public Meeting Rooms

Such a facility will provide recreational opportunity for all ages, from the pre-schooler thru the Senior Citizen.

PERSONAL
call

These days, our minds are as busy as switchboards! There are so many things to think about, at work, at school or at home. Even our leisure hours often require a lot of mental activity . . . and peace of mind seems very far away.

Yet peace of mind is possible for us all, when we turn to God for relief from the tensions of modern living. He is fully aware of all our problems and difficulties, and He is always ready to lead us to a greater serenity of spirit than we have ever known.

That is why, when we take a little time from our busy lives to attend church, we leave feeling refreshed and strengthened. We have shared in His divine gift of peace.

This Sunday, God's call to a new and certain way of meeting the pressures of life is a personal call . . . for you.

Side Line Observations

BY BILL DAHLQUIST

Congress has finally adjourned and for that blessing we can all heave a sigh of relief. It has been the spendingest Congress of record so far, and this increase in spending will be passed along to the taxpayers largely as increased national debt, to become a more serious problem at a later date. For the immediate future, which will tide us over the next presidential election, the result of excessive spending in the form of higher taxes will not be very painful. The election campaign has been the big worry and it should be an interesting performance.

Especially interesting will be the election campaigns in the southern states and in the states where there is a large Negro vote. Both of the major parties are trying to prove that they are the Negro's friend, and a recent survey by the Christian Science Monitor has this to report on what is taking place in Florida. According to the Monitor:

"In Florida, a grappling for the big Negro vote next year is already under way. That vote may top 450,000 by next November.

"Present Florida incumbents are praising racial progress under their helm. Their opponents are scoffing. Both are vigorously cultivating the Negro precincts. And Negro leaders are vigorously trying to consolidate the Negro vote and wield it as a bloc."

And what is happening in Florida is also happening thruout the rest of the South, according to the Christian Science Monitor survey. Fortunately for us, the racial problem will not be an important factor in the election here in Minnesota.

The harvest season of 1965 is one that I will always associate with pleasant recollections. That was a wonderful weekend.

The members of the City Council and of the Municipal Park and Recreation Board are unanimous in their opposition to the $200,000 swimming pool bond issue as at present proposed. That fact in itself should satisfy reasonable citizens that this question deserves a second look. Our city officials, especially a group of experienced city officials, probably have the facts to support their position.

One of the big shots of the Ku Klux Klan has refused to reveal the activities of the national organization of which he was a prominent leader. Well, really now, why should this bad citizen be forced to answer questions that might incriminate him and his pals in their un-American organization?

Bobby Baker, who was Lyndon Johnson's errand boy when Johnson was boss of the U.S. Senate, refused to answer questions that might incriminate him and his boss, and nothing was done about it. And nothing has been done about it to date. Baker and Johnson accumulated millions, according to the fairly-well-substantiated facts—Johnson got the biggest share of the spoil if the gossip was close to being right, and it is a fair guess to say that it was.

I would suggest that both Baker and the head of the Klan be brought in for thorough hearings, with severe penalties to be imposed if they refused to make known the facts.

One of the last acts of the Congress that now has adjourned, thank goodness, was the Food and Agriculture act. Under the provisions of this act, as I understand it, four billion dollars a year will be distributed to the farmers of America in the form of price supports and supplementary payments to boost farm income for the next four years. I do not begrudge the farmers their share of this increased revenue. They deserve it as their fair share of the political spoil.

But I do object to the manner in which these billions are going to be collected and distributed. The burden will not fall on the consumer directly. The billions to be distributed will be collected in the form of taxes rather than in higher prices—that is when we get around to spreading taxes enough to break even with increased spending. The burden now is being borne for the time being in the form of increased national debt.

Eventually the consumer will pay. To start with, what he doesn't pay in the form of increased taxes will be paid in the form of more inflation. But in the end the spending will result in a larger tax load. But for a few years it now appears that the farmer is going to get his share in the form of cash grants direct from the politicians in Washington. The shortcomings of this effort to equalize incomes should not be blamed to the farmers. They deserve their share of the overall unwise distribution of wealth that eventually will result in a more general distribution of poverty.

SURFACING of runways at the Thief River Falls municipal airport began Wednesday under the auspices of the Komatz construction company. Main piece of equipment in the project is the Barber-Greene paver pictured above. The machine pushes the dump truck filled with hot bituminous mix and lays the mixture on the road in a carefully controlled thickness. Thickness is controlled by an electronic guide attached to the "ski" which slides along the surface to the left of the machine. The airport was closed last week for the project but has been reopened.

Community Club Carnival Set for Saturday Oct. 29

The Steiner Community club is sponsoring a carnival Friday evening, Oct. 29 to which the public is cordially invited. There will be homemade candy and popcorn, fish pond, country store, dart game, and other forms of entertainment. A blanket will also be given away to a lucky person. Lunch will be served by the Vernon Molberg, B. J. Vatsaas, families.

House guests for a week recently at the Lloyd Larson home were her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Lufkin, who were enroute home after a month's vacation. They had just returned from California, where they had visited with his sister Esther, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Caillier, at Boron and with another sister, Myrtle, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Seeger, at Lancaster, Calif. The Lufkins live at Okoboji, Ia.

The Malbergs received a long distance call Sunday afternoon informing them of the death of a cousin, Philip Miller from Avery, Wis. who had passed away suddenly that forenoon from a heart attack. Mr. Miller was 63 years old. Mr. and Mrs. Egbert Malberg of Viking planned to attend the funeral services at Avery Wednesday.

Among those who enjoyed a ham supper Saturday at the Oak Ridge church where T. J. Weltzin of Viking is pastor, were Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Moe and Jimmy, Mrs. Amanda Russell, Mrs. Caster Moe Mrs. Lena Molstad, Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Vatsaas and Mr. and Mrs. Duane Vatsaas and girls.

Mrs. Lloyd Larson and Karlene were dinner guests Thursday at the Alfred Larson home of rural Holt. Julie Larson visited at the Elroy Benitt home.

Sunday visitors at the W. E. Rux home were Gail Rux of St. Hilaire and John Brennen, Merle Hagen and Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Grendahl, all of Thief River Falls.

4-H'ers Install Officers

The Steiner 4-H club met Tues- meeting. The meeting opened with the installation of officers, after which the new president, Donald Rondorf and the new secretary, Connie Hillyer, took over their duties. Roll call was answered with each member naming her or his favorite food. The program presented by the parents with Mrs. Robert Hillyer as chairman, included a reading by Harold Halvorson, a talk on the moose by Mrs. Erwin Muzzy, a skit by Mrs. Gordon Kaushagen and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Solem and a demonstration by Curtis Swanson showing how to make some bars and how to make a Halloween treat. Lunch was pot luck with Mrs. Alfred Solem and Mrs. Eddie Anderson in charge.

Connie Hillyer attended a slumber party at the home of her friend, Sara Howick, Wednesday night of last week. Thursday night she stayed with her friend, Christine Wilson, at Holt. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hillyer brought her home Thursday afternoon.

4-H Hayride

The Steiner 4-H club members enjoyed a hayride Thursday evening. Drivers of the tractors were Harold Halvorson and Jim Muzzy. LaVerne Rondorf was chaperone and Mrs. Robert Hillyer prepared the lunch for them at the Steiner Hall while they were on the ride.

Among those who helped with the turkey dinner served by the leaders' council at the Top of the Nation Dairy Sale at the Fairgrounds Thursday were Mrs. Eddie Anderson, Mrs. Erwin Muzzy and Mrs. Robert Hillye.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Solem and Roger Alan were among the birthday guests honoring Kim Renae Koropatnicki, three year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Koropatnicki of rural Goodridge at her home Sunday evening, October 3. Other guests were Kim's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Nick Koropatnicki, and Mr. and Mrs. Alton Skallet, Leon McMahon of Oklee, Karen Femrite, and Larry, Dona, Sherry, Richard, Ronald and Susie Skallet. The main feature of the lunch served by Kim's mother was a birthday cake in the shape of a doll, decorated in white, and trimed in blue and pink.

A week ago Sunday afternoon visitors at the Lloyd Larson home were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lunke and Don of rural Holt. They brought belated birthday wishes to Lloyd Larson.

Mrs. Sam Lee of Newfolden was a supper guest at the Lloyd Larson home Monday of last week.

28th Annual 4-H Club Banquet Wednesday

Approximately 600 people will attend the 28th annual 4-H club banquet for Pennington county to be held Wednesday at 6:30 p. m. in the National Guard armory in Thief River Falls. The event is sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce with businessmen serving the meal, participating in the program and acting as hosts and ushers.

Morris Goddard, manager of the J. C. Penney store in Thief River Falls, will be master of ceremonies for the banquet. Invocation will be given by Rev. James Ditzler of St. Bernard's Catholic church with the welcome given by J. J. Womack, president of the Chamber of Commerce. Response will be given by Michael Radniecki of the Deer Park 4-H club who will also lead the flag and 4-H pledges.

Nearly all of Pennington county's 4-H club members and adult leaders will attend the event at which awards will be made for the past year's activities. Eligible to attend are those 4-H club members who have completed all of their project records for the past year.

Record completion awards will be made by Donald M. Olson with special and Danforth awards to be made by Otto Stenberg. Club charters and certificates will be awarded by James Parkins with Robert Wurst to present the 4-H alumni awards.

Club of the year award will be made by Marvin Lundin, editor, in behalf of the sponsoring Times, while Charles Kotaska will award the herdsmanship trophies in behalf of Farmers Cooperative Grain and Seed association. Electric awards will be given by Ray Parnow, representing Red Lake Electric cooperative. Alfred Solem will present showmanship awards for Central Livestock cooperative and Silas Hanson of the Pennington County Crop Improvement Association will make the agronomy awards. Key awards will be given by a representative of the Cities Service Oil company.

There will be no speaker at the banquet this year as efforts have been made to streamline the program so that young 4-H club members can return to their homes at an earlier hour. Additional awards will be presented by Paul Stelmaschuk, County Agricultural Agent and Miss Beverly Tvelto, county home agent.

Henry Vatthauer Killed In Truck-Train Accident

Mr. Henry Vatthauer, 76, a farmer in the Red Lake Falls area since 1918, was killed Thursday afternoon in a truck-train accident near West Fargo. Mr. Vatthauer was accompanying Henry Skala of Red Lake Falls to West Fargo with a load of cattle when the acident occured. Henry Skala is listed in good condition at St. John's hospital, Fargo, N. D.

Funeral services for Henry Vatthauer were held today, (Monday) at 10 a. m. at the First Presbyterian church, Red Lake Falls. The Rev. John Reynon of Stephen officiated and interment was in the Oak Grove cemetery at Red Lake Falls. Petterson Funeral home was in charge of funeral arrangements.

Henry Vatthauer was born Nov. 4, 1888 at Estrup, Germany. As a child he immigrated to the United States with his parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Vatthauer. He resided in Illinois and Ridgeway, Iowa prior to moving to Red Lake Falls in 1918. He married Laura Hagl on June 21, 1924 at Red Lake Falls.

Survivors include his wife, Laura; four sons and two daughters, Clarence Vatthauer, Ernest, Donald and Mrs. Louis (Frieda) Tveto, all of Red Lake Falls, and Mrs. Paul (Irene) Haffery of New Brighton; 13 grandchildren.

Also four brothers and four sisters, Fred Vatthauer, Plummer; Arthur, Preston; Paul, Ridgeway, Iowa; Elmer, Mrs. William Hube and Mrs. Walter Kuntz, all of Cresco, Iowa; Mrs. Emma Kuntz of Seneca, Wis., and Mrs. John Kasteline of Anoka.

Daniel P. Casey returned to Sanford, Fla., after spending three weeks here visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Casey, and hunting in the area.

Elect Augustine To Dairy Board

Marlan Augustine, president of the Red River Valley Dairymen's association, was reelected to the board of directors of the association at the annual meeting concluded Thursday at Detroit Lakes. The board will reorganize at a meeting to be held on November 18.

Other directors elected were P. L. Anderson, Crookston, treasurer (incumbent); Henry Cluever, Pelican Rapids, succeeding Frank Karsnia, Detroit Lakes; and Conrad Kvamme, Ada, succeeding C. M. Pesek, West St. Paul, as director-at-large.

Attending the convention from Thief River Falls in addition to Augustine were K. E. Gigstad, manager of Thief River Cooperative Creamery association; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Koop and Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Anton, Mr. and Mrs. Amos Thompson of Grygla attended from Grygla.

Entertainment at the Thursday afternoon session was presented by Bobby Ruud, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chealle Ruud of Gatzke. Bobby has won several area talent contests during the past year.

Speakers at the Wednesday morning session were Owen K. Hallberg, public relations director, Land O'Lakes Creameries, Inc.; Dr. Harry Rajamannan, technical director for Consolidated Breeders, Anoka; and George Pfeiffer, general manager of American Dairy Foods, Inc., St. Paul.

A panel discussion was held Thursday morning with Frank Karsnia as moderator. Panel members were Dr. B. E. Youngquist, Crookston; Parnell Sanford, Detroit Lakes; Frank DeGroat, Lake Park; John Meyer, Detroit Lakes; Floyd Thompson, St. Paul; and Jack Israelson, Bemidji.

Afternoon speakers were Floyd Thompson, executive secretary, Dairy Processors, Inc.; Russell Schwandt, Minnesota commissioner of agriculture; Mary Ann Titrud, Clarissa, Princess Kay of the Milky Way; and Cliff Markuson, manager of the Minnesota American Dairy association.

Building Permits In City Total $182,390 in Sept.

Five permits having a total valuation of $182,390 were issued in Thief River Falls during September for new buildings and repairs and alterations. According to the Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis, this was an increase from $58,100 for seven permits issued in September, 1964. The cumulative total for the first nine months of 1965 shows that 51 permits valued at $559,340 were issued compared with 47 permits valued at $312,432 for the same period last year.

For Minnesota the September valuation increased from $35,815,315 in 1964 to $48,575,841 in 1965. The

Weather Record Shows Readings Above Normal

Temperatures in the Thief River Falls area have ranged several degrees above normal during the past several days. A welcome 10-day dry spell was broken on Saturday by .05 inch of rain which fell in brief showers. Skies have been generally fair, with occasional periods of cloudiness.

Forecast calls for fair skies today and tonight with warmer temperatures in west sections today spreading over the state tomorrow. Cloudiness will increase tomorrow with a chance of light showers in the late afternoon. Highs today will range from 55 to 65; lows tonight from 3 2to 42.

Temperature and precipitation readings recorded by North Central Airlines at the airport are as follows: 50 and 25 on Wednesday; 51 and 24 on Thursday; 66 and 41 on Friday; 58, 40 and .05 inch on Saturday; 51 and 33 on Sunday; and a low this morning of 26.

Newfolden Senior Class Play To Be Staged on Friday

"The Death and Life of Larry Benson" by Reginald Rose has been selected as this year's Newfolden senior class play to be presented Friday at 8 p.m. in the Newfolden school gymnasium. Faculty director is Mrs. May Larson and student directors are Marlys Stokke and Howard Johnson.

The story takes place in a town which is excited about Larry Benson's homecoming three years after he was reported missing in action. Larry's father, had left the family to shift for themselves, and his girl is engaged to another fellow.

An unusual situation arises when the returning soldier proves to be a complete stranger. He insists he's Larry, and the townspeople unconsciously become detectives waiting for him to slip on some detail (he never does). After the buildup of tensions, there comes the moment of truth when all is understood.

Cast members are Barbara Stokke, SharRay Melvie, Karen Kron, Darlene Melvie, Kristi Carlson, Joe Gonsorowski, Sheila Elseth, Larry Hansen, Marlys Stokke, Lynnet Harstad, Howard Johnson, David Wilcox and Leon Elseth.

Committee members on the production staff include Eloise Weltzin and Marlo Larson, publicity; Susan Saurdiff and Eloise Weltzin, programs; James Larson (manager), Keith Myhrer and Leon Elseth, tickets and business; Virjean Blazejewski, Marion Copeland and Anita Kvamme, make-up; and Susan Holmstrom and Sylvia Dahl, properties.

On stage crew are Gary Hook (manager); Rodger Anderson, Donovan Engen, Vernon Gunderson and David Inman. Ushers and usherets are Susan Holmstrom, John Rokke, Donna DeMaranville and Vernon Gunderson.

Railroad Signals Approved for Soo 8th St. Crossing

Railroad crossing signals at the Soo Line railroad tracks on Eighth street (highway 1) in Thief River Falls has been programmed for installation next year, according to word received by local officials from the Minnesota highway department.

Action by the Pennington County Safety council and the Thief River Falls city council, the latter of which petitioned the Railroad and Warehouse commission for the signals, is considered responsible for the programming.

The city council also requested signals for the First street Soo Line crossing and a hearing on this request will be held before a representative of the Minnesota Railroad and Warehouse commission at 9 a.m. on Friday, November 5, in the city council chambers in Thief River Falls. The Eighth street crossing, which was also included in the council request, has been removed from the hearing program.

Dr. Berg Heads New Division of Republican Party

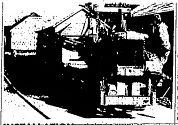
A Thief River Falls man is taking over a key role in the structure of the 7th District Republican party.

Dr. Arnold Berg, Thief River Falls is newly elected Area I chairman.

Because of the size of the 7th District — 23 counties — Republican leadership determined several years ago that in order to provide the service and leadership that would build a strong organization throughout the district the counties should be grouped in smaller units.

The 1964 district convention divided the 23 counties into three "areas". Area I, which comprises the northern part of the district, covers Kittson, Roseau, Lake of the Woods, Beltrami, Clearwater, Polk, Red Lake, Marshall and Pennington counties.

This year the constitutional change took effect. Officers were elected and Area I began meeting as a unit. All Republican projects —selecting candidates, raising money, campaigning, publicizing candidates and events—will now be carried on an area level as well as county, district and state levels.



INSTALLATION of pipe for natural gas service is now well underway in the northwest area of Thief River Falls after being delayed more than a month by adverse weather conditions. The Cleveland ditching machine employed by the North Star Natural Gas company is shown digging a trench about 40 inches deep in the alley just west of Duluth av. N. between Seventh and Eighth streets. The trench is dug beside the length of pipe, which is then placed in the ditch and covered. The company plans to proceed with mains, laterals and service conections to provide natural gas service to at least part of the city this year, stated George Carter, president of the company. The extent of work done this fall will depend entirely on the continuance of favorable weather, he said.

Interest in the Thief River Falls city election Tuesday will center around the question of whether or not the city shall issue bonds not to exceed $200,000 for an outdoor municipal swimming pool. There are no contests in the election for five individual ward aldermen, two aldermen-at-large, mayor, treasurer and municipal judge.

The question on which city residents will vote is as follows: "Should the city of Thief River Falls issue its general obligation bonds in an amount not to exceed $200,000 to pay for construction of an outdoor municipal swimming pool for the city of Thief River Falls?" Persons wishing to vote in favor of the question should mark an "X" in the square before the word "Yes" and those opposed should mark an "X" in the square before the word "No".

Candidates unopposed for their respective offices include Orin J. Green, mayor; Gladys Odegaard, treasurer; Stanley Mortenson, municipal judge; Robert Carlson, first ward alderman; A. B. Christianson, second ward alderman; Ambrose Wysoski, third ward alderman; Dr. A. E. Jacobson, fourth ward alderman; Lowell T Swenson, fifth ward alderman; Roy A. Jorgenson and Arnold Narverud, alderman-at-large.

All candidates are incumbents with the exception of Narverud who has filed for the post presently held by Donald O. Olson. Olson, appointed to fill a vacancy when John McGinley moved from the city, did not file for reelection. Aldermen, mayor and treasurer are elected for two-year terms while the municipal judge is elected for a six-year term.

Polls will be open from noon until 8 p. m. Polling places will be as follows: First ward, Northrop elementary school; second ward, Masonic hall; third ward, city auditorium; fourth ward, Knox elementary school; and fifth ward, Franklin junior high school. The change from the former polling place of St. John Lutheran church.

Election judges include the following: First ward, Mrs. Clarende

Notes Changes in Auto Licensing

Several significant changes in the licensing of motor vehicles were studied by Mrs. Marjorie Hanson, deputy registrar of motor vehicles in Thief River Falls, at an annual refresher school held recently in St. Paul. The 1966 sale of motor vehicle registrations begin November 15.

One of the most significant of these is the use of stickers instead of tabs for license plates on passenger automobiles. These stickers —like the tabs used previously —will be issued in pairs. One sticker is to be placed in the upper right corner of the front plate and the other in the upper right corner of the rear plate. The original license plates are to be used three years.

Another change, Mrs. Hanson noted, is the increase in license cost for two-wheeled motor scooters from $1.30 to $3.40. Trucks buses and trailers of all classes will be issued new plates for 1966.

To publicize the proper method of applying the 1966 stickers to license plates, members of the Thief River Falls Mrs. Jaycees will apply stickers sold during the first day of sale, November 15. A parking area in front of the motor vehicle registration office will be reserved for persons purchasing the stickers on that day, and Mrs. Jaycees will apply the stickers purchased, Mrs. Hanson said.

In attending the refresher school, the local deputy registrar also reviewed all new laws adopted during the past legislative session in regard to motor vehicles.

Mrs. Hanson also attended the annual meeting of the Minnesota Deputy Registrar's association where a committee was named to study office procedures and practices. Named to the comittee were Mrs. Hanson; Sylvia Anderson, Edina; and Brendan L. Surl, Shakopee. The association distributes a bulletin entitled "Facts About Your Auto License" which is available to the public through the offices of deputy registrars in Minnesota.

Area Republicans Meet Wednesday

The Area I Central committee, 7th District Republican party, met in Thief River Falls on Wednesday. Among local persons in attendance were Dr. Donald Goodrich, county vice chairman; Mrs. Rick Contos, Robert Bredeson, Dr. Ed Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. Grundy Ankhus and Dr. Arnold Berg, Area I Chairman. Five other counties were represented by twenty five persons.

Purpose of the meeting was to begin planning for the 1966 elections. Candidate search, finance, organization and precinct caucuses were the main items discussed.

The next meeting is set for Thursday, December 2. Local Republicans wishing to attend are asked to contact Mrs. Rick Contos so that they may receive a notice when time and place are set.

Little Damage on Halloween Noted By City Police

Halloween was relatively quiet in Thief River Falls this year with only a few incidents of damage reported to police. On Sunday at 11 p.m. Earl Melvie of Thief River Falls reported that the right side of his windshield had been smashed, the aerial broken off and the mirror taken. This morning it was reported that another vehicle owned by Robert Slick of Baudette, which had been parked in the same neighborhood, also had its windshield smashed and its mirror taken. Melvie told the Times that he has offered $25 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the guilty party.

Charlie Smith of Thief River Falls reported this morning that two windows in his garage had been broken last night. Other reported Halloween mischief included a complaint of an older boy taking candy from young children, complaints of egg-throwing, paint poured on streets, and a tractor pushed into the street from a local implement company. Another incident of a more acceptable nature was the hanging of a bedsheet banner saying "Class of '66" from the city water tower.

Two other incidents of vandalism occurred last week. On Wednesday morning Les Borning reported that during the previous night someone had written obscene words in the wet cement of his driveway. On Thursday morning DelRay Larson, city, reported that the air had been let out of all four of his auto tires, the rotor had been removed and two wires pulled off.

A three-car accident happened at 2 a.m. Sunday. A car driven by Wayne Halvorson, city, was traveling south on Highway 59 and struck one driven by Robert Ohlhauser, city, in the rear. Ohlhauser had been pushing a vheclie driven by Dianne L. Anderson, city, and therefore his car was pushed into the rear of her vehicle. Damage was estimated at $300 to the Halvorson car, $75 to the Ohlhauser vehicle and $30 to the Anderson auto.

Area Vocational School Has History of Growth

(This is the sixth in a series of articles on Thief River Falls schools. Previous articles dealt with the public school system in general, elementary, junior and senior schools and St. Bernard's parochial school. Today's article discusses the area vocational-technical school.)

If two words were to be selected to describe the Thief River Falls area vocational-technical school, the most fitting words would be "acceptance" and "growth". The school has become recognized throughout a large area for the types of training it offers and has increased in courses offered and enrollment from a modest beginning only 16 years ago.

It was in 1949 that the vocational school was approved and classes started that year in the Wennberg building. Offered were auto mechanics, electricity and practical nursing. These courses have continued until the present time, with the electricity course now extended to an electronics course.

Growth was slow but steady during the first years. By 1957 there

Owens-Walseth Exchange Vows At Faith Lutheran

Baskets of gladioli graced the chancel of Faith Lutheran Brethren church, Thief River Falls, for the recent marriage of Miss Barbara Joan Owen and Roy Harold Walseth. The Rev. John Solberg officiated at the double ring ceremony attended by 130 guests. Mrs. John Solberg presided at the organ and the soloists were Mrs. Marvin Johnson and Mrs. Ted Haugen.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Owens of rural Euclid and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Walseth of rural Thief River Falls.

For her wedding the bride chose a white floor-length gown styled with a molded bodice, long tapering sleeves and a scalloped neckline with sequins. Cascading tiers of lace over net and taffeta created the full skirt. The veil of silk illusion fell from a circular crown of pearlized petals and she carried a bouquet of red tropicana roses.

Maid of honor, Kathy Wood of Angus and bridesmatron, Mrs. Ted Haugen of Thief River Falls, were identical gowns of tourquoise satin styled with fitted bodices, elbow length sleeves and floor length belled skirts. Each wore a tiara headpiece and carried a bouquet of red roses and white mums.

Attending his brother as best man was Alton Walseth of rural Thief River Falls. Ted Haugen served as groomsman and the ushers were Edward Walseth, brother of the groom, and Gary Boman. They all wore dark trousers, white dinner jackets and white carnations boutonnieres.

The mother of the bride attended the wedding in a light blue sheath dress with silver necklace and earrings and tan accessories. The mother of the groom wore a green and white dotted dacron dress with white accessories. Both wore identical corsages of champagne roses. Also attending the wedding were the grandparents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Skallet of St. Hilaire.

Following the ceremony a reception was given at the home of the groom's parents. Centering the serving table was a four-tiered wedding cake topped by a miniature bride and groom. The cake, baked and decorated by a sister of the groom, Mrs. George Owen, was cut and served by a sister of the bride, Mrs. L. E. Pedersen of East Grand Forks. Mrs. Lawrence Ward of Thief River Falls poured. May and Mary O'Gorman of Thief River Falls presided at the punch bowl and Mrs. George Owens of Angus registered the guests. Cathy Anderson and Laurel Fillipi, both of Angus served as waitresses and Mrs. George Votava and Mrs. Gary Peterson, both of Thief River Falls, arranged the gifts.

Arriving from out-of-town to attend the wedding were guests from Grand Forks, N.D., Angus, Euclid, Warren, Red Lake, Viking, Radium, Trail, Ada, East Grand Forks, Plummer and surrounding areas.

For the wedding trip to Duluth, the bride wore a blue walking suit. A 1965 graduate of the Warren high school, the bride was employed at the Rex Cafe. The groom attended Lincoln high school and is employed by Confer Construction company at Angus. The newly weds are at home at 723 East Eighth Street, Thief River Falls.

Three Birthdays Observed At Joint Birthday Party

Three birthdays were celebrated Saturday afternoon, October 23, when a group of women gathered at the Orville Gillespie home in Thief River Falls for a joint birthday party. Honored guests observing birthdays were Mrs. Bernard Ranum, Mrs. Emma Stromberg and Mrs. Orville Gillespie.

During an afternoon of visiting, the honored guests were presented with gifts and a pot-luck lunch was served featuring a birthday cake, baked and decorated by Mrs. Carl Swenson.

Those coming to extend congratulations and best wishes to the honored guests were Mrs. Christine Lund, Mrs. Ida Halvorson, Mrs. Percy Lamb, Mrs. Carl Swenson and Mrs. Pete Sorter.

Mrs. Lamb, however, left for Warren shortly after arriving after being notified of the birth of a granddaughter. Parents of the child are Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Lamb of Warren.

FEDERAL FUNDS? The city council has requested federal funds in past years for such projects as river survey, river dredging, surfaced streets, a new jail, city fire hall, sewage disposal system and natural gas system. To this date no federal funds have been approved for any of these projects, nor is there any indication they will be available. Investigation of possible federal funds for a swimming pool has been made by the swimming pool committee and no such provisions were found to be available. In all honesty, what are the prospects for receiving such aid?

INDOOR POOL? There are major differences in function between indoor and outdoor pools. An indoor pool must be limited in size in order to be enclosed, heated and have proper air circulation. In Minnesota, indoor pools are normally associated with school systems to teach swimming in physical education classes and provide some winter recreation. The outdoor municipal pool now being recommended by the pool committee is designed to replace the existing river beach pool which is not considered safe or sanitary. The proposed pool would be in a park atmosphere, large enough in size to accommodate the peak load in summer when people want to swim and picnic outdoors. The indoor pool has its place in recreation, but it will not solve the summer safety and health problems of our community.

SITE? No site has been selected. The swimming pool committee feels that the site must be considered secondary and that primary consideration must be given to a safer municipal swimming pool. The committee will support any site acceptable to the city planning commission, city council and park and recreation board. Any present park or land now owned by the city would be acceptable if of sufficient size to contain the pool and park facility.

St. John Church Parish Program Cited in Paper

St. John Lutheran church of Thief River Falls was one of six Lutheran parishes around the United States featured as "Congregations in Mission." Rev. Paul R. Blegner of the local Missouri Synod parish read a 25-minute paper on the parish program of the St. John church at a meeting of more than 100 mission executives and leaders of the ALC, LCA and Missouri Synod held October 18 and 19 in Chicago.

Featured in the paper was the church's program of member visits, small Bible study groups, planned pastoral visiting and evenings with the pastor. Rev. Blegner also emphasized the stress on the witness and service of the average Christian on the job. Another matter featured was St. John's efforts to start talking and working with fellow Lutherans wherever possible. "Rivalry and competition between our Lutheran parishes in Thief River Falls does not keep us on our toes as much as it keeps us on each other's toes; it hurt far more than it helped," he said.

Rev. Blegner noted the proposal which came from the church council of St. John Church that cooperative work among Lutheran students at the junior college and area vocational school be one step toward "continued cooperation in joint study and common strategy for the Thief River Falls area.

McIntosh Group Sets Second Film Showing

Second fall area youth rally will be held at the McIntosh school gymnasium Saturday at 8 p.m. The dramatic color film "Beloved Enemy" will be shown. The McIntosh youth fellowship has planned one area rally each month during the school year. There is no admission charge but a free will offering is taken.

Area Vocational School Offers Varied Courses

were 73 students enrolled and 10 teachers employed. This has mushroomed until the present time when there are 25 teachers and 333 students in all phases of the vocational program.

Enrollment Noted

Current courses offered and enrollments in each are as follows: Aircraft mechanics, 17; auto mechanics, 31; carpentry, 14; architectural drafting, 16; marketing, 11; auto body repair, 15; business, 77; cosmetology, 41; electronics, 19; welding, 19; and practical nursing, 19. This makes a total of 279 students in the normal class structure of the school.

A new class in aircraft mechanics with 18 students enrolled begins today. The school also has 21 members in a business class being conducted under the Manpower Development and Training Act (MDTA) and 15 farmers enrolled in an MDTA adult agriculture class known as "Farmer General". This brings the total school enrollment to 333.

1,082 Graduates

In its nearly 16 years of existence, the school has graduated 1082 students. The departments, year started and number of graduates respectively include the following: Aircraft mechanics, 1959, 39; auto body repair, 1958, 28; auto mechanics, 1949, 45; office education (business), 1957, 302; carpentry, 1957, 34; cosmetology, 1957, 297; electronics, 1949, 59; architectural drafting, 1960, 25; welding, 1958, 43; practical nursing, 1949, 193; and marketing 1962, 17.

A comparison of the number of graduates with the number of students currently enrolled in the classes will give a good indication of the growth of the school in recent years. In addition, the farm management program of the school, directed by Peter Probasco, analyzed 151 farm records last year—more than three times the number analyzed when the program began 10 years ago. Ed Sisler and Verne Spengeler work with 65 adult farmers in the Thief River Falls school district.

As the school grew, it soon expanded beyond the initial building. In 1957 the vocational wing was added to the Lincoln high school building. At the present time, six of the school's departments are located in this building and the remainder in rented quarters.

No More Rentals

There are presently a number of courses which could be added to the school if space permitted. Arnt Aune, director of the school since 1957, has been advised by the Minnesota department of education that no further courses will be approved for the school in rented quarters. This means, in effect, that vocational school construction will be needed for any added expansion in course offerings.

Additional statistics of interest regarding the school are as follows: The September 7 enrollment of 271 students included 241 under 21 years of age and 30 over age 21; 259 were single and only 12 married; 50 students were from Thief River Falls, 46 were commuting and 175 were rooming and boarding in the city. The school has an operating budget of about $200,000 annually, most of which is reimbursed in state and federal funds.

Vocational schools differ from other institutions of higher education in that instructors need not hold college degrees in order to teach. Rather, they must have at least seven years of actual work experience in their respective fields and meeting teaching qualifications. Each year the instructors are given a 30-hour course in "teacher training" by a representative of the University of Minnesota at Duluth.

Entrance Requirements

All persons 16 years of age or older may be considered for admittance with the exception of applicants for the practical nurse course who must be at least 17 years of age in order to enroll. A testing service assists prospective students in selecting courses appropriate to their needs, interest and capabilities. Class enrollments are limited to enable students to receive the maximum of personalized instruction.

Courses offered by the school are summarized in a general information booklet published by the school. The book also lists a fee schedule and starting dates of classes, and is available from the vocational-technicl school office.

School Philosophy

A school philosophy has been prepared by a committee of instructors from the school. It includes the following:

'Our philosophy holds that the purpose of education in the Thief River Falls area vocational-technical school is to enable the individual to meet life's problems by providing opportunities to use logic, to solve problems and to be a functional member of a group.

"To achieve this we recognize that these opportunities should be made available to all who want, need and can benefit from them.

"Ours is a two-fold philosophy. First, the curriculum is aimed at specific technical training, developing skills for specific jobs, and based upon the needs of the area. Second, every effort is made to give the student the picture of the broad field area, and potentials, with the fact in mind that the student's future lies in his ability to change.

"We believe, too, that the school should maintain an atmosphere that encourages respect for learning and requires the highest standard of achievement of each student in each course."

EQUIPMENT for the office education classes at the Thief River Falls area vocational-technical school has been received under grants received through the Manpower Development and Training act. In the above photo, Kathy Svendsgaard of Goodridge watches the operation of an automatic card-sorting machine.

Young Married Men Face Induction Call

Men between the ages of 19 and 26 who were married prior to the President's order of August 26 may face induction into the armed services starting in December. Heretofore men whose marriage took place prior to August 26 were placed in a special category by Selective Service and were not being called for induction.

There are some 8,000 such men in Minnesota who, according to their individual Selective Service records, are in this special category and whose sole reason for being bypassed is that of a pre-August 26 marriage. Reason for now considering this group is the fact that large draft calls have depleted the number of single men who are in Class I-A.

First step in the sequence for married men, as in the case of all Selective Service registrants in Class I-A, will be the administration of an armed forces physical and mental examination. Married men will begin to receive notice for such appointments early in November.

The Department of Defense has levied a call of 45,250 men to be inducted into the armed services through the draft in the month of December. This is the largest single monthly call since 1953 when the call was for some 53,000 inductions per month. Virtually every I-A single man in Minnesota will have been called for induction by the end of the year.

In this connection, I suggest every employer of draft-eligible men survey his work force with the possible loss of I-A men in mind. In recent weeks Selective Service has experienced an increasing number of last-minute pleas for deferments from employers who "had no idea the inductions would come so rapidly."

Accelerated calls have not only lowered the age of inductees, but have resulted in a significant reduction of timespan between the administration of the preinduction examination and the date of actual induction. Previously it was not uncommon for a young man to wait eight or 10 months for his induction notice after he had been found acceptable at the preinduction phase. Today we are calling men for induction approximately a month after their acceptability is established at the preinduction examination.

Many Selective Service local boards are meeting twice or more per month in order to keep abreast of the requirement that young men must be properly classified on a current and accurate basis.

CITY BOND ELECTION BALLOT

CITY OF THIEF RIVER FALLS, MINNESOTA
REGULAR ELECTION
November 2, 1965

☐ YES
☐ NO

"Should the City of Thief River Falls issue its general obligation bonds in an amount not to exceed $200,000.00, to pay for construction of an outdoor municipal swimming pool for the City of Thief River Falls?"

INSTRUCTIONS TO VOTERS: If you wish to vote in favor of the above proposition, place a cross (x) in the square before the word "YES". If you wish to vote against the above proposition, place a cross (x) in the square before the word "NO".

SUNLIGHT streams through the windows of the eighth grade room at St. Bernard's parochial school as Sister Caroline gives the 29 members of her class a lesson in English grammar. In addition to a full-time teaching position, Sister Caroline serves as principal at the school which has 164 students. The school is accredited by the National Catholic Elementary association in Washington, D.C., and is one of a number of schools operated in the Crookston Diocese.

Swimming Pool Question Causes Election Interest

Knudsen, chairman; Mrs. Helen Bendickson, Leonard Hanson, Mrs. Opal Bjerken and Mrs. Lawrence Aase;

Second ward, Mrs. Inga Geving, chairman, Mrs. Frank Hardisty, Mrs. William Thompson and Mrs. Kendall Gustafson;

Third ward, Mrs. Harold M. Johnson, chairman, Mrs. Robert Protz, Mrs. Marie Sherack and Mrs. James Walker;

Fourth ward, Mrs. Einar Barstad, chairman, Mrs. Kenneth Bakke, Mrs. Emil Hedlund and Mrs. Inga Melby;

Fifth ward, Eunice Munt, chairman, Carmen Larsen, Eileen Reierson and Eunice Flynn.

The bond issue for construction of a swimming pool has been placed on the ballot by the city council at the request of the local swimming pool committee. It has not been endorsed by the council or any other official city body.

Proponents of the pool, which is designed to be a replacement for the present river pool at Tindolph park, cite the danger of river current and turbidity of the water, health hazards, possibility of power boats entering the pool area and lifeguard supervision which is currently offered from only the beach side of the pool. A $200,000 bond issue, financed over a period of 20 years, would increase taxes by $2.18 per $100 of tax currently paid.

Opponents of the pool have objected to the expenditure of funds for a pool which will be used only a few months each year, questioned site of the pool (which has not been specified by the pool committee), claimed support of a year-around indoor pool and advocated an indoor-outdoor pool as part of a recreation complex.

With the absence of contests for city offices, it is expected the pool question will be the only real issue bringing voters to the polls.

Langen Predicts Program Transfer Will Hurt Farmer

"A chilly wind is sweeping over rural America following the Presidential executive order to transfer the Food-For-Peace program from the White House to the Department of State on November 1; states Congressman Odin Langen today. Langen, who has long warned that the American farmer was being sacrificed on the international bargaining tables, said that the vesting of responsibility for the multibillion-dollar world distribution of surplus foods under Public Law 480 in the state department held an ominous note for the future of U. S. Agriculture.

"While we must recognize that American-made food products are an important foreign policy tool, we also must recognize the fact that the state department has not always used his tool in the best interests of our own agricultural economy, he said.

"In fact, the state department has too often shown its utter contempt for the American farmer by trading off agricultural interests for concessions in other fields. These new powers can well mean an escalation of this trend and the U.S. farmer can expect to be state department's dealings with foreign nations."

Congressman Langen said that such far-reaching and major policy changes should be studied thoroughly by all interested segments before executive orders are made. "That is why the Minority Task Force on Agriculture has proposed tapping the best minds in the nation on agriculture, to look into just such possible policy decisions," said Langen, chairman of the task force.

"It is gratifying that the world food study commission idea has gained widespread and bi-partisan support," he said, 'and major policy decisions such as transferring the Food-For-Peace program to the state department should await the results of such studies."

What Do You Really Want?

It is the belief of the Board of Park and Recreation Comissioners that the City of Thief River Falls needs a swimming pool. But this pool should be an enclosed pool, which would increase our swimming season from three months to twelve months. According to E. E. Anderson, Supt. of School, Detroit Lakes, and we quote:

"The INDOOR SWIMMING POOL is the most used facility in the entire School District, being open the year around, except for a short period in August when the pool is drained and repairs are made. The additional cost of our indoor pool in Detroit Lakes, built in 1958, was only $52,160. Ours is an 'olympic size' pool."

The City Council has taken initial steps to obtain Federal Funds for the development and construction of a Recreation complex to house the following:

1) Recreation Complex
   Swimming Pool (Indoor-Outdoor)
   Indoor Multi-Purpose Arena—8,000 seating capacity
      Artificial Ice
      Roll-out floor for District and Region Basketball, conventions, etc.
   Community Recreation Rooms
      Table Tennis, Billards, Shuffle board, and crafts
      Public Meeting Rooms

Such a facility will provide recreational opportunity for all ages, from the pre-schooler thru the Senior Citizen.

VOTE "NO" on the swimming pool proposal in its present form.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of Carroll Clausen who passed away one year ago Nov. 5th.

God gave us a wonderful son,
His memory will never grow old,
He fashioned his smile from the sunshine,
He molded his heart of pure gold.
But out of this old world of sorrow
He chose our dear son one night
When he needed a new star in heaven
One to forever shine bright.

Sadly missed by dad and mother. 1187c

Loehr To Direct '65 Veterans Day Plans in State

Alcuin G. Loehr, St. Paul, Minnesota Comissioner of Veterans Affairs, has been appointed chairman of the Minnesota Veterans Day comittee by Governor Karl F. Rolvaag, it has been announced by the governor's office.

Loehr, a past state commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, will head a comittee composed of representatives from each veterans organization, to encourage universal observance of the twelfth Veterans Day, November 11, known as Armistice Day following the close of World War I and until 1954.

Loehr announced that in addition to urging veterans organizations to take the lead in planning observance of the day, he will request mayors and clerks of every city, town and village for civic cooperation in public demonstrations to support the President's proclamation, which calls for vigorous attention to the patriotic celebration, using the annual theme, "Peace With Honor".

Loehr pointed out that 1965 Veterans Day may well be a base from which to refute recent demonstrations opposing the United States stand in Viet Nam. "Nearly 22 million veterans are living proof that Americans are capable of greatness when it is demanded of them," Loehr stated. "These veterans have contributed much to preserve individual dignity, and to defend the nation against all invasions of our freedoms, and of principal and character, and we pay tribute to them.

"Now, when misguided individuals would tear down our traditions, Veterans Day would be a most appropriate time to clearly demonstrate our solidarity and support of the position the government has taken, and to provide moral support for our forces assigned the task of modern national defense," he emphasized.

BSC Has Student Teachers Here During Quarter

Bemidji State college placed 116 seniors in 20 cooperating schools for practice teaching assignments this fall quarter, acording to Dr. Donald Churchill, BSC director of student teaching.

Student teaching at Thief River Falls are John H. Anols, Bemidji, Grade 5; Maureen C. Carlson, Minneapolis, English; Richard F. Driessen, Bemidji, social studies; Gertrude R. Flaten, Thief River Falls, elementary (four quarter hours); Beatrice R. Helstad, Roseau, elementary (four quarter hours); Lavonne M. Littlefield, Bemidji, biology; Judith L. Morrow, Hopkins, Grade 3; George R. Pelletier, Manitoba, Canada, physical education; Rita S. Sullivan, East Grand Forks, physical education; and Brian D. Zimmer, Winnipeg, Man. Canada, physical education.

Student teaching at International Falls are Steve E. Demarais, Red Lake Falls, biology; and Orrin G. Linder, Plummer, social studies. Odette L. Bendickson of Thief River Falls is teaching English and social studies at Crosby.

Area Residents Take Part in FU Fly-in Program

Participants in the three Farmers Union "Legislative Fly-Ins" which took place last summer met October 25 at the Minnesota Farmers Union state office in St. Paul. The "Fly-Ins" were held for purposes of lobbying for the 1965 farm bill.

Attending from this area were Roy Wiseth, Goodridge; Sam Genereaux, Plummer; and Charles Kotaska and Lloyd Nelson, Thief River Falls. Among those addressing the group were Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman, Minnesota Senator Walter F. Mondale, Governor Karl F. Rolvaag, Lt. Governor A. M. "Sandy" Keith; and M. W. Thatcher, general manager of Farmers Union GTA.

The group discussed emergency measures needed to cope with the farm-crop disaster in many areas of the state and the credit problems arising as a result. Among the recomendations made were the designation of affected counties for the purchase of emergency feed supplies from CCC stocks at reduced prices, the provision of supplemental emergency loans under the Farmers Home Administration (FHA) program, lower freight rates on hay shipped into shortage areas and retention of CCC stored grain in areas where a potential need may exist for emergency feed.

Looking to the 1966 Congress, the group recommended dairy legislation through income payments of at least 25 cents per hundred pounds on milk used for manufacturing purposes, an increase in soybeans supports at 25 cents per bushel through direct payments to producers, an increase of 10 cents per bushel in the support level on 1966 crop corn either through increasing the direct payment or the loan rate or a combination of both, and the establishment of a system of incentive payments of $1 to $3 per hundred pounds to encourage the marketing of hogs and beef cattle at moderate weights.

Wool Fabrics In Tests Shown Best For Girls' Skirts

All - wool and wool - polyester blended fabrics should be among the most satisfactory materials for girls' skirts because of their ability to maintain their shape, original appearance and fit after drycleaning or laundering.

These are findings of recent laboratory tests by agricultural experiment stations in the North Central region. Home economics researchers participating in the investigation were from Minnesota, Illinois, Indian, Kansas, Missouri, South Dakota and Wisconsin.

A laboratory evaluation of wool and wool-like fabrics was undertaken because a previous study had indicated that mothers and daughters preferred wool and wool-like blends in girls' winter school skirts.

Fabrics chosen for the laboratory testing included all wool, wool and manmade fiber blends, flannel-type rayon and rayon blends in gray shades.

The stress-strain tests applied to the fabrics indicated that wool fabrics performed better than rayon fabrics in shape retention. The wool and wool blends also proved superior in wrinkle recovery after laundering and drycleaning.

The wool fabrics shrank lengthwise when both laundered and drycleaned, but drycleaning caused less shrinkage. As expected, the all-wool fabrics which had not been treated for washability shrank more than the other fabrics when laundered. Shrinkage was less with wool blends containing 15 per cent nylon. The acrylic-wool and polyester-wool blends were likewise more stable to laundering than the all-wool fabrics. Acrylic-wool blends with 60 per cent or more Orlon shrank only two to three per cent in length in washing compared with seven per cent in drycleaning.

Although the all-rayon fabric was labeled washable, it shrank more than the rayon blends in laundering. Fabrics containing rayon were stiffer than those containing wool when new, but after drycleaning the rayons became limp while the wools changed little in stiffness.

Performance in laundering differed with agitator-action an tumbler machines. Wool fabrics shrank less when laundered in agitator-action machines than in tumbler machines. But wrinkle-recovery was generally better after laundering by tumbler than by agitator action.

All fabrics showed only slight changes in color after laundering, except for the wool-nylon blends which developed a pink cast. Wool and wool blends showed the greatest tendency toward pills adhering to the fabric surface.

The laboratory evaluation of skirt fabrics is reported in North Central Regional Research Publication 170, "Adolescent Girls' Skirts", available from Bulletin Room, University of Minnesota, St. Paul, Minnesota 55101.

Congress Approves Bill For Project On Roseau River

According to a telegram received by the Roseau Times-Region from Congressman Odin Langen, the House of Representatives and the Senate have both approved the conference report on the Rivers and Harbors Act and it has now gone to the president for his signature. Included in the bill is the Roseau River project as presented by the Army Corps of Engineers and the Budget Bureau. This action is the final result of an over-10-year struggle for improvement of the Roseau River channel.

Next phase of the operation will probably be a more complete and extensive survey by the Army engineers to make a complete determination of the construction needs. Tentative needs have been outlined in a study which was presented at a meeting earlier this year. At that meeting the more complete survey was forecast.

Local cost sharing, estimated in the preliminary survey to be $70,000 for lands and right-of-ways and $321,000 for relocation, engineering, etc., is to total $391,000. This figure may be revised in the final findings of the more complete survey.

Local authority is to be the Roseau Watershed district which is organized and has met with approval for overall planning.

Area Schools To Participate in Music Festival

High school bands from Greenbush, Red Lake Falls and Warren are among approximately 70 schools from North Dakota and neighboring states and Canadian provinces which have registered for the University of North Dakota fall music clinic festival, according to Michael F. Polovitz, associate professor of music and director of bands at UND. The clinic will be held at UND Friday and Saturday.

A concert by the Winnipeg symphony orchestra, under the direction of Victor Feldbrill, will play at the event. The concert will be in the fieldhouse Friday at 7:30 p. m. and will be free and open to the public. The UND Varsity Bards the University Chorus and the UND Wind Ensemble will conclude the two-day event with a concert Saturday evening, also in the fieldhouse beginning at 7:30 p. m. Also featured that evening will be the high school festival band, chorus and orchestra.

Lester Schneider Serves Aboard Navy Destroyer

Machinist's Mate Second Class Lester L. Schneider, USN, son of Mrs. Art Forsberg Sr. of Thief River Falls, is participating in Sixth Fleet operations in the Mediterranean area while serving aboard the destroyer USS Allen M. Sumner.

Between operational commitment he will have the opportunity to visit several ports in Italy, Greece and the Isle of Capri. Sumner operates out of Mayport, Fla., with the primary mission of anti-submarine and anti-air warfare in event of war.

Prowlers End Season; Beat Crookston 26-6

The Prowlers, after spotting the Crookston Central Pirates to a 6 to 0 lead in the early minutes of the second period, bounced back to tie the score at half-time, and then add three touchdowns in the second half to record a 26 to 6 win in a schedule-ending football game played here Friday night.

The win gave the Prowlers a Northwest football conference mark of one victory, two losses, and a tie, and a share of third place in the conference standings. East Grand Forks, scoring a 19 to 13 win over Roseau at Roseau, matched the Prowlers' conference mark. Bemidji, boosting its winning streak to 35 games, defeated Brainerd, 13 to 6, in a game played at Bemidji.

Friday night's game closed out the Prowler football careers for fourteen of coach Bill Herzog's squad. The boys that concluded their high school grid play on Friday night were captain Gary Olson, Tommy Cummings, Monte LeMoine, Tom Miller, Luke Kaushagen, Glen Porter, Dick Brown, Wayne Smith, Merle Sampson, Arlo Rude, John Olson, John Ihle, Rod Carlson and Don Hanson.

After a scoreless first period, Crookston, after recovering one of the numerous fumbles committed by the Prowlers, moved to the Prowlers' 19-yard line before being held for downs. The Prowlers, in three running plays, picked up but three yards and Tommy Cummings' fourth-down kick was blocked by Keith Peterson, and end Gary Nelson grabbed the bouncing ball and raced across the north goal for a touchdown. Doug Sorenson's try for the conversion point, on a run, failed.

The Prowlers, getting three first downs, carried the ball to the Crookston 11-yard line, and a pass, completed in the end zone for a placement try was blocked.

The Prowlers struck for two touchdowns in the third period to take a 20 to 6 lead. Early in the period, on the first play from scrimmage following a Crookston punt that had been downed on the Pirates 42-yard line, LeMoine, catching a pass from Cummings on the Pirates' 30-yard line, made a fine run for a touchdown. And when LeMoine's placed kick was good, the Prowlers had a 13 to 6 lead.

Several plays later, when the Pirates tried a fourth down plunge from their own 29-yard line for a yard and failed to gain, the Prowlers had possession on the Pirates 29. An interference call on Crookston moved the ball to the 15-yard line. LeMoine gained five yards at center and Cummings added seven at right tackle. LeMoine then plunged over left tackle for the touchdown. The Prowler fullback added the conversion on a placekick.

The Prowlers tallied their final touchdown midway in the forth period on a 41-yard pass and run, Cummings to Rod Carlson. Carlson made a fine catch on the Crookston 22-yard line, and eluded a pair of Pirate tacklers to cross the south goal line. The extra point try failed, and the Prowlers had 26 to 6 lead.

The locals just missed adding another touchdown when, late in the period, LeMoine, after gaining 15 yards on a hard run from the Crookston 18-yard line, fumbled on the Pirates' 3-yard line, with Crookston recovering.

IN THE VIKING HUDDLE

By Coach Norm Van Brocklin

Defense wins ball games. But in the National Football League, a good offense can become the best defense—and our wild game out in San Francisco a couple of weeks ago is a shining example.

The league record-keepers discovered that it was the highest-scoring one-point game in NFL history. At 42-41, it should be!

One of the nearly-unnoticed keys to the comeback at Kezar (one of the great ones of all-time, anywhere) was our ball control. In the first half, when the 49ers took that big 35-14 lead, our fumbles and other mistakes kept us from establishing it. At the half, each team had run the ball 34 times.

But our offensive unit came out in the second half and scored the first four times they had the ball, going 72, 82, 60 and 62 yards. And after Larry Vargo's great interception when the score was 42-41, they drove from their own five to the 49ers' 15-yard line with a steady drive before Francis Tarkenton just started falling on the ball to run out the clock.

It was a great effort, and in that second half we had the ball 37 times to San Francisco's 28.

This doesn't mean that we're minimizing the importance of a defensive unit. Far from it. But, with the great quarterbacks, runners and receivers we have in pro football, it's a tough job keeping a team off the scoreboard. And ball control is an integral part of it. Even a Unitas isn't going to score if he doesn't have the football.

One thing that has played an important part of our offensive continuity this year is the fact that Tarkenton isn't being thrown for those big losses. Baltimore got to him four times in the opener, but since then, Detroit threw him only twice and the Rams, Giants, Bears and 49ers all threw him only one time when he was trying to pass.

What it means, of course, is that we're not having to battle those 3rd-and-40 situations which make it virtually impossible to sustain a drive.

One reason for the marked decrease in his losses is the outstanding job our offensive line—Grady Alderman, Milt Sunde, Mick Tingelhoff, Larry Bowie and Errol Linden—has done in its pass blocking.

Another is that Francis is releasing the ball much quicker than in the past. We put a stopwatch on all our quarterbacks in camp, drilling them on getting rid of it quickly, and he is setting up faster than in the past.

How much time does an NFL quarterback need? That varies on the patterns you're trying to hit, of course. Francis gives himself more time than many passers by his ability to run out of there, which other teams have to respect, and by his use of "play-pass" action.

This is where he fakes a hand-off to Tommy Mason or Bill Brown, freezing the linebackers for a split second. As you know, the defenses have to respect these two runners, too, and that little delay is often the difference between a pass completion and a big loss.

Wardens Arrest Many Violators

Minnesota game wardens arrested 175 persons during the month of September for violations of wild rice harvesting regulations, the conservation department reported today.

Harvesting during closed hours brought 87 arrests; during closed season-49; no license, 30; in a closed area, 6; and non-residents 3.

Ted Shields, state game and fish director, said high prices being paid this year for rice and the competition among harvesters to take a "spotty" crop may have contributed to the increased number of violations.

He said another factor may have been the more restrictive regulations on harvesting hours and days necessary this year as a result of the poor crop.

Game wardens also arrested 92 persons during the month for fishing violations, including 44 for fishing with more than one line and 32 for fishing without a license. More than one-half of these arrests were of non-resident fishermen including two non-residents found fishing with resident licenses.

There were 90 arrests made for violation of the waterfowl regulations and seven for taking deer in a closed season. Two persons were arrested for shooting mourning doves. Transporting loaded or uncased firearms in a motor vehicle or motorboat resulted in 32 arrests.

Ducks Should Be Cleaned Before Freezer Storage

Minnesota Conservation department's information bureau today repeated a warning from the U.S. Fish and Wildlife service that ducks should not be frozen and stored uncleaned.

It has been found that some ducks contain a bacteria in their intestines which by freezing and thawing release a toxin. This toxin is absorbed by the tissue and can cause violent illness when the bird is later cleaned and eaten.

Although the common practice is clear ducks and other game birds before they are placed in cold storage, some hunters have frozen and stored their birds uncleaned and then cleaned them later just prior to preparing them for the table.

The toxin given off by the bacteria is unaffected by heat and remains in the bird's tissue even after thorough cooking.

Draft Calls on Increase; Need More Enlistments

Major Joseph D. Schatz, commander of the U. S. Army recruiting activity for Minnesota, Wisconsin and North Dakota, states that young men in the draft-eligible age must apply soon, if they plan enlistment.

The Major states, "This advice is given since the draft calls are on the increase, with 5,000 men scheduled for induction for military duty in December. This is the highest call since 1953."

Major Schatz further pointed out that the army desires men to enlist. For this reason, enlistees are given a choice of technical training or job assignment prior to enlistment while draftees are not afforded a choice.

The army recruiter serving this area is SFC Larry K. Gorder and is located in the city auditorium in Thief River Falls. Major Schatz invites residents of this area to contact Sgt. Gorder for more information on military service and enlistment opportunities.

Pheasant Opening Poor But Better Than Expeced

Minnesota pheasant hunters bagged an average of .76 birds per man in the main pheasant range on the opening day of the pheasant season, the conservation department announced today.

The success ratio was determined after department personnel had interviewed 881 hunters when they returned from the field and had completed the day's hunt. Hunting success was down from the one bird per hunter taken on the first day last year.

For the two-day weekend, hunters averaged 1.42 birds per hunter in the main pheasant range, compared to 1.93 birds per hunter average for the weekend hunt last year. This is a decrease in take of 26 per cent from last year; however, success was better than had been expected.

Hunting sucess was very spotty with hunters in some areas getting limits and others seeing very few birds. Hunting in the marginal pheasant range of southeastern Minnesota was very poor where hunters averaged only .2 birds per day.

In general, west central Minnesota had the best hunting, as it has for the past five or six years.

Hunting pressure was only 25 to 50 per cent of last years. Hunting conditions were very poor with 30 mph winds on Saturday, and unusually heavy cover made it difficult to flush birds. Less than five per cent of the corn harvest was completed, causing the birds to be more widely scattered than usual.

Noreen Team Is Touch Football League Winner

Noreen Construction won the city touch football championship last week with a 22-6 victory over Ward's. The Noreen team was the league champion last year and is favored to win the playoffs which begin Wednesday.

Deadline Nears For Navy ROTC Exam Applicants

High school seniors and graduates have only until November 19 to apply for the U. S. Navy's Reserve Officer Training Corps. Applicants will take the nationwide competitive examination December 11 as the first step toward appointment as midshipman.

Designed to supplement the officer output of the naval academy, the NROTC program makes it possible for a young man to earn a regular commission while studying at one of the 52 civicial colleges which has an NROTC unit. All tuition fees and books are furnished by the Navy, and the student receives a subsistence allowance of $50 per month for not more than four years.

During summers the student goes on training cruises to any parts of the world. After completing a four-year college course, he is commissioned in the Regular Navy or Marine Corps and goes on active duty as a career officer. He receives the same promotional opportunities, duty assignments and benefits as Naval Academy graduates.

High school seniors and graduates who will be at least 17 but not 21 years of age on June 30, 1966 may apply for the Navy College Aptitude Test. Those who make a qualifying score will be given a thorough physical examination in January and February 1966. From the number of qualified young men remaining in competition, approximately 1,600 will be selected to begin their naval careers in college next September.

Application forms are available at high schools and the U. S. Navy Recruiting Station, Federal Office Building, Second and Washington Avenues South, Minneapolis, Minn. 55401.

Conservation Dept. Claims Pool Much Safer
Figures released by the State Department of Conservation in regard to fatalities by drowning proved beyond a doubt that municipal pools are much safer than any other type of recreation area or beach. From 1959 through 1963 drownings totaled 619. Of this figure ONLY 9 were in pools. This figure covered private pools, school pools, the small plastic children's pools as well as municipal pools.
Department Of Health Recommends Pool For T.R.F.
In a letter to Dr. H. P. Wendt on October 21 the State Department of Health stated that "the city give serious consideration to advantages associated with positive control of water quality and safety hazards in an artificial pool as compared with the OBVIOUS disadvantages of a beach on the river."

Extension Helps Choose Pictures In New Bulletin

For individuals who have not developed definite ideas on selecting pictures for the home, guides are given in a newly published and well-illustrated University of Minnesota agricultural extension service bulletin, "Selecting Pictures". Authors are Mrs. Myra Zabel and Rachel Munson, university extension specialists in home furnishings.

A worthwhile picture has good composition, interesting color and a well interpreted idea, the publication points out. Color is probably the most enjoyable quality of pictures, whether it is quiet and restful or gay and stimulating. When a picture ceases to give satisfaction, remove it at least temporarily and replace it with one that is a scource of pleasure, the authors of the publication advise.

Pictures selected for a particular room should be similar in color and feeling, should fit the room and its furnishings and should be interesting and stimulating to the family, the specialists suggest. Pictures of very personal interest such as family photographs are best displayed in more personal rooms than the living room.

For children's rooms pictures should be colorful without much detail. But if children are to enjoy their pictures they should be permitted to choose those they like. The specialists recomend that parents offer children a wide assortment of pictures from which they can make their own selections.

"Selecting Pictures," Extension Bulletin 323, is available from county extension offices or from Bulletin Room, Institute of Agriculture, University of Minnesota, St. Paul, Minn. 55101.

Bond Sales In County Now Total 73.2% Of Quota

J. M. Roche, Pennington county chairman, reports that E and H savings bond sales in September amounted to $12,738 for total sales to date this year of $112,090 or 73.2 of the county's goal for 1965 of $153,000.

Sales of savings bonds in Minnesota for the month of September totaled $5,259,557, which is a gain of 3.18 per cent over the same period last year. This study progress in sales kept Minnesota in first place quotawise in the eight-state midwest region. Total sales for the year have reached $53,121,735 or 74.8 per cent of the state quota for the year.

Ernest Swanson Attends National Postmaster Meet

Postmaster Ernest L. Swanson accompanied by Mrs. Swanson of Goodridge, was one of 3,500 postmasters and guests who assembled at Omaha, Neb., recently for the 61st annual convention of the National Association of Postmasters of the United States, and to hear the outgoing Postmaster General, John Gronouski, deliver his last major address before a postal group.

Postmaster Swanson, President of the Minnesota chapter, who was a prominent member of the Minnesota delegation, served on the reception comittee for his chapter, and joined postmasters from the 50 states and Puerto Rico in welcoming Deputy Postmaster General, Frederick C. Belen, and the party of post office officials from Washington, D. C., at a reception given to honor both the Deputy PMG and National Postmaster President, David R. Trevithick of Salt Lake City, Utah.

The National Association of Postmasters is an organization designed to improve postal service by bringing postmasters and post office officials together through workships, instructive addresses, seminars and personal conferences. Swanson has been an active member of the state chapter and nationl organization since he became postmaster in 1961. He was elected President of the Minnesota chapter in June. Fifty-six Minnesotans attended the convention.

After the convention Mr. and Mrs. Swanson traveled on to Lincoln and Beatrice, Neb. to visit with relatives.

Swenson, Bugge Play in All-State Orchestra Tour

David Swenson and Sue Bugge of Thief River Falls are among the 100 members of the All-State orchestra which recently appeared in six concerts at the state fair and last week made a tour of southern Minnesota.

Leader of the group is Hermann Herz, regular conductor of the Duluth Symphony, who has held similar posts in Switzerland and in Johannesberg, South Africa. The orchestra is sponsored by the Minnesota Music Educators' association. Members were chosen by audition among several hundred nominees from throughout the state. Forty-two Minnesota high schools are represented.

Marshall ASCS Takes Requests For Tree Planting

Marcel Dahl, chairman of the Marshall County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation service, has announced that requests for tree practices will now be accepted at the Marshall County ASCS office in Warren.

Anyone interested in establishing a stand of trees or shrubs on farmland or prevent wind or water erosion, or a solid planting of trees, should contact the county office and make a request.

Cultivation of the trees is again required this year for a cost-share payment for the tree practices, and anyone that planted trees in 1965 will have to sign up for cultivating them again in 1966.

The cost-share payment for trees planted for a windbreak is: $2.75 per 100 trees or shrubs planted by hand; or $1.90 per 100 trees or shrubs planted by machine. Trees planted for single or multiple row field shelterbelts where the cost of trees and shrubs exceeds $1.25 per 100 trees, the cost-share rate shall be 80 per cent of the cost of trees and shrubs not to exceed $4 per 100 trees and shrubs. Site preparation and planting is 90 cents per 100 prees and shrubs planted. For cultivations or the use of herbicides for trees and shrubs planted in eigher 1965 or 1966 the cost-share rate is 25 cents per 100 linear feet or fraction thereof per row.

PUBLIC OPINION

To Editor, Times:
Thief River Falls, Minn.

We, the Thief River Falls Mrs. Jaycees, want to express our wholehearted support for the proposed swimming pool. We believe that for the health and safety of the children of Thief River Falls and the surrounding area that a swimming pool is a necessity rather than a luxury.

Considering all the arguments on both sides still leaves two words very predominately in the foreground: HEALTH AND SAFETY! We cannot, in all conscience, pass by the opportunity to impress this in the minds of the voters of Thief River Falls. WE'RE FOR THE POOL! PLEASE VOTE cES! Mrs. Sander Tureson, Mrs. Rick Contos, Mrs. Ron Arnold, Mrs. Marshall Simons, Mrs. Charles Follett, Mrs. Kenneth Swenson, Mrs. William Ness, Mrs. Donald Goodrich, Mrs. Kenneth Taylor, Mrs. Marvin Lundin, Mrs. Neil A. McEwen.

So very often we have in our community people who are willing to give their job an extra bit of effort that makes them stand out over others. We all know such people and appreciate them. "The next time I see him", we tell ourselves, "I must remember to tell him he is doing a fine job". But all too often we never get around to do it. The man we have in mind, and who so richly deserves a "Thank you for a job well done," is our departing County agent Paul Stelmaschuk.

Undoubtably his work with various civic groups and committees has been invaluable but we are specifically thinking of his work with the 4-H clubs of Pennington.

We do not have the statistics at hand, but that the 4-H clubs have flourished the grown under his guiding hand is a well known fact. A schedule, which to most of us would have been exhausting, was routine to Paul. Part of his job? We think he gave more than his job called for.

His close friendship with the individual boys and girls of the county was amazing. Although he held their highest respect, there was none who hesitated to ask his personal advice on some problem he or she had with their 4-H projects. To see an otherwise shy, tousled haired little lad of about six, rush boldly up to him in the crowded 4-H building at the county fair, grab him by the hand and say, "Hi Paul", indicates the affection the children held for him. It must have been heart-warming to him, as it was to us who observed it.

We are certain that all the 4-H club members and adult leaders in Pennington county join us in wishing Mr. Stelmaschuk the best of everything in his new job, but that we also feel deep regret to see him leave. We pledge all the help we can give to his successor to carry on the work which he has so capably done over the past years. Sincerely, St. Hilaire 4-H Club.

Becky Ferber Is College Delegate To Conference

Miss Rebecca Ferber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Erwin H. Ferber of Thief River Falls, has been selected to represent Augsburg college which, along with 31 other educational institutions in the nation, has been invited to participate in a "National Conference on Student Stress in the College Experience." The conference, sponsored by the U.S. National Student association, will be held at Warrenton, Va., November 11-14.

Main purpose of the conference is to arouse and help mobilize a broader institutional self-responsibility in dealing effectively with the stress problems being created or left unrecognized among students on today's college campus.

Schools participating in the conference represent a cross-section of small to very large institutions. Among the participants will be the University of California at Berkele site of student unrest and demonstrations last year. Augsburg is the only Lutheran institution invited to participate and together with Mankato State college will be one of only two institutions from Minnesota.

Carrying Charges On Surplus Grain Decline Greatly

"Federal farm programs for feed grain and wheat have resulted in a progressive decrease in the government's investment in these commodities. Gross carrying charges actually incurred by the Commodity Credit corporation in the fiscal year 1961 on all commodities before these two programs had time to take effect amounted to about $1.1 billion," according to Ben Wichterman, chairman of the Minnesota ASC committee.

For feed grains and wheat, the cost for the fiscal year 1962 was $70 million less than for 1961; the cost for 1963 was 167 million below 1961; the cost for 1964 was 129 million below 1961; and the current budget projects costs for 1965 at $218 million below 1961 and for 1966 at $273 million below 1961. "Thus, it can be said that savings in carrying charges on these two commodities from the level in 1961 will amount to $657 million by June 1966," Wichterman noted.

"This is a clear indicaton of the effect of reducing stocks of commodities held by CCC. Each bushel of grain acquired by the CCC comfits the government to expenditures for carrying charges over a period of several years before it can be sold or otherwise disposed of. Savings resulting from reducing stocks accumulatd into large sums over a period of several years," Wichterman added.

NW Bell Course Held on Tuesday

Ten Northwestern Bell Telephone company employees from Thief River Falls and Crookston who are enrolled in a "Car-Wise" training course attended a session held in Thief River Falls Tuesday. Mrs. Lowell (Clarice) Collins of Thief River Falls is instructor for the course.

Tuesday night's session featured use of a Porto-Clinic, providing material to test reaction time from accelerator to brake, depth and color perception and peripheral vision. Graduation ceremonies for the class will be held at Crookston.

Brood Of Wild Turkeys Raised In SE Minnesota

One of the hen turkeys obtained last year from Nebraska for experimental stocking in Minnesota has produced a brood of young, the state conservation department has announced. The hen and her brood of seven young were last seen in September. Game managers reported the young turkeys were about the size of mature pheasants.

They said it is the first time a successful nesting of the Merriams turkey has occurred this far east. The Merraims species is a western bird.

Wild turkeys are not part of Minnesota's native bird life. In fact, wildlife researchers are not even certain that the bird was present in the state prior to settlement by the white man.

In 1964 the department's game and fish division obtained nine of the Merriam's turkeys from Nebraska and six Eastern turkeys from Arkansas. On October 19 this year an additional release of 13 Eastern turkeys from Arkansas was made on the Whitewater Wildlife Management area.

The Eastern turkeys were live-trapped in the wild in Arkansas by its game department. The birds were given to Minnesota in exchange for live black bears which Arkansas obtained here.

The birds were released in the area near Elba in southeastern Minnesota. The area was considered to be the best potential turkey habitat in Minnesota.

During the 1964 deer season one of the two Merriams tom turkeys in the group was killed by a deer hunter. Although there were no other reports of illegal shooting it was feared that other turkeys might be shot and none would be left to breed this summer.

Only four birds were seen during the winter and spring. The sighting of the brood of young turkeys this summer has given rise to hopes that other hens may have brought off a successful nesting. Game managers are hopeful that additional releases of turkeys will increase chances of establishing breeding flocks in the state.

"This then is determinism: to learn to understand the causes of evil, so that we may induce the causes of reform. Not to be a fatalist, or a slave, a slave of oneself, or a slave of one's surroundings. Wherever we are, not to act and work blindly, but freely and consciously, to anticipate and plan like a worker and collaborator of God."

Any Predictions?

Tomorrow is election day in Thief River Falls. There will be seven city council offices to fill and a mayor to elect, but the public will be looking beyond this to the only controversial question on the ballot. This question is whether or not the city should issue bonds for construction of a municipal swimming pool.

Were it not for this issue we doubt there would be 500 votes cast in the city. None of the incumbent aldermen who seek reelection have opposition in the campaign. There is only one announced candidate seeking the post vacated by a councilman who decided not to seek reelection. There is no opposition in the election of a mayor. The election would be quiet as a Saturday night in church if it were not for the bond issue question.

We have made predictions on previous elections, having a certain degree of success. In our opinion, the bond issue election tomorrow is a difficult one to assess. As election time nears, we hear more comment on the question but there has been much less public expression of opinion than would normally be expected. This makes it difficult to get even a hint of any type of trend.

We do believe this—that if the current proposal is defeated, citizens of Thief River Falls may kiss goodbye any type of municipal pool for at least a number of years. If a $200,000 bond issue does not carry, we see little hope for success of a larger amount for any other type of swimming facility. We also believe that proponents of the pool know they are involved in a do-or-die election.

Will we predict the outcome of the election? Why not? We will match guesses with anyone BEFORE the election. Our prediction is this: We foresee a light turnout of voters in spite of the question. Too many people are disinterested or undecided on the question and will not vote at all. The outcome, in our expectations, will be close—perhaps 25 votes—but we predict the issue will fall and the river pool will be continued for a number of years.

Any election forecasters will please inform this office of their opinions prior to the vote on Tuesday. We prefer to avoid the Wednesday morning prophets who always begin with, "I predicted that. . ."

Utopia? Not Quite

There is a country in this world where a worker may retire on full pay by the time he is 55; some retire at 40. The 30-hour week is common and in some places the work day is down to four hours. There are 44 holidays a year in addition to regular vacations. This is the situation in Uruguay, a small Latin American country. Does it sound like a worker's Utopia? Such is not the case.

Uruguay is described in "U.S. News and World Report" as a country on the verge of bankruptcy and chaos, plagued with strikes, inflation, unrest and a debilitated government. At the same time it has no racial tension, a low birth rate, an ideal climate, fertile land and a population which, on the average is better educated than that of any other Latin American country.

The problem lies in the fact that the people are well enough educated to want the comforts and supposed security which they associate with modern life, but not well enough educated to know how to get them. Through the country's democratic political system, the people have voted themselves one of the most generous welfare systems in the world.

Unemployment benefits are equal to full pay and last as long as a person is out of work. Workers in state-owned meat plants get 4.4 pounds of free beef a day. Government jobs are freely given without regard to the amount of work required and two of every five persons of working age are on some government payroll. Government plants and offices are over-staffed and inefficient.

The people of Uruguay have not learned that they can not have all the things they want for nothing. All the money the government can print is worthless if people don't work to produce the goods and services that make life comfortable and secure.

Our nation is rapidly drifting toward the position of Uruguay, which now is faced with drastic reforms or revolution. When there is revolution anywhere, the communists are willing and ready to pick up the pieces and reorganize a nation into a communist state.

People in the United States have forgotten the heritage left by the pioneers who settled the land of America and who faced disease, hunger, hostilities and other hardships for the breath of freedom. They have twisted the Constitution, they have placed "security" ahead of individualism, they have accumulated wealth such as no nation has ever known and they have grown self-centered, content and lazy.

They demand things which formerly were considered too unreasonable even to request; they destroy individual initiative and so destroy the basis of our economic system; they look to a central government and so lose the ability to think for themselves; they cry freedom while they tear down morals and decency.

The American image has changed. No longer is it an image of a brawny man rolling up his sleeves and asking, "Where to I start to work?". It is an image of a much smaller man, meekly asking, "Where do I get in line?" Let us look to the welfare states for examples of how not to do things; they have demonstrated their mistakes well for us.

Initial Steps

It was certainly interesting to read the advertisement inserted in the Wednesday edition of this paper by the local parks and recreation board. The recreation complex described in this advertisement appears to be a wonderful thought, but about as practical as a list of wants written by a youngster in a letter to Santa Claus.

The advertisement would have been much more interesting if it had included estimates of cost—but we doubt there are any such estimates. The complex rather appears to be a consolidation of individual dreams—tossed together in a smoke-filled room—with actual planning about as clear as the water in the Red Lake river. But let's think about cost possibilities just a little.

To refresh memories, the complex was to include: "Swimming pool (indoor-outdoor) indoor multi-purpose arena with 8,000 seating capacity; artificial ice; roll-out floor for district and region basketball, conventions, etc.; community recreation rooms for table tennis, billiards, shuffleboard, crafts and public meetings."

This sounds like a building similar to the University of North Dakota fieldhouse—built in the early 1950's for $1,250,000. A swimming pool was later added to this building (in 1954) at a cost of $200,000. This pool is 75 x 36 feet in size—about one-fourth the size of the pool proposed for Thief River Falls by the local swimming pool committee. The fieldhouse seats about 7,500.

UND has a separate building for hockey. Equipment for artificial ice would have to be added—at additional cost. No explanation of the "roll-out floor" has been offered, but we will assume this would utilize the same area as ice for hockey. Such a facility would add cost.

It would seem conservative to guess that the parks and recreation committee is talking about a recreation complex in excess of $2 million. The operating cost of such a facility would be tremendous—keeping ice frozen in a heated building, heating the building itself and heating water in an indoor pool during at least several months of sub-zero temperatures. This is about 10 times the cost of the local swimming pool committee's proposal—assuming that the parks and recreation board has the site acquired for its recreation complex. The swimming pool committee has allowed $30,000 for this in its $200,000 plan.

Don't let a couple million dollars worry you, however. The city council has taken INITIAL STEPS to obtain federal funds for the development and construction of the complex. These initial steps might be the purchase of stamps with which to mail a letter requesting information on the availability of federal funds.

So now we wonder about several things. We wonder if these "initial steps" were taken when the council asked the swimming pool committee to conduct a study and submit a proposal. We wonder if the city council or the parks and recreation board called this "recreation complex" to the attention of the pool committee while it was preparing its proposal. We wonder if this grandiose plan was offered in sincerity. We wonder why people ask for advice when they have no intention of heeding it.

Such Is Security

Whether you want him to or not, Uncle Sam is willing to take care of you. He displays his loving concern for the people of the nation by providing for their needs past retirement age, including some medical costs and retirement benefits. He does this out of the goodness of his heart and the pockets of the taxpayers, the latter of which are methodically picked to take care of his benevolency.

While it is generally conceded that the nation has moved far toward the welfare state, few realize how extensive and how fast that move has been. Only 20 years ago, in 1945, total spending for welfare activities by local, state and federal government was $6 billion. In the fiscal year that ended in June of 1964, that figure has rocketed to $47 billion. The current total is much higher.

Social security may well be taken as a case in point. Maximum payment in 1949 was $30. Now it is $174. Next year it will rise to $277.20 and further increases are scheduled in the future. Such figures would purchase a fair amount of commerical retirement benefits, but Uncle Sam apparently doesn't believe in allowing people to take care of their own wants or needs.

The major problem in such federal schemes is noted in a publication of the Morgan Guaranty Trust company of New York. This publication states, ". . .the spectacular growth has been—and will continue to be—in outlays for social insurance plans, which provide cash support to designated classes of people as a matter of right irrespective of need." When need no longer is considered in welfare, the merits of welfare as such become highly questionable.

4-H CLUB NEWS

Happy Acres

Happy Acres 4-H met Saturday evening, October 16, at 8 p.m. Meeting called to order by President Kathy Breiland. 4-H'ers were reminded of the need for project leaders and asked to talk to their parents. The 4-H banquet which is November 3 was discussed. Only 4-H'ers who have completed all their records will be able to attend.

Safety was again chosen as a club project. Members decided to continue their work with fire numbers for Rocksbury township.

Kathy Breiland, President appointed a committee to assist with plans for the November meeting, and make out annual program books.

All 4-H'ers and their guests went on a hayride. Harry Oen and Tim Breiland were the drivers. Sandi Gunderson brought a record player and for additional recreation, members and guests listened to records and danced.

Barbara Breiland, reporter.

Highlanding

Highlanding 4-H club met October 18, 1965 at the Ed Geving home. President Gene Paulson called the meeting to order. Roll call was answered by "what I enjoyed most in 4-H the last year." Linda Swanson read the treasurer report which showed the club has $11.91 on hand.

New business consisted of a motion by Lana Ellingson and seconded by David Paulson and approved by the club to suspend meetings of the Highlanding 4-H club for an indefinite period of months. Mrs. Lois Swanson gave the leaders council report.

Motion made and approved to buy banquet tickets for the three project leaders.

President Paulson introduced M Beverly Tveito, new home extension agent. Miss Tveito gave a talk on "To Make the Best Better".

Miss Tveito and Mrs. Swanson presented the club members awards of the year earned under the point system. Alan Swanson was high point boy of the club with 42 points and Linda Swanson was high point girl with 41 points.

Mrs. Ed Geving served lunch.

DELEGATES to Saturday's District I FHA convention in Thief River Falls were given information on career fields by local vocational instructors in a series of workshops during the morning. Mrs. Ida Flesche, vocational school nursing instructor, is pictured lecturing to a group of FHA members concerning personal qualities necessary to be successful in the nursing profession. Her talk was entitled "Good Health—A Valuable Asset."

WORKSHOPS were the main item of business in the morning session of the District I convention of Future Homemakers of America held Saturday at Lincoln high school. Instructors from a number of career fields gave the girls "pointers" on the important phases of their fields. In the above photo, Mrs. Delores Bakke of the Thief River Falls area vocational-technical school cosmetology department, is shown giving a lecture entitled "Individuality Counts" to a group of FHA delegates.

Orphan Allowance Rates Changed

Children who are in school under the Orphans Education Assistance act will receive in November new educational allowance rates recently signed into law by President Johnson.

John R. Murphy, manager of the Veterans Administration center, St. Paul, said the new law also removes a restrictive provision for eligibility under the Orphans Education Assistance program. The provision had previously required that the qualifying death or disability of the fathers result from the "performance of duty" in peacetime cases. The new law strikes out the "performance of duty" provision.

Murphy explained that this change in the law now reopened eligibility for those children whose applications had been denied because they did not meet this provision. He urged that they or their parents or guardians file another application as they may become eligible under the new law. He estimated that more than a thousand children throughout the nation may now have become eligible because of this change.

The monthly education assistance allowance rates now rise from $110 to $130 a month for full-time study. The increase will affect between 20,000 and 30,000 students in the current school year. Last school year, more than 25,000 children were studying under the Orphans Education Assistance program. Almost 80,000 children across the nation have taken advantage of the orphans' study program to date, he said.

Purple Heart May Aid Eligibility For Insurance

Although not a necessary possession, a Purple Heart decoration might make a veteran eligible to reinstate all or part of his National Service Life Insurance that he may have dropped since release from service.

In order for a veteran to be eligible to re-purchase insurance under a new law passed by Congress last year, he must have been eligible to purchase GI insurance between Oct. 8, 1940, and Jan. 1, 1957. In addition, he must have a service-connected disability. John L. Parrish, center director of the VA center, Fargo, N.D., pointed out today that many types of surgery undergone during active service would leave scars, which although not entitling the veteran to compensation, would be considered service-connected by the VA and would qualify a veteran to purchase this insurance.

Thousands of veterans who underwent surgery in service have never filed a claim to establish service connection for the condition, but can still file a claim and establish their eligibility for reinstating their insurance before the deadline of May 2, 1966.

Some wounds received by servicemen for which they were awarded the Purple Heart left only a scar as a residual, just like many types of surgery, but the scar is considered service connected if it still exists, Parrish explained.

Area Nurses To Attend Annual State Convention

Next week more than 900 nurses from throughout Minnesota will meet at the Leamington hotel in Minneapolis to participate in the 60th annual convention of the Minnesota Nurses' association. Attending from this area will be Mrs. Joy Suldahl, first district president, MNA delegate; Miss Bonnie Van Schick, Warren, MNA delegate; Sister Petronilla, first district treasurer, MNA delegate; Mrs. Ellen Erickson, Crookston, 1966 membership chairman; Mrs. Rose Mary Henderson, Crookston, NSA representative; Mrs. Eva Anderson, Crookston, EACT representative; and Mrs. Mildred Dahlgren and Mrs. Mary Vattendahl, Crookston, public health department, school nurse branch.

MNA's house of delegates, top policy-making body of the association, will convene on Monday and Tuesday at 9 a.m. to study proposed changes in the functions of the American Nurses' association and the proposal that ANA promote the baccalaureate nursing education program to that it might in due course become the basic educational foundation for professional nursing.

NEW BUILDING for Redeemer Lutheran church in Thief River Falls was approved by the congregation at a meeting held Monday evening. To be built at a cost of $201,550, the church will have 16,00 square feet of space and seat 400 persons in addition to offering 10 Sunday school rooms a kitchen and fellowship hall. All of the building will be located above ground. Work is expected to begin this fall with completion scheduled for Oct. 1, 1966. The building will be located on about 11 acres of church property fronting on Nora street between Maple and Spruce avenues. Ground-breaking ceremonies at the new site will be held between services Sunday. The present church is located at the corner of LaBree avenue and East Fifth street.

Redeemer Church Gives Approval to Building

In a majority vote at a congregational meeting held Monday evening, Redeemer Lutheran church of Thief River Falls approved a new church building with adjoining building for Sunday school and kitchen and fellowship hall. General contract for the building project is $201,550 with the church to be built on about 11 acres of church property located south of Nora street between Spruce and Maple.

The new church is scheduled for completion about Oct. 1, 1966, and will face Nora street. It will be primarily of concrete block construction with brick facing with some decorative brick tiled on the interior, according to Rev. Dennis Rodin, pastor of the congregation. There will be 16,000 square feet of area in the building with the church naive having a seating capacity of 400 people. Redeemer congregation currently has about 800 baptized members.

Ground-breaking ceremonies will be held Sunday between services of the Redeemer church, Rev. Rodin said. Property on which the church will be located was purchased by the congregation in 1961 in anticipation of future construction. Members of the building committee include Vernon Jahr, chairman, Wilbert G. Maves, Leonard Hellquist, Rolland Sande, Hans Stensgaard and Alfred Longren with Rev. Rodin as an ex-officio member.

Narthex of the church, designed by the William Schafer and Associates architectural firm of St. Paul, will serve as a central hub for the building. From the narthex the parishoners can enter the church or either the Sunday school or kitchen and fellowship hall wing Also included in the building will be two offices and a lounge area. There will be no basement.

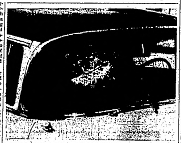
Special assistance in financing will be provided through a guarantee construction loan made available by the board of American missions of the Lutheran church in America. It is expected that arrangements for landscaping and church furniture will also be made through this type of loan.

Prichard Brothers Construction company of Thief River Falls was awarded the contract for construction of the church and it is anticipated that initial work will begin this fall. Other local contractors working under the general contract will be Brodin Sheetmetal, Lee Plumbing and Heating, Northwest Decorators and Langlie Electric.

Trinity Plans Clothing Drive

Deacons of Trinity Lutheran church in Thief River Falls will again sponsor a Thanksgiving clothing drive this year for Lutheran World Relief. The week of Thanksgiving is set for the bringing of good, clean, well-boxed clothing to the youth room for shipping to foreign countries.

Suggested items are shoes, blankets and bedding, suit jackets, suits, work clothes, mittens and gloves, robes, men's underwear, infant wear and cloth remnants.



HALLOWEEN mischief, though generally light in Thief River Falls this year, was excessive in a few instances. Sometime before 11 p.m. Sunday, the windshield of this vehicle owned by Earl Melvie of Thief River Falls was smashed and the car aerial broken off. Melvie reported that the car was parked in a poorly lit place behind his garage when the vandal did the damage, estimated at $110. Melvie has offered $25 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the culprit.

LaFave To Chair Session at 9th Industrial Clinic

William LaFave of Thief River Falls, president of the Northwestern Minnesota Development association will preside at a section meeting to be held at the Ninth Annual Industrial Development clinic to be held Thursday and Friday in Minneapolis. Richard Hamilton, executive secretary of the local Chamber of Commerce, will also attend the clinic.

LaFave will head the Northwestern Minnesota section meeting at the clinic explores industrial development in various areas of the state. Speakers at the session will include W. E. Morse, director of the department of economic development at Moorhead, "A Newcomer Looks at Northwestern Minnesota"; Rudy Gustafson, vice president of Ottertail Power company, Fergus Falls, "What an Industrial Prospect Looks For"; and Dr. B. E. Youngquist, superintendent of the Northwest School of Agriculture, Crookston, "The Future of Potatoes and Potato Processing in Northwestern Minnesota."

The industrial development clinic is sponsored by the Minnesota Department of Business Development in cooperation with the Minneapolis Chamber of Commerce. Governor Karl F. Rolvaag will be a banquet speaker at the event.

SOCIAL SECURITY

Chuck Fahlberg of the Grand Forks district office of the Social Security administration will be in Thief River Falls at the city auditorium on Tuesday from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Langen Visits In City Monday;

"It's good for Congressmen all over the nation to get home and catch their collective breaths," declared Congressman Odin Langen Monday as his main theme while addressing various groups and visiting with people up and down the streets of Thief River Falls.

Referring to the recently concluded session of Congress, he said that more far reaching legislation was passed than perhaps in any session of Congress in history, and it's now time to pause and take stock. So much legislation was pushed through in such a short time that neither the administration nor the Congress really knows where the maze of new laws will take the nation. It therefore is difficult for the people to understand and evaluate the new program. This is why visits such as this furnish both myself and the people with an opportunity to discuss the situation and form a concensus of opinion."

Congressman Langen, accompanied by Mrs. Langen spent a busy day in Thief River Falls. His schedule included a series of morning meetings with various civic groups, attendence at a noon Rotary luncheon, an afternoon open house coffee session sponsored by the legislative comittee of the Chamber of Commerce, an afternoon tour of Thief River Falls business places, and an evening dinner sponsored by friends and supporters from this area.

Mrs. Langen accompanied her husband on a number of the appearances, attended a coffee party in her behalf and appeared on a local radio program.

Adventist School Has 23-Year History in TRF

by Marvin Lundin
Times Editor

(This is the seventh in a series of articles on Thief River Falls schools. Previous articles dealt with the public schools in general, elementary, junior and senior high schools, St. Bernard's parochial school and the area vocational-technical school. Today's story—also a preliminary to American Education Week which begins Sunday—discusses the Seventh Day Adventist church school.)

Small in enrollment but large in dedication is the Seventh Day Adventist church school located just south of Thief River Falls on an extension of Tindolph avenue. The school is conducted in a new steel building with decorative brick near the front entrance and attractive paneling on the interior. It represents a substantial investment for members of the local Seventh Day Adventist congregation.

Enrollment this year is 23 students — just one short of the record attendance of 24 set in 1964. The school was started in the fall of 1942 in one room of the Seventh Day Adventist church located at the intersection of First street and Conley avenue. Miss Genevieve

1,621 Votes Cast In Election; No Other Contests

Turning out in much larger numbers than expected, Thief River Falls voters gave a proposed $200,000 bond issue for swimming pool construction a resounding defeat Tuesday. Final tally showed 1,621 ballots cast with 1,025 against the issue and only 596 in favor—a margin of nearly 2 to 1. The issue was defeated in every ward with a margin of 18 votes in the fifth ward being the smallest margin in any precinct.

The total vote of 1,621 compared with 1,206 votes cast in 1963 when there was a four-way race for two positions of alderman-at-large and a spirited race in Ward I between incumbent E. B. Benson and challenger Robert Carlson. In the 1964 election, which included balloting for President, state representative and representative in Congress, a total of 3,289 votes was recorded in the city.

Voting by wards on Tuesday resulted in the following: Ward I, 294 votes cast, 110 yes and 184 yes and 187 no; Ward III, 266 votes cast, 86 yes and 180 no; Ward IV, 428 votes cast, 123 yes and 305 no; and Ward V, 320 votes cast, 151 yes and 169 no.

A comparison of total votes cast in each ward Tuesday with the 1964 and 1963 elections is as follows:

II	313	662	233
III	266	633	194
IV	428	822	238
I	320	542	208

There were no contests in the regular city election for mayor, treasurer, municipal judge, two aldermen-at-large and five individual ward aldermen were on the ballot. Mayor Orin Green led in total votes with 1,459, followed by Gladys Odegaard, city treasurer, with 1,455 and Stanley N. Mortenson, municipal judge, with 1,426.

Roy Jorgenson polled 1,304 votes for alderman-at-large while Arnold

Local Guard Unit In Super Ready

Company "B" of the National Guard in Thief River Falls—supplemented by a platoon from Crookston to bring the local company to full strength—is included in the Super Ready National Guard division recently announced, according to Capt. Richard Edlund, company commander.

Announcement of inclusion of the Thief River Falls unit was made Tuesday in a telephone call to the unit from Lt. Col. Donald N. Anderson, commander of the Second Battalion, 135th Infantry at Moorhead.

As a result of the Super Ready program, the Thief River Falls unit will have 64 drills between November 1 and June 30—twice the number normally scheduled. The move is considered a substitute for mobilization.

Other companies included are Company "S" at Detroit Lakes, supplemented by one platoon from Fergus Falls; and Company "C" at Sauk Centre, supplemented by one platoon from St. Cloud.

Battalions involved include the First Battalion of the 135th Infantry at Worthington, the Fourth Battalion of the 135th Infantry at Rochester and the Second Battalion of the 136th Infantry at Moorhead. All are units of the Second Brigade of the 47th Division headquartered at St. Cloud.

Goodridge Senior Class To Present "The Rainmaker"

Drama department of Goodridge high school has selected the senior class play, "The Rainmaker," by N. Richard Nash, produced in association with Samuel French, Inc.

The play is to be given at the Grygla school gymnasium on November 18 and at the Goodridge high school gymnasium on November 19 at 8 p.m.

The action takes place during a drought. A con-man comes and tells the people he can bring rain. Lizzie Curry, a plain farm girl, finally finds that maybe she is not so plain after all.

The cast is as follows: H. C. Curry, Royal Jorgenson; Noah Curry, Dale Wilkens; Jim Curry, Dale Johnson; Lizzie Curry, Elaine Askeland; File, Lynn Anderson; Sheriff Thomas, Ray Benson; and Bill Starbuck, Jack Sunsdahl.

American Education Week will be observed in Thief River Falls schools Sunday through Saturday, November 7-13, according to Kenneth Swenson, chairman of the local American Education Week committee. The week is sponsored nationally by the National Education association, American Legion and the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

"Invest in Learning" is the general theme of American Education Week this year. Local schools will have open house observances where parents will be encouraged to attend classes and see the results of their investment in education.

"Although the doors to our classrooms are open for visitation any time during the school year," Swenson said, "we give special emphasis to visitations during American Education Week and urge parents take advantage of this opportunity."

Programmed activities for the week include the following schedule:

Monday — American Education Week program presented for the Rotary club at noon; Mark Twain PTA meeting at 8 p. m. in Franklin junior high school cafeteria;

Tuesday — Open house at Northrop and Knox elementary schools, 1:15 to 3 p. m.; open house at the area vocational - technical school, 7 to 9 p. m.; open house at Lincoln high school, 7:30 to 9 p. m. (visitors report to the LHS auditorium at 7:30 p. m.); and open house at the junior college, 8 to 9:30 p. m. (visitors report to the LHS auditorium at 8 p. m.);

Wednesday — American Education Week program for the Lions club at noon; open house at Franklin junior high school from 7:30 to 9 p. m.;

Thursday — Open house at Mark Twain elementary school from 1:15 to 3 p. m.

Friday — No special activities planned.

Saturday — American Legion teacher appreciation dinner at the American Legion club rooms; serving starts at 6:30 p. m.

Coffee will be served in school cafeterias after each of the open house observances. Elementary school pupils living in town will be dismissed after the close of open house in each building. Bus

Bale Pile Burned On Myrom Farm

Halloween pranksters with a warped sense of humor set fire to a huge stack of hay bales owned by Jack Kjelberg and located on the Minnie Myrom farm, according to the Times' Norden correspondent. No estimate of the loss was given. The Norden correspondent comments:

"Although full appreciation of a mean trick like this is felt deepest by those who have ever partaken in the hustle, labor and expense of getting a crop of hay put up, everyone agrees this was wanton destruction and hopes the vandals will be caught and punished."

State Disaster Committee Will Meet Here Monday

County disaster committees from seven northwestern Minnesota counties will meet Monday at 9 a.m. in the Eagles hall in Thief River Falls with the state disaster committee and Gov. Karl F. Rolvaag. State officials will arrive by plane Sunday evening and attend a DFL coffee hour to be held at the Rex cafe. The coffee hour is open to the public.

Governor Rolvaag and the disaster committee are touring the state to gain firsthand information on grain crop and forage situations. County disaster committees in Pennington, Marshall, Red Lake, Kittson, Roseau, Lake of the Woods and Beltrami counties have been instructed to prepare information for presentation to the state group.

Information requested includes crop damage, availability of feed crops and forage, approximate dollar loss to county producers as a result of excessive moisture, expected repayment of obligations due this fall and other related information.

Attending the Monday morning session in addition to the governor will be Ben Wichterman, state ASC chairman and chairman of the state disaster committee; Arthur Hanson, state director of the Farmer's Home administration; Luther Pickrel, director of the state extension service; and two staff members.

Following adjournment of the meeting at 11 a.m., the state committee will fly over the counties on an inspection tour. Members of the Pennington county disaster committee are Winton Knutson, chairman of the county ASC committee; Paul Stelmaschuk, county agricultural agent; Albert Mattson, supervisor of the Farmers Home administration; and Pat Culkins, office manager of the county ASC.

Nelson And Holte Vows Exchanged At Grygla

Grace Lutheran church Grygla, was the scene of the recent marriage of Miss Gloria Jean Nelson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Nelson, and James K. Holte, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Holte of Virginia. The Rev. Harold Peterson officiated at the double ring ceremony before an altar graced with garden flowers arranged by Aliela Nelson, cousin of the bride. Mrs. Walter Jelle was organist and accompanied Mrs. Keith Jankowski as she sang "O Perfect Love" and "The Lord's Prayer".

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of white satin styled with fitted bodice, long sleeves that buttoned at the wrist and a skirt that swept back to form a chapel length train. French lace and seed pearls enhanced the scoop neckline and the center front scallop gracing the front of the skirt. A cabbage-rose headpiece held the veil of silk illusion and on a prayer book she carried a cascade of red and white roses accented by trailing ivy.

Elaine Askeland of Grygla attended her cousin as maid of honor. She wore a floor-length shrimp colored brocade sleeveless gown with matching headpiece, satin shoes and elbow-length gloves. Dressed similar to the maid of honor were the other attendants, Bonita Bohnsack of Phoenix, Ariz., and Mrs. Wayne Lunsetter of Milwaukee, Wis., cousin of the groom. Each carried a large white mum accented with shrimp tinted tips.

Cousin of the groom, Dawn Satre of Grygla was flower girl. She wore a white floor-length gown with a shrimp brocade sash tied in back with a large bow. Her gown and headpiece were styled similar to the other attendants and she carried a basket of red and white roses.

The groom chose his brother Gary Lillevold, Minneapolis and Jerry Holte of East Grand Forks as best man. Groomsmen were Lyle Nelson of Grygla, brother of the bride. Ushering the guests to their seats were LeRoy Nelson and Richard Holte, both of Grygla and brothers of the bride and groom, respectively. The men wore dark business suits and white carnation boutonnieres. The groom's boutonniere was a white rose.

The mothers of the bride and groom wore blue suits, white accessories and corsages of shrimp tinted roses. Also attending the wedding were Sivert Askeland, grandfather of the bride and Mrs. Brita Satre, grandmother of the groom.

Approximately 200 guests were received at the reception given in the church parlors by the parents of the bride with Aliela Nelson, cousin of the bride, as hostess. The tiered wedding cake, trimmed with red roses and topped by a miniature bride and groom, was baked and decorated by Mrs. Grant Satre and Mrs. Melvin Walberg. Cutting and serving the cake were Mrs. Art Peterson and Mrs. Clara Thiel, aunts of the bride and groom, respectively. Mrs. Edwin Nelson and Mrs. Norris Hagen, godmothers of the bride and groom, respectively, poured, while Mrs. Rodney Anderson registered the guests. Norma Kriel and Mrs. Richard Lian laddled the punch and the waitresses were Carole Bohnsack, Mrs. Mike Lambert and Mrs. Jerry Holte. Displaying the gifts were Susan Askeland and Barbara Nelson; cousins of the bride, Mrs. Gahlen Dahlen, cousin of the groom and Mrs. Richard Senders.

Guests attending the wedding were from Des Moines, Iowa; Milwaukee, Wis.; Phoenix, Ariz.; Grand Forks and Hillsboro, N. D.; Minneapolis, East Grand Forks, Sebeka, Kennedy, Bethel, Crookston, Ada, St. Paul and surrounding towns.

For the wedding trip to the Iron Range and into Canada, the bride wore a two-piece light blue suit with navy blue accessories and a corsage of red roses.

The bride is a graduate of the at Crookston and of the business department of the Thief River Falls area vocational - technical school. A graduate of the Goodridge high school, the groom is a member of the United States Air Force and is stationed at Whiteman air force base in Missouri. The newlyweds are at home at 1402 Osage Avenue South, Sedalia, Mo. Photo by Jim's Studio, Fosston.

October Weather Picture Changes from September

BY Jim Wills
Times Reporter

With the coming of October, the weather in northern Minnesota did a complete about-face as bright, sunny skies and scanty rainfall replaced the cold, soaking weather conditions of September. Daily highs recorded at the airport were generally higher then those read in September, and precipitation totaled less than one-fourth as much as last month's figure.

The clear skies and occasional high northerly winds made things tough for area hunters, however. Most of the ducks and geese that fattened on unharvested grain during the September monsoon had moved further south by the opening day of the hunting season, and nimrods found the pickings rather slim. The invigorating Minnesota weather also made baseball playing difficult for the Los Angeles Dodgers, who lost three of their four games played at Bloomington.

Temperatures recorded during October are interesting when compared with those of the preceding month. Mean temperature for the month was 46.7 or an even degree above the average October mean. The figure is slightly lower than the mean for September of 48, but the difference was caused entirely by lower nighttime temperatures. Average high for October was 58.0 degrees; the comparative figure for September was 57.6.

There were no days during October on which the mercury failed to climb above the 40's although there were five such days in September. High for the month of October was 70 degrees on its first day; low was 24 on the 13th and 28th. Average low was 35.4.

Rainfall figures dropped sharply with the turn of the calendar. In September, rain fell on 17 days and came to a total of 6.47 inches. In October, six days of rain dropped a total of 1.67 inches on the city. Average October total is 1.33. The bulk of the month's rain, 1.32 inches, came in a three-day soaker which began October 17. This turn of events drowned hopes of farmers for a dry spell of sufficient length to dry out the watersoaked topsoil.

The following is a daily record of temperature and precipitation figures observed by North Central Airlines personnel at the municipal airport.

Local Jaycees Help Organize Roseau Chapter

Thief River Falls Jaycee President Rick Contos informed chapter members at Tuesday night's regular meeting that 11 young men at Roseau met Monday night to organize a Roseau Jaycee chapter. Three Thief River Falls Jaycees—Contos, Bob Ekeren and Dick Jorde—attended the Roseau meeting to assist in the chapter's organization.

The Roseau group elected Dunne Lanlous acting chairman and Bruce Tollefson acting secretary. Next meeting is November 23 in Roseau, when the chapter will adopt its constitution and by-laws and elect a full slate of officers.

In other business, Audrey Johnson gave a report on Saturday night's Halloween party, and it was reported that Lt. Harold Shelby has accepted chairmanship of the nativity scene to be erected shortly after Thanksgiving. The chapter also plans to conduct the Operation Christmas drive initiated last year and a home decoration contest. Chairmen for the last two projects have not been selected.

Windy Weather Blows into Area

Thief River Falls residents who neglected to vote yesterday could not use the weather as an excuse, as the weather was perfect for a stroll to the polls. Such is not the case today, however. Strong northwesterly winds began this morning and will diminish late tonight. High today will be near 50, but temperatures will fall this afternoon. Lows tonight will be in the 20's. Outlook for tomorrow is partly cloudy and cool.

North Central Airlines reported the following temperatures: 60 and 25 on Monday, 62 and 31 on Tuesday and a low so far today of 38.

Large Turnout Noted for City Election Tuesday

Narverud received 1,256 votes. All incumbent ward aldermen were reelected without opposition. Vote totals included the following: Robert Carlson, first ward, 265 votes; A. B. Christianson, second ward, 278 votes; Ambrose Wysoski, third ward, 227 votes; Dr. A. E. Jacobson, fourth ward, 367 votes; and Lowell Swenson, fifth ward, 273 votes. There were a number of write-in votes.

Area Elections

While the main interest of the Thief River Falls election centered around the swimming pool question, a number of area communities were concerned with liquid other than water. Five communities in Kittson and Roseau counties gave approval to municipal liquor sales under a new provision adopted by the legislature which removed the county option provision.

Adopting municipal liquor on a community basis were Badger and Greenbush in Roseau county and Hallock, Lake Bronson and Lancaster in Kittson county. Roseau village defeated the question in a relatively close vote.

At Crookston the voters approved private license for liquor sales by a vote of 1,682 to 1,252.

Open House Set In City During Education Week

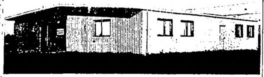
students will be cared for in their rooms by members of the Future Teachers of America chapter until they are picked up by their parents or the regular bus arrives.

Kindergarten open houses will be held from 10 to 11:30 a. m. and from 1:30 to 3 p. m. on the same days as open house for the respective schools listed previously in this article.

Members of the American Education Week committee for the public schools in addition to Swenson include William Desrocher, Francis Hamerlinck, Arnt Aune, Richard Edlund, Charles White, James Smilie, Mrs. Jan Breipund, Mrs. Myrtle Sundet, Miss Theresa Efta.

St. Bernard's parochial school will have open house all day Wednesday with parents invited to visit the classrooms of their children, according to Sister Caroline, principal.



LOCATED on a six-acre tract of land just south of Thief River Falls on an extension of Tindolph avenue is this steel building which houses the Seventh Day Adventist church school. Classes for the school which was started in 1942 were previously held in the church until this building was erected in 1964 and put to use that fall. The building includes two classrooms, an assembly room, restroom facilities, storage and heating plant. It is constructed with the idea of adding a gymnasium in the future.

Adventist School In City Marks 23-Year History

Dennis was the first teacher.

Lowest enrollment during the 23-year history of the school was five students. In the 1950-1951 school year the school was closed because of lack of students, but classes began again in 1951 and have continued until the present.

Grades Divided

Mrs. Maynard Molskness is teacher in the lower four grades of the school, having two first grade pupils, three second graders, three third graders and two fourth graders. Mrs. Molskness returned to the school last year after an absence of several years.

Teaching the upper four grades is William Stebbins, in his first year of teaching. He has five fifth graders, two sixth graders, three seventh graders and three eighth graders. He and Mrs. Molskness share principal duties and the students assist with a number of duties at the school.

After 21 years of holding class in the church, the school moved to its new quarters in 1964. The building is constructed so that a gymnasium and kitchen can be added in the future. It is located on six acres of land which provide ample playground area. The assembly room at the school is used for group exercises of the school and doubles as a meeting room for church groups.

Spiritual Emphasis

As is the case with nearly all church schools, the Seventh Day Adventist school is operated on the theory that public education lacks an important aspect in its legal inability to incorporate spiritual emphasis into the curriculum. Stebbins quoted Ellen G. White's book "Education" as a philosophy for the church school. In this book she writes:

"Our ideas of education take too narrow and too low a range. There is need of a broader scope, a higher aim. True education means more than the pursual of a certain course of study. It means more than a preparation for the life that now is. It has to do with the whole being, and with the whole period of existence possible to man. It is the harmonious development of the physical, the mental and the spiritual powers. It prepares the student for the joy of service in this world and for the higher joy of wider service in the world to come.

"To restore in man the image of his Maker, to bring him back to the perfection in which he was created, to promote the development of body, mind and soul, that the divine purpose of his creation might be realized—this was to be the work of redemption. This is the object of education, the great object of life."

With the object of the "total being" in mind, the church school sets out on a course of weaving spiritual emphasis into science, history and health courses. Through a wide-world educational system, the Seventh Day Adventist church offers the very latest classroom techniques and textbooks—all of which follow a prescribed and carefully coordinated pattern.

Part of a System

The local elementary school is one of a number of such schools in Minnesota. Most of its graduates and most of the graduates of toher elementary schools in the system attend Maplewood Academy at Hutchinson—a four-year, coeducational boarding academy which offers a high school program. This academy has a number of industries in which students may work to help pay for their higher education. Graduates of the academy may go on to attend Union college in Lincoln, Neb. The church operates 397 academies, colleges and universities with 70,952 students enrolled world-wide.

Every state in the United States has elementary schools and nearly all have boarding academies under the Adventist program. All of the elementary schools offer the same curriculum so that students are at an equal level entering the boarding academies. These academies, in turn, have comparable curriculums in preparation for college. This enables students to progress toward higher education on an equitable basis no matter where they attend the church school. An extensive program of education is also carried out on the mission fields of foreign nations. The Adventist school program has grown from one school and one teacher in 1880 to 4,077 elementary schools, 9,414 teachers and 271,520

The school in Thief River Falls is supervised by a state supervisor who has offices in St. Paul. The state system is supervised by a regional office which includes the four states of Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota and Iowa.

Local Financing

While some financial assistance is available to the schools from the general church fund, the majority of expense must be carried by local church congregations where schools are located. Students in Thief River Falls attend on a tuition basis and the local Seventh Day Adventist church must pay for the building, its maintenance and repair, books and supplies and a major portion of the instructional salaries.

This means giving as well as receiving—giving of material goods for support of the school and receiving instruction designed to benefit the "whole being".

Instructors at church schools and parents of church school children realize that there are handicaps to operating a small school. Because of low enrollment and lack of funds, students can not have all of the equipment and material which is offered in the public schools. This is compensated for by greater individual attention to the student and an atmosphere which develops the creativity of the child.

"Our classrooms have almost a family atmosphere," Stebbins said. 'We share one another's joys and sorrows and we share duties and responsibilities. Out of necessity the students assist with chores which might normally be associated with janitorial duties. This is all part of the learning process; it contributes toward more effective citizenship."

Rites Held Today At Trinity For Olaf Larson, 66

Olaf Larson, 66, a resident of this area since 1900 and an employee at the Mint Cafe for the past 15 years, died unexpectedly on Saturday.

Funeral services for Olaf Larson were held at 2 p. m. today, (Wednesday) at Trinity Lutheran church with the Rev. Reuben A. Wangberg, officiating. Interment was in Greenwood Cemetery. Sinding's Funeral chapel was in charge of funeral arrangements.

Olaf Larson, a son of the late John Larson and Ann Knutseth Larson was born April 7, 1899 at Lac Qui Parle, county. In 1900 he came with his parents to Smiley township, Pennington county were he received his elementary education and where he resided until 1950. Since that time, he had been employed as a waiter at the Mint Cafe in Thief River Falls. For the past 13 years he had made his home with his niece, Mrs. Lyle Liden, and her family. He never married.

Mr. Larson was a member of the Trinity Lutheran church.

Survivors include five sisters, Mrs. Gertrude Sundberg, Waterloo, Iowa; Mrs. Olaf (Laura) Olson, Grand Forks, N. Commercial Tests Not Suitable for Public In Screening Drivers

Could state driver examiners submit the general public to the same tests used by the army or commercial firms in selecting their drivers? Two U.S. Army researchers say "no".

"The difference between the predictive tests used for professional driver selection and the tests for public licensing," says the authors, "is crucial." In selecting professionals, all but the best are eliminated. In public licensing, only the obvious misfits are eliminated.

Approximately 100 million persons are licensed to drive in the United States. If licenses were denied to applicants scoring poorly on a typical driver selection test measuring scores against an accident criterion, 23 million drivers would be taken off the road. This figure is based on a validity coefficient which, if followed, is designed to reduce traffic fatalities and other accidents by one-third.

However, there are many good reasons why the general public cannot be given more complete examinations before being licensed to have been developed and used in various settings, many have been used in driver research. Despite this, few tests are in operational use, chiefly because of the following difficulities:

(1) Lack of evidence that many of these tests do an accurate job of screening out those likely to have accidents;

(2) Lack of means of getting undisputed proof in terms of accidents; and

(3) Administrative and legislative barriers to using such tests for licensing.

Since the driver is the most complex, baffling and vulnerable of the factors that make up the driving process, he thwarts the advance of science because he can exercise common sense. He can adapt.

For example, he can compensate for his deficiencies: if color blind, he learns the shapes of the signs; if his reflexes are slow, he avoids getting into situations requiring fast stops or turns; he will drive more carefully for a time after he notes an appalling increase of accidents. In other words, he is not ideally suited for research because of human variables.

"In conclusion," the researchers state, 'if public officials are inclined to shrink away from action which would elifinate millions of drivers to reduce the national accident rate, then it may be profitable to embark on the so-called systems approach of driving research. This would be essentially a re-examination of the total problem to consider man-vehicle-road traffic and to derive principles of engineering traffic, vehicles, roads, and identifiable driver limitations'.

Humphrey Issues Statement Noting Reierson Death

"The untimely death of Mr. A. O. Reierson of Fosston, Minnesota, known as 'Spot' to his very many friends, brings sadness to all who knew him," stated Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey today.

"As 7th Congressional District DFL chairman, Spot Reierson gave fully and unselfishly of his time and energies in the building of a better district, a better state and a stronger nation. His influence on government in Minnesota will be felt for many years.

"As a friend of the farmer, the laborer and the businessman, Spot worked hard to see that the interests of these groups were represented fairly and justly in the councils of DFL politics and state government.

"As one of the warmest and kindest human beings I have known, Spot will be missed but remembered by those of us who knew him well. The people of Minnesota have lost a good friend, but they have benefited because he lived."

SING OUT FOR BOOKS

LISTENING attentively to the music of a by-gone era are Kathy Wengeler, page at Carnegie Public library, and a large model of a famous trademark. The phonograph is being used by the library staff this week as "Sing Out for Books" is emphasized as the theme of Children's Book Week. Children in grades one through four of all city public and parochial schools in addition to two classes from St. Hilaire are visiting the library this week. Library staff members show the children how to get a library card, explain the rules of the library and let the youngsters listen to the phonograph. "We want the children to know they are welcome at the library," stated Miss Bertha Hastad, librarian. "The sooner they start to use the library the more they will use it for information and enjoyment."

27 Attend Clinic For Crippled in City Last Week

Twenty-seven boys and girls suspected of having heart, orthopedic or other physical disabilities had examinations at the field clinic conducted by the Crippled Children services of the Minnesota Department of Welfare last week at Northwestern hospital in Thief River Falls. Among the patients were nine from Pennington county, according to Mrs. Joe Dostal, local chairman.

On the clinic staff were an orthopedist to examine the youngsters for crippling bone and muscle conditions; a pediatrician to see the younger patients; public health nurses and a consultant from the Crippled Children services to assist the doctors and to aid parents in arranging for needed hospitalization or home care.

In most cases, according to nurses with the department of welfare, help can be given to the children whether their crippled condition is the result of accident, disease or has been present since birth.

Volunteer workers assisting with the clinic were Mrs. Harold Buck, appointment chairman; Mrs. J. Arthur Johnson and Mrs. Dostal. Public health nurses assisting were Mrs. Wendell Olson, R. N., and Mrs. Joan Torfin, R. N. Mrs. Margaret Race, Thief River Falls school nurse, was an observer at the clinic.

On the clinic staff were Nancy Lund, M. D., Minneapolis, pediatrician; Kenneth Covey, M. D., Crookston, orthopedist; Mrs. Ruth Ronheim, St. Paul, nursing supervisor for Crippled Children services; Mrs. Laura Stenskog, Bemidji, field nursing consultant; Miss Betty Waha, St. Paul, clerk; and Miss Adelaide Avoy, St. Paul, clinic coordinator.

Student practical nurses assisting were Marilyn Moren, Lois Collver, Carol Hegge, Eileen Stortroen, Mrs. M. Marks and Mrs. Carolyn Rindahl.

Kennedy Woman Heads PTA Region

Mrs. Marvin Chelgren, St. Paul, newly elected president of the Minnesota Congress of Parents, and Teachers, announced post-convention action of the state electing committee and board of officers and district presidents in naming chairman of state PTA committees to hold office for the next three years.

Mrs. Kennard Anderson, Kennedy, was elected vice president of Region Five. This area of PTA activity included all of the units and districts in the counties of Grant, Douglas, Wilkin, Ottertail, Becker, Clay, Norman, Mahnomen, Clearwater, Polk, Red Lake, Pennington, Marshall, Kittson, Roseau and Lake of the Woods.

In other state convention elections, Mrs. Marvin Chelgren, St. Paul, was named president; Mrs. R. A. Fancher, Fairmont, secretary; and Mrs. Frank Finch, Pengilly, state historian.

ID Bracelets Are Sold As Service By Mrs. Jaycees

As an annual community service project, the Thief River Falls Mrs. Jaycees are cooperating with the Pennington County Civil Defense organization in the sale of identification bracelets for community youngsters.

Information blanks have been sent home with all elementary children in the city, according to Mrs. Sander Tureson, project chairman. Parents of pre-school youngsters who would like to purchase identification bracelets for their children may contact Mrs. Tureson at 681-4663.

The bracelets are engraved with the name, address and telephone number of the child and any pertinent medical information which should be readily available in an emergency. Cost of the bracelets is 60 cents each. Approximately 150 of the bracelets were sold by the Mrs. Jaycees last year.

Ada Repeats as Pine-to-Prairie Conference Champ

Pine-to-Prairie Football Conference
(final standings)

	w.	l.	t.	pts.	o. pts.
Ada	7	0	0	206	25
Warren	6	1	0	178	26
Fertile	4	3	0	60	54
Red Lake Falls	3	3	1	56	87
Bagley	3	4	0	83	86
Fosston	2	4	1	53	131
Mahnomen	2	5	0	73	88
Twin Valley	0	7	0	6	227

Results of last week's games:
Twin Valley, 0, at Ada, 47.
Fertile, 7, at Mahnomen, 6.
Warren, 25, at Red Lake Falls, 0.
Bagley, 13, at Fosston, 20.

The Ada Vikings captured their second successive Pine-to-Prairie football conference on Friday when coach Les Dreschel's squad rolled up a one-sided 47 to 0 win over the Twin Valley Tigers in a schedule-ending game played at Ada. Ada finished with a conference mark of seven wins and no losses, and an over-all mark of nine wins and no losses. The Vikings are currently working on a 21 game winning streak.

Much of the interest in the final week's play was focussed on the individual scoring race between Ada's Ken Pierce and Warren's Peter Gilbert. Prior to last week's wind-up games, the two backfield men, both seniors, were deadlocked with 108 points apiece.

In the games of last week, with Ada playing the cellar-dwelling Twin Valley team and Warren playing at Red Lake Falls, each player tallied three touchdowns and added a conversion point. The two players, therefore, share the individual scoring honors with 127 points apiece, and that is fare enough.

The 1965 Pine-to-Prairie football conference banquet will be held at Ada on Monday, November 8, at 7:30 p.m. Jerry Berg, varsity football coach at Mayville State college, will be the guest speaker.

REPLACEMENT for the 1934 fire truck used by the Thief River Falls fire department for many years is this new truck which was displayed for the first time Tuesday afternoon on LaBree avenue. It is the first truck purchased by the city since 1941, according to Fire Chief Roy Langevin, who is pictured above at left aiming the nozzle of a new automatic-rewind hose. At right is Bob Carlson member of the city council. The new truck was purchased complete for about $13,500. The International tilt-cab was purchased from the T&S Implement company and the equipment from the General Safety Equipment Corporation of North Branch. The vehicle has a water-carrying capacity of 500 gallons and a pump with an output of 750 gallons per minute. It carries 1,500 feet of 2½-inch hose and 150 feet of 1½-inch hose. It is equipped with power steering and was tested by the Fire Underwriter Inspection Bureau. The truck made its maiden voyage late Tuesday afternoon to what proved to be a false alarm.

Adventist Welfare Center Open Monday

Seventh-day Adventist health and welfare center located on the second floor of the Thief River clinic building will be open Monday to distribute clothing to those in need. Those wishing to give or receive clothing are asked to use the south entrance.

Members of the Dorcas society and the Pathfinder club collected canned and packaged foods Sunday evening for the holiday food hampers.

SDA Pathfinder Club Will Meet Tuesday Night

Pathfinder club of the Seventh-day Adventist church will meet Tuesday at 7 p.m. in the elementary church school. Members are asked to be in full uniform. Special guests for the meeting will be Rev. Eugene Armour, Minneapolis, educational and youth director of the state of Minnesota in the Seventh-day Adventist school system.

Rev. Armour directed activities during the past summer at the Brainerd youth camp and assisted in the senior youth canoe trip last summer. He came to Minnesota as education director from Topeka, Kan. where he served in the same capacity. He also served in the Greater New York City conference and the Louisiana-Arkansas conference.

At the meeting Tuesday evening he will instruct the youth on making rope and lashing. He is visiting and evaluating the Adventist schools in this area this week, advising teachers and making recommendations for a successful and more efficient school program.

Another Skirmish

Several months ago, Father Time, the old man with the scythe, made a couple of passes at me. But some quick and efficient counter-measures by the staff and nurses at the Northwestern hospital blunted the attack.

The heart attack, which it was and which was the second I have experienced in the past five years, could have been triggered by a number of causes. Perhaps I had been indiscreet in my diet, with the result that a small blood-clot had formed and when this clot reached the 'rough'' spot in my heart, from my previous attack, I was subject to another attack. It was fortunate that I became suspicious of the dull pain in my chest and left arm and instead of resorting to self-treatment, I entered the hospital. An electrocardiogram revealed that my suspicions had been well-founded and that an attack had occurred. An extended stay in the hospital was prescribed.

Eventually, as it must to all, there will be a final scrimmage. And at the risk of sounding melodramatic, sentimental, pretentious, ludicrous, or just plain syrupy, I hope that this final scrimmage will find me on my way to, or at, or on my way from a high school athletic contest. Amateur sports in general and high school sports in particular, have been a vital factor in my adult life.

But enough of this morbidity, and suffice to say that I am classified with the living, just about like the New York Yankees, though strictly second division. But there are advantages of being in the second division, too. The second division fellows may miss the pink champagne, but we can breathe the same air, and that means being alive. For which I, and they, are thankful.

The Stronger League.

During my hospital stay, which lasted for a number of weeks, and later during my at-home convalescence, I was able to follow the pennant races in the American and National baseball leagues. And I cheered, along with most of the fans in this area, at the success of the Minnesota Twins in winning the American league pennant. And I was heartened by the fact that the Twins forced the World's Series into a seventh and final game before losing to the Los Angeles Dodgers and Sandy Koufax.

But on the records of the past several years, and the results of the All-Star games and the World's Series, it must be acknowledged that the National league is the stronger baseball league. While it is true that the Twins played the Los Angeles Dodgers on near-even terms, it is a fact that there were three or four other teams in the National league that were just about on a par with the Dodgers. Cincinnati Reds, the Milwaukee Braves, the Pittsburgh Pirates and the Philadelphia Phils were all in pennant contention. And this trend appears destined to continue, with the National league proving to be more attractive to the promising young ball players.

An indication of the National's superiority can be judged by the attendance marks. This season the National leaguers drew 13,576,521 fans, and increase of 1,550,000. The American league attracted 8,860,175 or a loss of about 374,000 fans. Such a spread in the attendance figures means that the National league owners have a 'kitty'' of about five million dollars with which to outbid the American leaguers. With a new park being completed in St. Louis, and the Milwaukee Braves moving to Atlanta next season, the National league should continue to wax fat.

But a factor that is more vital to strength of the National league is the circuit's attractiveness to the American Negro. This attraction is due to the heritage of Branch Rickey, who, when general manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers, broke the "color line" and brought Negro Jackie Robinson into organized baseball. The National league scouts will never forget to impress the talented American Negro ball player that it was the senior league that made it possible for a Negro to play big league ball.

Just a brief look at the rosters of the National league teams, and a look at the players who represented the National league in the All-Star game, will show the fan that the Nationals have the finest Negro players. For instance, how would this lineup be: first base, Bill White; second base, Julian Javier; shortstop, Maury Wills third base, Richie Allen; outfield Willie Mays, Henry Aron, Frank Robinson, Jack Flood or Roberto Clemente; catcher, John Roseboro; and pitcher Bob Gibson? Negroes all.

FUMBLES have plagued the Thief River Falls Prowlers all season and Friday night's game against the Crookston Central Pirates was no exception. Jack Christensen, Crookston end (80), alertly pounces on the ball in the above photo while Monte LeMoine (21) and Tom Cummings (12) try to catch up with the elusive pigskin. In spite of the fumbles, however, the Prowlers utilized a strong second half to win 26-6.

Results of last week's games:
Crookston, 6, at Thief River Falls, 26.
East Grand Forks, 19, at Roseau, 13.
Brainard, 6, at Bemidji 13, (NC)

While the Northwest conference championship was decided a week ago when coach Red Wilson's Bemidji Lumberjacks concluded their fourth unbeaten season by scoring a 33 to 14 win over Thief River Falls, the conference did complete its 1965 schedule last week.

Two games were played, and the results did cause some minor changes in the final standings. The Prowlers defeated the Crookston Central Pirates, 26 to 6; and coach Ron Thompson's East Grand Forks Green Wave defeated a favored Roseau Rams eleven, 19 to 13. The victories by the Prowlers and the Green Wave moved the two teams into deadlock for third place in the conference standings. Roseau, whth a two wins and two losses record earned runner-up position. The injury-riddled Crookston Central team, with one win and three losses, finished in fifth place.

The all-senior Northwest conference all-star squad will be named at a meeting to be held shortly. It is a foregon conclusion that the champion Bemidji Lumberjacks will monopolize the honors on this all-star squad, having such prime candidates as fullback Larry Schwartz (who also played at tackle on defense,) ends Howard Hogansen and Bob Johnson, and guard Jim Ritchie.

Results of last week's games:
Plummer, 21, at Oklee, 0.
McIntosh, 18, at Goodridge, 0.
Middle River, 20 at Gonvick, 0.
Mentor, 38, at Erskine, 6.

Scoring victories in their schedule-ending games last week, McIntosh and Plummer, defeating Goodridge and Oklee, respectively, concluded the North Tri-County football competition in a tie for first place. The two squads finished conference play with records of six wins and one loss each. But McIntosh has a stronger claim to the title as, in a game played at Plummer a couple of weeks ago, the Macs scored a 13 to 0 win over coach Phil Beving's Cardinals.

McIntosh's lone loss was an early-season defeat by the Middle River Skippers.

More Internal Revenue Questions Answered

Q—My boss told me that if I knew how to take dictation I'd be promoted to secretary. If I took a night course in shorthand would the cost be tax deductible?

A—No, it wouldn't in your case. Educational expenses incurred primarily to get a better job do not qualify. Expenses incurred for an educational course expressly required by your employer to keep your present job are deductible.

Q—How do you tell when an expense is deductible as a business expense?

A—The tax law lays down some general guidelines on this subject. To be deductible, the expense must be ordinary and necessary in carrying on a trade or business, or for the production or collection of income, or for the management of property held for the production of income. In addition, the expense must be directly related to the income producing property and the income must be taxable income.

To illustrate this last point, the cost of renting a safe deposit box to hold taxable bonds is a deductible expense. But if the box holds only tax-free bonds the law will not allow you to deduct the expense.

Q—I've made a sizable contribution to my church's building program. How do I handle this deduction for tax purposes?

A—If you itemize your deductions, you may deduct your contribution on your tax return for the tax year it was actually paid. You may deduct up to 30 per cent of your adjusted gross income for the total of this contribution and your other contributions made during the year to churches and certain other tax-exempt organizations. If your total contributions to these organizations exceed 30 per cent, you are allowed to deduct the excess on your return for the following year. The deduction is explained in detail in a pamphlet, Contributions, Internal Revenue Service Document No. 5053, which you may obtain free from your Internal Revenue Office.

Q—Can you tell me which exall individual incom tax returns? Also, what is the overall total of this deduction?

A—Taxes paid have been the most frequently claimed deduction in recent years. For the latest year on which we have such figures, 1962, a total of $13 billion was claimed by taxpayers as deductions for taxes paid.

Q—My twelve-year old son just opened a bank account with the money he made from his paper route. Does he need a Social Security number for the account or should he use my number since he is a minor?

A—Since your son, not you, has earned the money used to open the acount, he is required to apply for his own Social Security number. Form SS-5, used to request a number, may be obtained from your local IRS or Social Security office.

Q—With all the talk about reasonable tax administration how can the Internal Revenue Service justify its refusal to allow parents to deduct the cost of giving their children a college education? With things as they are, a college education has become a necessity.

A—The tax laws, which are enacted by Congress, do not permit parents a deduction for their children's college education. The responsibility of the Internal Revenue Service is to administer existing tax laws in a reasonable manner.

Q—Is it true that the Interest Equalization Tax expires at the end of the year?

A—The initial legislation on this tax called for it to expire at the end of 1965. Congress, however, has extended the tax to July 31, 1967.

Grafton Scout To Be Honored For Lifesaving

Increasing effectiveness of the safety and life-saving training of the Boy Scouts of America pays off when emergencies arise, according to the Lake Agassiz Boy Scout council. This is seen when the National Court of Honor of the organization cites 117 members for saving life or for some other meritorious action.

Scouting aims to reinforce the boy's natural courage with skill and knowledge in handling himself in emergencies requiring quick, sure decisions. Most of those being honored are in their teens, boys who, forgetful of self, acted with courage and cool-headed resourcefulness when the emergency came.

One of the 117 being honored is Charles Depuy, 13, Grafton, N.D. He is to receive the honor medal at a special ceremony to be held at a later date, it was announced today by L. R. Martl of the Lake Agassiz council.

The citation accompanying this honor follows:

"When Jimmy Nielsen, 10, attempted to walk across the top of the Great Northern dam in Park River near Grafton, N.D., on April 24, 1965, he slipped and fell into the water. The current carried him under the dam and downstream. He was pulled under water at least twice and was being carried into deep water when Scout Charles Depuy, 13, heard his shouts for help. Charles kicked off his shoes and pants, jumped into the water and swam to the point where Jimmy was struggling. When he dived in to attempt the rescue, the victim grabbed him by the neck and pulled him under water. The current was carrying them both downstream. Finally, Charles was able to break Jimmy's hold on him and get a grip on the victim's neck so that he could carry him along as he swam toward shore."

Side Line Observations

BY BILL DAHLQUIST

The present city administration is seeking reelection without organized opposition and is likely to be reelected. It would be quiet and uninteresting election if it were not for the proposal for an to supplement the pool that we already have and which has been serving us well as a summer pool.

Much of the opposition to the proposal that we have to another sumer pool is not based on opposition to improved swimming facilities but rather on the belief that our real need is a year-round swimming facility, an indoor pool that will make bathing possible throut the winter months.

The municipal recreation committee has checked on the possibilities for such a development and is very favorably impressed by the experience of Detroit Lakes where such a service has been available for several years as a part of the school recreation and physical education facilities. The reaction of the members of this comittee has been very favorable and they are unanimous in the opinion that an indoor pool should be made available for the Thief River Falls community.

There is no way for the voters to express a favorable opinion to such a proposal except by casting a "no" vote on the ballot proposal that we build another summer pool. It is my opinion that the question deserves further consideration and that after a thorough study of all of the possibilities the question be submitted to the voters again in a special election.

Detroit Lakes is close enough to us to make the information about their experience easily available and there no doubt are other with this problem would be helpful in enabling us to arrive at the right answers in our attempt to arrive at the most reasonable solution. And before we take on another obligation of $200,000 let's explore all of the possibilities of special grants of aid that may be available. A "No" vote on the swimming pool proposal, in its present form, will be the right vote at the present time.

Scratching for Issues

Mired in a political puzzle which is taxing the best brains in the DFL party, leaders of the DFL are scratching for issues in an attempt to take the offensive in the next political campaign. They are finding little for which to take credit and much they would like to forget in the past year's events. It is something like trying to hide an elephant under a handkerchief.

One of the recent scratchings has turned up a new angle. The DFL is now telling the people of Minnesota that tax reform could have been accomplished during the last session of the legislature if the Republicans (to quote a DFL news release) "had really wanted it". Apparently the DFL doesn't like the state terms of liberals and conservatives rather than Democrats and Republicans.

"Tax reform legislation was proposed by Governor Rolvaag and was introduced by DFL legislators," according to George Farr state DFL chairman, "but it had no chance with the Republican-controlled legislature." The news release stated, "This is the message DFL legislators are taking to the people as they tour the state between now and December."

As we recall the session, the conservatives gave up on tax reform work because of a promised veto by the governor—a veto promised before he knew what legislation would be offered or adopted. This was scarcely an inducement to the legislators to devote a great deal of effort to the question.

In fact, the governor vetoed a number of bills—at least several of which were pretty fair pieces of legislation. He did such a good job last session that a large number of the party faithful don't want him to seek reelection. They don't believe his record is good enough so that he can win. They are probably right in this belief.

The situation is further complicated by the involvement of A. M. Keith, lieutenant governor, in an investigation of an insurance company which was declared solvent and suddenly became bankrupt. Keith has explained this involvement as nobody else's business.

It would seem that a considerable amount of scratching will be necessary before the DFL turns up anything that looks like an election issue.

Against the Grain

There is a judge in Montana who has taken a realistic approach to the problem of juvenile delinquency and youth crimes. His name is Lester H. Loble of Helena, and is the originator of what is now known in that state as the "Loble Law". This opens the court which tries juveniles for felonies to the public and the press.

Judge Loble was a speaker recently at an editor's short course sponsored by the University of Minnesota. The reason was that he has removed the cloak of secrecy from juvenile proceedings where felonies are involved. His theories have been proved effective by the fact that these crimes decreased 49 per cent the first year his law was put into effect.

"The twin enemies of crime are fear of punishment and fear of publicity," the judge stated. "If a youth is old enough to topple a tombstone or wreck a church . . or tough enough to beat up an old man, he is tough enough to have an open trial with his parents in the front row and full coverage by the press." "It has been my experience that the quickest way to cut crime is to name names and place the blame where it belongs," he said. This is done only in cases where defendants would go to jail if they were adults. Open court is not held for juveniles with minor offenses.

When a youth is charged with a felony, he is often given a prison sentence with all but a short period of it suspended. In the short prison period, the youth wears prison clothes, eats prison food, hears the tough guys jeer at him, works in the kitchen and realizes what confinement is. When the short period is completed, he returns to his home community.

The youth knows, however, that the next time he comes before the judge he will see the prison for a much longer time. "He'd better bring his toothbrush . . . that's what I tell them," he said. "He's on probation and he knows it."

Judge Loble said that his open court law has done four things: Helped restore the confidence of the people in the court; protected the good kids who do not have to "take the rap for the hoods,,; forces the delinquent parents to pay attention to their youngsters; and makes better youngsters of those who have their names published.

When the public knows what is happening in juvenile delinquency, it can act, the judge said. If everything is secret, the public has no opinion and therefore does not have information on which to base an opinion or an action.

Delinquent parents are one of the keys, he said. When the names are published they can't "take the heat" . . . and when Saturday night arrives with the youth on probation and he asks if he can go out, the parents say, "oh, no, you're not going to get ME in trouble."

Montana has led the nation in the reduction of crime; in 1964 there was not a single case of a juvenile commiting personal violence there, the judge said.

Although it goes against the grain of many people who want to believe that society is failing the young people of our nation and they are not responsible for their acts, the judge has proved his theory works. There has been no effort by any party to have the Loble law repealed or revised.

Close to Home

If you think you need your perspective pulled back into line, the following is a clipped item which should do just that:

An artist who was getting increasingly dissatisfied with his work finally told his wife: "I'm going out to look for the most beautiful thing in the world. That's what I must paint."

His travels took him to many countries, and he saw a lot of beautiful things. But not what he was looking for. One day he stopped a radiant young woman and asked her, "What do you think is the most beautiful thing in the world?"

"Love," the girl answered without hesitation. But the artist was disappointed. He couldn't paint love. Some time later, he met a soldier coming home from war. "Soldier," he asked, "what is the most beautiful hing in the world?"

"Peace," the soldier answered, as he hurried home. But again the artist was disappointed. He couldn't paint peace.

Continuing his search, he stopped a minister on his way to church. This man surely would be able to help him, he thought. But the minister answered simply, "Faith is the most beautiful thing in the world." How could one paint faith?

The artist dicided his search was hopeless and went home, weary in body and heart. Then, when his wife greeted him, he found the love of which the young girl had spoken. And all about his home was the feeling of security, the tranquil peace the soldier thought was so beautiful. And the faith described by the minister was in the eyes of his children.

Then he realized that here at home was the subject for his painting. His family.

What Price Beauty?

President Lyndon B. Johnson gave his wife a little Texas-size present last week when he signed a $320 million highway beautification bill. It was reported that he gave his wife a kiss and the first pen after signing the "Lady Bird Bill" designed to preserve America's natural beauty. Mrs. Johnson was said to be a strong supporter of the bill.

"As long as I am President, what has been divinely given by nature will not be recklessly taken away by man", the President was quoted as saying when he inked his signature on the document. Then he added, "We have placed a wall of civilization between us and the beauty of oun countryside; in our eagerness to expand and improve we have relegated nature to a weekend role, banishing it from our daily lives."

If natural beauty along our highways is dead, the President apparently believes in a $320 million reincarnation. Quite frankly, we fail to see how such an expenditure is either necessary or important or, for that matter, how it can be effective.

In the first place, the government should be able, without cost, to dictate what will or will not be erected on government-owned right-of-way. In the second place, the government should keep its sticky fingers off privately-owned property. In both cases, billboard control would seem to b eeither without cost or without effect.

Representing a competing advertising medium, we should perhaps be overjoyed with the action of the President. Personally, however, we fail to see where billboard control is such a big issue to make a fuss about. Unless the signs are placed in such a way that they restrict vision at intersections or otherwise are safety hazards, we see no harm in them. We see more damage in streetside flashing and colored lights which divert attention from traffic lights.

Billboards can be an interesting diversion when traveling. We will never forget the sign near Boulder City, Colorado, on which a restaurant advertised "the best food by a dam site". A friend tells of a sign which he saw on his travels to the west and which made a lasting impression. That sign proclaimed, "This highway under construction—since 1856."

If the President persists in bringing home little $320 million presents to his wife, the U. S. taxpayer may feel more henpecked than a bucket of mash. WHAT PRICE B? Opparently about $320 million. Maybe that will buy enough magnolia seed to border the whole interstate highway system.

GREAT MONUMENTS

STATUE OF LIBERTY

". . . Send me your tired, your poor,
Your huddled masses yearning to breathe free,
The wretched refuse of your teeming shore.
Send these, the homeless, tempest-tossed to me,
I lift my lamp beside the golden door!"

These words by Emma Lazarus are graven on the pedestal of the Statue of Liberty Enlightening the World, which towers 305 feet above New York Harbor. The mighty statue is a monument to opportunity, to man's basic right to be free.

. . . embody the responsibility of ideals

One of the blessings of your American liberty is your right to choose your own future. Booklet Gives Tips on Buying, Cooking Meat

Buying meat wisely and cooking it successfully are among the daily challenges homemakers face.

A University of Minnesota agricultural extension service publication has been revised to help them meet these challenges and make the most of their meat dollars. The bulletin is "How to Choose, How to Cook Beef" by Verna Mikesh, extension nutritionist at the University of Minnesota.

Miss Mikesh emphasizes that a knowledge of the characteristics of the beef cuts will help consumers select the meat they want. The cuts along the back—such as the rib, short loin and sirloin—are the most tender, she explains, since the animal exercises these parts the least. Although there are variations in the tenderness of the muscles of the round and chuck, most of them are not very tender because the animal exercises these parts. A chart in the bulletin showing the location of cuts from a side of beef and 20 illustrations of different cuts will prove helpful to the consumer who wants to be more knowledgable in meat purchasing.

An explanation is given of federal beef grades and their characteristics as guides to judging and buying the quality desired. About 50 per cent of the graded beef in U.S. markets is now USDA Choice, which is characterized by its tenderness and moderate amount of marbling with fat.

A section of the publication is devoted to basic beef cookery: the use of dry heat methods such as oven roasting, broiling, panbroiling and panfrying for tender cuts, and moist-heat-methods-like-braising, stewing and simering for less tender cuts.

Miss Mikesh stresses the advantages of using low temperatures in meat cookery by comparing cooking losses in a standing rib roast weighing nine pounds, 10 ounces before cooking. Roasted at 300 degrees F. for four hours and 49 minutes, the roast shrank the normal amount of two pounds, two ounces. But when a similar cut was roasted at 450 degrees F. for 2 hours and 32 minutes, the shrinkage was three pounds, eight ounces, due to fat and moisture losses.

Copies of the bulletin are available from county offices or from Bulletin Room, Institute of Agriculture, University of Minnesota, St. Paul, Minn. 55101.

VA Guardianship Program Covers 11,000 In State

Almost 11,000 beneficiaries are now being served by the Veterans administration's guardianship program in Minnesota, according to John R. Murphy, manager of the VA center, St. Paul.

Estates of veterans and their dependents protected by this service are valued at approximately $18.5 million. The protection extends to additional income amounting to more than $8 million annually. The VA's guardianship program now includes 10,962 beneficiaries as compared with a total of 10,376 in 1963.

Murphy said that approximately four-fifths of the beneficiaries of the guardianship program are children of deceased veterans. The remainder are veterans or adult dependents of veterans who are incapable of managing their own financial affairs.

The chief attorney in the VA center administraters the program; participating in some 3,615 guardianship proceedings in local courts each year and conducting approximately 4,000 personal interviews with the beneficiaries in their homes. The office also provides benefit entitlement information, advice, counsel and any needed liaison with local agencies.

Murphy said that the VA's guardianship service is responsible for seeing that its wards receive the maximum benefit from the amounts paid to them. Funds received are invested or deposited in the communities where the beneficiaries live, to be used as the present and future needs of the beneficiaries may require.

Night Patrols To Watch for Winter Traffic Hazards

Minnesota highway department will again provide night patrols to keep a watchful eye on slippery spots and other winter traffic hazards which may occur during the midnight to morning hours. These patrols will consist of trucks equipped with sand and a spreading device to correct glazed areas, and a snow plow to remove nighttime snow accumulations. The patrols will also serve to alert their respective maintenance areas for additional help which may be needed in clearing heavy snows from the highways.

One major problem in snow removal during the night periods is the accumulation of considerable volumes of snow between the hours of 4 a.m. and the morning rush hour period. The traffic volumes between 7 and 9 a.m. hinder the movement of snow removal equipment to needed areas and sometimes result in serious delays in clearing trunk highways.

The dawn patrols provide the highway department with a time advantage in this respect due to the presence of an observer vehicle that can alert the rest of the crews and serve as a snow removal vehicle as well.

After a large snow fall it takes approximately two full days or more for the maintenance crews to fully clear the highways. The first step is to clear at least one full traffic lane in each direction in order to keep vehicles moving at a reasonable rate. The next steps are to clear the entire driving surface and the shoulders, intersections and finally attempt to eliminate visual screens created by large snow drifts which could crea blind spots to oncoming traffic.

In a particularly wet snowfall, highway signs may become covered with snow and road dirt. This could result in serious accidents. The maintenane crews are watchful for this and other hazards and often spend 12 or more hours per day clearing highways and sanding slippery spots.

The Library Corner

by Virginia Ojernes

Your librarians extend a most cordial invitation to you to attend CHILDREN'S BOOK WEEK. . . that's this week, all week long. Students enrolled in 1st, 2nd, 3rd and 4th grades of the city's school have received invitations to attend, along with their teachers. Each class will spend half an hour looking at exhibits, receiving instructions and browsing. Come in any time from 1 until 3 p.m. and see the enjoyment on the faces of the children. Some of them will be visiting thier public library for the very first time while others are patrons of long standing! The children will participate in the program, too.

New books have arrived for the occasion! These are special books, because they are of a type not seen before in library. The volumes will be on display all the week long and will not be available for borrowing until after "Education Week". The excellent selection includes biographies on John F. Kennedy; Buffalo Bill (Cody); George Washington; Kit Carson, Abraham Lincoln; Benjamin Franklin and Juliette Low: Girl Scout founder. These are written by authors well known in the juvenile field and published by Garrard.

Other biographies are in the Indian series and include volumes on Crazy Horse, the noted Sioux Warrior; Squanto, an Indian adventurer and Sacagawea, an Indian guide.

An excellent series tell of the adventures of Marco Polo, Hernando De Soto, Christopher Columbus, John Smith, James Cook and Ferdinand Magellan. All well known to young curious minds!

Sports minded champions of tomorrow will thrill when they see the excellent book on "The Game of Baseball". This new book includes a guide for laying out a regulation baseball diamond, a brief historical background, the rules of the game, professional baseball, and the Major leagues and the World Series. Another on the sport is "Stories of Champions", those who have won their place in the Baseball Hall of Fame.

Edward and Marguerite Dolch have three excellent entries in the folklore department! There are stories from Japan, from Mexico and from Alaska. A short descriptive foreward describes the background of each country and the origination of the tales.

The all important field of science has not been left out. The Junior Science book selection includes a volume on trees, one on stars, another on magnets and one on "Rain, Hail, Sleet and Snow". There is also one on volcanoes, another on water experiments and glaciers are described in another and weather experiments make up the contents of the last of the series. So whether your young reader is a budding biologist or a loving laboratory technician. . . there's a book to aid the search for facts.

The books in the categories already mentioned are large print, widely spaced, vividly illustrated volumes with easy to comprehend vocabulary but a high content interest all are suitable for those from third through eighth grade. Those in the lower grades will want to be sure and check out these three new fiction books: "Tony Beaver, Griddle Skater"; "Mike Fink and The Big Turkey Shoot" and "Captain Abner and Henry Q.". The three are also from Garrard and have the same easy-to-read print and the authors are Elizabeth and Carl Carmer, favorites of many.

These are not all the new volumes which will be on display, however, there will be some from the "Enchantment of America" series and from the "Let's Travel In—" group. There will be some antique books, too, for the children and the adults to look at and compare with today's reading material.

Be sure and listen carefully when your child comes home and tells you about the exciting library visit during "CHILDREN'S BOOK WEEK."

Remember, the public library and the joys and wonders it holds, are yours for the borrowing. Encourage your child to develop the reading habit early for it is one which will bring great pleasure all through his life.

And, while you're encouraging him—why not renew your own?

Insect Control Seminar Planned

A number of selected faculty members from the University of Minnesota will teach a special seminar on insect control at the Northwest School and Experiment station at Crookston, according to B. E. Youngquist, superintendent.

The sessions will be taught at the school and experiment station on Tuesdays from 4:30 to 8:30 p. m. on November 9, 16 and 23. Instructors will be from the university's department of entomology, fisheries and wildlife.

The seminar titled "Current Approaches to Insect Control," will cover current recommendations for insect - pest control with emphasis on reduction of pesticide hazards and research on alternative methods of insect control. The short, intensive professional - improvement seminar will provide specialized information for farmers, professional spraying companies and vocational agriculture instructors.

There is no charge for the insect control seminar. For more information about the course and enrollment, write to B. E. Youngquist, Northwest School and Experiment Station, University of Minnesota, Crookston.

Income Tax Forms Packages To Be Sent Next Month

Federal income tax forms packages will be mailed to Minnesota taxpayers about January 1, according to George O. Lethert, district director of Internal Revenue.

Several revisions for the convenience of the taxpayers have been added to both the forms and instructions, Lethert said. New features contained in the instructions include reduction in the number of tax tables from five to three to make it easier to find the correct tax; state sales tax tables and gasoline tax rates for deduction purposes; and an explanation of the combat pay exclusion for servicemen in Vietnam.

The type face and typography have been revised on the tax forms. In addition, first names of children have been reinstated, as well as space for entering the present employer's name on the return.

Sixty-four million income tax packages are printed by the revenue service annually, Lethert indicated, as well as almost a billion other forms needed by the IRS. The printing order uses the full capacity of the government printing office, as well as that of 40 commercial printers throughout the United States.

Greenbush Girl In UND Chorus

Sandra Wicklund of Greenbush is among 42 University of North Dakota students who have been selected for membership in the university chorus by Director James Fudge, associate professor of music at UND. Members are selected on the basis of superior music reading ability and vocal quality.

The chorus will give its first performance Saturday, during the fall music clinic festival. It will sing in the Thursday Music club program December 5. The Christmas concert is scheduled for December 15, at which the Varsity Bards and Woodwind Ensemble will also perform.

YOU Won't KNOW yourself!

Dressing up is always fun! Whether it's Hallowe'en, Mardi Gras, a Hawaiian luau or a masquerade ball, almost everyone of every age enjoys wearing a costume. It makes us feel "different" . . . less restrained and more light-hearted. Perhaps it's a relief to leave our everyday self at home for a while. For many of us, that tired, worried, unhappy self is far from satisfactory but we seem to be stuck with it.

Yet consider this: The burden of self that we carry is unnecessary . . . and we have a standing invitation to lay it down! One of the joys of following Jesus is that we must "leave self behind". There is no place in the Christian life for worry or woe, because the logical sequences of faith in God are contentment and serenity. Yes, the gloomiest pessimists become clear-visioned optimists when they are filled with the light that only God can give.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

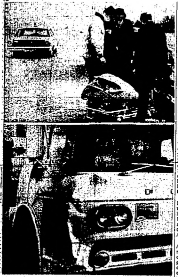
Gov. Rolvaag Reviews National Guard Status



STRUCK by a Land O'Lakes feed mixing truck Friday afternoon about half a mile east of Thief River Falls on highway 1, Sivert Askeland, 84, was killed instantly while walking on the highway at 2:05 p.m. The truck, driven by Bernhard Thiessen of Thief River Falls, was traveling west and Askeland was reportedly walking west in the north lane of traffic. The truck pulled into the south lane to go around him when Askeland walked across the centerline into its path, according to state highway patrol reports. In the top photo, Dr. E. O. Thorsgard, Pennington county coroner (center), and morticians Orin Green and Donald Kamrowski have placed the body on a stretcher for removal from the accident scene. Impact took place at the front of the police car shown at left. The bottom photo shows damage to the mixer truck. Funeral services will be held Tuesday at 2 p.m. in Grace Lutheran church at Grygla with Rev. S. J. Sigurgeirson officiating. Interment will be made in the Valle cemetery near Grygla. The body will lie in state at Green Funeral home until 10 a.m. Tuesday and at the church one hour prior to time of services.

Governor Karl F. Rolvaag has named the units of the Minnesota Army National Guard that will constitute the "Selected Reserve Force". The units, all part of the 47th "Viking" Infantry Division, will imediately embark on a program of intensified training and a buildup in strength and equipment to attain a state of improved readiness. Among these units is Company "B" of the National Guard in Thief River Falls.

A total of 49 units, with a strength of 7,752 officers and men will constitute the force. These units comprise the 47th Division Headquarters, an Infantry Brigade consisting of three infantry battalions, and supporting units of the "Division Base", 47th Infantry Division.

The 2d Infantry Brigade, 47th Infantry Division, with headquarters in St. Cloud, has been designed as the "SRF" Brigade. Commander of the Brigade is Col. Paul V. Meyer, Mankato. The brigade will consist of three battalions: the 3d Battalion, 135th Infantry, Worthington, commanded by Lt. Col. Russell Williams; the 4th Battalion, 135th Infantry, Rochester, commanded by Lt. Col. Frederick Steinhauser; and the 2d Battalion, 136th Infantry, Moorhead, commanded by Lt. Col. Donald Anderson.

The 1st Battalion, 151st Artillery, Minneapolis, has been named as the direct support Artillery Battalion of the force. Other artillery battalions, previously designated are 2d Battalion, 125th Artillery, Cloquet, and 1st Battalion, 175th Artillery, Montevideo.

At a press conference held in the Adjutant General's office Tuesday morning, Governor Rolvaag called on all Minnesotans to support the guard in this program. He particularly called on businessmen to cooperate fully with guardsmen who must meet the increased training requirements.

"Intensification of training of the selected guard units should not be looked on as a prelude to mobilization," Rolvaag said. "It is planned that, when the newly organized units of the active army have been brought to an adequate level of readiness, our guard units will revert to their normal status. Nevertheless, if the world situation should become critical, our selected units would be mobilized on short notice and sent to an operational theater with a minimum of postmobilization training. The training they perform at their armories and field training camps during the next year or so is of utmost importance to them and, indeed, to our nation.

The comitment we have made in Viet Nam and elsewhere is a national commitment in which we all must share. We rely heavily on our military forces, and they need our support and understanding. Employers, our educational institutions, and the families of guardsmen will be required to make adjustments.

"Certainly the citizens of Minnesota should be proud that our 47th Division has been selected for this important task, and we should give them our fullest support and cooperation."

Because of the need to bring SRF units as near as possible to 100 per cent strength with trained personne, it has been necessary in a number of instances to split companies between two comunities, drawing trained personnel from non-SRF units. Thus, although only 49 companies constitute the SRF force 69 units are involved. In some cases, also, it has been necessary to realign battalions to place higher-strength units in the SRF.

TRF Will Host 50 Principals at Conference Here

Thief River Falls will serve as host Tuesday at the Franklin junior high school to over 50 principals and counselors from northwestern Minnesota high schools who will hear information relating to the latest developments in the Minnesota state-wide testing program.

Directing the afternoon conference, starting at 1:30 p.m., will be a team from the University of Minnesota headed by Gary Joselyn, school testing consultant. Highlights of the program will include discussion by Dr. Edward O. Swanson of the University's testing bureau on "Senior Retest Results on the Scholastic Aptitude Test in the Minnesota State-Wide Testing Program"; Dr. Rodney Loper's presentation of research relating to "Acurcy of Counselor Predictions of Scholastic Performance in College"; and a presentation by Joselyn on "Trends and Developments in the Minnesota State-Wide Testing Program."

The testing conference is held annually at the University of Minnesota in Minneapolis, but because of the distance and time many principals and counselors in this area are unable to attend the Twin Cities sessions. Through the efforts of the Northwestern Minnesota Counselors' association the Tuesday program was scheduled so that these people could obtain information on the state-wide program.

Registrations will be accepted until the time of conference.

Pederson Elected Plummer Mayor

Ernest Pederson was elected mayor of Plummer Tuesday with a total of 43 write-in votes out of the 75 ballots cast. Gene Mattison polled 13 write-in votes for mayor. No one filed for the office.

Junior College Newest School in T.R.F. Area

by Marvin Lundin
Times Editor

(This is the concluding article in a series of stories on Thief River Falls schools. Previous articles dealt with the school system in general, public elementary, junior and senior high schools, St. Bernard's and the Seventh-Day Adventist parochial schools and the area vocational-technical school. Today's story concerns the new junior college.)

Although the Thief River Falls Junior college is a new educational facility for the area, the junior college program in general is not new to Minnesota. Public junior colleges in the state have existed in the state since 1914, but until 1957 they were supported and operated entirely by local school districts. Partial state assistance was provided from 1957 to 1964, and full state support was granted by the 1963 legislature which established the state junior college board.

A junior college for the northwestern Minnesota area has been the dream of area residents for many years. Because of the huge costs of sending students away to college in larger cities—or increased tuition costs for Minnesota students in other states—many of the area's talented young people were forced to give up hope for a college education. The junior college now has changed this aspect drastically.

An indication of the higher education void which has existed in northwestern Minnesota for years is the present enrollment at the college which started classes here September 20. Local members of the junior college committee had hoped for 100 students and believed they may be a little optimistic. Opening day enrollment was 159 students from 38 communities, forcing a hurried order for additional books and supplies.

Dean Charles White, who faced a monumental task in organizing the program, conducting enrollment, securing faculty members and ordering materials, attributed the large enrollment to the work and encouragement of the local junior college committee and area principals, superintendants and counselors.

Enthusiastic about the junior college program, Dean White notes that "it gives everyone in the state at least one opportunity to test their college abilities". The college here is provisionally accredited by the University of Minnesota—the accrediting agency for the state—and courses offered here transfer at full credit to any college where a student may choose to enroll at a future date.

Dean White exphasized that grades attained at the college transfer as they appear on the transcript. Transfer students do not lose credits and they do not lose grades. The grade point average at each respective school, however, starts from zero. There has been some confusion on this point, Dean White noted, but students and prospective students at the lo-

State To Honor 402,000 Veterans On Veterans Day

An estimated 402,000 veterans in Minnesota will be honored on Veterans Day, November 11. The state's veterans number almost two per cent of the total veteran population of 21,813,000, according to the Veterans Administration center at Ft. Snelling.

Approximately 261,000 are veterans of World War II. Another 108,000 are veterans of the Korean conflict. Both these figures include 18,000 veterans who served during both actions.

Minnesota has about 48,000 living veterans of World War I. Another 3,000 veterans are former members of the regular establishment (peacetime) who receive VA disability compensation, or served in the Spanish-American War. One of the seven remaining Indian Wars veterans lives in the state.

Of the total veteran population, the average age is 45.8 years. Veterans who served in World War II average 45.9 years. Korean conflict veterans, including those "double-duty" veterans who also served in World War II, have an average age of 35.9 years; Korean conflict only, 33.9 years; World War I veterans, 70.9 years, and Spanish-American War, 87.1 years.

Peter Lendobeja Named Winner Of Chicago Trip

Peter Lendobeja, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Julian Lendobeja of Kratka township, is the 1965 winner of the Farm Boy to Chicago trip sponsored by the Thief River Falls Jaycee chapter.

Lendobeja, a member of the Kratka 4-H club, has spent eight years in 4-H work and has completed 22 projects. He was the reserve champion in shop exhibits at the 1961 Pennington county fair, won a blue ribbon for a shop exhibit at the 1961 Minnesota state fair and was elected vice president of his club in 1964. He was a junior leader for three years.

Projects carried out by Lendobeja included dairy, conservation, electrification, shop and grain.

TRADITION of dairying in the Muzzy family is being carried out by Kurt Muzzy, shown above receiving a plaque for having the top purebred calf at the Pennington county fair. In his first year of club work as a member of the Steiner club, Curt is receiving his award from Paul Stelmaschuk, county agricultural agent, who recently resigned after 10 years here to accept a position with the state extension office in St. Paul. Mr. and Mrs. Stelmaschuk were presented with a large wall clock from the 4-H leaders council at the Wednesday banquet.

Name Rufus Olson Award Recipient

Rufus Olson, Kratka township farmer who has been a cooperator in the Pennington County Soil Conservation district since 1958, was selected as Conservation Farmer for 1965 by the local district, according to Robert Kloubec, work unit conservationist.

District Conservation Farmer competition is sponsored annually by the local district and the Minneapolis Star and Tribune. Olson will receive an engraved plaque as a symbol of his selection at the annual meeting of the district.

Olson operates a 320-acre farm in Kratka township, raising small grain crops and dairy cattle. He is chairman of the Thief River Falls board of education, an officer in his local church and a former adult leader of the Kratka 4-H club.

Among the conservation practices which he has applied on his farm are constiuction of stock water its, more than three miles of field drainage ditches, tree planting around the farm buildings, approved crop rotation, a tame pasture program with rotation grazing; and improvement of permanent pasture. For the past several years he has been doing a careful job of soil testing.

Olson also cooperated in a group drainage project with 10 other neighbors several years ago, providing his farm with water outlets so that he could carry out the drainage program needed on his fields.

Judges for the competition this year were William Penning of the extension office staff and Fred Sorensen, agricultural representative for Union State bank.

Paulson-Palm Vows Spoken At Greenbush

Bethel Lutheran church of Greenbush was the scene of the recent marriage of Jane LaMae Paulson and Russell Wesley Palm. The Rev. James Query officiated before an altar arranged with white phlox and yellow mums. Soloist Bryon Eeg sang "O Promise Me" and "The Lord's Prayer", accompanied by Carolyn Thompson.

The bride's parents were the late Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Paulson, Greenbush, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose Lundgren of Roseau.

Escorted to the altar by her brother-in-law, Carl Anderson of Thief River Falls, the bride wore a floor-length gown of white bridal satin. The bodice, styled with lace over satin, was enhanced with sequins and featured long tapering sleeves. A jeweled crown secured the veil of silk illusion and she carried a cascade of yellow roses and white mums.

Sisters of the groom were chosen by the bride as her attendants. Gloria Palm was maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Linda Palm and Nancy Palm, all of Roseau. They wore yellow dresses designed with batteau necklines plunging to a V in the back. Embroidered borders encircled their skirts and each attendant carried a long stemmed yellow rose. Carol Lynn Anderson of Thief River Falls attended her aunt as flower girl.

For his attendants, the groom chose his brother, Raymond Lundgren of Roseau as best man and Rodney and Duane Paulson, brothers of the bride, as groomsmen. Curtis Skrutvold, brother-in-law of the bride, and John Lundgren, brother of the groom, and both of Roseau, were ushers.

Approximately 100 relatives and friends attended the reception served in the Bethel Parish building by the brothers and sisters of the bride. Janice Aamodt cut and served the wedding cake, while Mrs. John Langaas and Mrs. Gordon Ruglund poured. Ruth Roberts and Mrs. Lyle Starren arranged the gifts and the waitresses were Cindy Paulson and Patty Erickson.

The bride attended Greenbush high school and the groom, a graduate of the Roseau high school, served in the U.S. Army Engineer Corps for three years. A former employee at the Anseby garage in Thief River Falls, he is now employed by Prior Electric at Roseau, where Mr. and Mrs. Palm are making their home.

American Legion Auxiliary Plans Many Activities

At the regular meeting of the American Legion auxiliary, it was announced that the unit will go to the Veterans Administration hospital at Fargo, N.D., November 17 to give the birthday party for the veterans. The Strandquist unit will attend with the local group. Those wishing to attend may contact Mrs. James Cuppett.

Plans were made for the Christmas party. Instead of the usual exchange of gifts, each member was requested to bring 75 cents to be given to the Roseau Childrens home to help replenish their supply shelves.

It was also announced by the department head that the local American Legion Auxiliary trio who are also the state championship trio, has been invited to attend the fall conference in Minneapolis December 3-4 and perform for the National President. Members of the trio are Mrs. Norman Peterson, Mrs. Jarvis Prichard and Mrs. L. P. Winters with Mrs. Frank Harger as accompanist.

Hostesses serving refreshments were Mrs. Armond Johnson, Mrs. Oscar Hagen and Mrs. Cal Ripley. Special intertainment followed.

Girl Scout Troop No. 87 Collect For UNICEF

Girl Scout troop No. 87 held a Halloween party Saturday evening, October 30, in the basement at Redeemer Lutheran church in this city.

Members of Patrol Number One hosting the party, planning the many games and serving the delicious lunch were Margaret Fox, Cathy Vigness, Nicolette Kloubec, Ellen Vagle, Mary Ann Arhart, Frances Hanson, Linda Berger and Patty Barry.

The girls came in costume. Winning the awards for the best costumes were Jeneene Sagmoen and Jill Berry. Under the sponsorship of the Redeemer Lutheran church 21 members of the troop went trick and treating for UNICEF. Highlight of the evening was the opening of the containers and counting the money. A total of $47.20 was turned over to the Rev. Dennis Rodin, just $2.80 short of their goal needed to purchase equipment for a small clinic for a mother and child.

At the meeting of the troop on Monday, special visitors were four Explorer Scouts, Chris Prichard, Douglas Knutson, Berton Prichard and Steven Onken, together with their associate advisor, Clarence Knutson. These boy Scouts came to help the girls practice their camp craft skills in preparation for the camping trip to the Black Hills planned for next summer.

Pink And Blue Shower Held For Mrs. R. Hoglo

Mrs. Richard Hoglo of this city was feted at her home Tuesday evening when friends and relatives gathered for a pink and blue shower. A carnation corsage was presented to the guest of honor and the evening was spent playing games, with prizes being awarded the winners. KITCHEN KARNIVAL

Features from the Kitchen of

416 NORTH MAIN

Do you recall coming home from school, walking into an aroma-filled kitchen and sitting down to a snack of freshly baked molasses cookies and a glass of ice cold milk? Why not surprise the family tonight with that old-fashioned treat? The recipe for today has won several first prize ribbons at the Pennington county fair and was a first prize winner again this year.

Mrs. Carl Green graciously submitted the recipe.

MOLASSES CRINKLES

¾ cup shortening
1 cup brown sugar, packed
1 egg
¼ cup dark molasses
2 cup flour
2 teaspoons soda
¼ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon cloves
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon ginger

Method: Cream shortening and sugar, add the egg and molasses and mix thoroughly. Sift together flour, soda, salt and spices and add to creamed mixture. Mix well and chill dough. Form into 1¼ inch balls, dip tops in sugar and place three inches apart on a greased baking sheet. Bake at 375 degrees for 10-12 minutes or until set but not hard.

Mrs. Green stated that the secret of the recipe is not to overbake the cookies as they should be crisp but not hard. A little experimenting may be necessary in order to produce the desired crispness.

Mrs. Green has seven children, five daughters and two sons, and 17 grandchildren. Three daughters live in Thief River Falls. They are Mrs. Palmer (Marion) Lorenson, Mrs. Ben (Hildegard) Hamre and Mrs. Clifford (Carmen) Larson. Mrs. William (Dorothy) Soeby resides at Tillamook, Ore., and Mrs. Herb (Helen) Seline lives in Albert Lea. Her son, Donald is associated with the Small Business Loan Administration at Fargo, N. D., and resides in Moorhead and Paul is with Control Data corporation in Minneapolis.

A member of the Sow and Hoe Garden club, Mrs. Green enjoys working with flowers and used to have a large garden until she moved into an apartment following the death of her husband. She is also a member of the Zion Lutheran church, one of its 12 circles and the ZLCW.

A sincere thank you to the voters of Thief River Falls for the fine support given me in the city election.

STANLEY R. MORTENSON
Municipal Judge

Mr. & Mrs. Bennes, Once Of Holt, Note Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bennes of Torrance, Calif., and once of Holt, were guests of honor at a 50th wedding anniversary reception held Sunday, October 3 at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Albert (Buelah) Fredrickson at Torrance. While living in this area, Mr. Bennes, an uncle of Lloyd Bennes of this city owned and operated a restaurant at Holt. The Fredericksons were former residents of this city.

For the event, the guests were received in the recreation room at the Frederickson home where refreshments were served. To carry out the gold and white color scheme used in decorating the room, the white linen covered table was centered with a large gold and white floral centerpiece flanked by crystal candelabra and gold candles. The same colors were used in the aniversary punch and in decorating the three-tiered anniversary cake.

To greet the 60 relatives and friends that attended the reception, the honroed couple wore a white orchid corsage and a gold and white carnation boutonniere, gifts from their twin granddaughters, Judy Putnam and Janice Harrison.

MEA To Present Award to School Board Member

Minnesota Education association (MEA) is again looking for the state's outstanding school board member. As in past years, the Distinguished Service Award will be presented during the annual convention of the Minnesota School Boards association (MSBA) to be held in January in St. Paul. Dr. A. E. Jacobson of Thief River Falls won the award in 1949.

The award goes to a person selected as being representative of the thousands of laymen who devote time, talent and energy to running Minnesota's public schools, explains MEA President Nicholas E. Duff, Minnetonka high school social studies teacher.

Qualities possessed by outstanding school board members, Duff said, include insistence on professional performance in the classroom, sensitivity to needs of the community's educational system and exercise of sound judgment in making decisions, respect for the professional status of teachers and administrators and insistence on adequate financing for improvement of educational standards including retention of good teachers.

Nomination forms have been distributed throughout Minnesota. Deadline for entries is midnight December 15.

Marine Killed in Action Is Cousin Of TRF Residents

Robert E. Swanson, 18, Grand Forks marine who was the first Grand Forks serviceman killed in action in Vietnam, was a cousin of three Thief River Falls residents. They are Evelyn Prigge, Mrs. John Uggerud and Mrs. Thomas Landowski.

Swanson was wounded October 24 while on patrol in Da Nang province of Vietnam and died October 28 at an Air Force hospital in the Philippines. He was presented with the Purple Heart October 25 by Sen. Edward Kennedy.

The Grand Forks youth had written the following in his last letter dated October 20: "We're going out on patrol tomorrow—out where that patrol was wiped out. But we're going to have 50 to 60 men with us. Lopez and I are the point (scout), the first two men in the patrol. It gets kinda hairy. Now, it isn't that bad." He had enlisted in the Marine Corps last January, and been in Vietnam since July.

Solve Case of Burning of Bales

Investigation of the Halloween burning of a stack of hay bales owned by John Kjellberg of rt. 1, Thief River Falls, located on the Minnie Myrom farm, has led to the arrest of three suspects, Sheriff Charles R. Richards reported today.

Appearing in municipal court today charged with arson will be Kenneth Kalstad, 23, and Melville Bakken, 18, both of rt. 1, Thief River Falls. The third person involved is a juvenile whose name has not been released. State Fire Marshal Pat Barry assisted in the investigation, Richards said.

Other Halloween mischief in the county, Richards said, consisted of two false fire alarms in St. Hilaire and a light bulb stolen from that village's water tower.

Roseau Co. Sells 1,483.43 Acres

A total of 1,483.43 acres of county lands were sold in the land sale held recently in the Roseau county courthouse, according to Richard Bergan, county auditor. The lands brought a total of $12,326.54 and down payments of $2,604.24.

A total of $275 in lands was sold in Badger, $175 in Roseau, $40 in Warroad and $256 in Roosevelt. The lands sold at prices ranging from $5 to $18 per acre, Bergan said. The largest parcel of land, 570.87 acres, was purchased by Glenn V. Shaffer of Bunker Hill, Kan.

Snow Heralds the Coming of Winter To Northern Minn.

Winter weather made its first appearance of the season in northern Minnesota today with a trace of snow recorded at the Thief River Falls airport and several inches on the ground in areas near the Canadian border. Snow last night and early this morning accumulated to three inches in Roseau, two inches in International Falls and about four inches in the area north of Karlstad. The snow was blown by a strong northwesterly wind, reducing visibility to three-eighths of a mile in some areas.

Cloudy skies, colder temperatures and occasional snow flurries are forecast today. Variable cloudiness and colder is the outlook for tonight and tomorrow. High today will be near 32 degrees; low tonight about 18.

Temperatures recorded during the past several days at the municipal airport are as follows: 55 and 34 on Wednesday, 45 and 17 on Thursday, 51 and 35 on Friday, 39 and 24 on Saturday and 41, 27 and a trace on Sunday. Temperature this morning is holding at 24 but will fall this afternoon.

Creamery Head At Greenbush Has Resigned Position

After six years of service as manager of the Farmers Cooperative Creamery of Greenbush, Wendell Swan has resigned effective November 1 to accept employment with the Thomas Oil company of Mankato.

Before coming to Greenbush, Swan was quality fieldman for Roseau County Creameries. He will be located in the northern part of the state and his family will remain at least temporarily in Greenbush. Replacing him as manager will be Gordon Anderson, who has been helper and manager at Goodridge for 10 years.

Gas Leaking from Old Refrigerator Hospitalizes Vik

John Vik of 213 West Third st. in Thief River Falls was hospitalized overnight at Northwestern hospital when a coolant gas leaked from an old-style refrigerator in his home and caused a choking effect, according to Thief River Falls police officers who were called to the scene.

Vik was reportedly awakened by the gas fumes which had made their way from the basement to the upstairs of the house. The local fire department was called, fans installed to clear the house of fumes and the refrigerator removed.

The attending physician for Vik said that the gas was irritating but was non-lethal unless received in extreme dosage.

Trinity Park Is Being Readied for Winter Season

Trinity Park, located on the Red Lake riverbank about one-quarter mile south of the Oakland Park rest home, on the Joel Rosengren property, is undergoing improvements in preparation for the winter season. All Luther League groups have used it for outings, and plans are to continue its use for outings and campfires during late fall and winter.

Trustees of Trinity Lutheran church have approved the installation of mercury lights, one on the edge of the hill and another in the middle of the park. Toilet facilities will also be constructed. Rev. Reuben A. Wangberg announced that all things necessary for sliding, skiing and tobogganing on the hill should be in readiness for the winter season. No artificial slide will be constructed this winter, he said, but the distance between the top of the hill and the river is great enough to provide a lot of sliding fun.

The committee planning the "layout" has specified certain trees to be cut down and has planned for soothing out a softball diamond. In addition, areas have been set aside for campfire and picnic activity. Several Luther League "work bees" have cleared away some of the marked trees and superfluous brush.

Osmund Frette Rites To Be Held Wed. at Erskine

Osmund T. Frette, 87, of Gully and formerly of the Erskine community, died Sunday morning at the Fosston hospital where he had been a patient for the past several days. Mr. Frette had been in failing health for several years.

Funeral services for Osmund Frette will be held Wednesday at 2 p. m. at the Saron Lutheran church north of Erskine. The Rev. P. E. Onstad will officiate and interment will be in the church cemetery. The body will lie in state at the Petterson Funeral home, Oklee, beginning at 3 p. m. Tuesday until Wednesday noon and at the church for one hour prior to the time of services.

Osmund T. Frette was born Mar. 3, 1878 at Atene, Norway. As a child he came to the United States with his parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Thor Frette, living for a short time at Thompson, N. D., before moving to Badger township, rural Erskine. He was united in marriage to Martha Lee on Sept. 6, 1915 at Erskine. They made their home with a daughter, Mrs. Hilda Kvanle.

Mr. and Mrs. Frette celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary Sunday, October 17.

Survivors include his wife, Martha; two sons, Theodore and Omar Frette, both of Minneapolis; two daughters, Mrs. Hilda Kvanle of Gully and Mrs. Arthur (Myrtle) Hamrum of Brooks and nine grandchildren.

He was preceded in death by one sister.

Fredolph Johnson, Once TRF Business Man, Dies in Mpls.

Funeral services for Fredolph Johnson, 62, who at one time owned and operated the Falls Produce company in Thief River Flias, were held Saturday, October 30, at the Albin Funeral chapel in Minneapolis. Interment was made in the Lakewood cemetery in that city. Mr. Johnson died Wednesday, October 27.

Fredolph Johnson, the son of the late Jacob and Sarah Johnson, was born on a farm in Eagle Point township, Marshall county on Nov. 27, 1902. He was united in marriage to Inez Erickson on March 25, 1932 at Alvarado. Mr. Johnson was manager of the Alvarado Cooperative creamery for several years prior to owning and operating the Falls Produce company in this city. In 1955 he moved to Minneapolis and worked at Sanford Hall, University of Minnesota until he became disabled in 1958 following a heart attack. He was an active member of the Grace Baptist church in Minneapolis.

Survivors include his wife and five children, Donald, Mrs. Charles (Sylvia) Dorcus, Kay and Clark, all of Minneapolis and Charles of West St. Paul, three grandchildren; Randy, Timothy and Candace Johnson and one sister, Mrs. Otto (Cecelia) Olson of Drayton, N.D., and several nieces and nephews.

Services Held At Stephen For Jonas Vestin, 88

Jonas Vestin, 88, a resident for the past several years of the various rest homes in this city, died Thursday, October 28, at Northwestern hospital where he had been a patient for two months.

Funeral services for Jonas Vestin were held the following day at the Salem Lutheran church at Stephen with the Rev. Harvey Jackson officiating. Interment was in the church cemetery.

Olafson Hammel Jonas Vestin was born in Nasia Vaarnorra, Sweden on March 3, 1877. His parents died when he was a small child. In 1883 he immigrated to the United States with Mr. and Mrs. Peter Vestin and was raised in their home in the Salem Community.

He worked on farms in Spring-Brook and Augsburg townships, Kittson and Marshall counties, respectively, until about 35 years ago when he came to this community where he was employed as a farm hand until his retirement.

As far as is known, Mr. Vestin had no survivors.

PRESIDENT of the Steiner 4-H club, David Halverson, holds the "Club of the Year" plaque which was presented to the Steiner club at the 4-H club banquet Wednesday night at the National Guard armory in Thief River Falls.

Llewellyn Botten Dies In Mpls.; Rites Here Tues.

TRF School Board To Meet Tonight

Regular monthly meeting of the Thief River Falls board of education will be held today at 8 p.m. at Lincoln senior high school. A relatively small amount of essential business is on the agenda and it is expected that considerable time will be devoted to discussion and receipt of information on other school matters.

Several teacher contracts are scheduled for approval. Mrs. Clarice Gallher has been hired to replace John LaBonte as instructor in junior high school mathematics. LaBonte was named principal when Francis Hamerlinck was moved from principal to administrative assistant in the district. Mrs. Gallher is a graduate of Bemidji State college and has had five years of experience at Baudette and LaPorte.

Dean Phakewitz has been hired as the second instructor in aviation mechanics at the area vocational-technical school where a new class has been started. A native of Wadena, he is a graduate of Spartan Aviation school in Oklahoma. He has had five years of experience at Flying Cloud airport and was self-employed for two years at Brainerd. A licensed pilot, he has an A & E mechanics license, hold an inspector's ratings and is also a licensed examiner.

Mrs. (Kenneth) Yvonne Habedank has been hired as instructor for one of the district's first grade classes.

Rolvaag Reviews National Guard Program Status

Units not included in the Selected Reserve Force will be designated as "Reinforcing Reserve" with an authorization of 50 per cent of full manning. Heretofore all Minnesota Army Guard units were authorized 70 per cent strength. The combined strength of SRF and Reinforcing Reserve units will boost guard strength in Minnesota by approximately 1,000 men and will open recruiting, which has recently been curtailed because of strength limitations. Priority of enlistment will be for SRF units.

Effective dat eof reorganization of SRF units is November 15. Training assemblies will henceforth be of four-hour duration (some are now only two-hour), and the number of assemblies will be increased by 50 per cent from 48 to 72 per year. Staffs of battalion and higher headquarters will be required to conduct an additional 24 assemblies, for a total of 96 per year.

If it should become necessary to mobilize the Selected Reserve Force, the 47th Division would be augmented by a reinforced brigade from the 32d Infantry Division in Wisconsin and reinforced brigade from the 45th Infantry Division in Oklahoma to bring the Division to full strength. Major General Donald C. Grant, Golden Valley, is commander of the 47th "Viking" Division.

Junior College Newest School For T. R. Falls

cal junior college may be assured that attendance here will be no different than attendance at any other college.

The college offers education in liberal arts, pre-professional and general education and also offers faculty counseling to assist students in making their way into the various fields. Courses are available to anyone for credit or not for credit, and students may enter in the fall, winter or spring quarter and take a full or partial class load.

Counseling is done in regard to the schools to which they plan to transfer as well as a terminal education program. Courses taught here are the same as at four-year colleges, books are used the same as at many state colleges and the instructors qualify with master's degrees in their subject matter fields.

This year's enrollment is only a start, since it is entirely a freshman program. Next year courses will be offered for both freshmen and sophomores and it is expected the college will offer adult and vocational programs. Dean White anticipates the need for 15 full-time instructors next yaer.

While the college is in its first year and activities are necessarily restricted by the school's location in the senior high school building, there are a number of activities in which students may participate. These include an intra-mural athletic program for boys, a basketball program, newspaper, yearbook, student government, chorus, social events, golf and wrestling.

Since the state legislature created the junior college board, the 11 existing junior colleges in the state have chosen to join in the system and are now supported by state appropriations and student tuition and fees. New junior colleges are at Thief River Falls and in the Twin Cities metropolitan area.

Cost of junior college attendance is $5 per credit hour for resident students and $8 for students from out of state. Estimated total minimum expenses for each quarter are $115, which includes $75 for 5 quarter hours tuition $10 for activity fee and $30 for books and supplies. Because of increased tuition, non - resident expenses would total $160.

Courses offered include art, biology, chemistry, engineering, English, history, mathematics, music, orientation, physical education, physics, political science, public health, sociology, Spanish and speech. More information may be obtained in the junior college catalog available at the college office.

"Thief River Falls junior college finds its origin in the philosophy that higher education should be made available to all persons of post high school age who can benefit from this educational experience," Dean White said. "The college provides opportunities for two years of college level education for young men and women and adults in the Thief River Falls area."

3 Auto Mishaps In City Cause $595 In Damage

Three automobile accidents resulting in property damage totaling $595 were reported today by the Thief River Falls police department. On Thursday at 2:25 p.m. a car driven by Clarence Dicken, city, was traveling south in the alley between Horace and Atlantic avenues in the 200 block. Dicken had to maneuver around two tractors parked in the alley and struck the rear corner of a flat-bed truck owned by the Consumers Co-op. association which was parked on the west side of the alley. The Dicken car was damaged to the extent of about $150.

At 10 p.m. Thursday a car driven by Einer Peterson, Milton, N. D., was going north on Kendall avenue and struck a pickup owned by June Wetch, Dilworth, which was parked in the 100 block on South Kendall. Damage was estimated at $200 to the Peterson car and $30 to the Wetch pickup. The mishap is under investigation.

On Friday at 9 a.m. a car driven by Mrs. Coreen Nelson, city, was going east on First street and was struck on the left door by one driven by Sharon K. Swanson, city, which was going south on LaBree and entered the First street intersection. Damage was estimated at $65 to the Nelson car and $150 to the Swanson vehicle. Miss Swanson was charged with failure to yield the right-of-way.

Pennington NFO To Meet Thursday

Monthly meeting of the Pennington county chapter of the National Farmers organization will be held Thursday at 8:30 p.m. in the lunch room of Joppru's sales barn. All members are urged to turn in their final grain reports at the meeting, according to Danny Johnson, county NFO president.

Special Election Scheduled for Skime-Wannaska

To decide whether or not to merge the Wannaska school district and that portion of Skim not included in the Grygla school consolidation will be the purpose of a special election called for November 10 at Skime and Wannaska, according to Charles Christianson, Roseau county superintendent of schools.

Christianson reported that 25 per cent of the freeholders in the two districts have signed petitions requesting the county superintendent to call the election. Polls will be open between 7 and 9 p.m. at the two schools.

The Roseau county superintendent stated there will be ample room at the Wannaska school for the number of pupils involved when the new facilities are completed this fall. If approved, the consolidation would not become effective until July 1, 1966, with attendance continuing as at present for the balance of this school year.

Sinclair Attends Tax Conference In New Orleans

Those attending the conference include legislator and lay members from all of the 50 states. Senator Sinclair has been appointed an official delegate to the conference by Governor Rolvaag.

Senator Sinclair represents the 67th Legislative District consisting of the counties of Kittson, Marshall and Roseau.

Red Lake Falls Voters Elect 4 New Councilmen

With the exception of one hold-over—Alderman L. J. Savard from the second ward, Red Lake Falls will have a new council and mayor at the start of 1966. In a light turnout at the city election Tuesday in which some 260 persons cast ballots, four new councilmen were elected along with Mildred Paul, city clerk, who was appointed several months ago to fulfill the unexpired term of Mrs. Alice Baker.

Elected mayor was Vaugh Thorfinnson, Lafayette high school faculty member. He will succeed Retiring Mayor Lawrence Phillon, whose term will end December 31. New aldermen elected include John Hendrix, Ed Elterman, Roger Eckstin and Robert Dodds. Outgoing councilmen are Arthur Guillemette, Clem Johanneck, Allen Haack and Armand Benoit.

Elected to the park board for a four-year term was Lynn Kellenheim. Gregg Poullot, Mike Hajicek and G. W. Christie were elected for two-year terms.

RLF Junior Class To Present Play

Junior class at Lafayette high school of Red Lake Falls will hold its annual class play at 8 p.m. Thursday in the school auditorium. The play is "No More Homework", a comedy written by John Henderson. Tickets will be sold at the door at a cost of 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children.

AAA Session Set In City Nov. 17

Nearly 1,000 members of the Minnesota State Automobile association (AAA) and their guests in the Thief River Falls area will attend a travel party at Lincoln high school Wednesday, November 17, at 8 p.m., according to Glen Krenz, local AAA representative.

Two color movies will be featured during the evening. The first will be a 25-minute film on the United States entitled "The Land We Love," narrated by Raymond Massey, movie and TV star. The second will be a picture tour of Mexico. Also shown will be a Walt Disney production on traffic safety entitled "Freeway-phobia."

Special event of the party will be the presentation of an AAA pedestrian safety award to the city of Thief River Falls with the Minnesota Safety Council participating.

In charge of the party will be Robert Rossman, AAA state director of travel promotion, and Wes Meyer, special representative in the Minnesota AAA's department of public affairs. Rossman will describe briefly upcoming AAA tours to Hawaii, the Caribbean and Mexico.

James Terrian, Medical Student, In Grand Rapids

James Terrian of Thief River Falls, a senior medical student at the University of Minnesota school of medicine, is spending a month in Grand Rapids under a preceptorship program sponsored by the Minnesota Academy of General Practice in cooperation with the medical school.

Terrian is living in the home of Dr. and Mrs. R. T. Kelly while accompanying the Grand Rapids physician on day and night calls. "We want the students to get a better idea of general practice in a small town," Dr. Kelly said, "and we hope to encourage more doctors to become family physicians by exposing them to the type of work the family doctor does and the type of life he leads. Junior and senior medical students are eligible for the program."

Terrian said he requested Grand Rapids for his preceptorship because he enjoys hunting and fishing in northern Minnesota. Terrian added that he is "much impressed with the medical and hospital facilities in Grand Rapids."

Several Hunting Seasons To End Soon in State

Hunting seasons on several species of small game are either ended for the year or will soon close, the Minnesota Conservation department pointed out today.

The state-wide ruffed grouse season ended Sunday, October 31. A second season for grouse, restricted to deer zone 6 in southeastern Minnesota, will open November 16 and close November 30.

The season on sharptailed grouse closed October 17. Seasons on pheasant and Hungarian partridge will close November 14.

Hunting of ducks, coot and mergansers will end November 17, but the goose season continues until December 10. The season on jacksnipe, woodcock, rails and gallinules closes November 6.

Many days of hunting remain for those seeking squirrel and rabbit. The season on gray and fox squirrel will be open until December 31, and hunting of all species of rabbit will be legal until March 1.

The firearms deer season opens statewide on November 13 and will run from one to nine days in the various zones. Hunters are urged to refer to their synopsis of hunting and trapping regulations for details on all hunting seasons.

All-Conference Team Named by North Tri-County

McIntosh and Plummer, the co-champions of the North Tri-County football conference, with records of six wins and one loss apiece, each placed four players on the All-Conference squad chosen by the coaches association. From the McIntosh squad, and all the players named to the squad are seniors, were David Jore, fullback; Curtis Mosser, halfback; Terry Olson, center; and Billy Smith, quarterback. The Plummer Cardinals named were Larry Juneau, Fullback; Darrell Martell, halfback; Ray Walter, quarterback; and Gary Arlt, end.

Other players, and teams honored, were Middle River, with Bob Engelstad, tackle; Peter Anderson, fullback; and Eldon Sparby, end. Oklee with Gary Fossum, halfback; Gary Hruby, halfback; and Louis Vettleson, tackle. Goodridge with Jim McEnelly, tackle; Gary Vraa, guards; and Bob Bendickson, halfback. Mentor had Milton Reck, a halfback and Michael LaPlante, a guard, on the squad. Gonvick placed Dean Vatne, a fullback, and Dennis Odegard, a halfback, on the squad. And the Erskine team had David Talgo, a tackle, and Kenny Hanson, also a tackle, on the All-Conference squad.

Hunters Mass Is Set at Florian

Rev. Jerome Dalka, O.M.I., of the Assumption church of Florian has announced that a special Hunters' Mass will be said at the church at 5:30 a.m. November 14 and 21 for the convenience of the deer hunters of the area.

Boy Scouts Plan Hunter Breakfast

Boy Scout Troop 59 of Zion Lutheran church will hold its annual deer hunter's breakfast Saturday from 2 a.m. to 8 a.m. in the church basement. Sausages and all the pancakes and eggs you can eat will be served and coffee jugs filled for $1.

Permit Hunting On Reservation

Provisions for deer hunting on the Red Lake Indian reservation have been made by the tribal council of the Red Lake Band of Chippewa Indians, according to Dan Needham, council treasurer. Permits for $10, which cover the entire season, are available at the council office or from Needham at his home.

Hunters must employ Indian guides in addition to purchasing the permits, Needham said. Camping on the reservation is allowed at no extra charge.

OPEN TO HUNTERS again this year will be the Agassiz National Wildlife refuge located east of Holt. The entire refuge will be open to hunting with the exception of a small area around refuge headquarters. Deer may be taken with firearms or bow and arrow from sunrise to sunset during the period November 13 through 17 only. Hunters must have a 1965 Minnesota big game license and comply with all state hunting laws. There will be no admittance to the refuge before 6 a.m. and all hunters must leave the refuge by dark each day. No camping or fires are permitted. All vehicles, including off-the-road carriers, must remain on the roads or parking areas designated by the refuge manager. No other wildlife species may be killed. Shooting a moose carries a maximum penalty of $1,000 or up to one year imprisonment. All hunters must agree to weighing of deer, inspection of deer livers, examination of deer teeth for age and to removal of lower jaws from a selected number of deer, if requested.

Deer Season Will Open On Saturday

Minnesota's firearms deer season gets underway Saturday, November 13, the state game and fish division reminded deer hunters today. Despite a severe winter which resulted in some loss of deer in certain areas, deer populations in the state are at a high level, said Ted Shields, state game and fish director.

With the exception of certain special refuge areas, the entire state will be open to hunting this year. The state had been divided into eight zones providing from one to nine days of hunting. Some zones are open only to the use of shotguns with slugs while in other zones hunters may use either rifles or shotguns.

Shields reminded hunters that a deer hunting license may not be purchased after the first day of the firearms season. He said hunters should consult the 1965 synopsis of hunting regulations for the location of the varius zones and details on regulations and closed areas.

According to reports from game and fish field-men and residents of the main deer range in northern Minnesota, deer are nearly as plentiful as they were last fall when hunters took a record number.

The 1964 harvest totalled 122,225 deer taken by 278,000 hunters for a success ratio of 44 per cent.

If weather conditions are favorable for hunting, Shields said, hunters should do as well as last year. If there are more hunters out this season the deer take could even exceed last year's record, he said.

The big factor now is weather. When it is too dry hunters make considerable noise moving through the woods and deer are "spooked". When it rains, deer usually lie low in heavy cover and travel very little. Overcast skies and rainy weather weather also decrease visibility making deer more difficult to see.

Ideal conditions call for a light covering of snow on the ground and clear weather during the day. Under these conditions, deer can be tracked, crippling losses are kept to a minimum and visibility for shooting is excellent. Too much snow makes tough going for the hunter.

Even without ideal hunting conditions, predictions are that at least 100,000 deer will be taken during the season.

Getting Some Ink

Paul Klungness, one of the most talented and illustrious athletes to come out of Lincoln high school in recent years, has been getting some nation-wide publicity as a member of the unbeaten Dartmouth College football squad. Paul, playing at right halfback, has been mentioned in such nationally circulated media as "Sports Illustrated", the "Sporting News", and the New York Times.

Commented a recent issue of the "Sporting News", in its write-up of Dartmouth's slick-passing quarterback Mickey Beard and the Indians' 14 to 0 conquest of Harvard University: "Against Harvard, Beard engineered both touchdowns, scoring the first from a wing-I right taking a hand-off then rolling wide to his right from the two-yard mark. He set up the other by schoveling the ball to Gene Ryzewicz, who then tossed to Paul Klungness for a gain of 31 yards to the Harvard 16. On the next play, Klungness took a handoff and scampered the 16 yards for the touchdown.

In last Saturday's play, Dartmouth trounced Columbia, 47 to 0; and Princeton defeated Harvard, 14 to 6. The two squads, Dartmouth and Princeton, remain in a deadlock for the Ivy League honors, and it is probable that the game of November 20, which will find Dartmouth playing Princeton in Princeton's Palmer stadium, will determine the Ivy League championship.

Dartmouth, you know, has only an enrollment of about 3,500, and is an all-male school. But according to the records, most of these 3,500 students are football players. Paul is surely impressed with the manner in which head coach Bob Blackman directs the football destinies of the Indians.

At Arizona State University

Bemidji's John Dow, who was an all-state selection for the Lumberjacks in football, baseball and basketball, is attending Arizona State university at Tempe, Ariz. The school, with an enrollment of more than 18,000, is famed for its fine baseball teams, and Dow is attending the school on a baseball scholarship.

The sturdy former Bemidji high school payer, who stands six feet, and weighs about 195 pounds, was a draft choice of the Minnesota Twins last spring. The bonus proffered by the Twins wasn't attractive enough for John, and so he decided to accept the scholarship awarded by Arizona State. The climate down there is very favorable for baseball, and the varsity squad plays a schedule of 80 or 90 games, compared to the 20 or 30 played by the Big Ten baseball squads.

And another former Region Eight all-round athlete who appears to to be making progress in professional baseball is Fertile's, Arlo Brunsberg.

Arlo, who caught for the Montgomery team in the Southern league and who poled out about 90 home runs during the season, has been placed on the roster of the Detroit Tigers. Montgomery is a farm club Brunsberg's name on the roster of the Detroit Tigers was a protective measure. Brunsberg would have been subject to a draft by other big league clubs.

There is one thing in favor of Dow and Brunsberg in their efforts to making a career of professional baseball, and that is their attitudes. They are both coachable and hard-working, and they both possess the sturdy physiques needed for the wear-and-tear of everyday baseball.

Speaking with Bemidji's Red Wilson the other day about the size of the 1965 Bemidji Lumberjack football team, Red explained that last season's club, which had Dow and Bob and Dick Fortier in its first-string, was bigger than this year's team. And Red believed that the Jacks of 1951 or 52, which had Mike Falls and Harold Drescher on the roster, were bigger than this season's club. Falls, you know, went on to captain the Minnesota Gophers.

Called in for Interviews

That the University of Wisconsin intends to ice a varsity hockey team in a couple of seasons can be judged by the number of interviews the Badger officials have held with prospective coaches. Just recently, Sergio Cambucci of Grand Forks Central, Larry Ross of International Falls and Bob Johnson of Colorado College were interviewed for the position.

These three coaches are well known to local hockey fans. Johnson was at one time at Warroad, and later at Minneapolis Roosevelt. And of course Gambucci, a native of Eveleth, is currently at Grand Forks Central, and Ross is coach of state champion International Falls Broncos.

It is apparent that Wisconsin feels that having coaches of the caliber of these three men, and with their contacts in Minnesota and North Dakota, that high school players would be attracted to the Badger school. It is a fact that the University of Minnesota squad does not have room for all the top-notch hockey players produced in the state.

Red or Orange Attire Needed In Deer Season

Minnesota's firearms safety director, Don Murray, today reminded hunters of the law requiring the wearing of red or blaze orange jackets and caps during the firearms deer season.

All big game hunters, small game hunters and trappers are required to wear a blaze orange or bright red outer coat and cap if they are in the field during the firearms deer season.

"It is estimated that about 275,000 deer hunters will be in the field and forest on the opening day of the deer season Saturday, November 13," Murray said. "If hunting accidents are to be eliminated or at least held to a minimum, hunters must abide by regulations designed to insure safe hunting."

Among these regulations, he cited the law against carrying loaded firearms in a motor vehicle, shooting across roads and the bright clothing requirement.

Murray also asked hunters to make sure of their target before pulling the trigger. "Hardly a year goes by, he said, that a hunter isn't wounded or killed by someone who simply shot at a movement in the brush or at a sound."

He also cautioned hunters to unload their guns before crossing fences, climbing trees or jumping ditches and before bringing their guns into the hunting cabin or camp.

This is the new snow tire approved for Highway Patrol cars. Because it can chase a crook at 90 mph on a snowless road...

A snow tire spends most of its life on snowless roads. That's why U.S. Royal's new snow tire was made to do 90 mph...when there is no snow. And that's why it's approved for Highway Patrol Cars. Even with ice-breaking steel studs Winter Patrols will do a steady 80 miles an hour on dry roads. You may never want to go that fast. But if you have to—you can.

FARMING TODAY

by your County Agent

Paul Stelmaschuk

The column "Farming Today", through which I used to communicate with you over the last 10 years, now comes to a close.

It has been a very rewarding experience to work as Pennington County Agent. The many fine people who showed appreciation for the things which the extension office offered is certainly encouraging to any worker. I enjoyed the co-operation you have shown on so many projects on which so many people worked in the community.

Frequently as I looked around at the fairgrounds, 4-H club meetings, RAD committee work of all kinds, I saw people who put in time and talent and sometimes money into the community and who never got so much as a "thank you" from anyone. You ask yourself why these people do this. They would be better off if they stayed home and watched TV like some people who never have time to help with anything outside of their job or their business.

But don't these "home-stayers" sponge off the community work of willing workers? I submit that if individuals don't participate in their church, or school, or community functions they really do thrive on the results of so many fine people who are forever striving to improve the community in which they live and also the young generation as it grows. This is the generation that will eventually develop the community to make it even a better place to live.

The 4-H leaders are a good example. They are not satisfied to stay home and complain about rampant juvenile delinquency. They attend 30 to 40 meetings a year in an attempt to provide social, creative, intellectual and citizenship experiences for boys and girls in the community. They worry about a multitude of details in about 25 different 4-H events in the county. They provide many opportunities for wholesome activities in which boys and girls can participate. I'm sure many do this at the cost of sleep; the cost of time which they could spend in many ways, even actual financial costs of going to various meetings and events, and certainly at the cost of much personal sacrifice and effort. To these people goes my whole hearted "thank you".

Other people have provided leadership to many other worthwhile community events and services. These include such things as the county fair, which is a community cultural and recreational institution; RAD which worked on various community projects; DHIA which provides a valuable dairy testing service; The Crop Improvement association which is most useful in seed increases and distribution; the "Seed and Feed Show", which is an educational forum; the soil testing promotion, which helped derive more income from the land; Dairy Day and Dairy Sale, which endeavor to improve the dairy industry and encourages boys and girls to do a better job; etc., etc. To all who worked so hard in leadership positions and on carrying planks, hauling dirt and using the paint brush, a sincere "thank you".

Also, it would be a personal pleasure for me if you see fit to stop by Coffey Hall, St. Paul Campus, University of Minnesota and say "Hi" to me.

Our family enjoyed the Thief River Falls community and the many fine people I worked with. It has been a very rewarding 10 years.

Veterans Groups Band Together On Veterans Day

All veterans organizations in Minnesota have banded together to encourage universal celebration of 1965 Veterans Day, according to an announcement by Al G. Loehr, chairman of the Minnesota Veterans Day committee.

Loehr stated that from reports from national and state headquarters of veterans organizations come unified thoughts with regards to a show of patriotism on Veterans Day to counteract recent demonstrations. Loehr pointed out that the United States Attorney General has indicated that the demonstrations may be a controlled movement from without the country.

Loehr cited a recent announcement from the Veterans of Foreign Wars national headquarters that their members would be called upon to participate in "Operation Boost", on Veterans Day (to help boost morale of troops in Viet Nam), and that the Legion's national commander, upon returning recently from a tour of Viet Nam, stated with regard to troops there, "let all Americans show our pride in America and serve notice that we are 100 per cent behind them."

"Veterans are aware that the demonstrators represent a very small per cent of our student and faculty population," Loehr stated, "but they are quite concerned that this type thing should happen at all," he continued. "We should rise quickly to commend the thousands of loyal and patriotic parents, students and teachers who are as revolted by these activities as we. "At the same time, we must leave no doubt in the minds of either our friends or our enemies that we are in universal support of the President and Congress in our policies toward the Viet Nam situation," he said. "The Veterans Day committee strongly urges that a show of strength spring forth on Veterans Day.'"

Wet Brakes Cause Problems; Tips Given by AAA

An added hazard of driving during rainy weather are brakes that become wet and temporally are unable to stop a vehicle within a safe distance, acording to Dr. William G. Sauer, Rochester, president of the Minnesota AAA.

The AAA official warned that this sistuation is made even more perilous because drivers are not aware of it until after they have applied the brakes and found them almost totally ineffective.

To avoid being caught off guard while driving in heavy rain or on water-covered roadways, Dr. Sauer suggests these steps:

Apply the brakes at frequent intervals.

If they fail to hold properly, dry them out by depressing the brake pedal firmly with the left food while accelerating just enough to keep the car moving.

If the traffic permits, test brakes after several hundred feet. Repeat the procedure, if necessary.

"Brakes may get wet if the car must be driven trhough high water," Dr. Sauer continued. Assuming the vehicle can make it through the water without stalling or other danger, motorists should drive at slow speed to avoid creating waves that will splash the water higher and, once through make an immediate brake test as suggested."

Answer Questions on Federal Income Tax

These questions most frequently asked by taxpayers on federal income tax matters with authoritative answers are provided by the office of the district director of Internal Revenue, St. Paul.)

Q—My company wants to transfer me to another town. As a sweetener, they paid the expenses for me and my wife to take a look at the new location. When I got paid for these traveling expenses, I noticed that Social Security and income tax had been taken out. Why was that? I thought these expenses were not taxed.

A—The cost of this preliminary trip paid by your employer is properly includible as wages on your Form W-2. The trip expense you describe does not come within the category of expenses that qualify for either a tax deduction or tax exclusion. If you do transfer, however, the cost of transporting you, your immediate family and your household goods to the new location, and the cost of meals and lodging while you are traveling to the new location may be deductible moving expenses.

If you are entitled to deduct the moving expenses, you should do so whether or not you itemize your other deductions. Use Form 3903 to report the expenses and related allowances or reimbursements and attach it to your income tax return.

Q—If I make a political campaign contribution will it be deductible?

A—No, the law does not allow deductions for this purpose.

Q—Is it true that starting in Janunry there will be income tax witholding on tips?

A—Yes, the new Social Security law provides that, stating January 1, Social Security and income taxer will be witheld from tips. Per-Forms and instructions for reporting tip income will be issued later this year.

Q—What's the story on company pensions? I just retired last month and receive $125 a month from my company in addition to Social Security. Is this taxable?

A—Social Security, of course, is not taxable. As for your company pension, if you did not contribute to the cost of the pension then it will be fully taxable. If you shared the cost of the pension then it will be only partially taxable.

Our publications, "Tax Benefits For Older Americans," Document No. 5569, and "Retirement Income and Credit," Document No. 5018, explain in some detail what the tax liability of pensions might be. You will also find details on other tax benefits for taxpayers 65 and over. You can get these publications free by writing to the IRS District office.

Q—I just bought a truck to speed up my customer deliveries. I own a butcher shop. Do I have to pay a highway use tax?

A—You are probably not liable for this tax if your truck is a small panel or step-van type. The minimum taxable weight, is 13,000 lbs. for single-unit, 2-axled trucks. Vehicles lighter than that are not subject to the federal highway use tax.

Complete details on the requirements of this tax are given in Publication No. 349, "Federal Use Tax on Trucks, Truck Tractors and Buses." Write to the IRS District office for a free copy.

Q—I just started work as a nurse's aid. Is it true that the cost of my uniform is deductible?

A—Yes, that's right. You also should be able to deduct the cost of your shoes if they are of a special type required by hospitals.

The key factor determining the deductibility of these items is that they by required for your job and are not suitable for wear in place of ordinary clothing.

Side Line Observations

BY BILL DAHLQUIST

A Wall Street Journal report informs us that within the next few years some of our gasoline will be mined in the form of coal and processed intoi the type of liquid it takes to make our autos run. So much progress has been made in developing the processes that are required to transform coal into gasoline that several oil companies have already purchased coal fields or acquired an interest in coal mining companies. According to the Journal:

"Only last week, Continental Oil Co. announced agreement in principle on a plan to buy Consolidation Coal Co. in a $600 million deal. Consol is a leader in coal-to-gasoline research."

Now, for the time being at least, we can quit worrying about what to do when our oil fields go dry. And when we run out of coal a substitute for that natural resource may have to become a product of our farms. Ain't it all very wonderful?

Minnesota's insurance commissioner, Cyrus Magnuson, along with 16 bank and insurance company officials, have been indicated on charges of criminal fraud by a Federal Grand Jury in Minneapolis. Governor Karl Rolvaag has properly asked Magnusson to resign from his state office while the questions of corruption are being settled in court, a procedure that may take a long time.

Until there has been a court decision on the matter, Magnusson is suspect, and, in view of the fact that the suspicion is based on more than mere rumors, he should step aside in fairness to his party and to the state as a whole. Corruption is not limited to any one political party or organization, and those who become legally suspect owe it to their party to relinquish the office they hold until they are convicted or proven not guilty.

A Minneapolis Tribune report from Washington states that, "President Johnson probably will act soon to lift existing requirements that half of any wheat sold to the Soviet Union must be carried in ships flying the American flag." It is high time that such action be taken. The limitation has not benefited American sailors because there have been no shipments under the prohibitive shipping charges that would be required to pay them the wage scales they have demanded. The result has been that American ships have been idle in port and America's huge surpluses of grain have remained in storage, all at the cost of the farmers and taxpayers.

If President Johnson will break this ridiculous bond he will have one good deed to his credit.

From "The Bookshelf", published in the Wall Street Journal we learn that it is not only the American variety of foreign aid programs that sometimes go to ridiculous extremes. The Russians are guilty of a little bungling too. It isn't only "The ugly American" who has made mistakes.

Victor Lasky, following a 20-country tour of Asia and Africa, comes up in "The Ugly Russain" with convincing evidence that "—the Soviets, in this matter of supplying foreign aid and incidentally cultivating good relations, are definitely not ten feet tall." The following are Mr. Lasky's conclusions, and, according to "The Bookshelf", he offers a good deal of supporting material.

Item: One reason Castro is purchasing British buses is that Soviet vehicles break down too frequently and are expensive to operate.

Item: With great fanfare East Germany presented Indonesia with a modern beet-sugar plant. Unfortunately Indonesia produces only cane-sugar.

Item: In Somalia the Russians constructed a meat-canning factory only to discover that there weren't enough cattle around to keep it running. Simultaneously they built a dairy, but in an area where no milk is available.

Item: Racing to construct the first hydroelectric plant in the Himalayan kingdom of Nepal, the Russians selected a dam site only 40 feet wide. Since the river flow is subject to seasonal fluctuations, the power plant can be filled to full capacity only four months a year.

We can admit a lot of mistakes and still come up with a record that we can boast of as being "comparatively" good.

"The only way in which one human being can properly attempt to influence another is by encouraging him to think for himself, instead of endeavoring to instill ready-made opinions into his head."
—Sir Leslie Stephen

MAVIE...

Henry Bye and Robert Bye visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Skibicki Sunday.

Mrs. Gladys Hamre, Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Hamre, Perish and Peggy, Mr. and Mrs. Leighton Hamre, Lori and Kevin all of Thief River Falls visited with LeRoy Aandal at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Aandal Sunday. LeRoy Aandal left Monday for Lompoc, California.

Sunday supper guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Wayne were Mr. and Mrs. Mervin Skadsen of Thief River Falls.

LeRoy Aandal visited with Mr. and Mrs. Howard Ristau at St. Paul and with Mr. and Mrs. Galen Wayne and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Rosette at Babbitt before leaving for California.

A PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, Education for the children of all the people constitutes one of America's noblest contributions to civilization;
WHEREAS, Time and experience have demonstrated that universal education is essential to national progress;

WHEREAS, Education contributes not only to the development of a fuller and more useful life for the individual citizen but also to the safeguarding of the freedoms and ideals which we cherish as Americans;

AND WHEREAS, The setting aside of a special education week each year provides a fitting opportunity for the public generally to visit schools, colleges, and other educational institutions, to express their appreciation of the work of our teachers and school officials, and to exchange views upon educational problems and progress:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Orin J. Green, Mayor of Thief River Falls, do hereby designate November 7-13, 1965, as American Education Week and urge all citizens to enter fully into its observance in order to demonstrate their appreciation of the work of our teachers, and to show their active support for every program designed to improve our schools and colleges, and to think of education not only in terms of its cost but also as the means to develop the greatest abilities of all our citizens.

National Education Week is sponsored by the American Education Association and the American Legion.

Thank-you, Paul

It was with enthusiastic applause that Paul Stelmaschuk received tribute Wednesday evening at the 28th Annual Pennington County 4-H club banquet. Few were the people in the audience who had not been influenced in some way or another by the genial county agent during his 10 years of service in Pennington county. He leaves Thief River Falls this month to take a position with the state extension service.

With relatively few exceptions in the state, county extension agents do not stay in one community for any great length of time. Fortunately for Thief River Falls and Pennington county, Paul chose to remain here for a longer than average period of service. The community has benefitted from his presence.

Paul is the type of person who places emphasis on people and uses facts and figures only as necessary. He has a deep interest in young people, devoting much of his effort to the 4-H club program. More than most adults realize, Paul's interest was understood and appreciated by youngsters in the 4-H club program. Wednesday night's applause was indicative of this appreciation.

Managing the extension program in Pennington county was not an easy task. Pennington is an "in between" county—large enough to require a great deal of work but too small to permit the placement of extra personnel. During periods when the county was without a home agent, Paul carried the full extension program without complaint—never detracting from the 4-H club program due to the pressure of other duties.

We at the Times will be forever grateful to Paul for his help and assistance over the years. He was constantly on the alert for news stories, provided us with written copy on meetings which he organized or attended and gave us "leads" on other stories. Attesting to his proficiency in the line of news work, he received several awards from his own state organization—and recognition in one's chosen profession is most noteworthy of all.

The standing ovation which Paul and his wife received Wednesday evening when presented with a gift from the 4-H leaders council was richly deserved. The community thanks Paul for his many efforts and extends best wishes for happiness and success in his new position and place of residence.

More Smoke Rising

There is more smoke rising from the state capitol in St. Paul, and it all but obscures the battle among a number of DFL officials. Gov. Karl Rolvaag, assisted by Attorney General Robert Mattson, have undertaken proceedings to remove Cyrus E. Magnuson, insurance commissioner, from office. Magnuson was appointed by former Gov. Orville Freeman in 1959 and reappointed by Gov. Rolvaag early this year.

The flare-up, of course, is over the American Allied Insurance case which has caused no little consternation, embarrassment and concern in the DFL party. Heavily involved in the predicament—in which an insurance company declared totally solvent suddenly went bankrupt—is Lt. Gov. A. M. Keith.

Republicans in the state are having a field day watching the DFL officials scramble to find a way out of the scandal. One would suspect that the Rolvaag vs. Magnuson controversy is a diversionary tactic to draw fire away from Keith, considered by many in the party to be the front-running candidate for governor in the next election. Needless to say, the insurance company scandal has not improved the young politician's image with Minnesota voters—particularly those who lost money when the insurance company folded.

Magnuson, in the midst of all the furor, has refused to resign and proclaims that the courts will prove him innocent of fraud. He and 16 other men were indicted a week ago on fraud charges growing out of a federal grand jury's probe of American Allied.

Members of the DFL hierarchy are concerned, and rightly so, that the state's voters may yield to the temptation at the next election to oust the entire DFL entrenchment in St. Paul and replace it with fresh troops from the opposition. Maybe it isn't such a bad idea at that.

Defeat or Victory?

Whether the decisive vote on the proposed bond issue for a swimming pool in Tuesday's city election meant defeat or victory depends on the opinion of the individual voter. Judging by the wide margin by which the question was defeated, we would say that a large majority of the city's voters claim a victory.

We don't see any signs of the world coming to an end because the question was defeated, nor have we noted any unusual number of people attired in mourner's black. It is to be presumed that life will go on in essentially the same manner that it always has and that little effort will be given to reviving the issue at an early date.

Proponents of the issue need not feel that their proposal was defeated for lack of adequate planning of effort, however. The swimming pool committee did a commendable job of research and planning, presented a complete and factual picture of its proposal and expended considerable amounts of precious time in appearing before groups.

In spite of the fact that the city did not believe it wanted the proposed pool, residents should be grateful to the committee for expending time and effort in presenting the proposal for consideration. It was also encouraging to see the relatively large turnout of voters in what otherwise promised to be an extremely dull election.

We will now sit back and await the benevolence of the Great White Fathers in Washington who will not only care for the elderly, beautify the highways guarantee everyone a job and eliminate poverty but will also build for us a recreation complex so that we might enjoy our leisure to the utmost. Dreaming of such things is much easier than facing reality.

It Doesn't Take Much

In this day and age of political manipulation, it doesn't take much to set tongues wagging with far-out ideas. No sooner was John V. Lindsay elected mayor of New York City than political king-makers were citing him as a front-runner as a Republican candidate for President of the United States.

Just what should qualify a metropolitan politician as a Presidential candidate we can not readily explain. Lindsay had served seven years in Congress from Manhattan, but his legislative record can't be too impressive. It takes that length of time in Washington just to be recognized by the Congressional pages.

Lindsay is described in the press as a liberal Republican. This is somewhat akin, on the other extreme, to terming a person a conservative communist. There really isn't any such thing.

In his election campaign, Lindsay soft-peddled his Republican endorsement and rejected offers of support from the nation's leading Republicans. He was also endorsed by the Liberal party in New York—no particular mark of distinction as far as Republicans are concerned. Lindsay will soon find that he can ride the fence just so long before the points of the pickets become more than a little uncomfortable.

It is no credit to the Republican party that Lindsay was given the party endorsement, and it is even less to the party's credit that he be considered as to stay in existence. It must maintain its conservative image and weather the storm, knowing that sooner or later the nation will come to its senses and return to the conservative cause.

The people in power in our nation today do not need to stuff ballot boxes in order to elect whom they please—they need only see to it that all candidates are obligated to them. The people will have a choice of who they elect but not of what he represents. The king-makers likely feel that Lindsay would make as good a tool as anyone and have started the horns blowing early. This nation is heading for a one man, one vote—one party system. We don't like it.

Veterans Day

Veterans Day 1965 may be celebrated with special significance. Historically, the day has been set aside by Congress as one on which to pay tribute to veterans of all United States wars—who fought first to establish our liberty and freedoms, to preserve individual dignity and to launch a new nation on an unprecedented history.

In later years, our veterans engaged in skirmishes not uncommon to a youthful nation, to maintain that we were not without intent to keep what had been established. As maturity developed, and the world shrank in perspective size, veterans were produced as a result of terrible wars brought on by greed and lust for power that threatened attack on our shores, against the principles upon which the nation was born. Patriotism has flamed high and volunteers leaped to the occasions.

One speculates that this Veterans Day may be a day on which the nearly 22 million veterans, living proof that Americans instinctively rise to greatness when greatness is demanded, will in silent might, loft the flag and in solemn and dramatic manifestation drown the shirll voices of a few anti-draft and peace demonstrators. May they illustrate that this is indeed, ". . .one nation, under God, indivisible—".

Doings of week at Rosewood

Mrs. Bert L. Kron, Rt. 1, Newfolden, Minn. 523-2233

Dinner guests in honor of James Rooker's birthday a week ago Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Rooker, Jimmy and Janeen, and Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Rooker, Debra and Dale of Grand Forks, N. D. Joining this group at the James Rooker home for lunch were Mr. and Mrs. Lewie Bonnett of Angus Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Albough, Tommy, Debra, Eva and Jerry of Newfolden, Bonnie and Connie Carlson, St. Paul, Brenda Hewing and Richard Albough, St. Paul. Mrs. Elmer Rooker brought a birthday cake for the occasion.

Recently Mrs. Melvin Bottem of Superior, Wis. spent a week with her daughter in Thief River Falls and visited friends and relatives in the area. Monday Mrs. Bottem and Mrs. John Ness of Thief River Falls were dinner guests at the Emil Hellquist home.

The Rosewood Homemakers met Wednesday at the Ingvald Dahl home with Mrs. Dahl and Mrs. Harold Sabo as co-hostesses. Twenty large pot holders and five bibs were turned in by the members to be given to the Oakland Park Home. Mrs. John Thompson was present and became a member of the homemakers. Mrs. Pete Sabo was a guest that afternoon. The next meeting will be November 23 at the Albert Walker home when favors will be made for Thanksgiving for the residents of two rest homes in Thief River Falls.

The Alvin Olson family and Bert Kron family attended the Community Club Carnival at the Steiner hall Friday evening.

Mrs. Florence Hartman of Red Lake Falls visited Thursday at the George Solney home. She was also a visitor there on Sunday when the Solney family returned here to her home later in the day.

School Activities

Harley and Harvey Lambert and their father Harold Lambert, attended the FA meeting at Lincoln high school last Wednesday.

Tuesday evening the freshmen class at Newfolden had a class party with a hayride and wiener roast afterwards. Steve Holmstrom enjoyed the party from here.

The same evening the sophomore class of Newfolden had a roller skating party in the Thief River Falls arena. It was attended by Arlene Copeland, Deanna Jarshaw, Danny Olson and Keith Kron from the Rosewood area.

The elementary grades at Newfolden presented the operetta "The Early Bird Catches the Worm" last Thursday afternoon for the pupils of the Viking and holt schools. Friday night they gave it again to the public. Janelle Hodik had the part of the first lady in this children's story.

The Newfolden Community school will be having their annual Carnival Friday evening, November 12.

Randy and Paul Lambert stayed at the Floyd Johnson home in Thief River Falls last Wednesday when their brothers went to the FFA meeting and their mother attended a church meeting at the Zion church. Afterwards the Lambert family were evening luncheon guests of the Johnsons.

Fire Destroys Barn

During the high wind Thursday evening, a fire started at the Harold Lambert farm that completely destroyed his dairy barn and winter supply of baled hay and straw. Fortunately all the cows and young animals with the exception of two new-born calves, were able to be saved and no one was hurt. Newfolden fire department was called, but could only help keep the fire from a near by building as it burned so rapidly in the gale.

Friday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Anderson and Cindy and Mr. and Mrs. John Uggerud of Thief River Falls were callers at the Harold Lambert home. Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Dale Carlson and family of St. Hilaire were afternoon visitors there.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Hellquist and Mr. and Mrs. Larry Hall helped Mrs. John Ness celebrate her birthday at her home Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Holmstrom, Barbara and Karen visited with August Holmstroms Saturday night. They also called at the Clifford Johnson home and saw the slides taken of the silver wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Holmstrom of Oklee.

Sunday Mrs. Olaf Hall and Rachel Dyrud accompanied Sharon Holmstrom to the Hegland church near Strandquist where special services were being held with evangelist Clarence Haaland speaking.

Mrs. Marie Anderson of Thief River Falls visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hellquist.

Little Oak News . .

Those who have been at the Ernest Mostrom home during the week are Mr. and Mrs. Jorgen Oftelie, Mrs. Clarence Hanson and children.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hanson and Caren, Grant and Aaron called at the John Erickson home last Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Elnar Sand of Highlanding called at the Clarence Hanson home last Friday. Mrs. Arnold Haugen called there in the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Haugen were coffee guests at the Walter Todd home on Thursday. Osmund Holdahl and Roald Josephsons of Ada called there on Sunday.

What is the future for the wood-using industry in northern Minnesota? Far from gloomy, although there are a number of both strong and weak points which the state needs to take into account.

Some of these factors have been outlined by Dr. Dean N. Quinney, U.S. forester with the Lake States Forest experiment station at Duluth.

One advantage is our forest land base. As Quinney points out, northern Minnesota has 14 million acres of forested land, most of which is likely to continue producing trees.

Our labor force is an advantage, and another, Quinney says, is the stable social and institutional environment.

Still another favorable factor at work, Quinney says, is a gradual reduction in availability of underused resources in other regions. Although much of the growth in the forest industry in recent years has occurred in southern states, Quinney believes costs of production are likely to rise in those areas. Over time, the Lake States area will tend to remain strong.

Consumer populations and standards of living are going up. More people, more money, more consumer products and more industrial products tend to brighten the outlook for the wood-using industries.

Forest industries are tending to operate production and marketing facilities on a nationwide basis. Minnesota has a number of firms operating this way, and Quinney believes this improves Minnesota's position and will probably lead to more in-place expansion of the existing wood-using industry.

One of the questions is distance to large and growing urban industrial markets. Minnesota foresters might like to be a bit closer, with more straight line routes. However, completion of the interstate highways and a growing potential for overseas trade should improve our competitive position. In a few years, the Europeans may take the bulk of their own production of wood-based products and may need to rely on overseas sources as well.

How about the disadvantages?

Labor is an important question and a difficult one to assess. One reason for the rapid development of wood industries in the south after World War II was a supply of relatively cheap labor.

However, Quinney says, you need to consider both the man and the machine. Productivity per man hour must be coupled with amount of wages paid before a truly accurate picture of labor "cost" can be obtained.

Some studies have shown practically no inter-regional difference in wages paid to plant labor, especially in the more skilled categories. That is, a machine tender costs about as much in the South as he would in the Lake States. But there are probably wage differentials in wood labor.

Furthermore, the labor supply may be changing rapidly. The term "farmer wood" used to be common, in reference to the rural resident who was a part-time logger. Even in recent years, a winter income of $1,000 or $1,500 from logging was often enough to help a small farmer make an acceptable annual income. But with the sons and daughters moving out of these areas, this type of labor supply for logging may diminish in the future.

Quinney believes that logging in the northern Lake States has lagged behind the Canadians in mechanization. Many portions of Canada never had the rural population of farms as a labor supply. They developed, to a greater extent, mechanized jobbers who had sufficient equipment, and such developments may occur more widely in the Lake States in the next five or 10 years.

We may see, for example, completely self-contained mechanized units, operated by one man, that shear the tree off, take off the tops and limbs, cut it up, strap the small logs or bolts into a bundle and drop them on the ground.

Thus, Quinney believes we have a major problem in striving for more efficiency. We do need new markets for wood, but frequently there would be markets available if the product could be put on the market more competitively.

That soils map may be as vital to wood production as it is to good field crop production, according to Maynord Seilley, U.S. soil conservationist.

In recent years, teams of SCS workers have been gathering data to establish the relationship of soil types to growth of various trees. The U. S. Forest Service and the University of Minnesota are conducting similar studies.

The SCS now has completed studies on some 700 sites throughout forested areas of Minnesota. These studies include aspen, northern hardwoods, white pine, red pine, jack pine, and white spruce.

The soil characteristics being evaluated include texture, slope, natural drainage, depth to water, water holding capacity, nutrients supplying ability and depth to lime.

Seilley believes foresters will be able to use this information in their work with farm woodlot owners and commercial wood producers. It should be benificial in determining species to plant in new areas or species to favor in areas of existing stands.

A woodlands manager can then relate the desired species to soil characteristics, to help develop a reasonable estimate of future wood production from a particular field. At the same time, he is tipped off to the dangers of insect damage, erosion, disease potential, and other problems.

Seilley says such land use planning is essential and is already being done in areas where the crops are planted and harvested within a year or, at most, three or four years. But it is even more important where, as in woodlands, the full impact may not be seen for fifty or more years from now.

Many a farmer in Minnesota is something of a commuter himself—not only from home to factory, (common in itself) but also from home farmstead to fields two, five, or maybe 10 miles down the road.

This fact helps explain a common puzzle facing local planners: Fewer and larger farms do not necessarily mean less traffic over rural roads. In some cases, the opposite is true.

The fact that farms are getting bigger is well-known. But a farmer trying to gain economics of scale, is not always able to get new land across his boundary fence. Instead, he may buy or rent a piece of land some distance away.

Extension Soil Specialist Lowell Hanson at the University of Minnesota points out that a 1962 study by geographer Everett Smith illustrates this pattern. In a study of farm operating patterns in nine townships around the state, Smith estimated that about 40 per cent of the farms studied were in non-contiguous units. That means some land in these farms was not adjacent to the boundaries of the main place.

Another fourth of the farms were classed as separated units, meaning that part of the farm land was separated from the main unit by a highway or railroad.

Although similar data is not available for earlier years, it appears that, in this one sense, Minnesota agriculture is becoming more dispersed.

Sheer land availability seems to be one reason for this dispersion. Furthermore, operating land at some distance from the home place is easier now, because of new developments in herbicides, custom fertilizer application, minimum tillage and more mobile farm equipment.

An implication of this trend is that, in some cases, local township roads are carrying more traffic than ever, even though they have fewer people per square mile. And this traffic is increasingly made up of tractors, wagons and cornplanters, rather than cars.

The extent of dispersion seems to vary somewhat around the state. In Farmington township in Olmsted county, 32 per cent of the farm units were in non-contiguous units. This compares with 12 per cent in Black Bay township, Itasca county, and 57 per cent in Viding township, Clay county.

Strandquist . . .

Mrs. Ed Stennes, Strandquist, [illegible]

Mr. and Mrs. Gilman Stennes visited at the Harold Hope home in Stephen Sunday afternoon.

Bryce Thibodo and a companion from Stephen made a brief stop at the Ed Stennes home Sunday afternoon enroute to Thief River Falls where they will enroll in the vocational school.

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Anderson went to Argyle Friday afternoon and enjoyed a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Richard Carlson, the latter was Mrs. Anderson's former school teacher.

Mr. Howard Hjeldness and son of Stephen and Art Hjeldness of Eureka, Calif. visited and were luncheon guests at Jonas Stromlund Thursday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Jonas Stromlund were dinner guests at Mrs. Andrew Olson home in Karlstad Sunday. In the afternoon they took in the gospel sing held by the Lowell Lundstroms team at the Karlstad school auditorium which was very well attended and very good.

Lydia Nelson left for her home in St. Paul after spending three weeks here visiting with the Jonas Stromlunds and Howard Rood homes and with other friends.

Vance and Verne Lefrooth, Leonard and Donald Holmstrom left on Friday for some good hunting gounds in Idaho.

Mrs. Henry Schey accompanied Mrs. Dolpha Johnson to visit with Mrs. Millie Lykken at the hospital in Grand Forks Sunday afternoon where she is recuperating from pin surgery on her broken hip. Mrs. Laura Rustad was also a visitor of her sister.

Mmes. Wally Larson, Wayne Donarski, Art Anderson, Philip Boen, Severt Setten, Ed Stennes, Douglas Thun and Harvey Jackson attended the district Assembly of the Northwest Minnesota district of Lutheran church women in the Black River Lutheran church at St. Hilaire on Wednesday, Oct. 27. The The morning session began at 10 o'clock with a devotional period by Pastor Dennis Rodin of Thief River Falls. Mrs. Leslie Wassberg of Warren was nominated and elected as district president. The spring rally will be held in the Zion church at Warroad and Hallock will host the fall meeting. Mrs. Roland Borene of Clearbrook gave the highlights of the Triennial convention held in Cleveland and also showed some interesting slides. A skit on egg heads and one on Lutheran Women (magazine) were pretty cute.

Mrs. Leslie Wassberg of Warren was installed as district chairman and Mrs. Paul Gustafson of ber of L.C.W. by Mrs. Borene. A message from Japan by Pastor Dwight Johnson who has been a missionary in Japan and a film shown. Offering was taken. A message "Witness and Serve" by Mrs. Roland Borene, Synod L. C. W. president, "It is the Father's Will to Give Us a Purpose." Special music was provided in the afternoon session by a pastor's chorus numbering 10 in all and directed by Mrs. Paul Gustafson of Warroad.

Mrs. Bert Germundson and Mrs. Lydia Nordine of Karlstad spent Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Lee Kimbrough.

The school carnival was well attended and a good program full of humor was well rendered. Last years reigning queen Miss Pat Dezengel crowned the Jr. candidate, Elladean Wikstrom Jr., Miss Pat Dezengel, Miss Alva Flaten, Soph., Miss Carol Renstrom, Sr., Miss Dorothy Lofstrom, fresh., were escorted on the stage by the following young men: Michael Kasprowicz, Robert Kasprowicz, Jerome Boen, Julian Stusynski and Neil Anderson. The pianist was Mis Orpha Flaten, Mrs. Andrew Anderson won the door prize of a barbecue and Mrs. Alvin Erickson a cash prize.

MAVIE . . .

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Breznay of Thief River Falls, Mrs. Svobodny of Hillsboro and Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Roller were Sunday afternoon and lunch guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Oski.

Notes Sixth Birthday

Debbie Panek celebrated her birthday Sunday with the following guests who called to wish her a happy birthday anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bendickson, Karen and Tommy, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Panek and family, Mrs. Kermit Maldment, Shawn, Melodee and Terry, Mrs. William J. Wayne and John, Mrs. Myrtle Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Hanson, Valerie and Marlene, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Swenson and family called at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Panek on Saturday evening to wish Debbie a happy birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Maldment attended confirmation services at Telemarken church Sunday, when Larry and Roger Hruby sons of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Hruby were confirmants. Mr. and Mrs. Maldment were sponsors for Larry Hruby. Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Hruby of Grand Forks were sponsors for Roger Hruby but were unable to be present. A dinner at Telemarken church followed the services. Assistant Neil Hendrickson of the Zion Lutheran Church of Thief River Falls officiated.

Jill Moe daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Moe was baptized by Pastor Wangberg Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Trinity church in Thief River Falls. Sponsors were Judy Aandal, LaVern Hamre and Mr. and Mrs. Leighton Hamre. Coffee was served by Mrs. Gladys Hamre, grandmother of Jill Moe, at her home in Thief River Falls, following baptismal services.

Mrs. Ray Aandal and Danny and Mrs. Raymond Moe, Cindy, Jimmy and Jill visited Tuesday with Mrs. Ronnie Hamre at her home to wish her a happy birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Kainz and Kenton took a birthday cake to Mike Philipp Thursday evening to help him celebrate his birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Svendsgaard and Lydell were Sunday dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Steinhauer of rural Holt.

Governor Hears Report . . .

Disaster Committees Report at TRF Meet

Findings of county disaster committees in northwestern Minnesota were presented to the state disaster committee Monday morning at a meeting held at the Eagles hall in Thief River Falls. Governor Karl Rolvaag headed the state delegation which also made a tour of the area by air prior to leaving to attend a similar meeting at Park Rapids.

Attending the meeting were Ben Wichterman, state chairman of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee; Dr. Roland H. Abraham, associate director, University of Minnesota agricultural extension service; Art Hanson, director, Farmers Home administration; and Russel Schwandt, Minnesota commissioner of agriculture.

It was reported that the governor was making the trip "to learn firsthand of the crop losses which had been caused in much of the northern area of the state." A report from his office noted that Gov. Rolvaag "will seek to learn of financial conditions in the affected counties and to fin out whether adequate feed supplies are available in these sections." Information gathered was to be used to exedpite assistance from the U.S. Department of Agriculture, state officials said.

Disaster committee representatives from Pennington, Marshall, Red Lake, Kittson, Roseau, Lake of the Woods, Koochiching, East Polk, West Polk and Clearwater counties attended the meeting. They presented written reports for their res ective counties on crop damage from weather, availability of feed crops and forage, approximate loss to county producers as a result of excessive moisture and expected repayment of obligations due this fall. More than 50 people were in attendance at the meeting.

Pennington Report

Composite finding of the Pennington county disaster committee were among those presented at the meeting. The committee findings were compiled at a meeting held by the disaster comittee with credit agency representatives and county warehousemen on November 4. Committee findings, as reported to the state disaster committe by the Pennington county group, were as follows:

"The hay supply was determined to be ample unless producers would be required to start their feeding operations earlier than normal, or be required to feed their livestock next spring later than normal.

"Corn silage is approximately 20 per cent of normal due to the late spring planting, cool weather during the growing season, a very damaging frost which occurred earlier than usual and the inability of producers to remove their corn due to wet grounds. A considerable acreage of corn is unharvested and the feeding value will be low if the crop is harvested at all this fall before heavy snowfall.

The heaviest rainfall was exper-

County Government Meeting Planned

A county government meeting will be held in Grygla at 8 p.m., Monday, November 22 in the school gymnasium, one of five such meetings planned in Marshall county, according to Charles Nelson, Marshall county agent.

Purpose of the meeting is to better inform Marshall county residents of the functions of county government. On the program will be the county commissioners, county auditor, assessor and treasurer. Each of these county officials will discuss his duties and responsibilities, with a question and answer period to follow the presentations.

The meeting is open to the public and anyone interested is urged to attend. It will also serve as one of the regular training lessons for the homemaker clubs in the county. The Farmers Union local will serve coffee following the meeting.

The same type of meeting is scheduled in Newfolden on November 18 at 8 p.m. at the village hall. The Civic and Commerce organization will host the meeting and serve coffee after the program.

NEW FOR 1966 is the use of stickers instad of tabs for passenger automobiles. The stickers will go on sale Monday, November 15, at the office of Mrs. Marjorie Hanson, county registrar of motor vehicles in Thief River Falls. A four-point series of instructions for application of the stickers is shown above by Marlys Mossestad, Miss Thief River Falls. The stickers must be applied to clean, dry plates and are to be affixed to the upper right corner of the plates issued last year. (Complete license story on page 3.)

Dairy Seminar Is Scheduled in TRF

Dairymen from Pennington, Marshall and Red Lake counties have been invited to attend a four-meeting seminar on dairying to be held in the meeting room of the Pennington county courthouse in Thief River Falls. Sessions will be held from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. on December 1 and 2 and 15 and 16. A fee of $2 will be charged to cover the cost of notebook and materials.

Instructors at the seminar will be from the University of Minnesota extension service. Topics to be covered will include the following:

Principles of nutrition, full discussion of latest information—on protein, energy supplies, vitamins, minerals and urea; economical rations, levels of grain feeding, high silage or hay rations, getting the cow ready for calving, special feeds, buying feed wisely and adjusting feeding program to in ividual cows;

Also basic principles of nutrition and management in raising calves; building for dairy cattle of all ages including conventional, loose housing, free stall housing and management problems related to buildings; life cycle of dairy cattle parasites and their control, use of pesticides and insecticides, recent developments in insecticides and insects and their relation to dairy feed supplies;

Also dairy cattle diseases and their control including burcellosis, leptospirosis, vibriosis, trichomoniasis, mastitis and others; a look

Winter Warning Issued by City Chief of Police

Snowfall of the past week and the arrival of the first really cold weather of the season have prompted early winter warnings from Elton Cummings, Thief River Falls police chief.

"We've got more car owners and cars in our town than ever before," he observed today, "and it's going to be an interesting winter.

"The people driving those cars are depending on them for safe and efficient transportation all winter long. Yet, in a snow storm, all this traffic will quickly pack the snow down, clutter up towing operations and tie up traffic if we aren't careful. And heavy traffic will of course mean heavy exposure to the danger of accidents on icy streets and highways."

Although individual driving skill is important, many winter tie-ups are caused simply by failure or absence of recommended winter driving equipment, according to the International Association of Chiefs of Police.

"Some may think a little antifreeze and a change to winterweight oil is all the winterizing a car needs, but they ususally find out their mistake—sometime between November and March."

Every family car in town needs a good battery and a tuned-up engine for sure starting in wet, cold weather, the chief continued, plus a tight exhaust system to minimize carbon monoxide danger, and dependable, well-aimed lights to penetrate the dark winter nights ahead. The windshiel must be equipped with strong-armed wipers pushing fresh and efficient rubber blades—or there'll be unseen trouble ahead.

For traction on pavement slicked with freezing rain or falling snow, drivers need traction aids: deep-tread on regular tires, or special winter tires, and dependable reinforced tire chains for eally bad weather, or when hills must be climbed surely and descended safely.

Students at Goodridge Collect Used Clothes

Goodridge high school students will participate in the 1965-66 clothing collection for the "Save the Children Federation". Used clothing will be collected during this week to be sent to needy families in the Appalachian mountains.

County Schools To Get $581,431 In School Aids

Distribution of more than half a million dollars in state and county aid funds to Pennington county school districts is being made by mail today, according to C. W. Rodekuhr, Pennington county auditor. The money represents state aid advances in several funds, final state transportation aid and county transportation aid.

Total funds to be distributed amount to $581,431.35, Rodekuhr said, including $572,878.96 in state aid advances; $5,701.59 in final payment of state transportation aid; and $2,850.80 in county transportation aid.

Thief River Falls school district will receive $485,931.92, the auditor noted, while Goodridge will receive $64,592.31 and St. Hilaire will receive $26,605.25. Two common school districts remaining in the county also received small amounts, as did the schools in Viking and Oklee.

Rev. Rogness

Lutheran Brethren Church To Install New Pastor Sun.

Rev. Richard B. Rogness, new pastor of the Faith Lutheran Brethren church in Thief River Falls, will be installed at the 11 a.m. worship service Sunday. Officiating will be Rev. D. A. Erickson, Fergus Falls, president of the church of the Lutheran Brethren of America, who will also bring the morning meditation. Everyone is invited to attend the special service.

Rev. Rogness and family moved here recently from Pasadena, Calif. where he pastored another Lutheran Brethren church. Prior to this post he served churches at Superior, Wis., and Faribault. A native of Emons, Minn., he grew up in northern Iowa. He attended college at Mason City, Iowa, and Superior, Wis., and received his seminary training from the Lutheran Brethren seminary of Fergus Falls.

Rev. and Mrs. Rogness have five children: Matthew, 13; Marcheta, 12; Joel, 8; Orlin 6; and Daniel, 16 months. They reside at 336 Tindolph av. N.

Also taking place at Faith Lutheran Brethren on Sunday will be the Fall Festival service at 8 p.m. Various musical numbers will be rendered, including [illegible] sing" with the accompaniment of two electric guitars and an accordian. Rev. Rogness will bring the evening message. The public is invited.

County ADA Will Meet Nov. 23

American Dairy association committee for Pennington County - Region one will be held Tuesday, November 23, at 11 a.m. in the American Legion club rooms in Thief River Falls, according to the Minnesota ADA.

Robert Dobias Killed Monday In Shooting

St. Hilaire Man Hit By Bullet from Gun Not Believed Loaded

Discharge of a rifle which was not known to be loaded resulted in the death of a 35-year-old St. Hilaire man early Monday evening. Killed instantly when struck in the head by a .22 caliber bullet was Robert David Dobias, an employee of the Nick Drees egg farm near St. Hilaire.

According to the Pennington county sheriff's office, which investigated the mishap, Dobias was struck by the bullet when he entered the farmhouse through a door which leads to a hallway, intending to pass through a door across the hall which leads to the basement.

The rifle was fired by Tony Joe Johnson, 13, who was handling the weapon in the hall, just as Dobias stepped through the doorway. The clip-fed, auto-loading rifle was without the clip, but unknown to the Johnson youth, a live cartridge remained in the chamber. Johnson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Ortloff who live on the farm. Dr. E. O. Thorsgard, Pennington county coroner, ruled the shooting accidental.

Funeral services for Dobias will be held Friday at 10:30 a.m. from St. Bernard's Catholic church in Thief River Falls with Rev. Keough Patnode officiating. The Rosary will be said Thursday at 8:15 p.m. at Sinding's Funeral chapel. The body will lie in state from 7 p.m. today until Friday morning. Interment will be made in the St. Bernard's cemetery.

Municipal Jury Convicts Woman For Shoplifting

In the first jury trial to be held in Thief River Falls municipal court for many years, a jury of six convicted Mrs. Tillie Thorson, Thief River Falls restaurant proprietress, of shoplifting in a special Tuesday court session, reported Municipal Judge Stanley N. Mortenson.

The shoplifting charge arose from a complaint filed by James Winjum, manager of the Hartz supermarket in this city. Sentencing was deferred until next Monday.

Goodridge Bands To Play Concert

Goodridge high school, junior high and elementary bands, together with the girls' glee club, will hold their fall concert Thursday at 8 p.m. in the Goodridge school gymnasium. Since the school choruses will be featured in the Christmas program in December, the high school band will be featured in this first concert of the year.

The band has already played for several public performances, including football games, and homecoming coronation and parade.

Ground-Breaking Held For New Alfalfa Plant

GROUND-BREAKING ceremonies for the $200,000 alfalfa pelleting plant, the newest industry for Thief River Falls, were held Monday morning at the plant site north of the city. The affair was kept brief due to bitterly cold weather, and Governor Karl F. Rolvaag (right) lifted the first shoveIful of earth from the site following brief remarks by Art Stenberg (left) chairman of the board of the Northwestern Pellet association. The plant is designed to supply an outlet for surplus alfalfa produced in the area and to encourage a shift in acreage from high risk cash crops to more stable alfalfa acreages. The plant will be capable of producing about 30,000 tons of pellets annually.

Governor Rolvaag Participates in Ceremony Monday

Ground-breaking ceremonies for the $200,000 alfalfa pelletizing plant to be built north of Thief River Falls were held Monday morning in spite of bitterly cold weather and wind-driven snow flakes. Gov. Karl Rolvaag participated in the ceremonies at the plant site between highway 32 and the Great Northern railroad tracks about a mile north of the city.

The plant is being constructed by Northwestern Pellet association, a local cooperative with 180 members at the present time, to process sun-cured alfalfa hay into pellet form. With equipment to be initially installed, the plant will be able to process about 30,000 tons of pellets annually—handling the production from 15,000 to 18,000 acres of land.

Work is now underway on the plant with necessary excavation and preparing of forms for pouring concrete being the preliminary steps, according to A. S. Stenberg, Thief River Falls, chairman of the board of directors of the association. The board expects that the plant will be enclosed this fall to permit the cooperative to take delivery of equipment early in 1966. A break in the weather will be needed for this goal to be realized.

Stenberg told the Times Tuesday that 180 shares of common stock had been sold to members of the association on the basis of one share per member. Only producers of alfalfa are eligible for membership and purchase of comon stock. Sale of preferred stock at $50 per share will be conducted during a sales campaign this winter, with preferred stock available as investment stock.

"We are depending on the sale of preferred stock to provide the plant with working capital," Stenberg said, "and we will need the cooperation of everyone in making the plant a successful operation. Alfalfa pelletizing is something new in our immediate area, but we are sure that the venture can be successful with public support and cooperation.

Officials of the Farmers Home administration—which is loaning the pellet association $172,500 on a 25-year basis at 4 and one-eighth per cent interest—said that increased alfalfa production will help to raise the incomes of low and medium income farmers in Pennington county an adjacent areas. The loan was made under Title 3 of the Economic Opportunity act. The cooperative is supplying an additional $27,500 to complete the financing of the $200,000 project.

Establishment of the plant was recommended in the farm business section of the Overall Economic Development plan (OEDP) prepared by Pennington county citizens in 1962. Pennington county was the first county in the state to complete such a plan.

Stenberg noted that the plant will

Sullivan Waives Jury Trial Here

Charged with criminal negligence in a case arising out of an auto accident in which two people were killed earlier this year in Thief River Falls, Robert Joseph Sullivan of Thief River Falls moved the court to waive a jury trial in Pennington county district court Friday. His motion was granted and he will be tried by the court at a later date.

Sullivan, driver of a car which crashed into a second vehicle while it was stopped at a stop light at the intersection of Main avenue and First street, was arraigned on Tuesday and entered a plea of not guilty to the criminal negligence charge.

Two cases on the district court criminal calendar were dismissed on Monday. They were those of the state vs. William Wendell Heyer for forgery and the state vs. Robert P. Mitchell for bigamy. Civil cases will start next Monday with the case of Kalka vs. Gilbert first on the calendar, according to Henry Storhaug, clerk of court. The criminal calendar has been completed.

Art R. Johnson appeared before the court Wednesday and entered a plea of guilty to a charge of buying and dealing in livestock without a license. He was sentenced to three months in the county jail or a $300 fine with the sentence stayed for three months.

Helmer Hinden entered a plea of guilty to a charge of theft by check when he was brought to trial last Tuesday. His case was referred to the probation officer and sentence was stayed until he is released from custody of the St. Louis county work farm where he is now confined on another charge.

Robert P. Mitchell pleaded not guilty to a charge of theft by check when arraigned on Tuesday of last week. He appeared again on Monday and changed his plea to guilty and sentenced was deferred awaiting apresentence investigation report.

Chuck Fahlberg of the Grand Forks district office of the Social Security administration will be in Thief River Falls at the city auditorium on Tuesday from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Girl Scout Troop Plans Trip West

Girl Scout Troop 87 of Thief River Falls, a Cadette scouting unit, will begin selling a variety of candy to residents of this city Saturday as a continuation of a money-raising project begun last year. The troop has undertaken the project to raise money to cover expenses of a proprosed camping trip to the Black Hills of South Dakota.

The girls are currently working on Camp Craft, Explorer, Traveller and My Country bagdes. Adult leaders are Mrs. Donald D. Olson and Byron Sagmoen.

GUTTED by fire late Tuesday morning was the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rux, located about five miles east of St. Hilaire. The blaze started from the oil-burning stove, shown at left, and spread quickly throughout the house. Rux drove to the neighboring Wendell Ortloff farm and called the St. Hilaire fire department, minutes before the telephone line went dead. Two fire trucks arrived at the scene in about 15 minutes, and firemen quenched the blaze with water hoses. The entire ground floor and three upstairs bedrooms were gutted, though fireproof insulation kept the building from being leveled. Rux, his wife and his mother, who had occupied the house, are being temporarily lodged by neighbors.

Goodridge School Sets Conferences

Parent-teacher conferences are being planned for next week at the Goodridge public schools, according to Larry D. Zenner, high school counselor. Parents from the Grygla area, and those from the Goodridge area whose names begin with the letters A through J, will have conferences on Tuesday and the remainder will have conferences on Wednesday.

A bus will run from Grygla on Tuesday, leaving Grygla at 12:30 p.m. and returning at approximately 4 p.m. Teachers will be available for conferences both days from 1 to 4 p.m. Parents are requested to limit their visits with each teacher to approximately 10 minutes.

"We visualize the conferences as an opportunity to become acquainted with you, and for you to become acquainted with us", Zenner wrote in a letter sent to parents in the district. "Working together we can best achieve the results that we know you want for your child."

Joann Kapler Is Bride Of Glen G. St. Ives

St. Joseph's Catholic church, Red Lake Falls, was the scene of the marriage of Joann Mary Kapler of Thief River Falls and Glen G. St. Ives of Red Lake Falls at 11 a.m. Saturday, October 2. The Rev. Wm. Keefe officiated at the double ring ceremony attended by 150 guests. Kathy Baril presided at the organ and accompanied St. Joseph's Children's choir as they sang "Ave Maria" at the offertory and "On This Day, O Beautiful Mother", while the bride placed a bouquet of flowers at the altar of the Blessed Virgin. Baskets of mums in shades of bronze and yellow graced the chancel.

The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Catherine C. Kapler of Plummer and the late Edward R. Kapler and the groom is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Eli St. Ives who resided at Red Lake Falls.

Escorted to the altar by her brother, Kenneth A. Kapler, the bride was attired in a floor-length empire sheath gown of satin peau de soie fashioned with long tapering sleeves and a detachable watteau train. Alencon lace, enhanced with seed pearls outlined the sabrina neckline and skimmed down the front of the gown. A forehead spray of seed pearls held the triple-tiered veil of silk illusion and she carried a large white orchid surrounded by stephanotis, trailing ivy and an aurora borealis crystal rosary, a gift from the groom.

The bride chose her close friend, Mary Funk of Grand Forks, N.D., as her only attendant. She wore a floor-length gown of light green brocade styled with short sleeves and sabrina neckline. To complete her attire, she wore a circular matching hat with veil, short white gloves and light bronze-colored shoes. Her crescent designed bouquet was an arrangement of yellow roses, gold and bronze star burst pompons and croton foliage.

George Derosier of Red Lake Falls attended the groom as best man. Nephews of the groom, Lawrence Derosier and Russell Remick, served as altar boys, and Michael Derosier and Allen Remick, seated the guests. The men wore dark business suits and white carnation boutonnieres. The grooms boutonniere was a spray of white stephanotis.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Kapler wore a black two-piece woolen suit with black and beige accessories. Her corsage was a gold double cymbidium orchid.

A dinner was given in the American Legion club rooms by the mother of the bride with Mrs. Mae St. Marie as hostess. Flowers in fall colors and candles centered the individual tables while a three-tiered wedding cake, surrounded by sprays of ferns, graced the serving table. Decorated with touches of green, the heart-shaped cake was topped with the Chi Rho wedding cross. Cutting and serving the cake were Mrs. Emma Ste. Marie, aunt of the groom and Mrs. Mary Ann Platt, godmother of the bride, while Mrs. Gloria Larson poured. Brothers-in-law of the groom, Maurice Derosier and Kenneth Remick served the punch and Irene Bukowski registered the guests. Waitresses were nieces of the groom, Mary Kay Remick and Betty Rae Remick. Gifts were arranged by friends of the bride, Mrs. Nancy LaHaise, Mrs. Esther Johnson and Mrs. Patricia Dicken. Those assisting with the reception wore corsages of champagne colored carnations gifts from the bride.

Guests attending the wedding from Thief River Falls were Mr. and Mrs. Ken Onken, Mrs. Dolores Johnson, Mrs. Marilyn Winters, Laura Lund, Mrs. Connie Ferber, Mrs. Marjorie Hanson and Lynette, Mrs. Patricia Dicken, Mrs. Ester Johnson, Mrs. Patricia Kicker. Mr. and Mrs. Harold LaHaise and Mr. and Mrs. Victor Franson.

Those attending from Plummer were Mrs. Sigrud Tillman and Mr. and Mrs. Lud Halvorson. Other guests were from Stanley and Boyd Wis., Grand Forks, N.D.; St. Paul, Coon Rapids, and surrounding area.

A buffet supper was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Derosier with Mrs. Sybil Derosier, Mrs. Charlotte Remick and Mrs. Julie Costello as hostesses. Seventy-five guests were in attendance.

For the wedding trip to Port Arthur, Ont., Canada and the north eastern states, the bride wore a bronze-colored three piece woolen suit with brown accessories and the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

The bride is a graduate of the Pershing high school at Plummer and is employed at the Union State Bank in Thief River Falls. The groom, a graduate of the Lafayette high school at Red Lake Falls and the Interstate business college, Fargo, N.D., is employed by Thibert Chevrolet and Buick company at Red Lake Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. St. Ives are making their home at Red LakeFalls.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Johnson of Hastings, Neb., visited a few days at the home of Mr. Johnson's brother, the Anton Johnsons, in Thief River Falls.

Mrs. J. Arthur Johnson Honored By DeCor Club

At the meeting of the DeCor club held Friday evening at the Millard Peterson home, members honored Mrs. J. Arthur Johnson by selecting her name to be submitted to the state office to be included on the "Club Diamonds" honor roll. Mrs. Peterson has been a member of the club for the greatest number of years. This honor was given in observance of the Diamond Jubilee year of the General Federation of Women's club which celebrates its 75th year at the annual convention to be held June 5-10 at the Conrad Hilton Hotel in Chicago, Ill.

The evening was spent in making Thanksgiving booklets to be presented to Northwestern hospital. These booklets, with covers that are illustrated by "The Praying Hands", will be given to the patients on Thanksgiving day.

Lunch was served by the hostess, Mrs. Millard Peterson.

The next meeting will be held Thursday, November 18, at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. J. Arthur Johnson. The group will be working on Christmas novelties at that meeting.

Those from Thief River Falls who attended the Howard-Filipi wedding Saturday at Warren were Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Sagmoen, Mr. and Mrs. Byron Sagmoen and Jenean, Mr. and Mrs. Walt Kaisler and Jill, Mrs. Hilda Sagmoen, Mrs. Belle Soderberg, Mrs. Gerda Sagmoen and Mrs. L. L. Furan.

Marlene R. Gustafson Weds Irving C. Kezar

Miss Marlene Rochelle Gustafson of Thief River Falls and Irving C. Kezar of Fort Lewis, Wash., exchanged marriage vows on Saturday, October 23, at Trinity Lutheran church in this city. The Rev. Reuben A. Wangberg prompted the vows before an altar graced by baskets of gold, bronze and tangerine colored mums. Approximately 200 guests attended the double ring ceremony.

Mrs. Walter Larson played a program of nuptial music as the guests were escorted to their seats. She also accompanied Mrs. Richard Kezar, sister-in-law of the groom, as she sang "O Perfect Love", "God Gave Me You" and "The Lord's Prayer".

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Gustafson of 709 LaBree Avenue North and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Kezar of Viking.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of nylon organza over taffeta, designed with a molded bodice, long tapering sleeves and a controlled skirt extending into a chapel length train. Alecon lace enhanced the sweetheart neckline. The bouffant veil of silk illusion was held by a beaded queen's crown and she carried a cascade of tangerine roses.

Mrs. John Myerchin of Belcourt, N.D., attended her sister as matron of honor, Rosemary Howard, cousin of the bride was bridesmaid. They wore matching floor length emerald green satin sheath gowns with three-quarter length sleeves, rounded necklines and featuring a full chiffon overskirts attached to empire waistlines. Matching veiled floral petal headpieces and emerald green shoes complemented their attire and each carried a cascade bouquet of bronze mums and yellow carnations.

Richard Kezar of Kennedy attended the groom as best man and Arlen Richard Gustafson, brother of the bride, was groomsman. Ushers, were John Myerchin, brother-in-law of the bride Duane Howard and Gary Halvorson, cousins of the bride. The men of the wedding party wore black tuxedos and white carnation boutonnieres.

The mother of the bride chose a two piece beige lace dress with matching accessories for her daughter's wedding. The groom's mother wore a two piece figured dress of angel crepe with a green background and black accessories. Both mothers wore identical corsages of tangerine roses and gold carnations. Attending the wedding as honored guest was the grandmother of the bride, Mrs. Emma Halvorson. She wore a dark green dress with multi-colored brocade hat and black accessories. Her corsage was similar to the ones worn by the mothers.

A reception followed the ceremony with Mrs. Ellert Kjenstrud as hostess. Centering the serving table was a four-tiered wedding cake baked and decorated by Mrs. B. J. Vatsaas and Mrs. Caster Moe. The cake, decorated with tangerine roses and topped by a miniature bride and groom, was cut and served by Mrs. Clarence Howard of Goodridge and Mrs. Joe Tunheim of Newfolden, aunts of the bride and groom, respectively. Mrs. Edwin Halvorson of Trail, aunt of the bride and Mrs. Robert Kezar, cousin of the groom, poured. Paulette Kalinoski ladled the punch, Mrs. Donald Laymon, sister of the groom, registered the guests and the waitresses were Christine Kjenstrud, Marsha Myerchin, Kathy Kezar and Judy Schlinder. Those in charge of arranging the gifts were Mrs. Robert Dahl, Mrs. Fobert Dineau and Mrs. Don Hemming, all of Minneapolis.

Guests attending the wedding were from Kintyre, Belcourt, Grand Forks and Fargo, N. D.; Fort Bragg, N.C.; Moorhead, Minneapolis, Kennedy, Hackensack, Glenwood and McIntosh and surrounding towns.

For the wedding trip to Canada, the bride wore a black two piece knit suit with a corsage taken from her bridal bouquet.

A graduate of the Lincoln high school and the Thief River Falls area vocational-technical school, business department, the bride was employed for two and a half years as legal secretary for L. W. Rulien, attorney-at-law.

The groom, a graduate of the Newfolden high school and the school of carpentry at the Thief River Falls area vocational-technical school, has served in the United States Army for the past 22 months. He is presently stationed at Fort Lewis, Wash., where the newly-weds are making their home.

BABY BUGGY belonging to Al Holzknecht, a lifetime resident of Thief River Falls, was donated Tuesday to the Pennington County Historical society. Pictured from left are Holzknecht, Mrs. Holzknecht, and Stuart McLeod and Martin Gulbranson of the society board. The buggy was purchased in this city in 1898, and was Holzknecht's first means of locomotion. Holzknecht said he believes the buggy was bought from the Aus Mercantile company, former occupant of the present Tunberg Motor company site.

License Stickers On Sale Monday

Renewal application cards for 1966 motor vehicle and mobile home registrations are being mailed this week, according to Mrs. Marjorie Hanson, deputy registrar of motor vehicles in Thief River Falls. Cards are being mailed from St. Paul to owners of approximately two million vehicles this year, and the majority of owners shoud receive their cards by November 15, the first day they may apply for 1966 registration.

Under the law, Mrs. Hanson explained, the new plates or sticker tabs cannot be issued until November 15 or thereafter. Owners receiving their applications prior to November 15 must wait until that date before making their motor vehicle or mobile home tax payment and receiving stickers or plates.

For 1966, a small year sticker will be issued for attachment to the license plates issued for passenger cars last year. Stickers will be attached to the upper right corner of each plate, front and rear. All other classes of vehicles, such as trucks, buses and trailers, will be issued new plates.

Use of stickers is a departure from the former practice of issuing metal tabs which were fastened to the license plates. The stickers are blue in color with white letters and numbers, and are reflectorized as required by law. Simple directions for attachment are given on the stickers and on the envelopes in which they are distributed.

The large plate must be clean and dry when the sticker is attached. Once properly applied and allowed to "set" for a few minutes, the sticker is said to be almost impossible to remove without destroying it.

To assist the public with attaching stickers during the first day of the sale on Monday, the Thief River Falls Mrs. Jaycees have volunteered their services. Members of the chapter will attach stickers to license plates for people purchasing the stickers on Monday. A parking area in front of the motor vehicle license bureau will be reserved for this activity.

Procedures for renewal are essentially the same as for 1965, Mrs. Hanson said. Instructions are included with each application. Owners should bring their 1965 registration as well as the 1966 application card. While it is not absolutely necessary to have both cards, it is desirable since the registration card will be validated and handed back as a receipt.

Because of the need to have a "cutoff" date for mailing purposes, some owners may receive application cards for vehicles recently sold or transferred. Such applications should be returned to the deputy registrar's office for cancelation. Application cards for vehicles recently purchased may not be received until after November 16. If an application is not received by the time registration is desired, new stickers or plates can be obtained from the deputy registrar by presenting the 1965 registration card.

Mrs. Hanson noted that her office will be open at 8:30 a.m. on Monday for issuance of the new stickers or plates which may be attached to the vehicle immediately. The office remains open daily to 6 p.m.

16 Cases Tried Monday in City Municipal Court

Sixteen cases were tried in Thief River Falls municipal court Monday with the state highway patrol, city police department and county sheriff's department all having cases to be heard.

Kenneth Kalstad and Melville Bakken, rt. 1, TRF, appeared on a charge of arson in the burning of a stack of hay bales. They waived preliminary hearing on the arson charge, which is a felony, and were bound over to district court which is now in session. They were arraigned Tuesday on the arson charge in district court and a final adjudication had not been made.

Highway patrol cases included Karen Nelson, Roseau, speed, $25 bond forfeited; Lynn Hebert, city, speed, $15 bond forfeited; Clayton L. Hanson, rt. 4, TRF, through red light, $15 fine; and James Emerson, city, driving while under the influence of liquor, accident involved, sentenced to 60 days at the St. Louis county work farm, and failure to give information following the mishap, 30 days at the work farm, sentences to be served concurrently.

Police department cases included Sharon Swanson, city, failure to yield right-of-way, accident involved, $30 fine with $10 suspended; Einar Peterson, Milton, N.D., careless driving, accident involved, $30 bond forfeited; Dewayne Hawk, rt. 4, TRF, no driver's license, $30 fine with $10 suspended; Ronald Boutain, city, unsafe equipment, $15 bond forfeited; Arthur Saari, Bloomington, night parking violation, warrant issued, $10 bond forfeited; Warren Buck, city, improper passing, found guilty after trial, $15 fine; and two persons charged with being drunk forfeited $15 bond each.

Plan Programs In Area Schools On Veterans Day

Veterans Day programs have been planned by Ecklund-Holmstrom Post 117 of the American Legion for Thief River Falls and Goodridge schools Thursday. The Lincoln senior high school program will be held at 10:30 a.m. and the Goodridge school program at 1:15 p.m., according to James Cuppett, post commander.

Speaker at both programs will be H. T. "Colby" Colbjornsen, Parkers Prairie, vice commander of the Minnesota Department of the American Legion and a past Ninth District commander. Rev. James Ditzler, assistant pastor at St. Bernard's Catholic church and chaplain of the Ecklund - Holmstrom post, will give the invocation and benediction. The post will provide a color guard to present and retire the colors.

At 6:30 p.m. the local post will hold its membership dinner in the club rooms with all members in good standing admitted free of charge. Colbjornsen will also speak at the 8 p.m. program with Rev. R. A. Wangberg, pastor of Trinity Lutheran church, delivering the invocation. Music will be presented by the auxiliary chorus.

City, county, state and federal offices will be closed all day Thursday due to the Veterans Day holiday. There will be no window or carrier service from the Thief River Falls post office.

Richard Battleson Services Held In Thief River Falls

Richard Battleson, 74, a longtime resident of Thief River Falls and a retired employee of the Soo Line Railroad company, died Saturday at Niota, Ill.

Funeral services for Richard Battleson were held today, Wednesday, at 2 p.m. in the Green Funeral chapel in Thief River Falls. The Rev. Merrill Harris officiated and interment was in the Greenwood cemetery.

Richard Otto Battleson was born Feb. 2, 1891 in Ottertail county, near Fergus Falls. He was an employee of the Soo Line Railroad company from 1918 until his retirement in 1961.

He was married to Mary Willis in Thief River Falls and she preceded him in death in 1957. In 1961, he was united in marriage to Vivia Easterday of Niota, Ill., where he had since resided.

Survivors include his wife, Vivia; six sons, George Battleson, Malden, Wash.; Donald, Wallace, Idaho; Richard Jr., Buffalo, N.Y.; James, Champlin and Milton and Duane Battleson of this city; two daughters, Mrs. Ralph (Luella) Meyers, and Mrs. Clarence (Helen) Skibicki, both of Thief River Falls; 19 grandchildren and eight grandchildren;

He was preceded in death by his wife in 1952, one sister, one brother and two half-brothers.

Services Held At Phoenix, Ariz. for Mrs. Bratrud, 44

Mrs. Betty Bratrud, 44, wife of Dr. Theodore Bratrud of 8028 North Seventh Avenue Phoenix, Ariz., and a former resident of Thief River Falls, died Thursday, Oct. 28 at St. Joseph's Hospital in Phoenix.

Funeral services for Mrs. Bratrud were held Monday, November 1, in the Bethel Lutheran church at Phoenix. The Rev. L. O. Tolo officiated and burial was in Sedona, Ariz.

Born in Brookings, S. D., she attended schools in Syracuse, N. Y., and the University of Minnesota. She lived in Thief River Falls, Minneapolis and Michigan where her husband practiced medicine. They moved to Phoenix about four years ago.

Mrs. Bratrud was a member of Bethel Lutheran church, Order of the Eastern Star, the P. T. A. at Royal Palms school and the El Zaribah Shrine Auxiliary. She also did work for the Cub Scouts, Girl Scouts and Campfire girls.

Survivors besides her husband, Dr. T. E. Bratrud, are two daughters, Betsy and Mrs. Judith Oldaker and a son, William, all of Phoenix; two other sons, Theodore Jr. and James, are students at the University of Arizona; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leland D. Cornell of Sun City, Ariz.;

Also three sisters, Mrs. Wayne Hopkins, Mrs. Richard Faber and Leone Cornell and two grandchildren.

Paul Kalishko Of Middle River Dies November 5

Paul Kalishko, 69, of rural Middle River and the brother of Joseph Kalishko of Thief River Falls, Warren.

Funeral services for Paul Kalishko were held Tuesday at 10:30 a.m. in the First Lutheran church at Stephen. The Rev. Lane Doerring officiated and burial was in the Stephen cemetery. Collins Funeral home, Middle River, was in charge of funeral arrangements.

Paul Kalishko, the son of the late Joseph and Anna Kalishko, was born Feb. 17, 1896 in Marshall county, near Stephen. He attended school in the Stephen area, living there until 1941 when he moved to Huntly township, Marshall county, near Middle River, where he had since resided. He never married.

Survivors include two sisters, Mrs. Frank (Margaret) Cich of St. Paul and Mrs. Arthur (Fhrone) Olds of Sumner, Iowa; two brothers, Pete Kalishko of Argyle and Joseph Kalishko of Thief River Falls; one half-brother, Bennie Snow of Maryland, Wis., and several nieces and nephews.

He was preceded in death by two brothers.

Rites Held For Accident Victim Sivert Askeland

Funeral services for Sivert Askeland, 84, a resident of the Grygla community who was killed instantly on Friday when he was struck by a truck while walking on Highway No. 1 east of Thief River Falls, were held Tuesday afternoon in the Grace Lutheran church in Grygla. The Rev. S. J. Sigurgeirson officiated and interment was in the Valley cemetery near Grygla. Green Funeral home was in charge of arrangements.

Sivert Askeland was born Aug. 10, 1881 in Bergen, Norway, where he was baptized, confirmed and attended school. He immigrated to the United States when he was a young man living for a short time in Polk county, near Beltrami, before homesteading in 1902 in Benville township near Grygla. In February 1910, he married Martha Olson. They made their home in the Grygla area where they were engaged in farming.

Active in community affairs, Mr. Askeland served many years on the school, creamery and township boards.

He is survived by five sons, Orville and Carlyle Askeland, both of Grygla; Norman of Hot Springs, S.D., Alton, Conisota, S.D., and Selmer of Simms, Mont; two daughters, Mrs. Alan (Alvina) Tinsley of Selah, Wash., and Mrs. Vernon (Myrtle) Nelson of Grygla; 23 grandchildren and two brothers Ingvald and Johan Askeland, living in Norway.

He was preceded in death by his wife in December 1940 and by one son.

Theodore Bjorge, Smiley Farmer, Dies November 8

Theodore M. Bjorge, 76, a longtime resident of Smiley township, Pennington county, died Monday morning at Northwestern hospital.

Funeral services for Theodore Bjorge will be held Thursday at 2 p.m. in the St. Pauli Lutheran church. The Rev. Lawrence Winter will officiate and interment will be in the church cemetery. The body will lie in state at the Green Funeral home until 11 a.m. Thursday and at the church for one hour prior to the time of services.

Theorore Martin Bjorge was born Oct. 15, 1889 at Moorhead where he received his elementary education. He came to Pennington county with his parents when he was 15 years old, settling on a farm in Smiley township. On June 30, 1928 he was united in marriage to Anna Longren in Thief River Falls. Since their marriage, Mr. and Mrs. Bjorge have farmed in Smiley township.

Mr. Bjorge was a member of the St. Pauli Lutheran church.

Survivors include his wife, Anna; two sons, Marlyn Bjorge of Grand Forks, N.D and Lyle Bjorge of rural Thief River Falls; one brother, Alvin Bjorge of Reynolds, N. D.; two sisters, Mrs. Ida Wade of Golden Dale, Wash., and Mrs. Olga Johnson of Richmond, Calif., and one grandchild.

One son, two brothers and two sisters preceded him in death.

ACP Practice Is Subject to Study By University

Patrick W. Culkins, office manager of the Pennington county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation service office, today reminded county producers who intend to apply for federal cost-shares on in 1966 that their request cannot be approved by the county committee unless they have the area intended to be seeded to legumes and grasses analyzed by the University of Minnesota. This is to determine the plant-food requirements needed to assist in establegumes and grasses.

Culkins said that all producers in the county were notified of this requirement by mail on October 23, but that activity by producers evidently has been disregarded. He suggested that all producers who intend to apply for federal cost-shares under the new seeding practice (A-2) in 1966 contact the ASCS office or the county agent's office and secure information relative to the eligibility requirements without delay.

Lancaster Store Building Sold; To Be Torn Down

The Smith store, the third building built at Lancaster, was sold by the Kittson county board of commissioners Monday, November 1. Under arrangement of the sale the building is to be wrecked by May 1, 1966. The building, owned by Elmer (Jelly) Smith, was sold for taxes after having been vacated several years ago.

The building was sold to Luverne Nelson, a Lancaster carpenter, for $250. A nearby warehouse was sold for $55, to John Sandul, also of Lancaster. Both buildings contain a large amount of lumber.

The doomed building is one of the oldest landmarkes in Lancaster and Kittson county, located near the Soo Line which cuts through the eastern half of the county. It was built in 1903, one year before the Soo Line came to the county.

Rolvaag To Speak At Retarded Meet

Governor Karl F. Rolvaag has accepted an invitation to be the main speaker at the November meeting of the Kittson - Marshall Association for Retarded Children to be held Monday at 8 p.m. at the Warren high school auditorium. The meeting is open to the public and all interested persons are invited to attend.

LHS Choir Will Sing in Festival At Warren Thurs.

Paul J. Christianson

High school choirs from Thief River Falls, Crookston, East Grand Forks and Warren will participate in the annual high school fall festival to be held Thursday in Warren. Paul J. Christiansen, director of the Concordia college choir, will be the guest conductor for the 1965 festiva.

Christiansen received his bachelor of music degree from St. Olaf college and pursued graduate studies in music composition for two years at Oberlin conservatory. He studies orchestral composition and conducting at Eastman school of music, where he received his master of music degree. He has been director of the Concordia choir since 1937 and is now head of the Concordia college music department.

The Lincoln high school choir of Thief River Falls is made up of 60 selected singers, and has been directed by Bryant Ulseth for the past 10 years. Ulseth is a graduate of Concordia college and recently received his master of music degree from the University of Minnesota. In February he was named the city's Outstanding Young Man for 1965 by the Thief River Falls Jaycee chapter. The chorus is accompanied by Miss Nancy Flynn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Flynn, and a junior at Lincoln.

Former Navy Men May Enlist at Previous Grade

Former U.S. Navymen in 54 rating specialties are now eligible to reenlist in the same grade held on the date of their last discharge. A new list of "open rates," issued today by the chief of naval personnel, has added 18 ratings since July.

Eligible are former Navymen who were separated less than four years, servicemen other than Navy whose specialties are closely related to the current open rates in the Navy and others who have acquired extensive related civilian experience and at least two years of college.

The list of open rates include ratings in the following groups: deck, ordnance, electronics, administrative and clerical, engineering and hull, construction, hospital and aviation. The rating list has been distributed to all Navy recruiting branch stations. The local recruiting office, located in the Thief River Falls city auditorium, invites former servicemen to review the list and discuss other benefits available for reenlistment.

The Library Corner

by Virginia Gjernes

No matter which "week" is designated on the calendar (and this happens to be "National Education Week") your public library seems to have its place in it. Right?

"Children's Book Week", celebrated from October 31 through November 6, definitely had a place! Approximately 700 children, many of them for the very first time, visited their public library. Their participation in the half hour program planned for them proved interesting to your librarians and to the teachers accompanying them. The enthusiasm shown when they volunteered to name the type of reading material they most enjoyed, was delightful to witness.

Prior to "Children's Book Week" your public librarians sent questionaires to the schools with the request that children enrolled in first, second, third and fourth grades complete them and school officals return them to the library. There was 100 per cent cooperation. . students, teachers, parents and school personnel all worked together to see the request granted. The results not unexpected by the librarians, for they are aware of the type of reading pleasure children seek when they visit the library should prove interesting to you as parents and as readers.

Tabulation of the answers on dren in the first and second grades generally preferred books about animals. Third and fourth grade students were divided in their interest. Some preferred true-to-life still some chose books about animals. (Dogs and horses came out about equal in interest!) A few of the children liked mystery stories, while others wanted 'pioneer' plots. All the visitors agreed that as they grew older their tastes in literature changed.

What is your taste?

If you prefer fiction, why not come in and borrow one of these new ones. . ."Thomas" by Shelley Mydans (it is already on the best seller lists) which is a novel of the life (and death by murder) of Thomas Becket - a complex religious and political figure in the Middle Ages. This is a novel based on facts - and it took the author 10 years to complete the research work and write the book. It is different and one you'll enjoy to the utmost.

Those who like their reading material a bit on the lighter side will welcome Joan Fleming's "Nothing Is the Number When You Die". This drama of violence will make you keep whistling-in-the-dark just to prove to yourself you're not alone! (Besides, everybody should keep a night-light glowing somewhere in the house!)

Be sure and take home "A Wilderness of Monkeys" by Paige Mitchell. This is about a small southern town, and slander and what it does to people!

Non-fiction books new to the shelves include "Kennedy" by Sorenson. This is number one on the best seller list. "Intern" is still holding its own even with Doctor X as the author! "A Gift of Prophecy" by Montgomery is another to keep you intrigued. Helen Hayes "A Gift of Joy" is just that. Your heart will sing as you read her words and the words written by others which have guilded her way through life. The book does not contain the memoirs of a woman of the theatre as generally thought of, but are the memories of a great and dedicated wife, mother and artist. Fascinating reading.

There's the new "Madrid" by Nina Epton which will take you miles and miles while you relax in that special reading corner right at home. Colder weather makes you wonder about a new hobby for the winter. Why not pick up "Weaving for Amateurs" by Helen Coates. This clearly-illustrated, excellently-written text will prove educationa, even if your weaving leaves something to be desired!

Have you been thinking about painting! Harry R. Ballinger's "Painting Landscapes" is a complete guide to the technique of landscape painting in oils. This volume, too, is educational because it will make you appreciate other people's painting even more than you do now! If you are actually the artist you think you are, you'll find Mr. Ballinger's tips on technique invaluable.

An inspiring story of the Czechoslovakian family who escaped from the country after the Communists entered it and then returned for a most triumphant visit is contained in "On Thin Ice" by Henry Jelinek, Jr. and An Pinchot. It was Maria and Otto Jelinek who won the world's figure skating pairs championship in Prague.

So, there. . .your library proves it again! Whatever your taste or talent. . .there is material available for you. Come in and borrow some! Every week is education week at your library!

"Make a Dress" Workshop To Be Explained Friday

"Make a Dress" workshop—a series of three meetings—will be conducted by Miss Beverly Tveito, Pennington county home agent, for anyone in the county who would like to learn the basic principles of construction and fit a dress for herself. No sewing experience is necessary. Each woman must have access to a sewing machine which she can bring to the workshop.

This workshop will be set up in a series of three meetings, one meeting a week for three consecutive weeks. These meetings will begin at 9 a. m. and continue until 4 p.m. Each participant will be asked to bring her own sack lunch for noon and coffee will be provided. The first day will be spent altering the pattern to fit the idividual figure and cutting out the dress, while the second and third days will be devoted primarily to construction. By the end of the third meeting the dress should be completed.

On Friday, November 12, at 1:30 p.m. in the courthouse meeting room, a sign-up meeting will be held for interested persons. At this meeting the dates for the workshop will be set. Everyone will be using the same style pattern and this, along with the correct size pattern and the necessary sewing equipment, will be explained at the meeting on Friday.

The "Make a Dress" workship is the first in a series of three planned to be conducted in the county. In the fall of 1966 a "Better Dress" workshop is planned and following that will be a "Tailoring" workshop. In order to enroll in the last two the women must have completed the "Make a Dress" workshop.

In 1962 and 1963 the home agent in Pennington county conducted the "Make a Dress" workshop so anyone who was enrolled in it should not sign up again this fall, Miss Tveito said. Those who took it then will be qualified to continue in the series next fall with the "Better Dress" workshop.

Adventist School Has Book Display

The book display will start at 7:30 p.m. and the film will be shown at 8:15 p. m. The public is invited to attend the film showing and look over the books on display which will be available for purchase following the film. There is no admission charge.

Auto Accidents In City Cause $710 in Damage

Two automobile accidents resulting in property damage totaling $710 were reported today by the Thief River Falls police department. At 10 p.m. Sunday a car driven by Janet DeLap, city, had made a left turn onto Main avenue from Eighth street and was proceeding south on Main when she lost control of the vehicle and struck a parked car, pushing it in turn into another parked auto. Damage was estimated at $250 to the car struck by the DeLap car, $50 to the vehicle struck by the parked car and $50 to the DeLap vehicle. Miss DeLap was charged with careless driving.

On Tuesday at 12:30 p.m. a car driven by Kay Lynn Larson, Viking, had made a right turn off Third street onto Duluth avenue and was traveling north on Duluth. About 100 feet north of the Third street intersection the vehicle was struck by a pickup driven by Gote Herbert Anderson, rt. 4, Thief River Falls, which had pulled out of a parked position. Damage was estimated at $295 to the Larson car and $65 to the Anderson pickup. Anderson was charged with failure to yield the right-of-way.

Pennington DHIA Elects Officers, Reviews Report

Donovan Bruggeman of Thief River Falls and Myron Carlson of Angus were elected to the board of directors at the annual meeting of the Pennington County Dairy Herd Improvement association recently in Thief River Falls. At reorganization of the board following the meeting, Bruggeman was elected president with Darrow Lundeen of Trail named vice president and Dale Svendsgaard of Goodridge elected secretary treasurer.

Elected delegates to the Top of the Nation dairy sale committee were Carlson, Bruggeman, Svendsgaard, Paul Morkassel of Warren and Clyde Christensen of Thief River Falls.

Christensen had the top herd average in the association for the past year with 521 pounds of butterfat, according to the report presented by Orville Peters, supervisor for the assolution. It was the only herd average in the association with more than 500 pounds of butterfat.

The herd of Carl and Kermit Finstad had the largest butterfat increase for the year—an increase of 66 pounds to an average of 429 pounds. The Finstads were presented with a desk set in recognition of the accomplishment.

Peters also reported that there were 26 herds on D.H.I.A. test for the year ending September 30 with 22 herds completing the full year. In addition there were 14 herds with 338 cows in the owner-sampler program at the close of the year.

Herds on D.H.I.A. test averaged 406 pounds of butterfat per cow, compared with 252 pounds of fat per cow on the average for Pennington county in 1964. Cows not on test were much below the level needed for profitable returns, stated Paul Stelmaschuk, Pennington county agricultural agent.

Stelmaschuk, who recently resigned his position to join the state extension service, reviewed the history of the Pennington county organization. He was presented with a gift from the association for his work in establishing the county D.H.I.A. and the Top of the Nation dairy sale.

Listed as the top 10 herds in the association for the year were the following: Clyde Christensen, TRF, 531 pounds; Myron and Mylo Carlson, Angus 498 pounds; Mehrkens Farms, Inc., TRF, 445 pounds; Warren and Lowell Hamrick, Warren, 441 pounds, Mordy Morrison, Goodridge, 438 pounds; Wallace Relerson, TRF, 435 pounds; Art M. Stenberg, TRF, 432 pounds; 429 pounds; Dale Svendsgaard, Carl and Kermit Finstad, TRF, Goodridge, 428 pounds; and John Burtness, TRF, 427 pounds.

All of the top 15 individual cows on test with the association produced more than 600 pounds of milk during the past year. All were Holsteins and only two of these registered. A grade Holstein from the Myron and Mylo Carlson herd topped the association with 17,780 pounds of milk and 818 pounds of butterfat—winning over the second place cow by more than 100 pounds of fat.

Second place cow was a grade owned by Clyde Christensen which produced 16,710 pounds of milk and 709 pounds of fat. The Carlsons also had the third place cow, a registered Holstein, which produced 17,040 pounds of milk and 698 pounds of fat.

Other herds having top individual animals and the butterfat production of those cows were as follows: Mehrkens Farms, Inc., 687, 646, 638 and 605 pounds; Curtis Johnson, 649 and 605 pounds; Clarence Swanson, 642 pounds; Myron and Mylo Carlson, 640 pounds; Martin Hanson, 634 pounds; Mordy Morrison, 627 pounds; Dale Svendsgaard, 607 pounds; and John Burtness, 607 pounds.

During the year a total of 977 cattle in 26 herds were on test and produced a total of 8,402,600 pounds of milk and 311,420 pounds of butterfat. They spent 96,561 days on pasture and consumed 2,444 tons of succulents, of 2,408 tons of hay. Average value of product produced per cow was $420 with average feed cost of $138 per cow for a return over feed cost per cow of $282. Eighty-five of the cows produced more than 500 pounds of butterfat and 224 produced between 400 and 499 pounds of fat.

Among members of the association, feed cost per hundredweight of milk varied from $1.04 to $1.54. With herds in the association averaging 11,011pounds of milk, the difference in feed cost would be $55 per cow during the course of the year.

OPEN HOUSE was held Tuesday evening in Lincoln high school, the Thief River Falls junior college and the area vocational-technical school in observance of American Education Week. Instructors in the various departments explained their teaching methods to parents and other interested visitors. As an added attraction, cosmetology students, instructed by Mrs. Dolores Bakke, gave free permanents to girls attending Franklin junior high school.

provide a number of employment opportunities. It is estimated that the enterprise will use 7,500 man-hour of labor each season in direct plant operation. Additional employment will result from trucking and associated business.

The association board met Monday evening to review construction plans and bring themselves up to date on the project. Two committees were named at the session. Stenberg and Curtis Swanson of Thief River Falls and Roy Wiseth of Goodridge were named to the building committee. Wiseth is also secretary of the association. Swanson and Otto Rupprecht were named to the grounds committee. Tieman Vigen is foreman of the construction project.

at future dairy markets, trends in food consumption as they affect the demand for dairy products, national and international developments, shifts in production areas and competition for markets;

Also economic considerations in expanding the dairy operation, economic-engineering information from the experiences of 50 farmers who have made substantial increases in herd size, pros and cons of rapid versus slow expansion.

Advance registration is requested for the course and may be made at the Pennington county extension office or contacting Ed Sisler at the Farm management office of the Thief River Falls area vocational-technical school. Interested dairymen may also enroll on the day of the first seminar series session.

Hunters May Get Snow As Winter Weather Strikes

Hopes for a light snow cover on the opening weekend of deer season are brightening, as weather conditions remain cold. Little melting has taken place since Sunday's snowfall, and light snow flurries are forecast this afternoon and tomorrow. Monday night's low of 11 degrees was the lowest temperature recorded since March 30, when the mercury dropped to -2.

Temperatures will be locally colder tonight, with lows to range from 12 to 22 degrees. High today and tomorrow of 35 and 40 are predicted. Winds will be light and variable this afternoon and tonight.

Approximately one inch of snow was measured at the airport on Monday and a trace on Tuesday. Temperatures recorded since Monday are as follows: 36 and 20 on Monday, 28 and 11 on Tuesday and a low this morning of 18.

lenced through the center portion of the county which delayed seeding operations last spring. Below normal temperatures over the entire county were instrumental preventing the proper development and maturity of all cash grain crops could not be swathed, and a large acreage that was in the swath could not be combined for approximately two months after being swathed. This resulted in heavy discounts when marketed.

"It is conservatively estimated that production was reduced by at least 30 per cent as a result of being unable to timely harvest. Further monetary losses were experienced when this grain was delivered to the elevators. Discounts range from 10 cents to 70 cents per bushel on wheat, 20 cents per bushel on barley and 30 cents to 70 cents per bushel on flax. These discounts are due to a high moisture content, loss in grade and sprout-damaged grain. A considerable acreage of flax and other crops still cannot be harvested due to wet grounds.

"Lending agencies and warehouses who extended credit to producers have experienced unfavorable collections four out of the past five years. Limitations have been exceeded by most credit agencies to producers for the past four to five years. In many cases these agencies cannot extend credit to some producers for putting in a crop in 1966. Producers have been unable to meet their financial obligations due to climatic conditions exclusively.

"It is estimated that the normal cash crop income in the county will be reduced by at least 40 per cent in 1965. Furthermore it is estimated that 15 per cent of the crop was not seeded this spring.

"Hardship cases in this county are strictly of a monetary nature, and unless some means can be found to relieve this situation it is apparent that a considerable number of producers will be forced to dispose of their porperty and discontinue their farming operations, and most of these producers will become welfare cases."

Public Opinion

Dear Sir:

As a college student I would like to relate my feelings about the present crisis which we as the up-and-coming generation face. A crisis, which, as I see it, is crystalized in the Viet Nam situation and the reaction which we, as young people have had to it.

Recently, the draft-card-burning craze, the protests and demonstrations concerning military obligations, and other college-termed scenes, have attracted nationwide publicity. The press has blown up the accounts of such demonstrations out of proportion, without considering the basic roots of such actions. A nation-wide magazine has published accounts of "Rules for Flunking a Military Service Physical," (or "How to Dodge the Draft"). This set of rules was supposedly formulated by college-level minds, and I'm sure the accounts have made several people wonder what our colleges are teaching.

What magazine columnists, newspaper reporters and others do not see, is the pervading sense of restlessness which is present among college young people, and many non-college individuals. We are fed a daily diet of news-revealing violence and idiotic losses of human life in Viet Nam and other "hot spots". At the same time, we are being exposed to the philosophies, ideas and contributions composing our culture. We study history, idealism, facts, figures,—on and on. The purpose of our higher education is to give us the "Great Society" flash before our eyes. Yet, we want to be a part of the world struggle, not just stuck back in a corner, observing. The often quoted "impatience of youth" takes over, and we start formulating our own ideas, and we want to be noticed.

Contrary to popular opinion, there are many of us who find it frustrating to sit in a hot, stuffy room staring at a book relating the falacies of war, and listening to a radio blow-by-blow account of Viet Nam. One would just as soon be over there contributing a small part to the struggle for peace. The college student is observant. He does not want to be put away in a corner for four to six years, and then be expected to come popping out on the scene to create a better world. We would ask the older generation not to approve our actions, but understand them. College young people are not running from world problems; they are merely frustrated at having to sit on the sidelines.

I would ask myself — and my classmates — this question: Are there not ways and means, such as The Blood Donation Movement, to express our feelings, while taking action? Surely we can take part in the Viet Nam crisis, and others, with tact, and the right channels of expression, even though we are somewhat limited by the length of time the learning process takes to make us better Americans.

Respectfully Yours,
Kenneth Larson

School Board Has Meeting Monday; Hires Teachers

Thief River Falls board of education approved contracts for three teachers and discussed further possibilities for the vocational-technical school at the regular meeting of the board Monday evening at Lincoln senior high school.

Contracts were approved for Mrs. Clarice Gallther, junior high school mathematics; Dean Paske, the vocational-technical school, and Mrs. Yvonne Habedank, first grade.

Following discussion of the area wide, aviation mechanics in vocational-technical school, the board instructed Supt. M. R. Hankerson to invite Elno Jyring, Hibbing architect, to meet with the board and discuss the school at greater length.

Cummings Picked On All-Conference

Four members of the conference were named to the league's All-Senior team selected at the annual meeting held at Erskine. Jacks selected for the All-Star squad were Larry Schwartz, Bob Gary Blashill.

The second place Roseau Rams had three players—Bryan Grand, Austin Wallestad and Jim Toll—on the squad. East Grand Forks placed two players, Mike Cieklinski and Myron Johnson to the team; while the Thief River Falls Prowlers and the Crookston Pirates had one player apiece. Tommy Cummings of the Prowlers was selected, and Doug Sorenson of the Pirates received a berth.

Gaining honorable mention were Jim Ritchie of Bemidji as a guard, Art Selseth of Crookston as a guard, Ken Charron of Crookston as a center, Merle Sampson of the Prowlers as a tackle and Gary Bratvold of East Grand Forks as a tackel.

Larry Schwartz, who played at full back for the Bemidji club, and who was the scoring leader in the conference, was voted as the Most Valuable Player in the circuit. Schwartz was closely pressed by Roseau's Bryan Grand in the Most Valuable Player award balloting.

Bemidji Athletic Director Ken Wilson was elected president for a two-year term. Jack Luoma, also of Bemidji, was named secretary.

A three-man committee consisting of Ralph Skay of Thief River Falls, Bob Strand of Crookston and Ray Kavanagh of Roseau was appointed to determine the qualifications for awarding conference championships in basketball, hockey, wrestling and tennis, the four sports that are not in five-member competition. The conference went on record as actively seeking at least one additional league member.

The Northwest Conference All-Senior Football Squad:

Larry Schwartz, Bemidji, fullback, 235 pounds.
Bob Johnson, Bemidji, end, 202 pounds.
Howard Hoganson, Bemidji, end, 200 pounds.
Gary Blashill, Bemidji, tackle, 238 pounds.
Austin Wallestad, Roseau, end, 163 pounds.
Bryan Grand, Roseau, quarterback, 135 pounds.
Jim Toll, Roseau, fullback, 178 pounds.
Mike Cieklinski, East Grand Forks, guard, 160 pounds.
Myron Johnson, East Grand Forks, halfback, 150 pounds.
Tom Cummings, Thief River Falls, quarterback, 170 pounds.
Doug Sorenson, Crookston, fullback 190 pounds.

	TD	EP	PTS.
Larry Schwartz, Bem.	7	2	44
Rod Carlson, TRF.	6	1	37
Bob Johnson, Bem.	4	4	28
Bryan Grand, Ros.	4	0	24
Monte LeMoine, TRF.	3	4	22
Myron Johnson, EGF.	3	0	18
Jim Toll, Ros.	3	0	18
Doug Sorenson, Crkstn.	2	1	13
Kim Krostue, EGF.	2	0	12
Jerry Halvorson, Ros.	1	3	9
Dave Bublitz, Bem.	1	2	8
Jerry Lee, Bem.	1	2	8

All-Conference Team Named by Pine-to-Prairie

A 13-member all-conference team was announced Monday evening at the annual Pine-to-Prairie football conference banquet held at Ada.

Five members were named from the championship-winning Ada Vikings; two from the runner-up Warren Ponies, and one each from the remaining six loop teams. The honor squad includes three players who were on the all-conference squad in 1964—Pete Gilbert of Warren, Harlan Highberg of Bagley and Dennis Sannes of Fertile. On this season's squad are 10 seniors and three juniors. An additional 34 gridders received honorable mention in the all-conference balloting.

The 1965 Pine-to-Prairie All-Star squad:

Backs:
Ken Pierce, Ada, senior, halfback, 6-0, 168 pounds.
Doug Hanson, Ada, senior, quarterback, 6-2, 165 pounds.
Dennis Rud, Fosston, senior, quarterback, 5-10, 158 pounds.
Peter Gilbert, Warren, senior, halfback, 5-11, 182 pounds.
Linemen:
Orden Hegreness, Ada, senior, guard, 5-9, 160 pounds.
Dean Vilmo, Ada, junior tackle, 6-1, 165 pounds.
John Kroshus, Ada, junior, end, 5-8, 168 pounds.
Harlan Highberg, Bagley, senior, end, 6-2, 170 pounds.
Dennis Sannes, Fertile, senior, tackle, 5-11, 221 pounds.
John Wolbeck, Mahnomen, senior, center, 6-2, 285 pounds.
Tim Audette, Red Lake Falls, senior, tackle, 5-7, 210 pounds.
Don Jensen, Twin Valley, senior, guard, 5-8, 160 pounds.
Bruce Ranstrom, Warren, junior, tackle, 6-2, 185 pounds.

Father-and-Son Prowler Football Banquet Staged

Third annual father - and - son Prowler football banquet was held in the St. Bernard's church parlors on Tuesday evening. Donald L. Olson, as master of ceremonies, made the introductions for the various events on the program. Rev. R. A. Wangberg of Trinity Lutheran church was the evening's main speaker.

Richard LeMoine, who along with Evonne Olson, Robert Carlson and Vernon Nelson, was instrumental in starting the annual football banquet, made a short speech in behalf of the fathers. Monte LeMoine, fullback on this year's squad, made the response in behalf of the players.

Retiring captain Gary Olson introduced the co-captains who will lead the Prowlers in 1966—halfback David Halvorson and tackle Ross Hanson.

Varsity coach Bill Herzog made several special awards. Designated as the squad's outstanding defensive player for 1965 was junior Ken Ose. Presented with an autographed football as the squad's most valuable player was quarterback Tom Cummings, a senior.

A film of the 1964 Gopher football highlights concluded the evening's program.

Beltrami County Citizens Eligible For Food Stamps

C. E. Melberg director of the Beltrami County Welfare department, announced today that Beltrami county citizens with low income are eligible for bonus food stamps under the food stamp program. Applications are taken by the welfare department in Bemidji.

The food stamp program is financed by the federal department of agriculture, and is a program in which bonus food stamps are issued to low-income families. The food stamps are used in the same way as cash to purchase food from local food handlers.

Melberg stated that if a sufficient number of people in the northwestern part of the country are found eligible, stamps will be sold twice a month at some public building in the northwestern part of the county.

All people who are interested and have some quewtion about eligibility, are encourged to contact the Beltrami County Welfare department."

Plan to Observe Veterans Day at Newfolden School

Veterans Day program will be observed starting at 10:30 a.m. Thursday in the Newfolden community school auditorium. The public is invited to attend. Speeches will be given by members of the senior high speech class, of which Mrs. May Larson is instructor.

The program is as follows: Advance of colors by the American Legion; pledge of allegiance to the flag led by Scouts Nancy Johnson and Bonnie Nelson; singing of the National Anthem; speeches by David Wilcox and Ilene Haassen; a number by the school band; a speech by Mandy Halvorson; a number by the mixed chorus; speeches by Lyle Olson and Charlotte Swenson; and retiring of colors by the American Legion.

Band Parents at Goodridge Hold First Meeting

Goodridge Band Parents held their first meeting of the current school year November 2. The meeting started with a tour of the band facilities at the old gym and on the stage in the new auditorium. November 21 was the date set for the fall concert.

Business discussed at the meeting included storage of instruments, fit of uniforms, repair and cost of instruments, grade school private lessons and a free will offering for lunch served at concerts.

Mrs. Ernest Swanson volunteer. Miss Wolery, band director, explained the scholarships given to seniors at a college in Shreveport, La. Lunch was served after the meeting.

Keeping Score with "Huck" Olson

It Was in Order

It was fitting that Monday's snowfall, the first of the season, should coincide with the official opening of the practice sessions of the Prowlers' three major winter sports activities.

Coach Whitey Olson, of the varsity, and Lee Swanson, coach of the 'B' squad, had the Prowler cagers out on the Lincoln high school basketball court.

Wrestling coach Ed Krystosek and his assistant Dale Folger had the grapplers on the mats in the old high school gymnasium.

And hockey coach George Schiileff and assistant Jerry Westby limited their opening day's activities to a squad meeting. The hockey squad, of course, is awaiting the making of ice in the arena. There is some mention that the squad will make a trip to Grand Forks for a skating session on the ice sheet in the UND Winter Sports Building. But I imagine that the boys will be getting out on some of the frozen ponds in the gravel pits near here.

The first of the Prowler winter sports teams to get into action will be coach Olson's cagers. The Prowlers will participate in the annual District 31 basketball jamboree at East Grand Forks, meeting the Oslo Bobcats, playing a 16-minute segment. The jamboree has been arranged so that the district's A teams play the district's sub-district teams. There will be four games of 16 minutes each, with the total score of the four games to determine the winner. The Prowlers vs. Oslo game, at 7 p.m., will open the jamboree.

The first home appearance of the 1965-66 Prowlers will be on Friday, November 26, when the Grafton Spoilers, one of North Dakota's Class A teams, plays here.

Of the boys that were on coach Jack Junker's district tournament squad last season, the following are available for this season:

Mark Stromberg, Tommy Cummings, Karl Poppenhagen, Bob Brodin, Larry Peterson, John Ihle, Bruce Saustad, Wayne Liden and Jerome Engen. Of this group, Stromberg and Cummings were starters, and Poppenhagen and Brodin saw considerable action. It's no cinch that all of these boys will be on the varsity squad this season.

And a look at the schedule reveals that the Prowlers will learn the "Facts of Life" early in the season. On December 10 the Warren Ponies are here; on December 27 the Prowlers play at Crookston; on December 22 the Ada Vikings, a favorite in District 30, play here; and on January 7, the defending regional champion Bemidji Lumberjacks will be here.

They Belong in the League

I was somewhat skeptical that the Red River Mixers, a team organized and located in Grand Forks was moving into too fast hockey company by joining the Manitoba Senior Hockey league. After all, this league has such teams as the Warroad Lakers and the Winnipeg Maroons, both of whom have reached the finals of Canda's senior hockey playdowns. And the Maroons have been winners of Canada's senior hockey title.

On Sunday the Mixers, coached by Don Ross, the former All-American from North Dakota U and Roseau, opened the 1965-66 season by playing the Winnipeg Maroons to a 2-all tie at Grand Forks. And it was a pretty good game for a season-opener. Dale Wennberg and Jerry Westby from the local hockey club played with the Mixers, and Dale, after intercepting a Maroon pass near the Mixers' blueline, scored on a breakaway, beating Winnipeg's Paul Sexsmith with a shot into the upper right-hand corner of the net to tie the game at 2-all.

Incidentally, arrangements are being completed to have a league game played here early in December. The date being bandied about is the ninth of December, with the Mixers meeting the highly-touted Warroad Lakers on the arena ice. Roger and Billy Christian, along with veteran Murray Balagus, are on the Laker squad. The Lakers, you know, reached the Canadian senior hockey finals last season.

Seek Supervisor At RL Hospital

Civil Service examination for the position of hospital administrative officer has been announced by the board of U. S. Civil Service examiners, Division of Indian Health, Aberdeen, S. D. for duty in the public health service Indian hospital at Redlake.

Entrance salary is $8,961 per annum. A total of six years experience is required. Persons interested may contact the examiner-in-charge at larger post offices in Minnesota or the executive secretary, Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners, 422½ South Main street, Aberdeen, S. D.

District I MNA Meets Wednesday

District I of the Minnesota Nurses' association will hold a regular dinner meeting Wednesday at 6:30 p.m. at the Elks club in Crookston. Miss Betty Heldstad, R.N., a faculty member of the St. Michael's hospital school of nursing in Grand Forks, will speak on "Trends in Nursing Education."

Delegates to the recent MNA convention in Minneapolis will present reports. All registered nurses interested in attending the meeting may make reservations with Mrs. Joy Sukdahl at Bethesda hospital in Crookston.

Keep Children Away from Boxes, Carriers Plead

Just recently in Minnesota a rural carrier pulled away from a mail box after delivering the mail. The patron's son, age 1½, had either crawled under or stood directly in front of the vehicle. The vehicle passed over the boy and aparently the rear housing bumped his head and drove his face into the ground, causing a bump and facial bruises, but luckily no serious injuries.

With schools now in operation, this youngster probably had taken over the job of "getting the mail" while the older children in the family were attending school.

Harley Karvonen of New York Mills, president of the Minnesota Rural Letter Carriers' association makes an appeal to all rural patrons to keep their children away from the mail box until the rural carrier has delivered the mail and has completely left the mail box area.

Keeping all children away from the mail box while it is being served would be a good idea all times of the year, Karvonen states, for it is hard for the carrier to keep track of all of the children who usually play and scuffle as they come out almost daily to meet their rural carrier.

Serious accidents can be prevented by having all rural patrons heed this plea.

Rural Carriers stop at each box 304 times a year; therefore, eliminating one "child" hazard could in reality eliminate 304 hazards a year.

Commercial Tests Not Suitable for Public In Screening Drivers

Could state driver examiners submit the general public to the same tests used by the army or commercial firms in selecting their drivers? Two U.S. Army researchers say "no".

"The difference between the predictive tests used for professional driver selection and the tests for public licensing," says the authors, "is crucial." In selecting professionals, all but the best are eliminated. In public licensing, only the obvious misfits are eliminated.

Approximately 100 million persons are licensed to drive in the United States. If licenses were denied to applicants scoring poorly on a typical driver selection test measuring scores against an accident criterion, 23 million drivers would be taken off the road. This figure is based on a validity coefficient which, if followed, is designed to reduce traffic fatalities and other accidents by one-third.

However, there are many good reasons why the general public cannot be given more complete examinations before being licensed to have been developed and used in various settings, many have been used in driver research. Despite this, few tests are in operational use, chiefly because of the following difficulities:

(1) Lack of evidence that many of these tests do an accurate job of screening out those likely to have accidents;

(2) Lack of means of getting undisputed proof in terms of accidents; and

(3) Administrative and legislative barriers to using such teasts for licensing.

Since the driver is the most complex, baffling and vulnerable of the factors that make up the driving process, he thwarts the advance of science because he can exercise common sense. He can adapt.

For example, he can compensate for his deficiencies: if color blind, he learns the shapes of the signs; if his reflexes are slow, he avoids getting into situations requiring fast stops or turns; he will drive more carefully for a time after he notes an appalling increase of accidents. In other words, he is not ideally suited for research because of human variables.

"In conclusion," the researchers state, "if public officials are inclined to shrink away from action which would elifinate millions of drivers to feduce the national accident rate, then it may be profitable to embark on the so-called systems approach of driving research. This would be essentially a re-examination of the total problem to consider man-vehicle-road traffic and to derive principles of engineering traffic, vehicles, roads, and identifiable driver limitations'.

Pfc. Brekkestran On Army Exercise At Oslo, Norway

A 900-man task force from the 4th Infantry Division in Ft. Lewis, Wash., is participating in the Norwegian-American field maneuver, "BRAVE CAT." The NATO coordinated exercise is taking place on the Orland peninsula, about 250 miles from Oslo, Norway.

PFC Arvin L. Brekkestran, son of Leonard E. Brekkestran, Middle River, and other members of the U.S. forces are engaging in defensive and offensive cross-country operation with units of the Norwegian army. The two-sided field training exercise is emphasizing ground maneuver of infantry over rugged terrain. Because of a limited road network corss-country movement is made on foot and equipment will be transported by man-packs.

The land of the Orland peninsula is covered with steep and forested hills with tops that are flat and barren. The average temperature during the fall of the year is 42 degrees.

Brekkestran, a gunner in Company A, 2d Battalion of the division's 8th Infantry at Ft. Lewis, Wash., entered the army in January 1964 and received basic training at Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo. The 24-year-old soldier was graduated from Middle River high school in 1959.

Cutting of Trees Illegal, Reports State Forester

Minnesota deer hunters and others in the woods this fall were warned against cutting of trees today by the state forestry division. In the past some hunters have made it a practice to bring home the family Christmas tree when they return from the annual deer hunting trip.

Unless the hunter has obtained written permission from the owner of the land and complied with several other state regulations he is in violation of the law, forestry officials pointed out.

Regulations apply whether the tree is growing on private or public lands. Laws on the subject are so numerous and complex that hunters are advised to simply purchase their tree from a vendor. The few dollars saved by "cutting your own" is more than offset by the time consumed in filling out forms and obtaining permits.

Weather Confuses Nature Itself

Fall weather in the Times area has succeeded in confusing nature itself. Loren E. Peterson, 123 Tindolph South, reported to the Times Wednesday that the peas in his farm garden 17 miles northeast of Thief River Falls have about five inches of new growth after being flattened by frost several weeks ago. Some of the plants had even begun to set blossoms. The Times weather reporter, however, gives odds that November will be a poor month for picking peas.

Night Patrols To Watch for Winter Traffic Hazards

Minnesota highway department will again provide night patrols to keep a watchful eye on slippery spots and other winter traffic hazards which may occur during the midnight to morning hours. These patrols will consist of trucks equipped with sand and a spreading device to correct glazed areas, and a snow plow to remove nighttime snow accumulations. The patrols will also serve to alert their respective maintenance areas for additional help which may be needed in clearing heavy snows from the highways.

One major problem in snow removal during the night period is the accumulation of considerable volumes of snow between the hours of 4 a.m. and the morning rush hour period. The traffic volumes between 7 and 9 a.m. hinder the movement of snow removal equipment to needed areas and sometimes result in serious delays in clearing trunk highways.

The dawn patrols provide the highway department with a time advantage. In this respect due to the presence of an observer vehicle that can alert the rest of the crews and serve as a snow removal vehicle as well.

After a large snow fall it takes approximately two full days or more for the maintenance crews to fully clear the highways. The first step is to clear at least one full traffic lane in each direction in order to keep vehicles moving at a reasonable rate. The next steps are to clear the entire driving surface and the shoulders, intersections and finally attempt to eliminate visual screens created by large snow drifts which could crea blind spots to oncoming traffic.

In a particularly wet snowfall, highway signs may become covered with snow and road dirt. This could result in serious accidents.

The maintenane crews are watchful for this and other hazards and often spend 12 or more hours per day clearing highways and sanding slippery spots.

State Veterans Show Heavy Use Of GI Bill Loans

Veterans Administration center at Ft. Snelling reports that 131,639 veterans in Minnesota have used the loan guaranty privileges of the G.I. Bill to purchase homes for which they will have paid almost $1.5 billion.

"As Minnesota prepares for Veterans Day, November 11, I believe it is of interest to note that only 1.53 per cent of these veterans have defaulted on their loans, compared to the three per cent experience rate on borrowerss in general," said John R. Murphy, manager of the VA center.

Murphy said that almost 6,100 Minnesota veterans have taken G. I. loans to set themselves up in business at a cost of over $20.6 have used VA guaranteed loans totaling more than $16.2 million to purchase farms.

"It often amuses me to hear men impute all their misfortunes to fate, luck, or destiny, whilst their successes or good fortune they ascribe to their own sagacity, cleverness or penetration."

—Samuel Taylor Colerdige

Man Wanted

The following editorial was recently published in the Murray County Herald under the title, "Man Wanted". It hits pretty close to home.

"The question these days is not what we, as citizens, can do for our country. It is how we can cash in on the Great Society. There is so much to be given away that Chambers of Commerce and city officials need a full time "know-how" man or they might miss the dole.

"It's interesting to note that Ramsey and Washington county officials will hold a joint meeting in White Bear Lake next month for the sole purpose of learning how they might take advantage of the latest federal legislation. The Johnson administration is giving things away at such a rate that special and frequent meetings must be held or the local areas of government will forget to stick their hand out in time.

"Five federal officials will be at the White Bear meeting to show the local authorities how they can dip into the federal treasury. We assume that other meetings of a similar nature will be held around the country if they can't give enough away at White Bear Lake.

"Great balls of fire! We condemn the younger generation for burning draft cards—but what an example is set for them by the federal government of the United States. Is there any emphasis whatever remaining on individual enterprise and effort in this country?"

Not by Bread Alone

James Cash Penney, founder of the J.C. Penney company, wrote the following in a book some years ago. The statements are as true today as they were then.

"We are today the world's greatest nation. We're the mightiest. We're the wealthiest. Yet we are not the first in history to attain that top spot among the nations of the world. One nation after another has made the long struggle upward, stood for a period of time, some longer than others, on the pinnacle of national greatness and power, and disappeared down the other side.

"Some of those nations we have with us yet. Others are not more than mummified relics on the desert of time!. . .It's important that we of the United States keep this in mind. This power which is ours today is not necessarily permanent. This wealth is not necessarily enduring. It can disappear within the lieftime of some of those who read these lines . . .

"Because we hold today the position England held 50 years ago, the position so many other nations held before her, it behooves us that we ask ourselves where we'll be fifty years from now. . .That answer will be found to be spiritual as well as industrial, moral as well as economic. For neither men nor nations can live by bread alone."

Judd on Communism

The November issue of The Reader's Digest carries an impressive article under the title "Communism vs. the Free Individual". Its author is Walter H. Judd, who has led a varied career—he is a physician, was a medical missionary in China before World War II, and served in Congress for many years. In late years, he has been lecturing and meeting with students at colleges and universities. His article takes the question-and-answer form, the questions being those most frequently asked by his young audiences.

One is "How does communism differ from socialism?" Here Dr. Judd makes the point that, while both are predicated on the idea that government knows best what to do with the earnings of the people, socialists mean to attain their goals voluntarily, communists by compulsion. Then he says: "In actual practice, however, the differences between socialism and communism tend to be minimized. The need to achieve results has forced socialists more and more to resort to stern controls which deprive the people of freedom, and communist governments lately have found it necessary to permit some degree of personal incentive."

Another question is, "If communists believe so firmly in a better life for all, why do they want to take over the world by force?" Dr. Judd answers that communist dogma holds that all that is evil has its roots in captialism—therefore capitalism must be totally destroyed the world over. The communists are convinced that the end justifies any means—as witness the ruthless extermination of seven million kulaks, who were small capitalists in Russian eyes under Stalin.

A third question has to do with whether the communists might be right about the basic nature of people. Dr. Judd answers with an emphatic "No," and bases it on the record of communism. Despite Russia's vast resources and huge population, all manner of shortages continue to exist. Her people, coerced as they may be, simply will not do their best under the system. In Dr. Judd's words, "This experience tends to prove that self-reliance, initiative and competitiveness are inborn characteristics of man."

He has no faith in the doctrine of "peaceful coexistence". In dealing with his, he terms it ". . .a means for effecting our destruction." As a tactical move, communists may seem to soften in attitude from time to time. But the goal of world domination remains.

The most potent of his questions is probably this: ". . .what can we do to prevent present tensions from developing into World War III? His answer is—that unless we are willing to surrender and become communist slaves—we must firmly resist any and all communist aggressions. He cites instance after instance in the postwar period when we have done this—and in every one of them the communists, despite all their threats, backed down. These took place in Iran, Greece, Berlin during the blockade and the airlift, and so on. They include the establishment of NATO, the rearmament of West Germany, and the Cuban missile crisis. He writes, "If we mean to hold on to our liberties and save the world for freedom, there is only one way to do it: stand firm and meet all threats, not with counter threats or empty belligerence, but with steady and determined action in support of free peoples."

Nasser Wants More

Certainly to be considered among the greatest "confidence men" of all time, Gamal Abdel Nasser of Egypt is on the prowl again. Faced with a food shortage in his nation, he is turning again to the United States to bail him out of his trouble. We strongly suspect that he will be given assistance by this country, but we really fail to fully understand why.

From the rate at which Nasser has extracted wealth from this country since his regime gained power in 1952, one would be inclined to believe that all officials of the state department are innocent old maids subject to the influence of distinguished graying hair, a trimmed moustache and sugar-coated words.

According to a recent news story from the Associated Press, U.S. officials in Cairo say that Egypt recently has been trying to improve relations with the United States. Undoubtedly these token moves are overtures to a request for more aid, and undoubtedly the state department will be grately swayed by Nasser's obvious change of heart. Nasser has played Jekyl and Hyde with the state department ever since he came into office.

Maybe it is the sheer gall of the Egyptian dictator that appeals to the government officials in this nation. Perhaps it is his outright brazen attitude that has enabled him to receive $1.23 billion in aid from this country since 1952. Anyone who can, time after time, ask for outright help in one breath and tell his helpers to go, to blazes in the next must have some attraction in receiving additional aid.

Among the encouraging signs which U. S. officials see in Nasser's policy are his stopping of direct aid to the Congolese rebels and easing of restrictions on U.S. firms operating in Egypt. He has also contributed 1,000 volumes from his personal library to the John F. Kennedy Memorial library—a new structure built after the old library was burned by rioting African students protesting the U.S. role in the rescue of refugees from the Congolese rebels.

Anyone who considers these acts as a change in attitude is somewhat less than mentally stable. Nasser is attempting to put the royal touch on the United States again because he can't get what he wants from any other nation. This is the only reason he has ". . .made known total requirements" of his nation to United States officials.

If the suave dictator with the magic touch was operating on the same basis in the United States he would be slapped behind bars and the key thrown away. As it is now, he is feathering his nest with imported feathers.

Our government siphons the financial advantages of the free enterprise system to assist dictators who socialistic systems will not even feed their people, at the same time trampling on free enterprise and imposing socialistic schemes at home. It's a zany world, and the more you look at it the more wierd it appears.

Shoot First?

The following poem was originally published in a 1909 edition of the Philadelphia Public Ledger and has been circulated in various issues of Minnesota newspapers. We stole it from Grand Rapids which stole it from the Swift County News which stole it from the Montevideo News which made the initial steal.

A hunter popped a wood duck on a hill;
It made a great-to-do, and then was still.
It seems (when later on his bag he spied)
It was the guide.

One shot a squirrel in a nearby wood. . .
A pretty shot, offhand, from where he stood.
It wore, they said a hunting of brown,
And lived in town.

And one dispatched a rabbit for his haul
That later proved to measure 6 ft. tall;
And lest you think I'm handing you a myth,
Its name was Smith.

Another hunter slew the champion fox;
He glimpsed it lurking in among the rocks.
One rapid shot! It never spoke or moved,
The inquest proved.

A "cautious" man espied a gleam of brown;
Was it a deer, or Jones, a friend from town?
And while he pondered on the river's rim,
Jones potted him.

Equitable Reserve Association Helps Educate Our Youth

SCHOLARSHIPS in the amount of $100 each were awarded to four Thief River Falls junior college freshmen at a meeting of Thief River Falls Assembly No. 300 of the Equitable Reserve Life Insurance association. Recipients of the scholarships pictured above are, left to right, Ronald Armstrong, Jon N. Efteland, Lorae Inman and Alan M. Newton. Of the insurance association's benevolence program funds, 75 per cent of the accumulated money has been earmarked for scholarships to the junior college. Plans call for the continuance and possible expansion of the scholarship program. Next meeting of the assembly will be held in January of 1966.

Among other extras provided by this 68 YEAR OLD LIFE AND HEALTH INSURANCE ASSOCIATION this is a special "extra" provided by the local Thief River Falls Assembly.

"It often amuses me to hear men impute all their misfortunes to fate, luck, or destiny, whilst their successes or good fortune they ascribe to their own sagacity, cleverness or penetration."

—Samuel Taylor Colerdige

Man Wanted

The following editorial was recently published in the Murray County Herald under the title, "Man Wanted". It hits pretty close to home.

"The question these days is not what we, as citizens, can do for our country. It is how we can cash in on the Great Society. There is so much to be given away that Chambers of Commerce and city officials need a full time "know-how" man or they might miss the dole.

"It's interesting to note that Ramsey and Washington county officials will hold a joint meeting in White Bear Lake next month for the sole purpose of learning how they might take advantage of the latest federal legislation. The Johnson administration is giving things away at such a rate that special and frequent meetings must be held or the local areas of government will forget to stick their hand out in time.

"Five federal officials will be at the White Bear meeting to show the local authorities how they can dip into the federal treasury. We assume that other meetings of a similar nature will be held around the country if they can't give enough away at White Bear Lake.

"Great balls of fire! We condemn the younger generation for burning draft cards—but what an example is set for them by the federal government of the United States. Is there any emphasis whatever remaining on individual enterprise and effort in this country?"

Not by Bread Alone

James Cash Penney, founder of the J.C. Penney company, wrote the following in a book some years ago. The statements are as true today as they were then.

"We are today the world's greatest nation. We're the mightiest. We're the wealthiest. Yet we are not the first in history to attain that top spot among the nations of the world. One nation after another has made the long struggle upward, stood for a period of time, some longer than others, on the pinnacle of national greatness and power, and disappeared down the other side.

"Some of those nations we have with us yet. Others are not more than mummified relics on the desert of time!. . .It's important that we of the United States keep this in mind. This power which is ours today is not necessarily permanent. This wealth is not necessarily enduring. It can disappear within the lieftime of some of those who read these lines . . .

"Because we hold today the position England held 50 years ago, the position so many other nations held before her, it behooves us that we ask ourselves where we'll be fifty years from now. . .That answer will be found to be spiritual as well as industrial, moral as well as economic. For neither men nor nations can live by bread alone."

Judd on Communism

The November issue of The Reader's Digest carries an impressive article under the title "Communism vs. the Free Individual". Its author is Walter H. Judd, who has led a varied career—he is a physician, was a medical missionary in China before World War II, and served in Congress for many years. In late years, he has been lecturing and meeting with students at colleges and universities. His article takes the question-and-answer form, the questions being those most frequently asked by his young audiences.

One is "How does communism differ from socialism?" Here Dr. Judd makes the point that, while both are predicated on the idea that government knows best what to do with the earnings of the people, socialists mean to attain their goals voluntarily, communists by compulsion. Then he says: "In actual practice, however, the differences between socialism and communism tend to be minimized. The need to achieve results has forced socialists more and more to resort to stern controls which deprive the people of freedom, and communist governments lately have found it necessary to permit some degree of personal incentive."

Another question is, "If communists believe so firmly in a better life for all, why do they want to take over the world by force?" Dr. Judd answers that communist dogma holds that all that is evil has its roots in capitalism—therefore capitalism must be totally destroyed the world over. The communists are convinced that the end justifies any means—as witness the ruthless extermination of seven million kulaks, who were small capitalists in Russian eyes under Stalin.

A third question has to do with whether the communists might be right about the basic nature of people. Dr. Judd answers with an emphatic "No," and bases it off the record of communism. Despite Russia's vast resources and huge population, all manner of shortages continue to exist. Her people, coerced as they may be, simply will not do their best under the system. In Dr. Judd's words, "This experience tends to prove that self-reliance, initiative and competitiveness are inborn characteristics of man."

He has no faith in the doctrine of "peaceful coexistence". In dealing with his, he terms it ". . .a means for effecting our destruction." As a tactical move, communists may seem to soften in attitude from time to time. But the goal of world domination remains.

The most potent of his questions is probably this: ". . .what can we do to prevent present tensions from developing into World War III? His answer is—that unless we are willing to surrender and become communist slaves—we must firmly resist any and all communist aggressions. He cites instance after instance in the postwar period when we have done this—and in every one of them the communists, despite all their threats, backed down. These took place in Iran, Greece, Berlin during the blockade and the airlift, and so on. They include the establishment of NATO, the rearmament of West Germany, and the Cuban missile crisis. He writes, "If we mean to hold on to our liberties and save the world for freedom, there is only one way to do it: stand firm and meet all threats, not with counter threats or empty belligerence, but with steady and determined action in support of free peoples."

Nasser Wants More

Certainly to be considered among the greatest "confidence men" of all time, Gamal Abdel Nasser of Egypt is on the prowl again. Faced with a food shortage in his nation, he is turning again to the United States to bail him out of his trouble. We strongly suspect that he will be given assistance by this country, but we really fail to fully understand why.

From the rate at which Nasser has extracted wealth from this country since his regime gained power in 1952, one would be inclined to believe that all officials of the state department are innocent old maids subject to the influence of distinguished graying hair, a trimmed moustache and sugar-coated words.

According to a recent news story from the Associated Press, U.S. officials in Cairo say that Egypt recently has been trying to improve relations with the United States. Undoubtedly these token moves are overtures to a request for more aid, and undoubtedly the state department will be grately swayed by Nasser's obvious change of heart. Nasser has played Jekyl and Hyde with the state department ever since he came into office.

Maybe it is the sheer gall of the Egyptian dictator that appeals to the government officials in this nation. Perhaps it is his outright brazen attitude that has enabled him to receive $1.23 billion in aid from this country since 1952. Anyone who can, time after time, ask for outright help in one breath and tell his helpers to go to blazes in the next must have some attraction in receiving additional aid.

Among the encouraging signs which U. S. officials see in Nasser's policy are his stopping of direct aid to the Congolese rebels and easing of restrictions on U.S. firms operating in Egypt. He has also contributed 1,000 volumes from his personal library to the John F. Kennedy Memorial library—a new structure built after the old library was burned by rioting African students protesting the U.S. role in the rescue of refugees from the Congolese rebels.

Anyone who considers these acts as a change in attitude is somewhat less than mentally stable. Nasser is attempting to put the royal touch on the United States again because he can't get what he wants from any other nation. This is the only reason he has ". . .made known total requirements" of his nation to United States officials.

If the suave dictator with the magic touch was operating on the same basis in the United States he would be slapped behind bars and the key thrown away. As it is now, he is feathering his nest with imported feathers.

Our government siphons the financial advantages of the free enterprise system to assist dictators who socialistic systems will not even feed their people, at the same time trampling on free enterprise and imposing socialistic schemes at home. It's a zany world, and the more you look at it the more wierd it appears.

Shoot First?

The following poem was originally published in a 1909 edition of the Philadelphia Public Ledger and has been circulated in various issues of Minnesota newspapers. We stole it from Grand Rapids which stole it from the Swift County News which stole it from the Montevideo News which made the initial steal.

A hunter popped a wood duck on a hill;
It made a great-to-do, and then was still.
It seems (when later on his bag he spied)
It was the guide.

One shot a squirrel in a nearby wood. . .
A pretty shot, offhand, from where he stood.
It wore, they said a hunting of brown,
And lived in town.

And one dispatched a rabbit for his haul
That later proved to measure 6 ft. tall;
And lest you think I'm handing you a myth,
Its name was Smith.

Another hunter slew the champion fox;
He glimpsed it lurking in among the rocks.
One rapid shot! It never spoke or moved,
The inquest proved.

A "cautious" man espied a gleam of brown;
Was it a deer, or Jones, a friend from town?
And while he pondered on the river's rim,
Jones potted him.

plus a 25c discount on 50-lb. bag of Calf Milk Replacer

STOP feeding your calves this way! Your milk will bring a much greater return on the market.

START feeding your calves Land O'Lakes Calf Milk Replacer and sell every drop of your milk.

You can reliquefy Land O'Lakes Calf Milk Replacer for less than $2 per cwt. The difference between that cost and what you get for the milk you sell is pure profit! (Only 25 pounds per calf is needed the first 6 weeks!) Land O'Lakes Calf Milk Replacer is a milk product with 24% protein, 10% added fat.

Land O'Lakes scientists have shown that two-week-old calves on Land O'Lakes Calf Milk Replacer gain weight five times faster, and require one-fifth as much feed per pound of gain as calves fed on 50% cereal/50% milk product.

Disperses quickly and thoroughly in warm water, and most important, it stays in solution!
